ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The editors of the Proceedings of the Arkansas Academy of Science, on behalf of the Academy, wish to acknowledge the financial assistance of the University of Arkansas which made possible the publication of this issue of the Proceedings. The large number of papers presented at the 34th meeting approximately doubled the number of papers submitted for publication. The resulting increase in size of the Proceedings coupled with wartime increases in printing prices resulted in a publication cost too high to be met by the treasury of the Academy. The University, acting in the conviction that the Proceedings is a worthwhile avenue for the dissemination of the results of research in Arkansas, made it possible not only to meet higher publication costs but to adopt the new format.
