OFFENSE

Arkansas returns the majority of its offense for the 2010-11 season. Paced by juniors Lyndsay Harris, C'eira Ricketts and Ashley Daniels, the Razorbacks have added players who enhance the team's various scoring threats.

Harris co-led the team with graduated senior Charity Ford last year averaging 12.6 points-per-game. She finished the season with 377 points and has 684 (11.0 ppg) for her career.

Ricketts was third on the squad last year with 9.7 ppg, 290 total points and 648 career points (11.2 ppg). Both players handled duties at the point last season.

The new recruiting class should allow Ricketts to return to the wing where she can create her shots as she did as a freshman when she scored 358 points averaging 12.8 ppg.

DEFENSE

Arkansas returns a good bit of defense for the 2010-11 season. Sarah Watkins is back for her sophomore season after leading the team with 40 blocks - a mark that ranked eighth in the SEC last season. Junior Ashley Daniels is the team's leading rebounder from a year ago. Daniels grabbed a team-high 184 rebounds averaging 6.1 rpg. Junior C'eria Ricketts was second with 151 boards and a 5.0 rpg average.

MEDIA TRAINING

The University of Arkansas and the Razorback Athletic Department provide its student-athletes and coaches with media training several times throughout their careers.

The goal of the training is to improve communication skills in front of the camera and in real-world situations such as job interviews.

The Razorbacks utilize several outside agencies as well as in-house training for its student-athletes and coaches in an on-campus setting.

Some of the techniques that are discussed include the nuances of print and electronic media, the importance of speaking clearly and how to better tell our story.

Student-athletes and coaches alike go through mock interviews and review their tapes in an effort to improve confidence and comfort when conducting actual interviews.

SOCIAL MEDIA

Included in the training for student-athletes and coaches is training in the use of social media.

The Razorback Athletic Department uses a department-wide Facebook page and has a Twitter account to inform fans of the program about what's going on.

But equally important are the social media guidelines that are passed on to student-athletes and coaches.

Social media is a great way to communicate and the Razorbacks have designed a policy that helps student-athletes and coaches reach a new demographic of fan in the electronic age.

ON THE AIRWAVES

You want basketball? We've got basketball.

Fans can follow the University of Arkansas women's basketball team on television, on radio and on the internet via a variety of platforms and broadcasts.

This year, the Razorback women's basketball team begins its 22nd consecutive year of complete season broadcasts.

For the second year, the games air as a part of the Arkansas Sports Radio Network, a division of Razorback Sports Properties.

Fayetteville	KUOA-FM	105.3
Fort Smith	KHGG-FM	103.1
Little Rock	KABZ-FM	103.7
Rogers	KURM-AM	790

Associate media relations director Jeri Thorpe returns for her second season as the Razorbacks analyst in 2010-11.

Andrew Reynolds makes his women's basketball radio debut this year. Reynolds began his association with the Razorback media relations office while just a freshman in college. He got his start calling volleyball, soccer and softball while also serving as the public address announcer for several Razorback teams.

In addition to the radio broadcasts, fans can pull up to the tube and catch the Razorbacks in primetime for eight regular-season television broadcasts.

Arkansas' television schedule includes games broadcast on FSN (FS South, FS Southwest, SunSports), the SEC Network (over-the-air syndication), CSS (Comcast Sports Southeast) and the ESPN family of networks.

The Razorbacks also added the non-conference contest with Oklahoma and a road game at Ole Miss on the area COX affiliates.

Yet another option for fans is the live streaming feature of RazorVision as a part of ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

All home games and many road contests are available on-line for a small subscription fee.

Log on to ArkansasRazorbacks.com and click on the RazorVision link for more information.

Arkansas head coach Tom Collen also has a regular coaches show that airs on-line at ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

"Courtside with Tom Collen", an award-winning production, is a weekly 30-minute show that airs during the regular season. The show features interviews, game reviews and player profiles throughout the season.

Director of New Media Blair Cartwright returns as the host along with Dr. Bill Smith as the show's producer.

RAZORBACKS IN THE PRO

SEC IN THE PROS

- The Southeastern Conference had 27 former SEC student-athletes make 2010 WNBA opening day rosters.
- In this year's WNBA draft, a total of six SEC women's basketball players were taken.
- Since the inaugural WNBA draft in 1997, the SEC has had 110 former players drafted for the professional league.

ARKANSAS IN THE PROS

The Razorbacks have contributed to the WNBA ranks with four players who have made the rosters. A fifth, was invited to try out but did not make the opening day roster.

The most notable player is Shameka Christon (left). Christon is the most successful Arkansas women's basketball player in the WNBA. The former SEC Player of the Year and SEC Legend, remains the highest drafted women's basketball player in Arkansas history when she was taken fifth overall in the first round by the New York Liberty. Playing in 33 of 34 regular-season games as a contributor from the bench, Christon helped the Liberty to a second-place finish in the Eastern Division in 2004 and was selected to the All-Star team in 2009 when she led the Liberty with 16.1 ppg and 31.7 minutes-per-game.

Christon was traded to the Chicago Sky for the 2010 season averaging 8.5 ppg and 2.4 rpg and avg.

In the past seasons, Arkansas has sent nine of its star players into the professional ranks, with four of the most notable standouts helping their teams reach the WNBA playoffs during their rookie seasons.

The most recent draft pick, Lauren Ervin, joined her team in 2009.

The Connecticut Sun drafted Ervin in the third round of the 2008 WNBA Draft even though the double-double post threat could not play the 2008 season due to a college career ending ACL injury.

Wendi Willits came home in 2001 with a World Championship ring as a member of the Los Angeles Sparks. Willits became the second Razorback to make a WNBA regular-season roster. Signed by the Sparks as a free agent, Willits survived the preseason games and graduation to make the opening day roster for L.A.

It was ironic that Willits' Sparks knocked off her former Arkansas' teammate's old WNBA team.

In 1998, Christy Smith became the first Razorback women's basketball player to go to the WNBA. She was the only WNBA player to go from the 1998 Women's Final Four to the 1998 WNBA Playoffs.

Her pro career in 1998 resembled her college days at Arkansas. Drafted 17th overall as the second-round pick of the Sting, Smith started the first 13 games of the WNBA season. Her rookie season looked promising until a broken right pinkie sidelined her for six games. She came back to start the season finale for the Sting, and played in the Stings' playoff series with eventual WNBA champion Houston.

In 2002, there were four former Arkansas players in WNBA camps. Joining Willits were three free agents, Amy Wright with the Detroit Shock and Karyn Karlin and Shaka Massey with the Miami Sol.

After the 2003 season, Dana Cherry joined Arkansas' WNBA draft list. While union negotiations prevented a draft camp, Cherry impressed

Rookie Impact

All three of Arkansas' former standouts who made WNBA rosters have helped their teams into the WNBA Playoffs during their rookie seasons. Shameka Christon was part of the turnaround in New York as the Liberty made the WNBA Playoffs in 2004 and Christon was named to the WNBA Rookie Team. Christy Smith went from Final Four to WNBA Playoffs in the same year while Wendi Willits was a member of the LA Sparks' first WNBA Championship.

Christy Smith of the Final Four team, Treva Christensen saw action in the Finnish league in 2002 for the Insolo team.

Former Kodak All-American Delmonica DeHorney played for Japan Air Lines for a season after she led the Razorbacks to the NCAA West Regional Finals in 1990 and the Sweet 16 in 1991. DeHorney also played pro ball briefly in France.

Smith was the second Razorback to participate in the WNBA predraft camp. Her former teammate, Kimberly Wilson, worked out during the first-ever predraft camp in 1997. Smith also holds the distinction of being the second Lady'Back drafted by an American pro league. Cheryl Orcholski was drafted by the Columbus Minks of the old Women's Basketball Association.

ANOTHER CONNECTION

In 2009, the WNBA announced an expansion team that would be located in Tulsa, Okla., and shortly after, the league announced former Razorback men's head coach Nolan Richardson would be the team's first head coach.

Richardson and the Tulsa Shock played to a 6-28 inaugural season record. Richardson also added former Razorback men's assistant coach Wayne Stehlik to the bench as an assistant.

Former Razorback men's coach Nolan Richardson coaches the Tulsa Shock.

the scouts during her senior season to become the 23rd player taken in the 2003 draft, selected by the Charlotte Sting.

Cherry's teammate India Lewis took her three-point shooting skills to The Netherlands to play for BV Lavy in Amsterdam in 2003 and 2004. Brittney Vaughn earned a spot on the Minnesota Lynx training camp roster and played in exhibition contests in 2008.

Arkansas isn't limited to the WNBA. Karyn Karlin had the chance to play with three pro teams in the year prior to her 2002 training camp appearance with the Sol -- the Finnish league before being picked up by Calais in the French league then on to the Birmingham Power of the National Women's Basketball League.

Celia Anderson signed to play with the Alexander the Great team based in Thessaloniki. Despite being the shortest American post in the league, Anderson led the Greek pro circuit in rebounding during the 2002 season. She has returned to Arkansas to pursue a master's degree.

BUD WALTON ARENA

Arkansas begins its 17th season in Bud Walton Arena – The Basketball Palace of Mid-America.

When Arkansas joined the Southeastern Conference in August of 1990, then Razorback Men's Athletic Director Frank Broyles knew the athletic facilities had to be upgraded to contend in America's most nationally competitive league.

His attention turned immediately to basketball. The men's basketball team had been very successful, coming off a Final Four trip earlier that year, but they, along with the women's team, played in 9,000-seat Barnhill Arena. One day, Bud Walton, co-founder of Wal-Mart, visited Broyles and asked him what Arkansas needed most to be competitive in the SEC. Broyles mentioned the need for additional basketball seats and was asked by Walton what a new arena would cost. The figure $30 million was discussed and Walton offered to pay half. From that visit, fabulous Bud Walton Arena was born.

Groundbreaking to grand opening was accomplished in a remarkable 18 months. The Razorbacks played in Bud Walton for the first time in November of 1993. Everything went perfectly during the first full year. Not only did Arkansas men's team sell out the arena, the Razorbacks were unbeaten in their new home (16-0) and won the 1994 national championship.

Entering the 2010-11 campaign, the Razorback women are 309-219 in Bud Walton Arena

Bud Walton Arena houses a deluxe museum on the ground level that includes a tribute to Arkansas' 1994 NCAA Men's Championship and multiple Final Four appearances by both programs as well as the history of Razorback basketball, track and field, baseball, tennis and golf. Eye-catching displays on the concourse level salute recent Razorback highlights.

Enhancements prior to the 2009 season included the addition of courtside seating, electronic signage at the scorer's table, new retractable seats in the lower level, electronic ribbon boards along the bottom of the upper deck, replacing the Razorback on the court with the classic Razorback logo and opening up the student section by converting it from chairback seats to benches. Eight suites were added prior to the 2008 season, raising the total to 47.

The 2004 season marked the debut of a new custom scoreboard in the shape of a basketball hoop. The board, 24 feet, three inches wide by 22 feet tall, features four video screens, each 12 feet, six inches wide by eight feet, 10 inches tall. An LED ring at the top is used to display game statistics.

As captivating as the displays, museum and championship banners are hanging from the arena floor's ceiling, the aspect of the facility demanding the most attention is spirit. Every game still produces an NCAA Tournament-type atmosphere with the exception of the crowd, which is anything but neutral. According to Rosser International in Atlanta, when the arena was built, there were more seats in less space than in any such facility in the world. It's no wonder the noise level can be absolutely ear-splitting.

From pre-game to post-game, Bud Walton Arena is perfectly choreographed with the band, the spirit groups, the lighting system, the public address, the scoreboard and the team. Each game at Walton Arena is a rich experience leaving Razorback fans hungry for more.

BUD WALTON ARENA GAMEDAY

Is it the band or the cheerleaders?

Is it the smell of the popcorn or the greeting of friends as you take your seat?

Could it just be the feeling you have when you put on your foam finger, Hog Hat and Call The Hogs?

Whatever it is, you know it's Game Day on the Hill.

Join the Razorbacks for some of the area's best National Anthem signers and great halftime shows that include the Grizzlies. There are post-game concerts and face painters and don't forget, great basketball by the Razorbacks.

Don't miss a minute of the action at Bud Walton Arena this year.

Wireless internet access is also provide in the Walton press room and on press row. Please contact AMR for a password.

PRESS CONFERENCE

Tom Collen generally holds his pre-game press conference 48 hours prior to home games or 48 hours prior to travel for road games. His press conference is held in the Bud Walton Interview Room after practice, usually at 3:30 p.m. Players are available on press conference days; other days by special request.

PRACTICE TIMES, POLICY

Practices are open to the public and media except on the day of the game. The default practice schedule for the Razorbacks is 1-3:30 p.m. However, additional practice or portions of practice may be closed during the season. To insure Arkansas is practicing, please call the AMR to check the weekly schedule.

VIA INTERNET

All Razorback press releases, basketball statistics, game stories and box scores are available on the Athletics Department home page at Arkansas-Razorbacks.com.

GAME SERVICES

The University of Arkansas employs the StatCrew basketball game statistical packages. Halftime statistics, along with first half play-by-play, are distributed at intermission. A rough box score is available immediately after the conclusion of the game. Final statistical packages are distributed as soon as possible after the game.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Head Coach Tom Collen is available for general interviews after a 10-minute cooling off period. Coach Collen and the visiting head coach may be held on the floor immediately after the game for a one-minute actuality for the University uplink package. Coach Collen and requested players are available in the media interview room. The Razorback dressing room is closed to all media.

LIVE RADIO/TELEVISION

The University of Arkansas Athletic Department retains all copyrights to its home events. All visiting radio stations must contact the AMR 48 hours prior to the game to make arrangements. Non-conference opponents may be subject to line charges as well as rights fees. As per SEC rules, two standard telephone lines and ISDN are reserved for all women's basketball game visiting radio networks. The use of courtesy lines are at the discretion of the visiting SID. Other stations requesting a phone line should contact the University of Arkansas telecommunications office directly. Requests for live or tape-delayed television rights should be made one week in advance, and in writing, to the AMR.

The men and women of the Arkansas statistics crew are vital to the operation of our events. Here are a few of the "regulars" who assist us at women's basketball. Several of them have worked not only Arkansas events but also the SEC Tournament, WNIT Tournament and even the NCAA Final Four. They have worked Division I and Division II events and are always ready to travel. Your help is appreciated.

IP-BASED STREAMING

The UA Athletics Department also retains all streaming rights for its home events. Shared streams may be provided to opponents on a reciprocating basis. Please contact Assistant AD for New Media Bill Smith for any requests for IP-based data, audio or video streaming.

2010-11 PREVIEW

The junior class (l-r): Ashley Daniels, Kelsey Hatcher, Lyndsay Harris, Erin Gatling, C'eira Ricketts, Julie Inman and Jamesha Townsend.

Every season, coaches, media and prognosticators look into their crystal balls and forecast months into the future to the Final Four in March.

And Arkansas head coach Tom Collen is no exception.

But Collen has the benefit of knowing his team inside-and-out and he's excited about what he has on the bench as the 2010-11 season begins.

"We're very excited about the start of the season," Collen said. "We return a great group of experienced players who continue to expand their basketball knowledge. They have worked very hard in the off-season and in the preseason conditioning and getting stronger and our staff is excited about what we can do this year."

Arkansas has something new this year – a deep and experienced upper class. The three seniors, Skye Rees, Brittney Richardson and Caroline Powell, all have unique skills and offer both full-time and role playing minutes for the team.

Rees is a junior college transfer who joined the team last year. After adjusting to the game at this level, she found her niche with a season-best 10 points on the road at Kentucky.

"This is Skye's last year with us and we need it to be her best," said Collen "I thought she was impactful to our system on the offensive end last season because of her ability to hit the three-point shot and stretch the defense. That allowed our penetrators to get deep in the lane and shoot a lot of lay-ups."

Richardson battled injury and illness much of the season but played in 12 contests with some key three-pointers and solid defense.

"We are hoping that Brittney can stay healthy for her entire senior season," Collen said. "I have always believed Brittney puts the ball in the basket from three-point range as well as any player on our roster. She is also battle-tested and plays with a lot of confidence. Her preseason has already been interrupted with a minor surgery but she should be ready to go by early October."

Powell's role is even more specialized. She saw time in just one game but is critical to the program as part of the scout team during practice.

"Caroline has worked as hard as any player on our roster," said Collen. "This is her third year with us in some capacity. She started out as a manager. Then joined our practice squad. When she gained her eligibility last year after fall semester, we added her to our travel roster and she remains there for her senior year. She does everything we ask and does it the right way. She makes us a better team every day."

Although the senior class is talented, it's the junior class that will get a lot of attention in the early going.

Returning All-Southeastern Conference candidates Lyndsay Harris and C'eira Ricketts along with the team's leading rebounder Ashley Daniels accounted for the majority of Arkansas' points in 2009-10 season.

Harris tied for the team lead with 12.6 points-per-game scoring 377 points. She led the team with 75 three-pointers and a .341 average.

"I believe Lindsay Harris is about to become an All-SEC performer," Collen said. "She might be the most improved player on our team which says a lot. She has become one of the best shooters in our conference and no doubt will wear a target on her back in conference play. Last year we had to use her as our backup point guard and that was a challenge for her. This year we can play her at either wing position and try to get her more shots."

Ricketts battled the target on her back as well as new duties and injuries as a sophomore. Despite that, she scored 290 points and was third on the team with a 9.7 ppg average.

"I think C'eira would be the first to tell you she had an off year and fell short of the expectations she had for herself," Collen said. "We had no backup for her at all and when she tore a ligament in her hand early in the season, it was a setback for her. I think you will see her step up and play with a lot more consistency. She is no doubt she is one of the most explosive players in our conference and capable of dominating games in stretches."

Daniels, like Ricketts and Harris, started all 30 games for the Razorbacks last year. She averaged a team-best 6.1 rpg and ranked among the SEC leaders on the glass.

"I think Ashley Daniels is really going to surprise our fans this year," said Collen "She always plays hard which is why she is our top returning rebounder. She stayed in Fayetteville for the second straight summer to get stronger and work on her game. She can run like a deer and jump out of the gym. Look for her at the top of the rebounding charts in the SEC and to become a more consistent scorer this season."

The trio accounted for 45 percent of Arkansas' total points a year ago.

Add to the mix juniors Jamesah Townsend, transfer Erin Gatling and the return of Julie Inman and its easy to see how strong the class is.

Townsend played in 28 games last year, scored 41 points and grabbed 57 boards.

"Jamesha just kept improving as the season went along," Collen said. "It took some time for her to discover her strengths and weaknesses and find her own little niche on our team. Consistent defense was what got her on the floor. She started to gain confidence in her jump shot near the end of the season and that allowed me to leave her on the floor. She stayed all summer and worked very hard. I think she got a taste of the player she could become and is hungry for more. Her experience as a junior will serve her well."

Inman was a regular at the point in relief of Ricketts.

"We are very pleased that Julie is back with the team," Collen said. "She felt a lot of stress last year trying to keep up with grades since she is majoring in pre-dentistry. She returned midway through the summer and is working hard. Julie can be successful at this level and I'm anxious to get her back on the court. She is an excellent shooter and decision maker and has an opportunity to leave her mark on this program's success."

Gatling joins the Razorbacks from Southern Miss where she led the team in free throw percentage as a freshman and steals as a sophomore. She will redshirt this year due to NCAA transfer rules.

"Erin is another great addition to our roster and it's great that she has decided to return to Arkansas," Collen said. "Our fans will love her effort and intensity. She has already made us a better team by guarding C'eira hard in practice every day.

She is lightning quick and probably could have run track at Arkansas, Collen continued. "She leads by example, takes care of the ball and will hit an open shot if you don't guard her. I wish I had her this year."

The sophomore class returns three players from a year ago and welcomes the addition of a transfer.

Quistelle Williams and Sarah Watkins lead the class and both players had a taste of success last year.

Williams played in 26 games and averaged 4.3 ppg and 3.8 rpg in her first season. She had 13 points and 11 rebounds – her first career double-double leading Arkansas to a school-record 18-point comeback at South Carolina and earned SEC Freshman of the Week honors for her efforts.

“Quistelle showed flashes last year as a freshman as to what she can become,” said Collen. “You have to remember she sat out an entire year without playing competitive basketball and I think that showed up at times. When she did play well, we were a better team. She was very instrumental in our three-game SEC road winning streak.

“‘Q’ has a soft touch from the three-point line but needs to be more consistent, Collen continued. “She is a fearless rebounder despite being a little undersized in the post - she doesn’t back down from anyone. She also has a knack for making the spectacular play either with a pass or scoring around the basket. Every post player on our roster must have a good year for us to be successful and Quistelle is a player we are counting on.”

Watkins averaged 5.9 ppg, 3.9 rpg and 20.6 minutes per game in 2009-10. She had three games in double-figures to start the season but a recurring back injury slowed her at times.

Watkins led the team in blocks with 40 as a freshman and just missed the single game record with five against Coppin State.

“There is no player on our roster more talented than Sarah Watkins,” Collen said. “She has great size and strength, a soft touch and good shooting range. There were times last year when she looked like the SEC Freshman of The Year.

“She fought through several medical problems that persisted most of the year,” Collen continued. “That tells me she is tough enough to play through pain which all great players do. She needs to be a focal point for us in the paint this year and I think she wants to show our fans and teammates that she can carry some of the load.”

Robinson is a solid three-point shooter and has the ability to score off the broken play. She will red-shirt this year as will transfer Kelsey Hatcher.

“We are really going to miss Dominique this season,” said Col-

len. She has developed into our best on ball defender. She is just a tough-minded player that believes in herself and that’s important to any team.

“I think her performance in our first round SEC tournament game says a lot about what kind of a player she will be for us in the future,” Collen added. “Hopefully she will recover quickly from her surgery and be back working out with us in the spring. It will be a bonus to get her back next season and have her for three more years. It will be like signing another great recruit in this class.”

Hatcher returns to her home state after stops at Oklahoma State and Southern Methodist.

“I’m really happy that Kelsey has joined our program,” Collen said. “We tried to sign her in our first recruiting class and she simply got away. She has stepped right into our practice setting and picked up things pretty quickly. She is a great shooter but also possesses the right kind of offensive skills to run our offense effectively. I really like her size for a guard as well. I wish we had her this year, but I'm sure it will be worth the wait."

2010-11 PREVIEW

The freshmen class is always exciting for coaches and fans. Full of expectations and wrought with ups and downs, you just never know what could happen.

This year's class includes four freshmen. Yashira Delgado, Keira Peak, Chrisstasia Walter and Amanda Westbrook will all vie for playing time this year.

Delgado checks in from Kissimmee, Fla., where she flew under the radar of many elite college teams. She trained with the Orlando Comets summer team and that's where she caught the eye of the Razorback staff.

"Yashira was a great pickup for us in the spring," said Collen. "We lacked depth in the point guard position last year and Yashira has a chance to contribute right away. She is very quick and has a great handle. She can push tempo for us this year."

Peak is a Clyattville, Ga., native and first-team all-conference selection for Lowndes High. She averaged 22. ppg as a senior and earned MVP honors at her state's all-star game.

"Keira Peak has a chance to be special," Collen said. "We were very fortunate to sign her during the late signing period. She might be the most athletic player I have ever signed. She has a chance to impact us right away as a defender and rebounder. She has some work to do offensively, but I think she will find a way to put some points on the board for us."

Walter is one of six native Arkansans on the team this season. She is a three-time all-conference and two-time all-state pick who averaged 20 ppg as a senior.

"Christassia can really score with the basketball in a variety of ways," Collen said. "She can shoot it or drive it and has a nice pull up jumper. She is very athletic and should be a good defender for us as well.

"She broke a bone in her hand early in workouts, but should be back before the regular season begins," Collen continued. "I have no doubt she will help us as soon as she recovers."

Westbrook was a three-year letterwinner for the Mt. St. Mary Academy Gales. She was a member of the conference tournament championship team as a freshman and was a McDonald's All-America nominee as a senior. She also earned all-conference honors in her final season averaging 14 points-per-game.

"Amanda will be a great addition to our roster," Collen said. "Once again, it's another great Arkansas player that loves the Razorbacks and just wants to be a part this program. She works hard every day and is very coachable. She will play the forward position for us this season."

Seventeen home games, 12 post-season teams and four first-time opponents highlight the 2010-11 University of Arkansas women's basketball schedule.

"I'm very excited for the start of the 2010-11 season," Collen said. "We are more talented and experienced than a year ago and our schedule gives us many great opportunities to showcase our team and our program this season."

This year begins with a five-game regular season home stand with a pair of bonus games to get things started. The Razorbacks will open with a traditional Red-White game in late October followed by an exhibition contest with Missouri Southern, Nov. 3.

The season officially tips with Florida A&M Nov. 12, followed by home contests with Davidson, Nov. 14; Mississippi Valley, Nov. 17; Middle Tennessee State, Nov. 21 and Tennessee State, Nov. 23, giving fans a good look at this year's team early in the season.

"I like our schedule this year," Collen said. "Opening with five games at home gives us a chance to build some confidence and momentum if we play well enough to win. Middle Tennessee will be a big game early in the season.

"I think we have a great mix of games home and away," Collen continued. "Oklahoma will be a great test just before Christmas break."

The Southeastern Conference schedule begins Jan. 2 with WNIT second round member Florida as the first of the 16-game league schedule. This year's slate is balanced with home and road contests with the longest stretch just two games.

"I know our fans have high expectations for our program," Collen said. "We are really working hard on playing well at home and controlling our own fate though out the season. We have great fans and they deserve to see us play well against all of the great teams on our schedule."

HEAD COACH TOM COLLEN

Fourth Season

Bowling Green State, 1977

When Tom Colleen answered the call to return to the University of Arkansas, he knew he was coming home.

The seventh head coach in Razorback history, Colleen served as the first assistant head coach during the mid-1990s. His recruiting work led to one of the greatest moments in Arkansas history – the 1998 Final Four.

His recruits were the key to a golden age of women’s basketball at Arkansas in the mid-to-late 1990s. It would be the same process in the 21st century, and Colleen got to work immediately.

The fall signees for the Class of 2008 put the Razorbacks among the top 25 in recruiting.

By January 2008, Colleen had the current Razorbacks in The Associated Press Top 25. That made Colleen only the ninth coach in women’s college basketball history to take three different programs into the AP rankings, and he had done it in only 10 seasons.

In his three seasons with the Razorbacks, Colleen has coached five all-Southeastern Conference selections including SEC Co-Freshman of the Year C’eira Ricketts and the SEC’s Sixth Player of the Year Charity Ford.

His Arkansas team’s have produced nine SEC Academic Honor Roll selections, three league community service team picks and several SEC Players of the Week, most recently Quistelle Williams who earned freshman of the week honors in 2009-10.

As the 2010-11 season begins, Colleen finds himself ranked among the coaching elite with an impressive .697 winning percentage in 12 years as a head coach.

Colleen’s road home to Arkansas started in the Blue Grass state.

Settled in at Louisville and putting the Cardinals in the top 25 and the NCAA second round, Colleen earned his 200th career victory that season and seemed ready to move UL into the Big East elite.

Then, the phone rang and Colleen came home.

“Some of my fondest memories both as a person and as a coach are from my time in Fayetteville,” Colleen said. “I have always felt that Arkansas has the potential to excel at the national level. We proved that during my tenure here as the recruiting coordinator that resulted in an appearance at the Final Four.”

Colleen served as the recruiting coordinator for four seasons at Arkansas from 1993 until departing to become the head coach at Colorado State in 1997.

“I know the keys to success in building this program to new heights. I know we need to keep the best players in the state, and I will do everything in my power to make that happen,” Colleen said.

In his final two seasons with Arkansas, Colleen was promoted to assistant head coach for the Razorbacks.

“I developed great working relationships with many of the people here and those friendships proved to be very important in the decision to return to Arkansas,” Colleen said.

The national coach of the year in 1999, Colleen is one of the top women’s coaches in the game to day by any measure. Along with his career percentage rankings, Colleen won his 200th game in 2006-07, and in doing so put him on yet another list of coaching greats -- the fastest to 200 wins.

His 2006-07 Louisville team made history for the Cardinals by achieving the first national ranking in school history. Behind the presence of Big East Player of the Year Angel McCoughtry, only the second player in Big East history to lead the league in scoring and rebounding, Colten's Cardinals closed the season with a school-record 27 wins and came within minutes of reaching the Sweet 16 for the first time ever.

Colten brings a reputation for recruiting and resurrecting programs to the Arkansas position. In his first decade as a head coach, his teams have nine post season appearances and racked up eight 20-win seasons.

In fact, across the span of his entire women's basketball coaching career, Colten has never been on a coaching staff -- head coach, assistant head coach or assistant coach -- that recorded a losing season.

During his career as an assistant and head coach in Division I, Colten's recruiting has been singled out as among the best in the nation.

One of the most sought-after assistant coaches in America during his early career, he recruited the athletes that put Purdue and Arkansas into their first Final Four appearances. During his 14 seasons as a full-time assistant with Utah, Purdue and Arkansas, Colten produced 10 recruiting classes that ranked top 20 in the nation.

His final class at Utah ranked 19th, starting an eight-year run in the top 20 for the up-and-coming recruiter. Colten's seven-year tenure at Purdue resulted in seven consecutive recruiting classes ranked in the top 20, including the top class in the nation in 1989. At Arkansas, his final two recruiting classes were ranked top 20 with the 1996 class achieving the highest ranking in school history at fifth.

Perhaps the most recognized recruit in Colten's Arkansas career was future University hall of fame point guard Christy Smith who led the Razorbacks to the 1998 Final Four. However, the recruiting classes during his four years as Arkansas' recruiting coordinator included Parade All-Americans like Tennille Adams, 1998 NCAA West Regional MVP Sytia Messer and the second all-time three-point shooter in SEC history Wendi Willits. On the court, Colten's defensive mastery turned Arkansas into a 20-game winner after one season. The Razorbacks posted two post-season appearances during his four years.

The Collen Family: Tom and Nicki, Logan, Connor and Reese.

Departing Arkansas after the 1997 season to take over the Colorado State program, he turned the Rams into champions in his first season. The Rams took the Western Athletic Conference regular season title winning 24 games and advancing to the NCAA second round.

The next season, CSU ran the table in the WAC with a school-record 33-3 mark to advance to the NCAA Sweet 16 for the first and only time in school history. Led by Ram superstar Becky Hammon and fellow All-American Katie Cronin, Collen's second year team put Colorado State on the map and earned conference, regional and national coach of the year honors for Collen.

While the accolades came for the 1999 team, Collen earned them again the following year as he guided the Rams to another 20-win season in 2000. Rebuilding without Hammon and company, CSU reached the post season and advanced three games into the Women's NIT before losing in the semifinals.

With a new foundation recruited to Fort Collins, Colorado State returned to the NCAA tournament in 2001 and 2002. Changing conferences in 2001, the Rams took the Mountain West tournament title in 2001 and the MVC regular season title in 2002.

After the 2002 season, Collen appeared bound for the SEC at Vanderbilt, but the Commodores withdrew their offer after mistakenly interpreting the veteran coach's academic record from his graduate work at Miami of Ohio. Taking a year off from coaching in 2002-03, Collen was vindicated by the registrar's office at Miami.

The next year, Collen took over the Cardinals and had the same immediate impact experienced at Colorado State. With a single returning starter, Collen led Louisville to a 20-win season and the first appearance in the Conference USA tournament semifinals since 1999. His coaching turned Sara Nord into an All-America candidate that led the Cardinals into the post season.

In his second year, Collen had UL leading C-USA before losing one of his starting forwards, Missy Taylor, to a torn meniscus. Turning to one of his freshmen recruits, Yuliya Tokova, Collen rebuilt the Cardinals who finished the season with a powerful surge to reach the C-USA finals for the first time since 1998. In the title game, UL took its second hit with a torn ACL to Tokova, yet the Cardinal closed the year at 22-9 and in the NCAA tournament for the first time since 2001.

His time at Louisville first produced three all-freshmen team members three straight seasons with Jazz Covington, Yuliya Tokova and Angel McCoughtry, then all-conference honors peaking in 2007 with McCoughtry's selection as the Big East Player of the Year. Covington became the first Wade Trophy watch list member in Cardinal history.

The 53-year-old native of Lancaster, Ohio, graduated from Bowling Green State in 1977 with his bachelor's in physical education. He completed his master's in recreational education and in health education at Miami of Ohio in 1983 while serving two seasons as the Red Hawks' graduate assistant coach.

Collen and wife Nicki have twins, daughter Reese and son Connor, and a younger daughter, Logan.

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH TIMOTHY EATMAN

Talladega College, 1988

Timothy Eatman brings a passion to the court about two things: defense and life. Named the associate head coach for women's basketball at the University of Arkansas in 2007, Eatman applies his quiet energy and passionate demeanor to everything in his career.

The defensive coordinator for the Razorbacks, Eatman changed the approach to stopping opponents and instilled a new work ethic toward the game.

The results were, well, record-setting as Eatman's defense set a UA record for least points allowed in a SEC game -- a mere 42 points to Miss. State. Arkansas just missed breaking the season low for a 14-game season, allowing league opponents only 978 points for 2007-08 season.

Under Eatman, the Razorbacks had its first player selected to the SEC All-Defense team in Brittney Vaughn in 2008. Recently, his diamond-in-the-rough Quistelle Williams earned SEC Freshman of the Week (2009-10).

Eatman continues to expand his knowledge and experience in the game recently taking on the role as head coach for the 2010 Jamaican Senior Women's Team. His Jamaica team got by Trinidad & Tobago, 62-59, qualifying for the 2010 FIBA-Americas Championship for Women and the Pan-American Games.

Eatman also has a knack for developing future coaches. Some of his former players who are in the coaching ranks include Niki Washington (Lynn University), Karen Clayton-Lange (Mid-American Nazarene), Malukah Wills (West Virginia), Simone Edwards (George Mason University), Donna Brown (Tennessee State) and Shannon Perry (formerly of USC and Duke University).

If you can't find Eatman on the court, you'll likely find him at a speaking engagement. He is often requested to speak at events like the Arkansas High School Coaching Association and the Assistant Coaches Symposium.

He followed his boss of three seasons at Louisville when Tom Collen became Arkansas' head coach at the end of the 2006-07 season, and the two have become a powerful coaching duo in women's basketball.

"He is known from coast-to-coast as one of the finest recruiters in America," Collen said.

Eatman is crystal clear about why he departed his position with the up-and-comer in the Big East for the challenge of America's top coaching conference.

"I'm here because of Coach Collen, and wanted to be here with him to build a program," Eatman said. "I believe in him as a man and as a coach. His integrity and character are all things that I want to be a part of."

Eatman himself is a respected member of the coaching community, and was named to serve as a member of the programs planning committee of the Black Coaches Association in 2008. He is also a participant in the BCA's ACE Program for Women's Basketball Coaches.

Honored by national basketball publications as one of the top recruiters in women's basketball, Eatman also brings a reputation for developing talent and tenacious defense. Eatman was a part of Louisville bringing in two nationally ranked classes at UL, including a 25th-ranked class this past season.

During his assistant coaching career, Eatman signed some of the best players in the nation -- including former Razorback Lauren Ervin. The nation's top junior then the No. 2 prep player in the country back in 2003, Eatman signed Ervin for Kansas out of high school.

Ervin completed her second season with Eatman, and was a pick in the 2008 WNBA Draft. Along with several pro players, Eatman has also worked with two Kodak All-Americans during his career.

His resume resembled that of his current boss. Eatman registered the nation's top recruiting class in 1994 while at Iowa, one of five times his recruiting resulted in a top 10 class. During his career, Eatman has a total of 11 top 30 recruiting classes for five different Division I schools.

 - Nikki Washington, asst. coach, Florida A&M
 - Shannon Perry, Duke

“While he’s known as a great recruiter, Tim brings much more to the staff,” Collen said. “His experience as a head coach brings another level of experience to the program.”

Eatman spent two seasons with Marian Washington at Kansas before arriving at Louisville in 2004. Along with Ervin and other top recruits, Eatman was named one of the top 10 assistant coaches in the country by Basketball Times in 2003.

It was Eatman’s second tour with the Jayhawks, joining Washington’s staff after serving as the head man for four seasons at Illinois-Chicago. Eatman brought in two top 20 recruiting classes in his four years at UIC.

Eatman arrived at Kansas for the first time in 1996, and landed the nation’s No. 6 recruiting class in his second year. He backed it up with another No. 6 class in 1998, and added a third-ranked class in 2003. On the court, he worked with players that led Kansas to the Big 12 Championship in 1997 and reached the Sweet 16 in 1998.

Working with another coaching legend before Kansas, Eatman was an assistant coach for then Iowa head coach C. Vivian Stringer. With the Hawkeyes, Eatman also had the nation’s top recruiting class in 1994, and was honored by Lindy’s Magazine as one of the top young recruiters in women’s basketball. He backed it up with a 12th-ranked class the following year.

Prior to Iowa, Eatman spent a season at Houston from 1992-93, and the Cougars’ 1992 class was rated No. 4 in the country.

Eatman also has experience in the SEC, spending one season as an assistant at Mississippi State.

A 1988 graduate of Talladega College with a bachelor’s degree in chemistry, Eatman started his college coaching career as the head coach at his alma mater. Turning the team into a winner in his first season, Eatman led the Tornadoes to a 20-9 season in his second year with Talladega.

Along with a gift for identifying and signing talented players, Eatman has also developed coaches with 13 of his former players in the coaching ranks. Six more players, including veterans like Tangela Smith and Tamecka Dixon, have played in the WNBA. He should have his seventh, Ervin, next season.

Eatman recently completed his Master of Sacred Literature in Christian Education from Louisville Bible College.

ASSISTANT COACH ZENARAE ANTOINE

Colorado State, 1998

Recruiting is the lifeblood of successful college athletic teams and no one is more committed to the process than Razorback assistant coach and recruiting coordinator Zenarae Antoine.

“Coach Z”, as she is referred to by recruits and friends, serves as the recruiting coordinator for the Razorbacks and her impact made immediate waves for Arkansas in her first two seasons with the team.

She opened with back-to-back nationally-ranked recruiting classes that included two players who earned All-SEC recognition as freshmen (Lyndsay Harris and C’eira Ricketts).

The newcomers for the 2010-11 season have that same elite-level potential and expectations are equally high this year. Arkansas has five newcomers who are all expected to have an impact on the Razorbacks.

“Working at the University of Arkansas has been a wonderful experience,” Antoine said. “From the faculty and staff to the student body and athletic department, Arkansas embodies all that is essential about the college experience.

“I really enjoy recruiting,” Antoine continued. “I have had so many wonderful experiences meeting people and traveling. I really believe in what we’re doing here at Arkansas and its a joy to be able to share that with others and encourage them to be a part of it.

Managing the Razorbacks’ extensive recruiting data base as the staff’s recruiting coordinator, Antoine also works with the wing guards and small forwards and serving as the coaching staff’s liaison with the Razorback academic staff.

Active in the community, Antoine was the team’s liaison with the local Susan G. Komen group for Arkansas’ Pink Zonegame. Along with her work with the Razorback academic staff, she is also the women’s basketball team liaison to the student-athlete welfare and LifeSkills program.

Prior to Arkansas, Antoine worked with Collen as the recruiting coordinator at Louisville, and guided the Cardinals to nationally-ranked recruiting classes her four seasons at UL. Her last two recruiting classes were No. 26 for 2006 and No. 25 for 2007. Among the most notable signees for the Cardinals were Kodak All-

American and 2007 Big East Player of the Year Angel McCoughtry and Kodak Junior College All-American Helen Johnson.

Prior to Louisville, Antoine spent two seasons as an assistant at Ohio University where she was responsible for recruiting for the Antoine received her master's from Ohio where her coaching career began as a graduate assistant.

During her playing career at Colorado State, Antoine was a three-year starter for the Rams. She played her senior season for Collen as CSU went 24-6 and reached the NCAA second round during his first season as head coach.

"As a former player for Coach Collen, I can reassure everyone that not only is he a great thinker of the game, but he is a very caring, thoughtful and kind person," Antoine said. "He is a proven winner, and what I can promise the community, our student-athletes and our recruits is that through Coach Collen's leadership we will work hard and take the Razorbacks to new heights."

Working with posts and guards during her coaching career, Antoine was an anchor in the middle for CSU during her playing days. She finished her career third in blocked shots and seventh in rebounding. She also ranks high for single season rebounds and blocked shots. During her career, CSU had two league titles and two NCAA appearances.

Antoine is married to Ronald Antoine who is the wide receivers coach at South Alabama University. Antoine was a Katy, Texas, resident and earned her bachelor's degree in physical science with minors in geology and statistics from CSU in 1998, and her master's in athletic administration at Ohio in 2000. Antoine is a member of the WBCA, BCA and a 2002 graduate of the Women's Coaches Academy. The Antoines have twin sons, Zavier and Zachary, and a yellow lab named Daisy.

ASSISTANT COACH GREG COLLINS

Fourth Season

Louisville, 1988

Published author isn't a phrase often tossed around in coaches biographies, but Arkansas assistant coach Greg Collins isn't the average women's college assistant coach.

Considered one of the top X-and-O coaches in the women's game, Collins provided drills for one of the standard books on women's basketball. He has a long career of being one of the top drill masters and scouts in women's basketball, both at the college and professional level.

His impact extends to the recruiting efforts at Arkansas as he was key in the signing of the highest rated player in the Razorbacks top 25 Class of 2008, Louisville product C'eira Ricketts.

In her first year, Ricketts earned SEC Freshman of the Year honors as well as selection to the SEC Second Team. She was an AP All-America selection and won a gold medal with the USA U19 team in international play.

Collins joined the University of Arkansas in 2007 after serving with incoming head coach Tom Collen at Louisville for the past several seasons. At Louisville, Collins worked with the Cardinals scouting, and retains that game coaching assignment along with day-to-day court work with Arkansas.

Collins works with post players developing three in to professionals. He assisted former Razorback Lauren Ervin on the court, then played an important role in preparing her for the 2008 WNBA Draft. Even though Ervin missed the entire second half of the season with a torn ACL, she was drafted by the Connecticut Sun in the third round.

At Louisville, Lori Nero was drafted by the Houston Comets before going on to a highly-successful European career. Jazz Covington also stars in Europe.

"We're fortunate that we were able to convince Greg to leave," Collen said. "He grew up and was raised in Kentucky, but give him time and the folks here will believe he's a native Arkansan."

- + Helped Arkansas to a top 25 recruiting class in his first year
- + Works with post players and scouting at Arkansas

The floor work and scouting breakdowns by Collins for the new Arkansas coaching staff are vital to the team's future success.

"He is one of the finest at individual instruction I know, and his expertise and enthusiasm are a huge addition to the program," Colleen said.

Collins was a five-year veteran at Louisville, working the past four seasons for Colleen. A former AAU coach for Derek Smith All-Stars, his youth teams produced three Miss Kentucky Basketball winners and was ranked among the top 15 programs in the country. He served as assistant athletic director and assistant coach at DuPont Manual High School in Louisville prior to becoming a member of the UL women's staff.

During his career, he has been a contributor to the coaching technique book, Five-Star Girls' Basketball Drills, and served as an advance scout for the WNBA New York Liberty.

Collins also was one of the first women's coaches in the country to put advanced video software to work for a college team. He brings that experience from assisting with the development of one of the country's top coaching video programs to Arkansas, and works with the Razorbacks to enhance the program of video analysis to assist the Arkansas players and staff.

His work with video also extends to developing talent behind the keyboard. Six of his former video assistants are now working full-time with hoops teams including the NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers, Orlando Magic and Sacramento Kings plus college teams including Miami, Marquette and Florida State.

A Louisville native, he earned his bachelor's degree from UL in marketing in 1988, then finished a master's in business education from UL in 1994. Collins married the former Rae Tribble in the summer 2010.

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

AMBER SHIREY

19 Seasons

Arkansas, 1992

Amber Shirey is the only person who gets an asterisk by her years of service.

While this is her 19th season as a part of the coaching staff, she has been a part of Arkansas women's basketball for the past 22 years.

Arriving in Fayetteville as a highly recruited freshman point guard in 1988, Shirey has always been considered a legend by the fans.

As a player, she took Arkansas to its Southwest Conference pinnacle with two championships, the 1990 NCAA West Regional Finals, and three NCAA appearances.

As a coach, she managed to wipe out her own accomplishments as the 1998 team went one step further by reaching the Final Four.

She broke new ground once again as the executive director of basketball operations for new head coach Tom Colleen in 2007-08.

Colleen's return reunites the fellow assistant coaches under former Razorbacks' skipper Gary Blair in the late 1990s.

"I really believe our staff would not have been complete without my ability to retain Amber," Colleen said. "Everyone in the state identifies Arkansas women's basketball with the tradition that Amber established back in the late 1980s as a point guard."

As the executive director, Shirey brings her duties with scheduling to the existing assignments for the operations director for travel and summer camps. Colleen added the responsibility for Shirey as the coordinator for on-campus recruiting activities.

Voted by the University of Arkansas Lettermen's Club into the Arkansas Hall of Honor in 2002, she was honored by the university and the Southeastern Conference at the 2003 women's basketball tournament as one of the league's legendary players.

What appears to be such an incredible career seems rather natural to Shirey.

"This gives me an opportunity to give something back to the program and the people of Arkansas that helped me through my career," Shirey said.

"When you're in high school in Arkansas, most kids dream about being a Razorback."

One of the most decorated athletes in women's history at Arkansas, Shirey was the first women's student-athlete selected to receive a NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship.

She closed her career as one of two players in school history to rank on four career total lists (points, 6th; rebounds, 10th; steals, 2nd; assists, 1st). While no longer Arkansas' all-time assist leader with 538, Shirey still holds the record for consecutive games started, 87. Twice named All-Southwest Conference, she was the MVP of the 1991 SWC tournament, leading Arkansas to the first non-Texas title.

Shirey equaled her court performance in the classroom. A kinesiology major, she had over a 3.9 GPA, and twice was voted to the College Sports Information Directors of America's Academic All-America Team. She was a three-time conference academic team member.

An Arkansas native, Shirey led Newark High to a 36-6 record her senior year and the Class B state title with 28.1 ppg. Senior class president and valedictorian, she graduated with a 4.18 GPA on a 4.00 scale. Shirey was named state player of the year as a senior and two-time AAU All-American, leading the Arkansas Pipers to the 16-and-under national championship in 1987.

She is married to Jason Shirey. Coach of the Fayetteville High softball team, Jason led the Lady Bulldogs to back-to-back state championships in 2006 and 2007. The Shireys have two children, a son, Ross, and a daughter, Reese, and are expecting a third child this fall.

SUPPORT STAFF

TODD BARBOUR
Director of Strength and Conditioning for Olympic Sports

Todd Barbour joined the Razorback staff as Arkansas' director of strength and conditioning for Olympic sports in the summer of 2008.

Barbour has 15 years of experience in the strength and conditioning field and joins the athletic department staff after spending the four previous years as the director of performance at the Performance and Wellness Institute in Greeley, Colo.

He also spent five years as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at Oregon State, and five years as a high school strength and conditioning coach as well as a football and softball coach in Billings, Mont.

Barbour earned his bachelor's in physical education and sports science from the University of Idaho in 1994. He earned certification from the National Strength and Conditioning Association in 2001 and the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association in 2002.

At the Performance and Wellness Institute, he designed, developed and implemented philosophy and principles for fitness, regeneration, rehabilitation and pre-rehabilitation. He also designed the new facility, budgeted, and researched and purchased all equipment.

Barbour assisted in the development and implementation of protocol for orthopedic evaluations, injury screens, athletic consults, emergency procedures, "performance inhibitors" and post-surgical workout evaluations. He recruited athletes in the sports of baseball, softball, golf, volleyball, football and basketball to train in northern Colorado at the Performance and Wellness Institute.

A presenter and participant in regional and national conferences and seminars on strength and conditioning and sport nutrition, he has also been a director and presenter at pre-season, in-season and summer training camps, and designed and presented a speed and agility demonstration at the NSCA State Clinic hosted by the Oregon State Strength and Conditioning Department.

At OSU, where he was hired by football coach Dennis Erickson and was the first assistant for football, he was a coach and presenter at summer camps for football, baseball, softball and basketball.

Barbour and his wife, Angie, have three sons, Tysen, Ayden and Tanner.

ANDREA BLAKNEY
Basketball Secretary

Andrea Blakney continues for her 10th year as the secretary for the Razorback basketball staff. Along with keeping the coaching staff coordinated and relating with the public, Blakney also assists with the annual basketball camps and the team's recruiting data base systems.

Andrea and husband Glen have one son, Travis, daughter-in-law, Jennifer, and granddaughter, Fern. When she's not working in the Razorback office, Andrea enjoys sports, the outdoors, reading and family activities.

JEREMY BRAZIEL
Basketball Athletic Trainer

Jeremy Braziel took over as the women's basketball athletic trainer just before the start of fall drills for the women's basketball team in October 2006.

Braziel came to Arkansas from the University of Tennessee at Martin where he handled the day-to-day athletic training needs of the football team. In addition, Braziel was an adjunct instructor at UT-Martin.

During his three-and-a-half-year tenure with UT-Martin, Braziel also was responsible for designing and implementing an emergency action plan, handling bidding and ordering of supplies, supervising students, coordinating insurance payments and overseeing the university's drug testing procedures.

Braziel has completed his graduate course work at Ohio State University towards his master's degree in allied health management. He worked with the women's ice hockey and volleyball teams while with the Buckeyes.

A 2000 graduate of Oklahoma State University with his bachelor's degree in athletic training, Braziel worked with the Cowgirls basketball team among other assignments.

In addition to his collegiate athletic training experience, Braziel has worked with several professional football teams including the Dallas Cowboys and Philadelphia Eagles, but perhaps his most unique resume line is working with NFL Europe, serving as an athletic trainer for the Scottish Claymores in Glasgow.

Along with women's basketball, Braziel will serve as the athletic trainer for the Razorbacks' nationally-ranked women's golf team.

Braziel and wife, Diana, are expecting their first child this spring.

JEFF BRAZIL

Director of Video Operations

Jeff Brazil begins his fourth season with the Razorback women's basketball staff and his first as the director of video operations for the 2010-11 season. Brazil served the Razorbacks for three seasons as the assistant video coordinator.

Brazil is responsible for all aspects of video editing for the Razorbacks. He helps with film breakdown, digital video exchange and professional highlight videos.

A native of Colcord, Okla., Brazil's experience includes stints as a student manager at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M and Oklahoma State with the men's basketball teams.

In addition, Brazil has worked several camps and clinics throughout the south and midwest including the Tom Collen, John Pelphrey, Rick Barnes, Mark Turgeon Dan Hays and Doc Sadler camps. He has also worked the SEC Tournament Youth Clinic. Brazil is a member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches, the Arkansas Coaches Association, the Women's Basketball Coaches Association and the University of Arkansas Mortar Board Chapter.

Recently Brazil assisted former Razorback coach Nolan Richardson and the WNBA's Tulsa Shock with video prior to the 2010 draft.

Brazil is married to the former Sheri McElroy of Springdale, Ark., and is a 2010 University of Arkansas graduate in education. He is currently working on his master's degree.

TAMESHA GREENLEE

Academics

Tamesha Greenlee returned to the Razorback academic center in August 2008 as a full-time assistant academic coordinator.

Prior to her fall hiring in the academic center, Greenlee worked as a student development specialist and communications coordinator at Arkansas for two years.

A 2004 honor graduate of Arkansas Tech in speech communications, she worked with both the ATU Wesley Foundation and several of ATU's student affairs offices during her undergraduate days. Greenlee was an honor graduate of Nashville High in Nashville, Ark., and earned her master's degree at the University of Arkansas in higher education in 2006.

WYATT HODGES

Assistant Video Coordinator

Wyatt Hodges begins his second season with Razorback women's basketball. He was named assistant video coordinator in August 2010 and his main responsibilities include the filming of games and film breakdown.

Hodges spent one semester as a student manager under Razorback men's basketball coach John Pelphrey. He has also worked John Pelphrey and Doc Sadler basketball camps.

A Spokane, Mo., native, Hodges was a member of a state tournament team, helping the Owls to the Elite 8 and a 22-7 overall record.

Basketball runs in Wyatt's family as his father, Garry, is an assistant basketball coach at North Arkansas College in Harrison, Arkansas.

Hodges is the son of Garry and Karen Hodges and has three older sisters: Heather, Shannon, Brooke, and a twin brother, Grant.

ASHLEA WILLIAMS

Student Assistant

Ashlea Williams joins the Razorbacks in a new capacity for the 2010-11 season, student assistant. A three-year member of the team, injuries sidelined Williams much of her junior season.

Born Ashlea Marie Williams on May 24, 1989, she is the daughter of Steven and Navita Williams of Springfield, Mo. She has one older brother, Ayrton, a younger brother, Byron, and a sister, Witney.

ELISABETH FERRELL

Student Athletic Trainer

Elisabeth Ferrell is beginning her second year as a graduate student at the University of Arkansas in 2010-11.

She is pursuing her master's degree in athletic training and has also worked with the Razorback track and field and football teams. In addition, she has worked with several athletic teams at Bentonville (Ark.) High.

MANAGERS

Being a manager for an athletic team is a thankless task and the Razorback women's basketball team is fortunate enough to have five students working with the squad this season.

Grace Parker joined the Razorback women's basketball managers in 2008. An honors graduate and all-state basketball player at Benton High in central Arkansas, she is a senior majoring in kinesiology at Arkansas.

First-year managers Morgan Abernathy, Amanda Coughlin, Mike Jennings and Morgan Myrick are taking their cues from Parker this year.

Watch for Arkansas' managers on the sidelines as they prepare and maintain the bench area, prepare coaches for timeouts and assist players as they transition in and out of the game. They also assist with statistics, equipment and team travel often arriving at the plane before the team and staying long after players and coaches have gone.

SUPPORT STAFF

JEAN NAIL
Spirit Groups

Nail is in her 30th year as spirit group coordinator for the Razorbacks. She coordinates the selection and performance schedule of the Razorback Cheerleaders, Pom squad, RBI Girls and Razorback Mascot Family.

Nail received her bachelor's in 1986 and master's in 1987 in education from the University of Arkansas.

Jean and husband Mike Nail have two daughters, Michelle (Mrs. Doug) Kehn and Elsa (Mrs. Scott) Salrin and are the proud grandparents of John Michael Kehn and Aubrey Anne Kehn.

KRAIG JIMENEZ
Cheer Coach

Kraig Jimenez is in his ninth year as cheer coach for the Arkansas Razorbacks. He has been a head camp instructor for Universal Cheerleaders Association for nine years. Jimenez is from Houston, Texas and cheered four years at the University of Nebraska.

The Hogwild Band will be led by second-year graduate conductor Brandon Hults and first-year graduate conductors Wes King, Michael Post and Nick Ryan.

Hults shares the responsibility of conducting the Campus Band and various chamber ensembles. Beside his teaching opportunities, Hults also performs with the university's Wind Symphony. He is a 2008 graduate of East Carolina University.

King also shares the responsibility of conducting the Campus Band. King also maintains participation in the University of Arkansas Wind Symphony, where he also assists as needed. He is a 2008 graduate of Mississippi State University.

Post also performs with the Wind Symphony, the Tuba and Euphonium Ensemble and his own Tuba Quartet. He is a 2009 graduate of the University of Arkansas.

Ryan is a former member of the world-renowned OU percussion orchestra, symphony orchestra, wind symphony, jazz bands, marching and steel drum bands. He is a 2010 graduate of the University of Oklahoma.

AS A SOPHOMORE (2009-10)

Perhaps no player grew more from the 2008-09 season than Ashley Daniels. Daniels was a 30-game starter averaging 6.8 ppg and a team-best 6.1 rpg as a sophomore. Daniels opened the year with a career-best 21 points in a win over Alcorn State. She was 6-for-9 from the floor hitting 66.7 percent of her shots. She grabbed a career-high 17 boards, nine offensive and eight defensive, in a win over Sam Houston State. She finished the year with four double-digit rebounding performances. Daniels recorded a career-best four assists at Auburn and tied her career-best with two blocks at No. 5 Tennessee.

AS A FRESHMAN (2008-09)

One of the top athletes from the state of Mississippi last season, Daniels brought versatility to the Razorbacks. Daniels played in 28 games scoring 47 points and grabbing 73 rebounds in her first season of collegiate basketball. She scored a season/career-best seven points at Memphis helping Arkansas to the non-conference win. Daniels was 3-for-4 from the three-point line in that win. She then followed up with a season/career-best 11 rebounds in the next outing, a 33 point drubbing of Mississippi Valley State.

AT COLDWATER

A 6-2 forward from Coldwater High in Coldwater, Miss., Daniels averaged 19.8 ppg and 8.7 rpg her senior season. She led Coldwater to the Mississippi state title in Class A in 2008 as the Cougars went an impressive 35-1. In spite of playing the state's smallest division, Coldwater was ranked fourth in the Mississippi overall prep rankings. Daniels was a first-team all-state pick of the Jackson Clarion-Ledger. The Cougars repeated her junior season efforts as Daniels turned in 18.3 ppg and 10.2 rpg to lead CHS to the 2007 Class AA title. Coldwater went 31-6 for the title that season. Rated 128th by the Blue Star Recruiting Service, Daniels was a freshman phenom, Daniels played in the state title game and was named all-region and all-state as a ninth grader. Her career high came during that freshman season with 36 points. She was twice named to the Dandy Dozen as a junior and senior, also earning all-region and all-state. Daniels was a three-sport athlete, reaching the state meet in track as a member of the Coldwater 4X400 relay, the open 400 and the triple jump. She also played softball for CHS.

PERSONAL

Born Ashley Breanna Rashae Daniels on Dec. 6, 1989, she is the daughter of Roy and Carolyn Daniels of Coldwater, Miss. She is the youngest of three Daniels, with older brothers Royrick and Brandon. Royrick is a first sergeant in the Army.

PIG TAILS

NAME	Yashira Marie Delgado
BORN	July 23, 1992

WHAT COACH SAYS

We're very excited about Yashira's decision to attend Arkansas. She flew a little under the radar in the early signing period and we were fortunate to pick up such a good player at this time. Yashira was listed as the third-best unsigned point guard in the 2010 class. She is a high-energy type of player. She will push it hard in transition and create a lot of scoring opportunities for her teammates. She has great court vision and is one of the best passers in the 2010 point guard class.

IN HIGH SCHOOL

Yashira "Cheetah" Delgado checks in from Kissimmee, Fla., where she finished her prep career with the West Oaks Academy Flames. Delgado recently added summer hoops to her resumé playing organized basketball with the Orlando Comets and the exposure late in her career made a difference in recruiting.

Scout.com named Delgado, a 5-5 point guard, as a "2010 Breakout Player" and noted that while she may have been a "relative unknown, she was one of the most polished point guards in the state." They predicted her "stock would rise" and it did with the guard getting looks from several other regional and national schools before choosing Arkansas.

Delgado played high school ball at Poinciana High before transferring to West Oaks. She paced her prep teams to a pair of district runner-up finishes and a second-place showing at the Division I Nationals as a senior.

Her numerous honors include four-time team MVP, two all-conference selections and three player of the year awards. She scored her 1,000th career point as a junior and holds the county record for assists.

PERSONAL

Born July 23, 1992, Yashira Marie Delgado is one of three children to Felix Delgado and the late Mary Ann Montes. She has an older brother, Joshua, and younger sister, Yazmine.

WHAT COACH SAYS

Erin is a great fit for our system. We really wanted to add depth and experience to our point guard position and Erin helps us fill that need. We know we are getting a young lady with a lot of toughness both mentally and physically and that she loves Arkansas. I wish she were eligible immediately but I know she'll make us a better team by pushing our other point guards every day in practice.

Gatling must sit out a year due to NCAA transfer rules.

AT SOUTHERN MISS

In her two seasons at Southern Mississippi, Erin Gatling led the team in free throw percentage her freshman season and was the team's leader in steals and assists as a sophomore. She paced the Golden Eagles to a conference runner-up finish in the 2008-09 season.

In addition, Gatling was a member of the conference honor roll with a 3.12 grade point average in exercise science.

AT VAN BUREN HS

Gatling averaged 16.0 ppg and 6.5 apg at Van Buren High. She concluded her prep career as the Pointers' all-time leading scorer with 1,127 points and led the team in assists, steals and free throws made.

She was an all-conference and all-state selection in basketball and also lettered in track and field. She won the 800-meter state champion as a prepster and still ranks among the state's leaders in the 800.

PERSONAL

Born Nov. 13, 1989, Erin Renee Gatling is one of three children to David and Cheryl Gatling of Van Buren, Ark. She has two siblings, Chris and Jacob. Gatling plans to major in kinesiology and applied exercise science at Arkansas.

AS A SOPHOMORE (2009-10)

Lyndsay Harris was one of a couple of Razorbacks who started the season with a target on her back. A member of the Southeastern Conference's All-Freshman Team in 2008-09, Harris strove to elevate her game to the next level as a sophomore. And she did just that. Harris, primarily a two-guard, improved from 10.3 ppg to 12.6, hovering around 13.0 ppg for much of the year as the Razorbacks leading scorer. Harris, who was also Arkansas' back up at the point, set career-bests for points, field goals, three-point field goals and tied her best for three-pointers attempted in a Razorback win over Western Kentucky in Cancun. Harris led all scorers with 26 points with nine field goals, going 8-for-12 from three-point range, missing the single-game record by one.

She also had career-bests with a 7-for-7 performance from the line against Florida in the SEC opener and with eight assists in the season opener with Alcorn State. Harris tied her career marks with 17 attempts against DePaul and grabbed a season-high six rebounds twice as a sophomore. Harris hit at least one three-pointer in 28 of Arkansas' 30 games and finished the year with 15 consecutive games with a three.

AS A FRESHMAN (2008-09)

Harris was Arkansas' best three-point threat as a true freshman last year. She hit 52 treys during the regular season and was the Razorbacks' third-leading scorer with 9.9 ppg heading into the SEC Tournament. Her season/career-best 23 points against Oregon State ties for the most by any Razorback in 2008-09, and she received all-tournament honors at the Junkanoo Jam in November. Harris pulled in a season/career-best seven rebounds against Ole Miss in the SEC Tournament.

Harris' success was rewarded at the end of the season when she was selected to the SEC's All-Freshman Team joining teammate C'eira Ricketts. Harris and Ricketts are only the second teammates to earn selection to the SEC All-Freshman team. In 1996, Shaka Massey and Sytia Messer were chosen for the all-freshman squad.

AT HOOVER

A top 100 recruit in the country, the Hoover, Ala., shooting guard led the Lady Bucs to a 30-2 overall record as a senior, averaging 18 ppg, 4 rpg and 5 apg. Her three-point shooting skill was on display in her future home state as she set the Fort Smith, Ark., Tournament of Champions record with seven three-pointers. Hoover won the event, and Harris was named the tournament's MVP. First-team Class 6A all-state by the Alabama Sports Writers Association, Harris was also named to the 2008 Super All-Metro team by the Birmingham News. The News also tabbed Harris as the player of the year for the South-Hoover region. Hoover was 23-7 in 2007 as Harris averaged 15 ppg and 5 apg. A four-year starter, she averaged 18 ppg and 3 rpg as a sophomore and 7.8 ppg and 5 apg as a freshman. For her career, she scored 1,879 points for Hoover, with a career single game high of 39 points against Fort Smith Southside. She was ranked 81st in the country by All-Star Girls Report, and was the 49th overall player by the regional South East Hoops Report. Harris played her AAU basketball with the Alabama Twisters out of Birmingham, which won the U18 national title in 2008.

PERSONAL

Born Lyndsay Robyn Harris on Aug. 31, 1990, she is the daughter of Robert Harris and the late Cheryl Cheatham. Harris has an older brother, Robert, and sister, Ashley; and a younger sister, Jordan. Her brother Robert played for McNeese State as well as professionally in Europe.

WHAT COACH SAYS

Kelsey is a young lady we looked at out of high school. We're very excited that she has returned to her home state and wants to be a Razorback. Kelsey has good ball handling skills and will be a big asset to the program next year.

This year, Kelsey will have to redshirt due to the NCAA transfer rules but she will be a vital part of practice helping to make everyone around her better.

PRIOR TO ARKANSAS

Hatcher has found her home at Arkansas after stints at Oklahoma State and Southern Methodist. Hatcher inked with the Cowgirls out of high school and appeared in 25 games as a true freshman. She shot 28-of-60 from the field and was 16-of-38 from three-point range for a .421 shooting percentage. That mark ranked second on the team. She had 15 rebounds and 10 assists in her first season.

Hatcher transferred to SMU following her freshman season at OSU and sat out the 2009-10 season due to NCAA rules.

AT CENTRAL ARKANSAS CHRISTIAN

Hatcher was an all-state selection as a senior leading CAC to a 27-5 record and a berth in the 4A State Tournament. She averaged 24 ppg as a senior and finished her career third on the school's all-time scoring list with 1,518 career points in three seasons. Hatcher was a four-time all-conference and two-time all-state selection and scored 1,974 career points with 283 three-pointers over her four-year prep career (Pulaski Academy and CAC).

In addition to basketball, Hatcher was active in cross country, soccer and track helping her teams to 11 state titles. She was featured in Sports Illustrated's "Faces In The Crowd".

PERSONAL

Born Jan. 17, 1990, Kelsey Brooke Hatcher is the oldest of six children to Greg Hatcher and Tammy Childress of Little Rock, Ark. She has four sisters, Haley, Larkin, Lynley and Mattie and a brother, Layne. Hatcher is majoring in fashion merchandising at Arkansas.

AS A SOPHOMORE (2009-10)

Inman played in games last year scoring four points and grabbing five rebounds. Inman spent the later half of the season focusing on her studies.

AS A FRESHMAN (2008-09)

Considered one of the best outside shooters from the state of Arkansas in several seasons, Inman has the opportunity to follow in the footsteps of some of the great Natural State prep stars.

She took her first steps toward that goal playing in 30 games last year averaging 10.5 minutes per game. Inman showed off her skills in a season/career-best game against Stetson in December. She scored 11 points, had four rebounds, four assists, one block, three three-pointers and hit four field goals, all of which are personal bests as a collegiate player. Inman had a season/career-best three steals against Mississippi Valley.

AT CARLISLE

With more than 2,000 points in her career at Carlisle, Inman was four-time all-district and four-time all-state player for Coach Toby Tevebaugh. Leading Carlisle to back-to-back state titles, she closed her high school career where her college career will start, playing in the Arkansas Activities Association's All-Star game at Walton Arena. She was a two-time first-team pick by the Arkansas Democrat-Gazette as a junior and senior, and was named the Democrat-Gazette's Super Sophomore team. As a senior, she averaged 20 ppg, 5 rpg, 8 apg and 6 spg, including 18 in the title game as the Bison defeated Augusta, 55-41. As a junior, she averaged 18 ppg, 5 rpg and 6 apg to lead CHS to the state title in 2007. She averaged 20 ppg as a sophomore and 17 ppg as a freshman. During her sophomore season, Inman paced Carlisle into the state semifinals after winning the 6AA South title with 17 ppg and 5 rpg. A veteran of state AAU basketball, Inman played last season for Coach Benny Brown's squad that won the 2007 Junior Olympic national title. In addition to earning letters in track, she is a three-year letterwinning cheerleader and served one season as the captain of the squad. Inman is a honors student at CHS, hoping to follow in her father and grandfather's footsteps to become a dentist after completing her degree at Arkansas.

WHAT COACH SAYS

We are ecstatic about signing Keira. This is a young lady who never played on the summer club circuit and therefore has never been listed in any of the recruiting publications. In the end, that worked to our benefit because no one saw her until late her senior year. Georgia and Auburn saw her at the same time and all three of us offered her. If Keira played on a high-profile AAU team, she would be listed in the top 50 in the country. Her athleticism is off the charts. She won the Georgia state high jump championship as a junior jumping 5-6. She just missed a dunk in a high school game this season and can easily dunk a volleyball. Her vertical has never been tested but we are guessing its 36" or better. Athleticism aside, she is a warrior on the court and her basketball skills are improving daily. We anticipate her playing at the forward position and immediately impacting us as a rebounder and a great defender. She is just a great young lady, high in character with a great work ethic.

AT LOWNDES HS

Keira Peak is a first-team all-state selection from Clyatsville, Ga. (near Valdosta). Listed as a power or strong forward for Lowndes High School, Peak played in 29 games averaging 22.0 ppg as a senior. Her career numbers include 83 games, 18.0 ppg, 3.0 apg and 12.0 rpg in four seasons.

In addition to her all-state honor, Peak most recently earned MVP honors at the North-South All-Star game. She is a first-team all-region selection as a senior after earning first-team honors as a junior.

Peak paced the Lowndes Vikes to three consecutive 22+ win seasons and scored more than 1,200 career points. She grabbed more than 800 career rebounds and had 200+ steals.

In addition to basketball, Peak was a four-year letterwinner in track and a one-year letterwinner in softball.

PERSONAL

Keira Shauntae Peak was born May 17, 1991, and is the daughter of Carol Jacobs of Valdosta, Ga. Peak has three older siblings, Tony, Kenneth and Keia, and plans to major in business at Arkansas.

AS A JUNIOR (2009-10)

Caroline Powell waited a year and a half to suit up for the Razorbacks. A junior college transfer, Powell joined the Razorbacks in 2008-09 as a manager and then a practice player. She became eligible to play in January 2010. Powell saw action in one game getting into the lineup for two minutes at No. 24 Georgia in the final game of the regular season. She grabbed one rebound while on the floor.

PRIOR TO ARKANSAS

Powell attended Shelton State Community College in Tuscaloosa, Ala., graduating with an A.A. degree in arts in 2008. While at Shelton State, Powell helped her team to a pair of conference titles and a No. 1 ranking in the nation on offense in 2006-07. Powell played to a 62-9 record in two seasons and was an All-Star game participant in 2007-08.

AS A JUNIOR (2009-10)

It's never easy for a new player to step in and play in her first season with a team – especially in the SEC – but Skye Rees became a go-to player for Arkansas as a first-year junior. Rees finished her first year with the Razorbacks averaging 3.4 ppg and 1.7 rpg improving with each contest. Coming in from the bench at the first of the year, Rees worked her way into the starting lineup for the first time against No. 20 Vanderbilt. She earned the start, in part, to a break-out game at No. 25 Kentucky where she posted a career-best 10 points in 16 minutes. Rees started eight of the last 10 games shooting over 36 percent. She matched her career-best with 10 points at No. 24 Georgia in the final game of the regular season.

AT NE OKLAHOMA A&M

Rees played all 33 games in 2008-09 for the Lady Norse, averaging 16.9 ppg and 6 rpg as NEO went 24-9. Rees hit 49% from the field and 78 percent from the line for coach Jim Rowland. Rees was named to the first-team Bi-State East squad as the Lady Norse went 46-16 in her two years at Northeastern A&M. She poured in a JUCO career-high 30 points against Northern Oklahoma-Enid in 2008-09. As a freshman, Rees averaged 9.5 ppg and 7.8 rpg in 29 games. A 3.5 student in kinesiology, Rees earned Dean's Honor and Phi Theta Kappa academic honors at NEO.

AT DROUIN

Rees played state basketball in the southern state of Victoria from 2003 to 2007. She was a member of the Victoria Under 20 team that won the national tournament in 2007. She also played for the Dandenong Rangers' amateur youth squad, Victoria Country and in the Nunawading leagues. She was the top scorer for the Rangers in 2007, hitting 12.8 ppg the year before she enrolled at Northeastern A&M.

Rees also played for Vic Country in the U18 Australian National Junior Championships, with a highlight game of a 12 point-11 rebound double in the final rounds of the national tournament. She was among the top rebounders at the 2006 national juniors. Rees was in the Australian junior camp in 2004 and 2005, and toured the U.S. in the fall of 2006 as a member of Melbourne Roos. Her highlight of the 11-game tour against west coast Division I teams was a team high 13 in the Roos exhibition at then top 15-ranked Cal.

PERSONAL

Born Jan. 10, 1989, Skye Janelle Rees is one of four children to Glen and Wilma Rees. Her siblings include Keira, Calvin and Stephanie.

AS A JUNIOR (2009-10)

Brittney Richardson battled injury and illness as a junior in 2009-10. The Mountain Home, Ark., product played in 12 games last year after being sidelined by a back injury at the mid-point of the season. She missed five games in January returning for against No. 20 Vanderbilt in the last game of the month. It would also be her last game as she had surgery on a non-athletic illness.

During her time in the lineup, Richardson scored 23 points and had a pair of rebounds. She hit seven field goals, two from three-point range, and was a perfect 7-for-7 from the line, including a 6-for-6 night against Sam Houston State.

AS A SOPHOMORE (2008-09)

Richardson is a versatile inside-outside player with the ability to shoot the three or bang around down low for Arkansas. She showed that versatility as a sophomore playing in all 29 games averaging nearly 11 minutes per contest. Richardson posted a career-best 18 points at Texas Tech and posted a season-high three rebounds in three different games in 2008-09.

AS A FRESHMAN (2007-08)

Richardson played in 27 of Arkansas' 30 games her freshman season, averaging 3.9 ppg and 0.8 rpg. She joined a short list of Razorbacks to score double digits in their career opener with 10 points off the bench in 12 minutes against Lipscomb. She followed up with a 10-point game against Sam Houston State before her playing time was limited by pain in her right foot. Returned to the court for a four-game stretch against SEC opponents in which she played close to 20 minutes a game and was just shy of 10 ppg. She hit two three-pointers to bookend a nine-point run at Alabama to key Named all-state in the 6A division and to the first-team all-state team selected by the Arkansas Democrat-Gazette, Richardson helped lead the Lady Bombers to a 20-9 record and a berth in the state final four. Her previous seasons were at IZARD County where she averaged 21.8 ppg and 6.8 rpg as a sophomore. Twice named the Jonesboro Sun's player of the week, she had 1,782 career points in her seasons at IZARD County. Averaging 27.1 ppg as a junior, Richardson broke the school record for single season scoring and came within 33 points of a 1,000-point year. An all-state selection and Arkansas Athletes Outreach Top 25 camp participant, Richardson had career highs of 40 points and 18 rebounds. Richardson graduated with a perfect 4.0 GPA for her combined high school career.

AS A SOPHOMORE (2009-10)

No player started the season with higher expectations or a bigger target on her head than C'eira Ricketts. The reigning Southeastern Conference Freshman of the Year and pre-season all-conference selection, Ricketts was asked to lead a young team with a new philosophy – get the ball inside. She stepped to the challenge and finished in the top three at Arkansas with 9.7 ppg and 5.0 rpg while starting all 30 contests. Ricketts opened the season with a career-best four blocks in a win over Alcorn State and tied her career-best with eight field goals in three games as a sophomore. She went a season-best 5-for-6 from the line at #18 Oklahoma, grabbed a season-best nine boards twice and had seven assists in four different games.

Ricketts dropped in a season-high 18 points against Sam Houston State for one of her 15 games in double-digits. She led the team with 4.0 apg.

AS A FRESHMAN (2008-09)

Ricketts became a marquee player for Arkansas last year. The SEC Co-Freshman of the Year and the Associated Press SEC Newcomer of the Year, Ricketts added selection to the Full Court Press Freshman All-America Team.

Ricketts led Arkansas in scoring, assists and steals as the Razorbacks went 18-14 and returned to the postseason for the first time since 2005. Averaging 12.6 ppg, 6.3 rpg, 3.9 apg and 2.6 spg, Ricketts became the first player in Razorback women's basketball history to record a triple double. The 5-8 Louisville, Ky., product scored 14 points with 13 rebounds and 12 assists against SEC Champion Auburn in January.

A five-time pick as the SEC Freshman of the Week, Ricketts was named second team All-SEC by the league coaches and honorable mention All-SEC by the AP writers. Ricketts was the top scoring freshman in the SEC for most of the season, and led the league in steals. Along with her triple, the freshman had four more double-double games with over 10 points scoring and 10 rebounds. From her point guard position, Ricketts was Arkansas' second leading rebounder.

Ricketts expanded her experience over the summer winning a gold medal with the U19 USA Women's Basketball team in Bangkok, Thailand.

AT FAIRDALE

A six-year starter for the Louisville, Ky., area high school, Ricketts led Fairdale High to back-to-back district championships and a 2007 regional runner-up finish. She averaged 20 ppg her senior year, picking up her fourth career quadruple double along the way. For her career, Ricketts scored 3,113 points to rank 11th all-time in Kentucky girls' basketball history. She added 1,124 rebounds and 614 assists. Ricketts almost had a triple-K with 914 steals, which ranks second all-time among Blue Grass state prep girls. Against Pleasure Ridge Park as the 5-9 point guard had a quadruple double with 21 points, 17 rebounds, 10 assists and 10 steals in the Sixth Region Tournament. She was within three blocked shots of an almost unheard of quintuple. Ricketts had a near miss at a second quad that season, turning in 29 points, 13 steals, 12 boards and eight assists against Southern, but had four in her six-year varsity career. The Fairdale point guard picked up several triple double games including 19 points, 18 rebounds and 10 steals with Bullitt Central. Among her top scoring games was a 35 point effort a 75-56 win by the Lady Bulldogs over Bullitt East. As a junior, Ricketts averaged 18.9 ppg to move into top 30 in points scored for all high school players in Kentucky. Ricketts broke onto the Louisville area scene as a 15 ppg seventh grader for Fairdale, averaging 20 ppg as an eighth grader. For Coach Larry Brunner, Ricketts averaged 21.5 ppg and 8.1 rpg her sophomore year to pace the Bulldogs to a 20-10 mark. She was also voted the homecoming queen for FHS as a senior. Ricketts closed her career with a pair of all-star appearances. Ricketts scored 23 points to lead her home state team in the Ohio-Kentucky All-Star game in early April. She is also one of 12 players selected to represent the state of Kentucky at the annual two-game series against the Indiana All-Stars this June. Ricketts was picked as one of the 10 all-state players by the Kentucky Associated Press.

PERSONAL

Born C'eira Nicole Ricketts on Feb. 22, 1990, she is the daughter of June Kittrell of Louisville, Ky. She has three siblings, Wayne, E'myah and Tevin. She has the distinction of being the first Kentucky prepster to play women's basketball at Arkansas.

AS A FRESHMAN (2009-10)

Dominique Robinson is one of the most athlete members of the Razorback women's basketball team. An intense, quiet player, Robinson saw time in 29 games as a freshman averaging 5.3 ppg and 3.8 rpg. Robinson is a deadly three-point shooter who led the Southeastern Conference in three-point percentage prior to the start of league play. The true freshman went 14-for-33 for 42.4 percent in the opening 12 games. Conference opponents, however, keyed in on Robinson and she went 0-for-18 in SEC games from beyond the arc. Robinson knew it was just a matter of time until she would break out and she did just that hitting four three's in the first round of the SEC Tournament.

The Baton Rouge, La., native posted double-digits four times with a career-best 17 against East Tennessee State. She had 16 in the first round of the SEC tournament against Vanderbilt. Robinson had a career-best eight boards twice in 2009-10.

AT CAPITOL

Robinson was the final spring signee for Razorback basketball team. The 6-0 Louisiana player of the year for Class AAA is a playmaker with size. At 6-0 and with a 20-point-per-game touch, Robinson gives the Razorbacks tremendous flexibility in how she is used in the offense.

Recognized as one of the top high school players available during the late signing period, Robinson was ranked highly by All Star Girls Report overall and top 40 in the nation among shooting guards at No. 32.

A double-double average for one of the state of Louisiana's dominant girls' basketball programs, Robinson averaged 23.7 ppg and 13 rpg in leading Capitol to a 28-4 state championship season for Class AAA state coach of the year, Alvin Stewart. Robinson was the Louisiana Sports Writers Association's Player of the Year for 3A as well as a first-team all-state selection.

Capitol has won two state titles and runner-up a third season with Robinson. She dominated the recent 2009 state championship game with 31 of the Lions' 63 points. Robinson also pulled down 13 boards for the double in the 22-point win over Lake Charles, La., St. Louis Catholic. Hitting 9-of-13 from the field and 12-of-18 at the line, Robinson was the MVP of the Class AAA title game. A LSWA all-state selection since her sophomore season, Robinson averaged 21 ppg and 10 rpg in 2007 to lead the Lions. Her junior season, Robinson repeated her first-team honors, averaging 22 ppg to lead CHS to the state title.

PERSONAL

Born March 18, 1991, Dominique Jane'e Robinson is one of five children. Her parents are Melissa Robinson and James Roach and she has two brothers, Durrell and DeAundray; and two sisters, Breyonna Grant and Jamecia Roach. Robinson is majoring in business management at Arkansas.

AS A SOPHOMORE (2009-10)

Jamesha Townsend filled a blue-collar role for Arkansas last year. Not asked to be the leading scorer or rebounding, Townsend earned one start, played in 28 games and averaged 10.6 minutes per game. Townsend scored six points against No. 24 Georgia and had a career-high seven rebounds against Mississippi State while averaging 1.5 ppg and 2.0 rpg as a sophomore.

AS A FRESHMAN (2008-09)

A California girl with Arkansas roots, Townsend is the first Golden State high school player to sign with the Razorbacks straight from high school in more than a generation. The San Diego area standout can play either forward position for the Razorbacks.

As a true freshman, Townsend saw time in 12 games scoring six points with eight rebounds. Townsend scored three of those points at No. 3 Auburn going 3-for-4 from the free throw line.

IN HIGH SCHOOL

Townsend finished her high school career at Bonita Vista High School in Chula Vista, Calif., but was unable to participate as a senior due to district transfer rules. Townsend averaged 11.7 ppg last season for La Jolla High her junior season and was named third-team All-San Diego region by the Union Tribune. Her La Jolla teams won three-straight California Interscholastic Federation District 4 titles in the San Diego area, ranking either first or second among all girls' teams in the region. Townsend also has a three-year varsity track history, and her mother, Regina, was an all-state track athlete during her high school days in Arkansas.

PERSONAL

Born Jamesha Celecia Townsend on April 12, 1990, she is the daughter of James and Regina Townsend of Chula Vista, Calif. She has an older sister Jessica.

PIG TAILS

NAME	Chrisstasia A. Walter
BORN	Oct. 9, 1991
MAJOR	Kinesiology

WHAT COACH SAYS

Chrisstasia will fit into our system perfectly. She is an up-tempo player who is extremely athletic. She has great three-point range and she can really go off the dribble. We saw Chrisstasia play last year in the state playoffs and offered her on the spot. She really didn't entertain many other offers. I think Arkansas is where she envisioned herself from the beginning. Chrisstasia played this summer for Dion Cross with the New Life Hawks and he did a great job training her on how to play the point. We think she is a true combo player that can really score. She's kind of a mixture between C'eira Ricketts and Lyndsay Harris and she'll fit right into our rotation.

AT ARKANSAS HS

Walter checks in from Arkansas High School in Texarkana, Ark., where she played for coach Venture Watson. Walter was a three-time all-conference selection and a two-time all-state pick for the Razorbacks. She earned multiple all-tournament team honors and was named the offensive player of the year for the state of Arkansas as a junior. Walter paced her high school team's return to the state tournament in 2008 after a 25-year drought. The 5-8 guard led the Razorbacks to a 20-2 record with 20.0 points-per-game and 12.0 rebounds-per-game as a junior.

Walter played on several AAU teams including Arkansas Mavericks and New Life in Little Rock, Ark. The Arkansas Mavs reached the BC1 Nationals and New Life finished as runners up at the Atlanta, Ga., tournament. They finished the year as the top-ranked team in the state.

In addition to basketball, Walter is a four-year letterwinner in volleyball and track and field. She earned all-conference and all-state honors in volleyball and was selected to the all-star game as a senior. Her junior track team won three consecutive state titles.

PERSONAL

Born Oct. 9, 1991, Chrisstasia A. Walter is the daughter of Floyd and Yvonne Dockery. She has five siblings: Edward, India, China, Alexis and Kameron. She plans to major in kinesiology at Arkansas.

AS A FRESHMAN (2009-10)

Sarah Watkins was asked to step in and step up as a post player in the toughest conference in the country as a true freshman. A 30-game player in her first year, Watkins averaged 5.9 ppg, 3.9 rpg and 20.6 minutes per game in 2009-10. A post player with the ability to step out and shoot the three, Watkins got better with every game. She opened her career with a 20-point effort against Alcorn State – all in the second half. She had three games in double-figures to start the season but a recurring back injury slowed her at times during the season. Watkins led the team in blocks with 40 as a freshman and just missed the single game record with five against Coppin State.

AT HOUSTON HS

Watkins was rated top 50 or top 100 by almost every notable girl's basketball service. ESPN listed the versatile center as the No. 42 recruit in the country (and the No. 7 forward in the country), touting her ability to score from two feet to 24 feet. SLAM magazine listed Watkins as its No. 60 prospect as well. Already a 1,000-point career scorer by the close of her junior year, Watkins led Houston High in Germantown, Tenn., to the 8-AAA regional championship in basketball. Wat-

WHAT COACH SAYS

Amanda will be a great addition to our roster. Once again, it's another great Arkansas player that loves the Razorbacks and just wants to be a part this program. She works hard every day and is very coachable. She will play the forward position for us this season.

PRIOR TO ARKANSAS

Westbrook was a three-year letterwinner for the Mt. St. Mary Academy Gales. She was a member of the conference tournament championship team as a freshman and was a McDonald's All-America nominee as a senior. She also earned all-conference honors in her final season averaging 14 points-per-game.

Westbrook also played for Arkansas Kamikaze and placed third at the DII ISU nationals.

In addition to volleyball, Westbrook was a two-year letterwinner in volleyball and a member of the honor roll at Mt. St. Mary Academy.

PERSONAL

Amanda Nicole Westbrook was born June 13, 1992, and is the only child of Curtis and Nita Westbrook of Little Rock, Ark. She plans to major in kinesiology at Arkansas and would like to coach after graduation.

AS A FRESHMAN (2009-10)

Quistelle Williams had the unenviable task of taking a year off from basketball and having to play her way into competition form throughout the year. She responded playing in 26 games and averaging 4.3 ppg and 3.8 rpg in her first season. Williams had three games in which she scored double-figures with a season/career-best of 13 twice. She had 13 points and 11 rebounds – her first career double-double leading Arkansas to a school-record 18-point comeback at South Carolina and earned SEC Freshman of the Week honors for her efforts.

PRIOR TO ARKANSAS

Williams signed with Arkansas as part of Tom Collens' first recruiting class in 2008 but sat out the 2008-09 season. Williams averaged 16.4 ppg and 10 rpg as the top scorer for the EKHS Falcons, with a season-high and team-leading 29 points against Muskegon. Williams scored in double digits in every game she played except one, and was the Falcons' leading scorer in almost three-fourths of the 20-game season. On several occasions, Williams scored half of her team's total points, including her EKHS career best of 29 as the Falcons' picked up 59 points as a team against Muskegon. Along with her scoring, Williams was one of the team's top assist-makers with six per game. She also blocked four shots per game as a senior.

HONORS/AWARDS

SEC Freshman of the Week 2-15-10

The 29 points equals her junior season best as a player for Grand Rapids, Mich., Ottawa Hills High. She averaged 14 ppg, 10 rpg and 6 apg for Ottawa as a junior. A starter at the varsity level since her freshman season, she began her career as the starting point guard for Ottawa Hills before moving to a forward slot as a junior and senior. The 6-1 forward pulled down a senior season high 12 rebounds with 19 points against Jenison. Williams made her best run at a triple-double against West Ottawa with 18 points, nine boards and six assists.

In addition to her local recognition, Williams was among the players nominated from the state of Michigan for the McDonald's All-America game. Williams is a three-time all-conference and three-time all-area selection. She participated in several regional leagues, including earning MVP honors in a local exposure league for up-and-coming players last summer.

Williams is the first high school player from the state of Michigan to sign at Arkansas for women's basketball.

PERSONAL

Quistelle Euniece Williams is the daughter of Anshanette Colbert-Brooks and Christopher Brooks. Born Aug. 26, 1990, Williams has a sister, Taneisha, and brother Brian. She plans to major in criminal justice and sociology at Arkansas.

2009-10 REVIEW

The 2009-10 season came to a close with hard-fought games and career performances by the Razorback women's basketball team.

Seniors Charity Ford and Ashley McCray hung up their jerseys after solid careers for Arkansas.

Ford played four seasons for the Razorbacks ending her career with 917 points, 287 rebounds and 130 assists. Ford ranks 25th all-time for points scored and scored in double-digits in all but one game (the opener) last season.

McCray's two-year career saw her score 254 points with 181 rebounds and 16 blocks.

RAZORBACKS GET BIG WINS IN SEC

Alabama—Clutch free throws by freshman Dominique Robinson and quick hands by senior Charity Ford in the regulation and overtime helped the Razorbacks to a 66-62 win over Alabama in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

A desperation three-pointer by Alabama tied the game with just over eight seconds remaining in regulation and Arkansas was unable to convert on its end, sending the game to overtime. Arkansas rallied from a 10-point first-half deficit taking an 11-point second half lead of its own only to end the frame tied at 55 after 40 minutes of play. The Razorbacks blasted out of the gate in the overtime with an 8-0 run that sealed Bama's fate.

Arkansas was 4-for-7 in the overtime out-scoring Alabama 11-7 in the extra frame. Robinson finished the game going 8-for-8 from the line. Ford led all Arkansas scorers with 16 points including the first four of the overtime period. Ford opened with a layup on Arkansas' first possession then stole the ball for another layup with just over 30 seconds off the clock.

Robinson then grabbed a steal and shoveled the ball to Ashley Daniels for the layup as the lead stretched to six. Daniels continued the flurry with a steal and pass to Lyndsay Harris for the baseline jumper giving Arkansas an eight-point lead it would not surrender. Sophomore C'eira Ricketts finished with 15 points and Harris added 10 in the win. Ricketts put the team on her back as regulation wound down helping Arkansas maintain its lead late in the game.

Arkansas also out-rebounded Alabama 53-44, a key that head coach Tom Collen and staff stressed before the game. Arkansas finished shooting 40 percent on a 24-for-60 day. The Razorbacks hit three three-pointers and were 15-for-24 from the line.

Auburn— Head coach Tom Collen said the first team to 60 points was likely to win at Auburn and he was right. Arkansas took a 60-48 lead with 6:26 to play and went on to its second league win, 73-58, over Auburn on the road.

Arkansas shot a season-best 50.8 percent going 31-for-61 from the floor in a solid, methodical win at Auburn. The victory snapped a five-game losing streak to the Tigers.

Senior Charity Ford led all scorers with 18 points. Sophomores Ashley Daniels and C'eira Ricketts added 14 each while Lyndsay Harris finished with 11 points.

The first half was a success for the Razorbacks. Arkansas was 15-for-27 shooting 55.6 percent led by nine points from Ford. The Razorbacks tied the game at 13 and were able hold on to the lead using a better fast break and taking advantage of 10 Tiger turnovers.

Freshman Quistelle Williams had six points and five rebounds and Ashley Daniels added five points for Arkansas in the first period. Williams finished the night with eight points and eight boards.

The Razorbacks started the second half where they left off in the first frame and grew the lead to 10, 42-32. It was a double-digit margin that the Razorbacks were able to maintain much of the second half.

South Carolina—Arkansas erased an 18-point deficit getting its second consecutive SEC win at South Carolina Feb. 14, 72-68. The rally from the 18-point deficit in the first half surpassed a previous all-time best of 17 points, set ironically also in the state of South Carolina as Arkansas rallied in the opening round of the SEC Tournament hosted in Greenville, S.C., to defeat Mississippi State.

Arkansas struggled for much of the game with poor shooting and trouble on the boards but a big rally late saw five players finish in double-figures in an exciting win.

Quistelle Williams tied her career-best with 13 points and had a career-high 11 boards in her first double-double. With just over five minutes to play, Arkansas got a three-pointer from Lyndsay Harris cutting South Carolina's lead to eight, 55-63. Harris finished with 14 leading Arkansas in a balanced scoring effort. Charity Ford followed with a signature steal from behind and raced the length of the floor for the layup. Ford finished with 14 as well and cut the margin to six. Carolina missed on its next possession and Arkansas snared a hard-to-come-by rebound and returned to the offensive side of the court. Sarah Watkins stepped into the paint splitting a pair of defenders for a hard basket that cut the lead to four.

2009-10 RAZORBACK REVIEW

Watkins also had 14, 12 in the second half, in the win. Carolina again missed on its next possession and Williams grabbed the rebound kicking the ball wide to Ricketts who slashed her way in for a layup as the Razorback comeback continued. Ricketts had 14 points and five rebounds in the game.

Ricketts then picked up a loose ball and passed back to Ford who scored tying the game for the first time at 63 all with 2:32 to play. Arkansas shot 47.4 percent for the game after struggling early. The Razorbacks were 27-for-57 and hit five threes in the win. Arkansas was 13-for-15 from the line and had 32 boards in the game.

Ole Miss—A balanced effort lifted the Razorbacks to their third consecutive win with a 67-59 victory over Ole Miss in Bud Walton Arena.

Arkansas had three players in double figures with 16 each from Daniels and Harris. Ford added 15 as Arkansas shot 49.1% for the game. The win was the first SEC win in Bud Walton and the fourth of the year.

A blue collar first half for Arkansas sent the Razorbacks into the break with a 37-33 lead. Arkansas shot nearly 52 percent going 15-for-29 behind 11 points from Daniels in the first frame. As the second half started, Arkansas had an eight-point advantage. The Razorbacks stretched that to 10 with 8:21 to play.

But Ole Miss managed to chip away behind the hot hand of Elizabeth Robertson with 20 points on a 6-for-11 effort from beyond the arc. The Lady Rebels closed within three, 57-54, with just over five minutes to play. Daniels responded with a jumper followed by a long two from Ford as the lead again grew to seven points.

QUISTELLE WILLIAMS EARNS SEC HONOR

Quistelle Williams earned Southeastern Conference Freshman of the Week honors for the first time in her Razorback career after leading Arkansas in the comeback win at South Carolina.

Williams, a 6-0 center from Grand Rapids, Mich., paced the Razorbacks to a pair of SEC wins at Auburn and at South Carolina earning the award.

Williams helped Arkansas to the team's first consecutive SEC wins of the year with victories over the Tigers and Gamecocks. Williams scored eight points and had eight rebounds in a solid win over Auburn and rallied Arkansas from an 18-point deficit, the largest comeback in a conference game, at South Carolina with her first career double-double.

Her 13 points at Carolina tied her career-best and she added 11 boards for a career-high. In addition, Williams had five field goals, 11 field goal attempts, three free throws, five free throw attempts and one block at South Carolina all tying for her career highs.

Williams' stats have increased as have her minutes. She played 29 minutes at Auburn and 30, a career-high, at South Carolina.

WILLIAMS NAMED TO COMMUNITY SERVICE TEAM

Ashlea Williams earned selection to the Southeastern Conference Community Service Team last year.

Williams, a 6-2 post player from Springfield, Mo., has been limited in her third season with chronic knee injury and pain playing in just three games last year.

Despite her injuries, Williams has remained active in several community service projects for the Razorbacks. She is a three-year participant in the Razorbacks' Sweat Haws program encouraging area elementary students to get fit.

Ashlea Williams

Williams has also participated in several events and clinics including the Life Source Hog Breakfast, the Angle Tree, Arkansas Children's Hospital, Butterfield Trail Retirement Center and Charter Vista for at-risk kids visits. In addition, Williams works with area youth at several Razorback Basketball Camps and at the Martin Luther King Jr. Youth Clinic.

Previous Razorback women's basketball selections to the SEC Community Service Team include Charity Ford (2009), Sarah Pfeifer (2005, 2007), Rochelle Vaughn (2006), Shanna Harmon (2004) and Shameka Christon (2003).

RAZORBACKS IN THE SEC STATS

Charity Ford and Lyndsay Harris were Arkansas' go-to players last season and the duo ranked in several categories in the SEC. They finished 14th and 15th, respectively for scoring in all games with C'eira Ricketts ending the year No. 30. Ashley Daniels with 17th in all-games in rebounding while Ricketts was seventh in assists, followed by Harris in 13th.

Ricketts was fourth in the league in steals, followed by Ford in sixth place while Harris ranked 13th in three-point percentage. Freshman Sarah Watkins completed her first season eighth in blocked shots.

Ashley Daniels led Arkansas in rebounding and was 15th in offensive boards in all games last year.

In conference-only games Harris was 10th and Ford tied for 15th in scoring. Ricketts finished tied for eighth and Harris was tied for 15th in assists while Harris was eighth in free throw percentage. Ricketts and Ford tied for fifth in the SEC in steals with Harris 12th. Harris also ranked seventh in three-pointers made. Ford was 15th in three-point percentage. Watkins was again eighth in blocks with Ricketts third in the SEC in assists-turnover ratio.

RAZORBACKS IN THE NCAA

Lyndsay Harris finished her sophomore season ranked 48th in the country with 2.5 three-pointers a game. Harris ranks sixth all-time Arkansas with 131 treys in two seasons. She is seventh in attempts and 10th in three-point percentage.

THE FACE BEHIND THE RECORD

Career Points and Season Points in SEC Games Only

SHAMEKA CHRISTON

The pride of Hot Springs, Ark., Shameka Christon was named to the SEC Freshman Team her rookie season at Arkansas. At the start of her career, it looked like the most improbable of honors as the 6-1 forward averaged less than 10 points per game during non-conference play. Once SEC games began, Christon elevated her game to average 13.5 ppg in her 13 league games. Breaking the school mark for points in a SEC season as a sophomore with 224, Christon repeated with a respectable 201 points as a junior. A change of coaching staffs led to a dramatic change in scoring for Christon. Her senior year, Christon shattered her own record with 304 points in 14 games played, finishing her career with 905 points in SEC regular season games. Adding in her 177 points from SEC Tournament games, Christon scored almost 1,100 of her career 1,951 points against SEC opponents. For her SEC-leading scoring average of 21.8 ppg, Christon was voted the SEC Player of the Year in 2004, Associated Press Third-Team All-America and Kodak All-America honorable mention.

THE FACE BEHIND THE RECORD

Career Assists and Consecutive Games Played

AMY WRIGHT

Recruited from Williamsburg, Ind., to become the next great point guard in Arkansas history, Amy Wright did not disappoint. A starter at the point from her first day at Arkansas, she broke the freshman assist record of her immediate predecessor, Christy Smith, and never looked back. Assists became her passion, and Wright rewrote the Arkansas record books in her four seasons, removing both her coach and Hall of Honor member Amber Nicholas Shirey and Smith from almost all the major records. Her 172 assists as a freshman led Arkansas to the WNIT Championship and was the closest anyone had come to Donna Wilson's 1988 season record. Her junior season, Wright crushed Wilson's mark with 198 to take Arkansas to the second round of the NCAA tournament. By the end of her career, the only assist records Wright was breaking were her own, including 205 her senior season. Closing her career with 717, she has almost 200 more assists than the former career leader Nicholas Shirey. Wright had more double-digit assist games than any other player, and became the first player in recorded Razorback history to get the hard double of 10 assists and 10 rebounds (versus Miss. State as a junior). In her four seasons, she never missed a game, playing 131 consecutive to break Sytia Messer's mark of 128. Of all her statistics, the one no other point guard can touch is leading her team to four consecutive post-season berths. After closing her playing career with WNBA draft camp, Wright spent one season with Arkansas in marketing before becoming an assistant coach for the 2003-04 season at South Florida.

Shameka Christon broke four Arkansas records for SEC Tournament games in the semi-finals of the 2002 event in Nashville. Her 67 points over three games led to her selection to the five-player all-tournament team, the first for Arkansas since joining the league in 1992. During her four years, she scored 177 points in SEC Tournament games.

THE FACE BEHIND THE RECORD

Career Rebounds

SHELLY WALLACE

Shelly Wallace's career parallels the Arkansas rise to national prominence, leading the Razorbacks to their first NCAA playoff berth and the 1987 Women's NIT title. Wallace made her biggest record impact with rebounding. She is the only Arkansas women's basketball player to go over the 1,000 mark in rebounds and one of only two in Southwest Conference history. However, she was Arkansas' greatest double threat. Wallace was the first -- and only -- player to average in double figures in points and rebounds for a season (16.5 ppg, 11.8 rpg in 1987-88). She also is the only player to score over 40 points, setting the school record with 44, and has the most 30-plus games (seven) of any player. She was also honorable mention Kodak All-American as a senior, yet another first at Arkansas.

THE FACE BEHIND THE RECORD

DELMONICA DEHORNEY

While her mark in the career record book is for blocked shots, Delmonica DeHorney was the greatest inside player in Razorback history. She was second only to Bettye Fiscus in points, and she was the first, and to date the only, Razorback to earn Kodak All-America honors. DeHorney also is the most accurate shooter in school history for a season or career.

In fact, she set the season shooting record in three of her four years. A back-to-back SWC Player of the Year, she led the SWC in scoring and Arkansas to consecutive league titles. The SWC Newcomer as a freshman, she was the only player in SWC history to earn three league awards. She shattered the previous blocked shot records, and became the career leader after her junior year. In one season, 1989-90, DeHorney had more blocks (83) than all but two players in school history had for their careers. DeHorney went on to play professionally in Japan after completing her four-year career at Arkansas.

Of her 235 career blocks, the three most important in DeHorney's career came in the first half of the Feb. 23, 1990, game at Texas. All three came against UT's star forward Susan Anderson, shutting down the Lady Longhorns' inside game and allowing Arkansas to take a 38-31 halftime lead. UA went on to break UT's 183-game SWC winning streak.

BACK IN THE DAY

Exhibition Games

During the 1980s, teams were allowed to practice away from campus, and Arkansas took full advantage of the rule to play numerous Red-White games across the state. Most of these were played in the former gyms of star Razorbacks, or near home towns of players like Tracy Webb (Batesville) or Bettye Fiscus (Wynne).

The Razorbacks played their first exhibition game in 1984 at the start of the NCAA era against a Korean touring team sponsored by Kolon.

Arkansas stepped up the quality of its exhibition opponent with national teams during the late 1980s, and went on the road to central Arkansas with a pair of games at the former high schools of current Razorbacks. The NCAA changed rules regarding off-campus games in the early 1990s, and all exhibition games returned to Fayetteville.

Twice Arkansas faced Olympic teams. The Razorbacks defeated the Spanish Olympians in 1990, but the most memorable game was against USA Basketball's National Team in 1995. The core of the gold medal 1996 Atlanta Games team thumped the Razorbacks, but it was a once-in-a-lifetime chance to be a part of the special collegiate tour. Among the notables taking the floor were Lisa Leslie, Rebecca Lobo, Sheryl Swoops, Dawn Staley and Jennifer Azzi. It also is the only exhibition game ever played during the regular season -- Dec. 12 -- and made 1995 the only season with three exhibition games.

Until the late 1990s, most of the teams Arkansas faced were high-quality semi-pro teams from around the world, with the exception of the U.S.-based Athletes in Action. AIA made Fayetteville a regular stop on its women's collegiate tour, and the Crusaders remain the team with the most games against Arkansas (8).

The quality of competition from overseas declined at the end of the 1990s, with some teams traveling junior squads filled with high school-aged players. The resulting blowouts, combined with the emergence of regional teams of American former collegians such as Everyone's Internet, saw a decline of the foreign exhibition games that hit bottom with the events of 9/11 in 2001.

However, the greatest change in the exhibition game came in 2004 as the NCAA allowed Division I members to schedule non-Division I college teams as exhibition opponents. While a regular practice during the AIAW era, Arkansas played a non-Division I college with its two exhibition games scheduled for November 2005, taking on nearby Division II members Missouri Southern of Joplin and Cameron University from Lawton, Okla. This marks the first game against a lower division US collegiate team in over two decades (School of the Ozarks on Dec. 11, 2004).

Arkansas has existing series records with the new exhibition opponents, but new games against non-Division I teams will not count against those series marks.

RECORDS - BUD WALTON ARENA

The Basketball Showcase of Mid-America

At $35 million, Bud Walton Arena was the basketball showcase of mid-America in 1993, but in 2008-09 Walton Arena gets a multi-million dollar renovation of the lower seating area. Along with new seats and floor logos, ribbon boards on the upper concourse and a new message board scorers table keep the arena the finest in the Southeastern Conference.

Designed to replicate the intimate and intimidating atmosphere of Barnhill Arena, but accommodate the overwhelming demand for basketball tickets at Arkansas, the result was a fan-friendly 19,200-seat arena whose acoustics focus the roar of the Razorback fans to the floor. Among the other features are over 40 private skyboxes, a lower-level capacity of 12,250 and the furthest seat closer in Walton than the worst seat in 9,000-seat Barnhill.

Arkansas hosted the 1994 NCAA Midwest Regional during Walton Arena's inaugural season. In 1995, the Razorback women's basketball team hosted all four rounds of the Preseason Women's NIT -- thanks in large part to the excellent accommodations provided by Bud Walton Arena. It all paled in comparison to the 1999 Women's NIT as Arkansas hosted all five rounds of the postseason event, including an all-time UA and then WNIT record 14,163 fans for the championship game versus Wisconsin. The 1999 WNIT semifinals and finals alone saw over 23,000 fans attend the two games, helping the Razorbacks to a new all-time attendance record of 77,001 total fans. Arkansas also hosted four rounds of the 2000 WNIT at Walton.

Arkansas also hosted four rounds of the 2000 WNIT at Walton.

A record crowd of 14,163 pack Bud Walton for the WNIT Championship against Wisconsin in 1999. Not only a University of Arkansas home game record, it is the largest crowd to watch any women's athletic event in the state.

RECORDS - BARNHILL ARENA

BARNHILL ARENA

A Tough Place To Play

It seemed appropriate that the final basketball event at John Barnhill Arena was a women's basketball game and a women's basketball banquet.

As fate would have it, it was a girls' basketball game back in 1977 that was the first hoops contest played in the newly-renovated and expanded home court for the Razorback men's and women's basketball.

Betsy Broyles' Fayetteville High team played days before the first men's or women's college game in what would become known as one of the most feared home courts in modern collegiate basketball.

The next year, Betsy would become the first high school recruit to accept a scholarship to play women's basketball at the University.

On Dec. 7, 1993, she and over 30 former letterwinners returned for A Moment in Time, a banquet to honor women's basketball in Barnhill. It was the evening prior to the women's opener in Bud Walton Arena against DePaul.

During the 17 years between her first and most recent appearances in Barnhill, The Barn was the site of many great moments of women's basketball history.

Arkansas was undefeated in its first home season (6-0) and in three subsequent years (1981-82, 1982-83 and 1990-91).

The women's basketball team set its home consecutive win streak at 21 games from 1981 to 1984.

That streak was broken with 23 in the early 1990s, and for a brief period of time, Barnhill Arena was the home of the longest active women's home winning streak. Since the start of the NCAA era in 1982-83, only eight unranked teams managed wins in Barnhill (out of 118 who tried).

Some 194 women's varsity collegiate basketball games were played in Barnhill Arena, with the last game a 96-60 win over Oral Roberts on March 1, 1993.

The last varsity basketball game played at Barnhill was a women's contest as Arkansas won an exhibition game over the Bulgarian team of Levski Total, 83-81, on Nov. 16, 1993.

The Spirit of Barnhill lives on both at Bud Walton Arena, and at Barnhill. "The Barn" received a new tenant in 1994 with the start of varsity volleyball at Arkansas. Thanks in large part to its home court advantage, the inaugural Razorback volleyball team won the SEC Western Division title providing a new banner for the old rafters. Gymnastics enjoyed a similar Barnhill boost in 2006. With the inaugural senior class, Arkansas upset national powerhouse UCLA to advance to the NCAA Championship at the Barnhill-hosted NCAA South Central Regional.

FACE BEHIND THE RECORD

Career Steals

TRACY WEBB

Batesville, Ark., native Tracy Webb stole more than the basketball during her four-year career. Aside from 293 basketballs, Webb stole the show and the hearts of Razorback fans as one of the most popular on-the-court personalities of the mid-1980s. The first true point guard star, Webb finished her career holding almost all the Razorback assist and steal records. She was the first women's basketball player at Arkansas to earn "first team" all-Southwest Conference honors, a distinction that began her senior season. She was also one of the first three Razorbacks named conference player of the week. Her junior-season team was the first in school history to earn a NCAA berth, and her senior-season team crushed the NWIT field by a 16-point average as she was named the tournament MVP.

FACE BEHIND THE RECORD

Three-Pointers

WENDI WILLITS

Since the introduction of the bonus basket for women's basketball in 1986, there has never been an outside shooter like Fort Cobb, Okla., native Wendi Willits -- either at Arkansas or in the South-eastern Conference. Willits broke the Arkansas career records of Kimberly Wilson early in her senior year, finishing her career just shy of the SEC's all-time record held by LSU's Cornelia Gayden. Willits has several SEC seconds to Gayden. Her 104 treys as a sophomore was one short of the SEC mark, and she ranks second for threes in a SEC game. Both prolific and accurate, she is No. 2 in attempts and No. 2 in percentage for a career at Arkansas. In 1999, she was top five in the NCAA in both three-pointers per game and percentage, earning her the Ed Steitz Award as the nation's top female three-point shooter.

ALL-SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

The All-Southeastern Conference team is selected by the league coaches and has changed twice in the recent seasons. Since the league's inception, the team was composed of a first- and second-team of 10 players each. In 2003, only 10 players -- five first, five second -- were selected. In 2004, 16 players -- eight first and eight second -- were chosen, the format which continues today. Five freshmen are chosen to the all-freshman team (with the exception of 1999). In addition, the academic team for the SEC, the SEC Academic Honor Roll, is chosen each season. After 2001, the honor roll is one year out of sequence to allow seniors to earn fourth-year honors. Recent additions to the team structure were made in 2003 with the Community Service Team, 2004 with Scholar-Athlete of the Year and Defensive Player of the Year, 2006 saw the first Freshmen of the Week and 2008 a five-player all-defensive team.

Even though she was one of the most prolific assist-makers at Arkansas, leading the SEC her junior season, Brittney Vaughn had the distinction of being the first Razorback women's basketball player named to the SEC All-Defense team. She led Arkansas in steals for three-consecutive seasons, and was voted by the league's 12 coaches to the defensive squad as a senior in 2008. Her top season for both steals (71) and assists (176) was her junior campaign in 2006-07.

ALL-SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE

The All-Southwest Conference team selected by the league coaches was composed of five players from 1983-86. Starting in 1987, two five-player teams were chosen. In 1988, an academic team, co-sponsored by GTE, was started.

1998 State Winner

Started in 1991 to recognize female athletes, the NCAA Woman of the Year program showcases individuals who have been standouts in athletics, academics and community service.

The Razorback women's basketball team has three university and statewide selections in the NCAA Woman of the Year program.

The University of Arkansas has produced 10 of the first 11 Women of the Year for the state, including the first top 10 national finalist for the state of Arkansas -- track and field All-American Jessica Dailey.

Each NCAA member institution selects its university-wide Woman of the Year. Those nominations are forwarded to the state level where a panel of journalists and NCAA officials vote to select a representative for the state at the national level. These 51 state Women of the Year are honored at the NCAA Woman of the Year banquet where a top 10 and a single national Woman of the Year are chosen.

BACK IN THE DAY SEC SCHEDULING

Starting with the 2010 SEC championship season, women's basketball will begin a 16-game schedule using the divisional play format established for all sports when the league expanded to 12 teams. For the first time ever, Arkansas will compete for the Western Division title in women's hoops along with the overall SEC Championship.

The road to a 16-game format has been a long path for women's basketball.

When Arkansas joined the SEC in 1991, the league played a single round-robin schedule. To promote women's basketball, the conference required each team to play home-and-home with a fixed "rival" partner in 1996 with the 12th game that did not count. For Arkansas, this became LSU. Several SEC teams (UT-Vandy, Ole Miss-MSU, Auburn-Bama) had home-and-home series in previous years and simply designated one game as the league counter. The next season, 1997, both games counted for a 12-game season.

A NCAA mandated minimum 14 regular-season games against conference opponents brought about a 14-game format in 1998. The formula started with round-robin against the entire league, then added home-and-home with the rival partner and a rotating home-and-home with one team from the Eastern Division and one team from the Western Division. The schedule operated on a two-year cycle.

BACK IN THE DAY - SWC SCHEDULING

The Southwest Conference started championships for women during the 1981-82 academic year. As was the custom of many conferences, there was no regular season play in 1982, and only a conference championship tournament. Not all of the SWC members participated in the event hosted by Texas A&M, and it took place midseason rather than at the end of the year.

In 1982-83, the league played single round robin and hosted its first true post-season tournament at Austin. The following year the regular season format of double-round robin was established. The 16-game schedule remained unchanged for the rest of SWC history, and featured a looping schedule that reversed the order of play during the year. The primary game days followed the men's schedule -- Thursdays and Saturdays -- and several institutions played double-headers.

The top teams in the league both in attendance and performance, Arkansas and Texas, did not play double-headers.

ONE OF A KIND

These are the only Southwest Conference women's basketball trophies located outside the state of Texas. Arkansas was the first team to defeat the University of Texas in SWC play, capturing a share of the 1990 regular season title. Arkansas took the 1991 title outright, then defeated Texas Tech for the 1991 SWC Classic title to become the first non-Texas team to win the league's postseason tournament. Arkansas departed the SWC the next season, and the fact that the Razorbacks were the team to end the Longhorn dynasty is sometimes overlooked in women's basketball history.

ARE YOU MISSING FROM OUR LISTS?

The records for the first three varsity teams at the University of Arkansas are not complete, but we believe we have identified all the modern-era Razorbacks. If you find a mistake in our letterwinner or all-time jersey listings, please contact us to let us know. Also, if you played basketball for Arkansas in the pre-varsity era -- prior to 1976 -- we are looking for your information. Please contact Jeri Thorpe in Media Relations at (479) 575-5037 or jthorpe@uark.edu.

BEHIND THE NUMBERS

- 1 jersey number has never been used at Arkansas by the women's basketball team: 0 or 00.
- 2 numbers are retired at Arkansas, both in the year following the end of the careers of the only players to wear those numbers in school history: #5 (Bettye Fiscus) and #50 (Delmonica DeHorney).
- 15 players have worn two different numbers during their career. Sarah Pfeifer became the 15th to change when she moved from 33 to 40. The others: Melissa Hobbs (22 & 23), Rochelle Vaughn (21 & 25), Cara Wright (14 & 31), Shameka Christon (24 & 20), Celia Anderson (44 & 33), Debbie Roe (15 & 30), Debbie Olivas (14 & 30), Connie Fitzgerald (15 & 24), DeAnn Henry (20 & 23), Tammy Siefkes (22 & 32), Lita Stricklin (25 & 44), Tamara Mathis (33 & 52), Paula Phillips (42 & 52) and Carol Ann Riggs (33 & 35). Interestingly, Pfeifer becomes the first player ever to switch back, going from 40 to 33 in 2007-08.
- 14 athletes have worn #22, 13 wore #23 and 12 wore #32. Next, 10, and two Razorbacks each have worn #20 and #21. Only one has worn #2.

The Face Behind the Record

Letters Won & Years Played

SARAH PFEIFER

One of the most unique careers at Arkansas belonged to one of its most loyal players. Two season-ending injuries and an extension of her eligibility clock resulted in Pfeifer becoming the first player in school history to participate in six seasons and earn five varsity letters. She is also the only player to have played for three different coaches. Pfeifer may also have the title for most surgeries during a career -- five -- including three on her two shoulders. Along with her devotion to the team, she also earned her bachelor's and master's degrees and is the only player in SEC history to be named Scholar-Athlete of the Year twice. Note in this photo from her second sophomore season the tape work on her shooting arm which she utilized to avoid an in-season surgery.

BASKETBALL HISTORY

EARLY ORIGINS

Women's basketball has been a part of the fabric of the University of Arkansas for almost a century. Teams of female students took to outdoor courts and peach baskets just after the turn of the century. While the women waited until 1976 for the first varsity team to officially represent the University, these early photos show how the game captured what was then deemed "the fairer sex" in action.

THE FIRST TEAM

As the photo below illustrates, almost since the turn of the century, women have banded together to play basketball at the University of Arkansas. In fact, yearbook references to women's basketball pre-date men's basketball at Arkansas. There are photographs of at least three teams of women's basketball players prior to 1910. From the 1930s until the late 1950s, some of the nation's best AAU players and teams came from the state of Arkansas. After years of "extramural" women's basketball in the late 1960s and early 1970s at the University, the first varsity Razorback basketball team took the court in Barnhill Arena in 1976-77. Under Coach Sharon Ogle, these Razorbacks established the winning tradition at Arkansas with a 10-6 season. Composed of walk-ons, the 1976-77 team was undefeated in Barnhill Arena (6-0) and set a school record for largest margin of victory that may never be broken—79 points—with a 108-29 win over Bartlesville Wesleyan. Three walk-ons received aid to become the first scholarship women at Arkansas: Camille Yancey of Marvel, Pat Keck from Rogers, and Carol Ann Riggs of Fayetteville.

IN THE BROYLES TRADITION

The next season, the University of Arkansas awarded its first women's athletic scholarship to a freshman recruit. A local basketball star at Fayetteville High, Betsy Broyles, became the first Razorback high school recruit, one of 10 women recruited during the 1977-78 season. Wearing No. 30 for Arkansas, Betsy, daughter of former athletic director Frank Broyles, had her playing career cut short by an injury, but she did letter two seasons at Arkansas.

ARKANSAS' FIRST SUPERSTAR

Wynne, Arkansas', Bettye Fiscus arrived at the University in 1981, and Razorback basketball was never the same. Fiscus set the University record for scoring—man or woman—at 2,073 as Arkansas' first All-American. While NBA star Todd Day finally broke Fiscus' scoring mark, she still holds almost all the women's basketball career scoring records. Her jersey—No. 5—was the first retired by the University, receiving that honor in 1986.

FIRST NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

A senior-laden Razorback club that had advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 1986 received the snub of the committee in 1987. Behind co-captain guard Tracy Webb, the 1986-87 team wrecked its vengeance on the National Women's Invitational Tournament, sweeping through the postseason tournament to bring home the first team national title for a women's squad at Arkansas. Arkansas averaged over 100 points per game for the tournament, crushing California, 112-80, in the championship game.

"DIALING" FOR TROPHIES

Arkansas and the Dial Soap Women's Basketball Classic series had a long, distinguished history. The Dial Classics were the longest-running series in women's hoops. Arkansas had the unofficial distinction of winning more Dial trophies than any team starting in Minnesota (photo at left). In fact, the Razorbacks played in eight different Dial tournaments in eight seasons, winning trophies in six. This past record combined with increasing promotions led to Arkansas receiving the right to host one of the coveted tournaments, bringing the Dial series to Fayetteville in 1991 (photo above) until the series was disbanded in 1997.

THE SHOTS HEARD 'ROUND THE WORLD

On Feb. 23, 1990, Arkansas ended the longest conference winning streak in NCAA history by defeating the Texas Lady Longhorns, 82-77. The win broke UT's 183-game streak against Southwest Conference foes, and cleared the way for the first non-Texas SWC women's basketball titlist. It also ended the nation's longest active home win streak at 47 games. Senior guard Juliet Jackson, who hit six free throws in the closing minute to clinch the game, summed it up best: "We messed up all their streaks." The next week junior center Delmonica DeHorney was named Sports Illustrated women's college basketball player of the week.

ONLY SWC WOMEN'S TROPHIES OUTSIDE THE LONE STAR STATE

Arkansas was the first team to beat Texas and the first team to win a share, then later an outright, Southwest Conference championship besides the Lady Longhorns. In 1991, Arkansas also ended the Lone Star state's dominance of the SWC tournament by defeating Texas Tech for the title. These three trophies—the 1990 and 1991 SWC Championship and 1991 SWC Classic—are the only women's basketball trophies in captivity outside the state of Texas.

BASKETBALL HISTORY

DELMONICA DEHORNEY, ALL-AMERICAN

While Delmonica DeHorney may have several notable seconds in her resume—second Razorback player to have her jersey (50) retired, second Razorback to play professional basketball, second all-time leading scorer (1,785)—she claims one of the most significant firsts: the first Kodak All-American at the University of Arkansas. DeHorney also is in the record books as the all-time leader in field goal percentage and blocked shots for a career. Her domination in the paint carried Arkansas to the 1990 NCAA West Regional Finals and to the 1991 NCAA Sweet 16. A two-time SWC Player of the Year, Delmonica is the only women's basketball player in SWC history to earn three conference honors. She was SWC Newcomer of the Year as a freshman. DeHorney was inducted into the UA Hall of Honor in 2000.

Tournament, Nicholas also earned three Dial MVP awards in consecutive seasons. One of the most beloved Razorbacks, Nicholas also was a two-time selection to the highly prestigious CoSIDA Academic All-America team and received an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship. She was inducted into the Hall of Honor in 2002.

THE NATION COMES TO FAYETTEVILLE

At the end of the 1993-94 season, the University of Arkansas Women's Athletics Department hosted the first major NCAA championship event held in the state of Arkansas. The 1994 NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Midwest Regional set marks for regional attendance and hospitality. A true community project, one of the highlights was a street party and battle of the bands on the downtown square called Fayetteville Friday Night for the two teams in Saturday's championship game. Louisiana Tech advanced from Fayetteville to the Final Four with upsets of No. 1-ranked Tennessee and Lisa Leslie's USC Trojans.

BARNHILL CROWDS TO REMEMBER

Beginning with the 1989-90 season, the Razorbacks declared W.A.R. (Women's Attendance Record) on a select opponent. The first two W.A.R.s were against Texas, and resulted in the two largest crowds at Barnhill for a women's basketball game. Upon entering the SEC, Arkansas had a Border W.A.R. with LSU. W.A.R. IV featured the 24th-ranked Kentucky Lady Kats. Arkansas' feared home crowd worked its Barnhill magic in the last three W.A.R.s. The last two years were particularly dramatic as the Razorback fans rallied Arkansas from halftime deficits.

A MOMENT IN TIME

As the Razorbacks prepared to move to Bud Walton Arena in December 1993, the Women's Athletics Department held a celebration of 17 years of women's hoops in Barnhill Arena with "A Moment in Time." The banquet held in Barnhill was attended by dozens of former Razorbacks, including three of the four career leaders. A special retrospective video tracing the Razorbacks and their winning tradition in Barnhill was screened as a part of the festivities.

THE CARDIAC KIDS

The 1994-95 season saw the Razorbacks return to the Associated Press Top 25 and the NCAA tournament, posting a 23-7 record. Arkansas did it by winning nine games in the closing minute, three games on last shots, with a team composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores.

A STREAK UNEQUALED

The first freshman recruit to start opening day at point guard for Arkansas, Christy Smith earned attention for her free throw shooting—89.9% to lead the nation—and her tenacious defense—leading the SEC in steals with 3.0 per game. But on Dec. 6, 1995, Smith took her first step toward a mark that might stand for all time. The 5-6 West Lafayette, Ind., point guard started that night against Alabama, and did not leave the court against a SEC opponent for the rest of the season. For all 11 regular season games and two SEC tournament games, Smith played 525 consecutive minutes—a feat unequaled by man or woman in the league. The 1995 SEC Freshman of the Year, Smith also became Arkansas' first woman named to the Associated Press All-America team as an honorable mention.

A PRESIDENTIAL VISIT

Usually, the national champion visits the President of the United States in the White House. On Dec. 9, 1996, President Bill Clinton visited the women's basketball team in their locker room (at left) during halftime of the men's game with Cincinnati. It may be the first time a sitting President has dropped in to the locker room of a collegiate women's basketball team, and as luck would have it, it was not the last time the Razorbacks posed with the President.

AN ALL-AMERICAN BY EVERY MEASURE

No other point guard in Arkansas history had a career that can match Newark's Amber Nicholas. In her four years, she never missed a game, playing 117 consecutive games, and she set the record for the most consecutive games started: 87. Nicholas set the school record for career assists, and her steady hand guided Arkansas to the best record of any four year period in school history. Named the MVP of the 1991 SWC

BASKETBALL HISTORY

DREAMS DO COME TRUE

On March 9, 1998, the Razorbacks wanted to get back into the NCAA Tournament. By March 27, 1998, they were in the NCAA Final Four, living the dream they had wished for years. Arkansas made NCAA Tournament history as the lowest seed -- #9 in the West -- to advance to the Final Four. They were the first unranked team in women's basketball history during the modern era to reach the Final Four. And, they were the lowest finishing team in conference play -- tied for sixth in the SEC -- to reach the Final Four. Arkansas did it all on the west coast, spending two whole weeks in the Bay Area.

Along the way, the Razorbacks beat three conference champions -- WAC, Pacific, Ivy and ACC -- and three ranked teams -- Hawai'i, Kansas and Duke -- to face conference rival Tennessee at Kansas City.

Arkansas played all four of its pre-Final Four games on late night TV, earning the nickname of Good Morning America's team. Every member of the team contributed to the run, starting with a 24-point effort by Karyn Karlin in the opening round win over #20 Hawai'i, 76-70. Then it was freshman Wendi Willits' turn with a near-NCAA record six three-pointers to blow open Arkansas' second round contest with Harvard, 82-64. In the opening round games held at Stanford, Calif., Christy Smith had zero turnovers and 16 assists.

At the West Regionals in Oakland, junior Sytia Messer stepped to the front as Arkansas' leading scorer in both wins, earning herself the honor as the most outstanding player at the West Regional. Messer had 23 points as Arkansas used an impressive 54-point second half to dispatch Kansas, 79-63, in the Sweet 16. Fellow junior Treva Christensen announced herself with 14 points off the bench against Duke to earn all-tournament selection. Junior Tennille Adams was 6-of-9 with 14 off the bench including the go-ahead bucket in the closing minutes against Duke.

The defining moment belonged to Smith, as she calmly sank four free throws in the final seconds to send Arkansas to the Final Four for the first time with a 77-72 win over ACC champion Duke.

FIVE GAMES TO GLORY

When the 1999 season ended, Arkansas was 15-14 and 11th in the SEC. Leading scorer Karyn Karlin was out for the year with a torn ACL. Not the ending Cinderella hoped for after the Final Four. But Arkansas got a second chance with the WNIT, and by virtue of its season attendance was chosen to host the opener with SLC champion Northwestern State. Sophomore Lonniya Bragg, quiet most of the season, tore into NSU for a career-tying 22 points. Arena conflicts helped Arkansas host round two, and a late-season snowstorm led to the smallest crowd at Bud Walton for women's basketball (890). Those that braved the weather saw a sophomore class record 35 points as Okie Wendi Willits busted the Sooners in an overtime thriller, 97-93. The crowds began to pour back into Bud Walton, and Arkansas survived Rice, 76-70, in the quarterfinals thanks to 18 from Bragg. The WNIT picked Arkansas to host again, and the crowd and the Razorbacks did not disappoint as 9,041 saw 5-11 Bragg rack up a career-high 23 against the 6-5 and 6-4 posts of MVC runner-up Drake in a 80-56 rout. It set the stage for a titanic showdown at Walton with Wisconsin. An all-time record 14,163 paid to see Arkansas win the title behind an inspired senior performance from Kamara Stancle with 15 points and 13 rebounds. The victory was marred by the sudden illness and death of Sytia Messer's mother on the eve of the game.

AMERICA'S BEST THREE-POINT SHOOTER

Wendi Willits shattered all of Arkansas' three-point records during the 1998-99 season. More impressive, the 5-8 Fort Cobb, Okla., sophomore came within a single trey of breaking a previously thought unbreakable SEC record -- Cornelia Gayden's single season mark. Willits finished with 104, shooting 35.7% from the arc. Ranking top five in the nation in both percentage and production, Willits was chosen by the Basketball Hall of Fame as its Ed Steitz Award winner. Her uniform, complete with her trademark headband, was displayed for the 1999-2000 season at the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. Her senior year, she became the No. 2 three-point scorer in SEC history as well as the all-time leader at Arkansas. Willits closed her career at the ESPN College Three-Point Shooting Contest, where she reached the Final Four.

DROPPING DIMES FOR RECORDS

Point guard Amy Wright started the second century of Razorback basketball by shattering a once-thought-untouchable record of 186 assists in a season set by Donna Wilson in 1989. Wright's 198 led Arkansas back into the NCAA Tournament second round in 2001, and left her in striking distance for her senior season of the all-time leader, Amber Nicholas Shirey. For her final season, Wright not only took the career record early on, but she broke her own season mark to become the first woman to go over 200 in a season with 205 and close her career with 717.

BASKETBALL HISTORY

SECOND TO ONE, BUT SECOND TO NONE

Hot Springs, Ark., native Shameka Christon finished her four-year career at Arkansas as the first woman to threaten the all-time scoring mark of Bettye Fiscus and ended up second all-time with 1,951 points. However, in many ways Christon was second to none in her Arkansas career with many firsts. Early in her career Christon became the first Razorback women's basketball player to represent the United States at the World Championships and the first to win a gold medal on the world stage. As a senior, she was the first Razorback named Associated Press All-America with her selection to the third team, surpassing Christy Smith's four times on the AP team, but as an honorable mention. Christon also became the first voted SEC Player of the Year (both coaches and AP), making her the second Razorback to take player of the year (Delmonica DeHorney in the SWC days). She closed out her time in Fayetteville by becoming the first Razorback taken as a first-round draft pick of the WNBA, going fifth overall to the New York Liberty. Christon added another first as the first Razorback to make an all-pro team as she was on the WNBA's Rookie Team in 2004.

IT WAS THE BEST OF TIMES...

IT WAS THE WORST OF TIMES

Tom Collen returned as the head coach for the Arkansas women's basketball team in April 2007. Inheriting a team that had set the standard for best start to the first loss with a 15-1 run before setting the standard for futility with a 10-game losing streak, Collen had no expectations of another streak against a schedule including key road contests. After the first win in several years at Missouri, Arkansas came home to face Clemson -- the first ACC team in Walton Arena. Downing the Tigers, the Razorbacks faced the toughest test with NCAA participant Marquette in the finals of the Dartmouth tournament. Trailing by eight, Arkansas rallied for a two-point win. Riding a 14-game streak, the Razorbacks pummeled former SWC rival Texas Tech to close out the pre-conference schedule perfect. The 15-0 start broke the in-season winning streak of the 1990-91 SWC Championship team that set the school record for wins and percentage with a 28-4 finish. The 15 straight games also bested the 11-game run to close the 1998-99 and start the 1999-2000 season. Behind senior double-double averaging post player Lauren Ervin, Arkansas looked ready to vault its top 25 AP ranking back into the NCAA Tournament. Fate had different plans as Ervin tore her ACL in the SEC opener, ending her career as the second all-time double-double points-rebound player. The Razorbacks suffered several other injuries and stumbled to a 2-13 close.

HISTORIC CHANGES

On Jan. 1, 2008, the University of Arkansas brought together the men's and women's athletic departments. Starting with the new fiscal year in July 1, 2008, the women's sports teams dropped the usage of "Lady" and "Lady'Back" nicknames.

THE 30 GREATEST GAMES

#1A -- ARKANSAS 77, #8 DUKE 72 March 23, 1998

A total team effort. Christy Smith fulfills the dream of every little girl -- she must make the free throws to send Arkansas to the Final Four. Smith does not get to the line without Tennille Adams' offensive stick-back to put Arkansas ahead. Treva Christensen and Sytia Messer solidify their picks as All-West and West Region MVP. The game gives rise to two of the greatest moments in women's basketball history. The first came before the game. After a silent ride through the Oakland twilight, Gary Blair rose as the team bus halted. "Don't get off the bus if you don't expect to win," he said, then turned and left the bus. The second came after as Smith and Stancle fell to the floor at the end of the game. ESPN commentator Beth Mowens declared, "Do you believe in miracles?"

Texas coach Jody Conradt appears somber as Arkansas' Juliet Jackson exits Friday after the Lady Razorbacks snapped UT's 18-game winning streak. Arkansas snaps UT women's streak

#1B -- ARK. 82, #6 TEXAS 77

February 23, 1990

The clipping above from the Dallas Morning News says it all. Senior Juliet Jackson's clutch free throws ice the first loss by UT to a SWC member -- 183 consecutive games. Delmonica DeHorney led Arkansas with 26 points, eight boards and four blocks. Jackson had 19 points and seven assists, and of course, was 7-of-8 at the line -- 4-of-4 in the closing minute. DeHorney was national player of the week after the game, but those that were there will tell you the best part was seeing The Drum bathed in white -- not victory burnt orange -- lights.

#2 -- #22 ARK. 82, #2 LSU 72

January 19, 2003

The largest regular season crowd in school history (11,486) and ESPN watched as Arkansas won the first top 10 vs. top 10 game in school history. Arkansas' "Big Three" of Shameka Christon (25 points, 7 boards), India Lewis (19 points) and Dana Cherry (13 points, 12 rebounds) were joined with SEC all-freshman Ruby Vaden (13 points, 7 boards) as the Razorbacks dominated the second-ranked Tigers. LSU threatened late, but the comeback only served to add to the instant classic status of the game. Along with mark the best start in SEC play to date, LSU became the highest ranked team to lose to Arkansas.

#3 -- #22 ARK. 81, #7 GA. 70

March 18, 1990

Considered for years one of the top 10 upsets in NCAA women's tournament history, Arkansas goes to Athens, Ga., to stun the Lady Bulldogs behind 30 points from Juliet Jackson. Georgia's strategy was to shut down Delmonica DeHorney and Blair Savage inside and isolate Amber Nicholas outside. They dared Jackson to beat them, and she did by raining down 12-of-19 from the perimeter.

#4 -- ARK. 67, WISCONSIN 64

March 23, 1999

Don't try to tell the WNIT record crowd of 14,163 fans at Walton Arena that this was the game for 65th in the country. The back-and-forth battle with the Badgers was befitting any championship. Seniors Kamara Stancle and sophomore Wendi Willits score 15 each as the team wins one for Sytia Messer's mom who passed away 24 hours before the game.

#5 -- #22 ARK. 77, #6 TENN. 75

December 29, 1996

The Razorbacks make national headlines with their first-ever win over Tennessee. Sytia Messer holds Chamique Holdscraw to a single field goal and only 7 points while Christy Smith and Kimberly Wilson go off for 21 points each. Wilson jumped on UT early, hitting her first three treys and giving Arkansas a 19-11 advantage. Defense was the difference as four turnovers keyed a 13-0 run by Arkansas, capped by a three-pointer by Sytia Messer for a 48-36 lead. Tennessee did not go away, rallying to within a point, 76-75, with :56 to play. The Lady Vols had one last chance to win the game, but missed an inside shot. Karen Jones pulled down the rebound of her life and was fouled by Tennessee. Jones' free throw in the final seconds gave Arkansas its final margin of victory.

#6A -- ARKANSAS 74, #7 SC 46

January 27, 2002

#6B -- ARK. 67, #8 VANDY 57

January 31, 2002

A combination entry because they are the first time that Arkansas defeated consecutive top 10 teams at Fayetteville, and because of the circumstances around the games. The Razorbacks stumbled at USC only three weeks earlier, 91-66, and thanks to some humbling early games were 1-6 to open SEC play. Not only did Arkansas turn the season around, it did it in convincing fashion. Forcing 26 turnovers, India Lewis and Dana Cherry had 17 each as UA meted out its worst beating of a ranked team during the regular season on USC. Four days later, Shameka Christon poured in 21 to lead Arkansas past Vanderbilt as the Razorbacks controlled the game start to finish.

#7 -- #1 TEXAS 71, ARKANSAS 70

February 18, 1984

The Texas win that wasn't. Arkansas scrapped with the top team in the nation, and got the opportunity of a lifetime with the ball and the clock running out at Barnhill Arena. Senior Amanda Holley's baseline jumper hangs in the air, hits the bucket, rolls around the rim and falls out as the horn sounds. The Razorbacks will have three more close calls with their arch-rivals, but a basketball generation will pass before Texas falls in 1990.

#8 -- #22 ARK. 90, UCLA 80 (OT)

March 14, 1990

Perhaps the most exciting overtime game in Arkansas history, the Razorbacks come back from a 10-point deficit late in the game to tie the contest and send it into overtime. Led by All-America candidate Rehema Stephens, UCLA had five players in double figures but the Bruins ran out of gas in the extra five minutes as Amber Nicholas (22 points) and Blair Savage (21 points) lead a 15-5 overtime run. Not only a memorable game, it was the first-ever win by Arkansas in the NCAA tournament and the first-ever NCAA tournament game hosted by Arkansas.

#9 -- ARKANSAS 79, KANSAS 63

March 21, 1998

The Cinderella story comes to life as Arkansas holds All-American Lynn Pride of Kansas scoreless to rally from a 32-28 halftime deficit. Sytia Messer leads the charge with a 17-point second half effort as Arkansas dominates KU, 51-31, in the final 20 minutes. After shooting only 36% in the first half, UA blisters the Jayhawks for 63% in the second.

#10 -- #6 TEXAS 101, ARK. 99

March 11, 1989

Quite simply, Southwest Conference fans say this may be the greatest championship game ever played -- men or women -- at the SWC Classic. The first-ever women's basketball game at Reunion Arena did not disappoint as the two teams produced near-flawless games. Each committed a season-low eight turnovers, and the 200 points scored were school records for combined score for both. Trailing 51-46 at halftime, Arkansas responded with 52.8% from the field led by a career game by Lisa Martin with 31 points. Four of Arkansas' starters were in double digits as Shelly Wallace added 20 points and 15 boards. Clarissa Davis saved the day with 36 for Texas.

#11 -- ARKANSAS 78, #10 FLA. 69

March 2, 2001

Arkansas rode a 10-game losing streak to the Gators into the second round of the SEC Tournament, but freshman Shameka Christon had 22 points, 11 rebounds and four stitches as the Lady'Backs jumped on Florida early. Arkansas led by as many as 20 before Christon departed the game with a busted lip. She returned, but not before Florida closed to within seven. Behind 22 from Wendi Willits and 10 from Lonniya Bragg, Arkansas went on a 7-0 run late to advance to the SEC Tournament semifinals for the first time in school history.

#12 -- #18 ARK. 73, #8 VU 71 (OT)

February 19, 1995

Kelly Johnson said she had never hit a game-winner at the buzzer in her life. She didn't get the chance to do so again in her career, but when Christy Smith laced the pass down low to Johnson, she buried the 15-foot baseline jumper as time expired to give Arkansas its first-ever win over Vandy. The photo, above, of Johnson's shot has become one of the most requested classic images in women's basketball history.

THE 30 GREATEST GAMES

#13 -- ARK. 80, MISS. STATE 73

March 4, 2005

Midway through the first half of Arkansas' opening game at the SEC Tournament, Susie Gardner's team looked headed for a blowout trailing by 17 points with 4:01 left in the first. Trimming the deficit to 11 at half, Arkansas held MSU scoreless almost four minutes to start the second and soon pulled within striking distance. A trio of sophomores led by Sarah Pfeifer were in double-digits to give Arkansas an eight-point lead with just under four minutes to play, a 25-point swing from the same point in the first half.

#14 -- ARK. 66, #23 SMSU 63

December 29, 1993

There are few things better than beating a rival, and even better when it comes unexpectedly. First-year head coach Gary Blair drew up the play for his freshman three-point sharpshooter Kimberly Wilson. With seconds left, Wilson calmly stroked the winning shot, breaking an unprecedented two-year losing streak to SMS. Wilson became the Bear stalker, posting a 4-0 career mark with SMS.

#15 -- CALIF. 66, ARKANSAS 62

March 21, 1982

Arkansas' first appearance at a national tournament almost became its first win. The host Golden Bears hold off a pesky Arkansas team in the opening round of the 1982 AIAW Championships. Tied 29-29 at halftime, turnovers and fouls are the undoing of Arkansas. The Razorbacks had 31 turnovers -- 11 more than Cal -- and leading scorer Bettye Fiscus fouls out with 17 points. Kim Bunge also has 17 points, but with four fouls.

#16 -- ARK. 73, OLE MISS 72

January 2, 1993

The first major victory in the SEC as the former SWC Champion defeats the defending SEC Champion Lady Rebels. As the photo at right shows, Shea Henderson is the star of the day as the Star City guard drives down the lane in the closing seconds to hit the game winner.

#17 -- ARKANSAS 97, OU 93 (OT)

March 14, 1999

Fort Cobb, Okla., product Wendi Willits takes over the Border War between UA and OU. The second round Women's NIT match-up is a toe-to-toe physical battle. In the midst of a record-setting season of three-point shooting, Willits scores a career-high 35 points to lead Arkansas into the quarterfinals.

#18 -- #6 VANDY 81, ARK. 78

March 9, 2002

Shameka Christon had the greatest game at the University of Arkansas in over a generation, but her 40 points in 37 minutes played was not enough to overcome Vanderbilt at the Gaylord Entertainment Center in Nashville for the SEC Tournament semifinals. At the start of the second half, it looked like there wouldn't be much drama as Vandy extended its 44-26 halftime lead to 22-points, 52-30, with 17 minutes left. Then Christon took over, scoring a school record 28 points for a half. Arkansas cut the lead to one, 79-78, with 22 seconds left. Missed VU throws gave Arkansas the last shot, but with nine seconds to play Christon was called for a charge that allowed Vandy to shoot free throws for the final score.

#19 -- ARK. 52, #20 VU 51 (OT)

January 8, 2006

Another Commodore OT heartache, but this one came in one of the most dramatic fashions as sophomore Brittney Vaughn sank the longest buzzer-beating shot in Walton Arena history to send this contest into OT. One of only three known end of the period half-court shots, Vaughn's 47-footer is the only one to close regulation. Vaughn was scoreless for 39:30, but her driving reverse layup trimmed the Vandy lead to three, 46-43, to set the stage for her game-tying heave. The night proved "vaughn-derful" as her sister Rochelle scored a career-high tying 22 points, including a pair of free throws with 13 seconds left in the overtime period to ice the victory for Arkansas.

#20 -- ARKANSAS 82, #17 PSU 78

January 9, 1999

In its first appearance on CBS, Arkansas does not disappoint. Karyn Karlin dominated the Lady Lions in the paint, scoring 18 points almost at will as Arkansas built a 15-point lead with eight minutes to play. Penn State rallied, and with two minutes left led by two points. Wendi Willits to the rescue with a 21-footer to put Arkansas back up by one, then a steal on the ensuing PSU possession that led to a pair of free throws. The 5-0 Willits run put Arkansas up by three with 50 seconds to play.

#21 -- ARKANSAS 45, #24 KY 43

January 23, 1993

Undoubtedly the quirkiest win in Arkansas history. The Wildcats were returning to the top 25 for the first time in years, but the Razorbacks made sure the stay was short. It was an improbable win as Arkansas rode a five-game losing streak and was in jeopardy of losing three straight at home for the first time in school history. Defense was the key as Arkansas not only got the win, but did it in record-setting fashion. This was only the second game in Arkansas history in which no one was in double figures, and remains the only time Arkansas has won without a double-digit scorer. Shea Henderson led the team with nine points. Barnhill Arena and one of the Women's Athletics Department's W.A.R. (women's attendance record) promotions share credit for the win. At 5,391, it ranked as the fourth largest crowd to watch the Razorbacks in Barnhill Arena.

#22 -- ARKANSAS 71, #16 GA 63

February 8, 2004

Arkansas rode a three-game home losing streak for only the second time in school history into an ESPN game with #16 Georgia, but Susie Gardner continued her coaching mojo against her alma mater as the Razorbacks controlled the close game from start to finish. With only eight players on the bench due to injuries, UA was led by Shameka Christon with 28 points, a double-double from Rochelle Vaughn with 11 points and 12 assists and a near-double of 14 points and 9 rebounds from Kristin Moore.

#23 -- ARKANSAS 59, BAMA 58

February 2, 2003

India Lewis was known for her three-point shooting, but in her career at Arkansas she had not hit a game-winner until this afternoon in Tuscaloosa. Arkansas struggled most of the game, no player more than Lewis who entered the final seconds 0-for-7 from the field. Down by two, Lewis took the ball to her right, feinted a drive then stepped back for a fall-away 22-footer as the horn sounded. The win proved a turning point for the conference season, ending a three-game losing streak.

THE 30 GREATEST GAMES

#24 -- ARK. 61, #25 SMSU 60

December 10, 1994

For the second straight year, Arkansas knocks off top 25 SMSU, but this time it's in the Bears' den before 7,490. While Kimberly Wilson led with 19, it was Stephanie Bloomer who was the heroine. Bloomer hit a pair of free throws with 16.5 seconds to play for the win. The 6-3 post had 16 points and 13 rebounds in the game. Arkansas trailed by 10 early, and got its first lead with 2:22 left off a driving layup by Allyson Twiggs.

#25 -- ARKANSAS 79, OK ST. 70

February 16, 1982

Coach Matilda Willis called it her "Champagne Game" in the pregame press, but Oklahoma State was not so willing to give up Arkansas' first-ever 20-win season easily. It looked easy with a 43-29 lead at half, but the Cowgirls cut the spread to three, 69-66, with 3:17 to play. In turn, Bettye Fiscus, Connie Fitzgerald and Erma Greer stepped up with key buckets to pull away from OSU. For the game, Fiscus had 27, followed by Kim Bunge with 14 and Amanda Holley with 12 points and 10 rebounds.

#26 -- ARKANSAS 68, KSU 53

January 2, 1982

The first win for Arkansas over a top 20 ranked team. Bettye Fiscus and Amanda Holley turn in double-double games -- Fiscus an amazing 20 points with 18 rebounds and Holley 12 points with 11 rebounds. Cheryl Orcholski shares top scoring honors with 20 points of her own.

#27 -- ARK. 77, #25 BAMA 73

February 18, 1999

Arkansas had its Senior Day one game too late but the Razorbacks scored their first win ever at Coleman Coliseum with a 77-73 upset of 25th-ranked Alabama. Senior Sytia Messer scored a season high 21 points and senior Tennille Adams came off the bench for her second career double-double with 11 points and 10 rebounds. Alabama led by eight at halftime, but the lead wasn't enough to hold off Arkansas. The Razorbacks outscored Bama, 45-33, in the second half. Alabama crept back to within one, but freshman Amy Wright responded with a three-pointer to make it a four-point bulge, 71-67.

#28 -- #14 ARK. 76, #20 TEXAS 61

January 8, 1991

The rematch with Texas is more bust than dust-up as Delmonica DeHorney dominates the lane again and Amber Nicholas pours in the assists and outside shots. Arkansas controlled the game from tip to final horn. The win proves the victory previous year at Austin was not a fluke, and with Arkansas headed out of the SWC, this proves to be the only win over Texas at Barnhill Arena in school history. It results in the largest crowd at Barnhill Arena for a women's basketball game -- 6,819 fans. When Bud Walton Arena opens, this figure is eclipsed by the growth of women's basketball popularity thanks to the SEC.

#29 -- ARK. 83, #11 IOWA 57

November 23, 1997

The Reebok Classic at the Fleet Center in Boston, Mass., was the scene of a mugging as Arkansas shredded the 11th-ranked Hawkeyes. Kamara Stancle scored 21 points in only her second game at Arkansas after transferring from Connors State JC. The Razorbacks defense forced 22 turnovers as Arkansas out-rebounded the much taller Hawkeyes, 39-22. Tennille Adams picked up her first double-double of her career with 13 points and 11 rebounds. Leading 38-29 at half, the Razorbacks crushed Iowa with a 13-0 run early in the second half and held the Hawkeyes scoreless for 4:43.

#30 -- ARK. 78, CLEMSON 68

March 15, 2002

A game in the books as much for an individual as the team as Shameka Christon scores 36 points in 33 minutes to lead the Razorbacks in the NCAA first round. The loss was the first ever for Clemson under Jim Davies in the first round, and Christon's 36 -- made more dramatic by an early first half injury that sidelined her for seven minutes -- gave the sophomore the second most points scored in consecutive games (see Game #18) in school history.

HALL OF HONOR - BETTYE FISCUS

The first of the true greats in Razorback history, Bettye Fiscus set the definition by which all other Arkansas women's basketball players are judged.

In a career of firsts, Fiscus received perhaps her final and most unique honor in 1994 when she became the first female athlete inducted into the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor.

Fiscus was the first player to score over 1,000 points in a career, and broke the school record in only two seasons. She went on to become the only women's basketball player over 2,000 points, and until Razorback All-American and NBA standout Todd Day in the early 1990s, Fiscus was the university's all-time leading scorer.

Also one in a long line of Arkansas prep legends to play for the Razorbacks, she led her hometown of Wynne, Ark., to the AAA state title and was named player of the year by the Arkansas Democrat.

Her jersey number -- No. 5 -- was the first to be retired by the University of Arkansas -- male or female -- and hangs in the Razorback trophy case, as well as in Barnhill Arena.

Even though her career ended in 1985, she still holds seven Arkansas overall individual records including total points, career scoring average, field goals and free throws and seven class records. When she completed her career, she not only was the all-time leading scorer, but the leader in rebounds as well with 785.

Adding to her career honors, she was inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame in 2006.

She is married to former Arkansas men's basketball assistant, James Dickey.

IT'S NOT ALL ABOUT SCORING

While her career rebound mark of 785 did not last more than three years, Bettye remains No. 2 on the career rebound list and the top guard-wing rebounder. Notable Razorbacks below Bettye in boards: Kodak All-American Delmonica DeHorney and SEC Player of the Year Shameka Christon

Bettye Fiscus was Arkansas' first all-conference player, earning first-team all-SWC in 1982. She was a three-time all-SWC selection in her career, two-time all-SWC tournament and was selected to the SWC All-Decade Team

Records held by Fiscus

Two decades later, Bettye Fiscus remains Arkansas' all-time scoring leader with 2,073 points, but the original star of the program still holds another seven individual records and seven class records.

BETTYE DICKEY TODAY

Bettye Dickey remains a part of the great history of the Razorback program. She was the first player in university history to have her jersey retired in 1986.

To celebrate the end of the Barnhill Arena era and the opening of Bud Walton Arena, the Women's Athletics Department issued commemorative tickets for the first women's game in the new facility. Each ticket had the image of one of the four career leaders, and a special banquet was held to celebrate "A Moment in Time." Bettye was joined at the banquet by Amber Nicholas Shirey (UA's then assist leader) and Shelly Wallace, the only woman to break Bettye's mark for rebounds.

As a part of the 30th anniversary season of Razorback basketball, the University chose Bettye as its Southeastern Conference Great to be honored at the 2006 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament in North Little Rock.

Perhaps the most notable aspect of Bettye Fiscus' career -- it came before the advent of the three-point shot.

HALL OF HONOR - DELMONICA DeHORNEY

Delmonica DeHorney Hawkins became the second Razorback basketball player and the fourth overall inductee to the Arkansas Hall of Honor in September 2000. The first Kodak All-American at the University of Arkansas, DeHorney set the standard by which all future post players will be judged. The only player in Southwest Conference history to receive three player of the year honors during her career, DeHorney led Arkansas to its peak of domination of the SWC and onto the national stage as a top 10 team.

DeHorney exhibited her promise her first season at Arkansas, earning SWC Newcomer of the Year honors. Her sophomore season was limited due to injuries, but the 6-4 Poteau, Okla., product came back stronger than ever as a junior.

It was during the 1989-90 season that DeHorney and Arkansas became household words in the sports world. Leading Arkansas and the SWC in scoring and field goal percentage, DeHorney paced the Razorbacks to the first win over Texas by a conference opponent. The win at Texas broke a 183-game streak and the UT strangle-hold on the conference title. As the SWC co-champions, Arkansas was selected for the NCAA tournament. DeHorney stepped up her game, earning All-NCAA West Regional team honors for her back-to-back 30-point games at the Stanford-hosted tournament. Arkansas reached the Elite Eight with DeHorney leading the way.

For her efforts, DeHorney was voted the SWC Player of the Year in 1990 as well as one of the 10 players selected by the WBCA for the Kodak All-America team.

As a senior, DeHorney proved herself again. Repeating as SWC Player of the Year, she led Arkansas to an undisputed SWC crown with a pair of wins over Texas and a 15-1 conference mark. Arkansas added the 1991 SWC Classic trophy to its collection to become the first team besides UT to win the postseason conference tournament. Ranked as high as 8th in the nation, Arkansas received a first-round bye in the 1991 NCAA Tournament, but was upset in the Sweet 16 by Lamar.

Records held by DeHorney

The post against all others are measured in Arkansas Razorback women's basketball history, Delmonica was one of the most accurate scorers in school history and the key to Arkansas leading the nation in field goal percentage during the 1990-91 season.

She also holds the record for career scoring in SWC games only along with another 10 SWC game records.

ONE OF A KIND

In the storied history of the Southwest Conference, only one woman was voted by the league coaches to a player of the year honor three times in a career. Delmonica DeHorney was the SWC Newcomer of the Year as a freshman in 1988. An injury limited her playing time as a sophomore, but she returned full force as a junior and a senior to lead the league in scoring and earn the 1990 and 1991 SWC Player of the Year award. The first player twice voted first team all-conference, DeHorney was chosen SWC Player of the Week three times and all-tournament once. Her career was remembered years later as she was the only women's basketball player voted to the five-player first-team of the SWC All-Decade Team.

One of Delmonica's three blocks that were key to Arkansas' snapping the Texas 183-game win streak in SWC games in 1990.

DELMONICA HAWKINS TODAY

Married to Jackson Hawkins and the mother of two, Delmonica lives in Baltimore, Md., and works as a juvenile probation officer.

Immediately after her playing career at Arkansas, she spent a season in Japan in professional basketball, then a brief time in France.

She returned to Fayetteville for the retirement of her jersey, only the second in school history, before settling with her family in Baltimore.

HALL OF HONOR - AMBER NICHOLAS

While others may have better statistics, arguably no other Razorback has had the impact upon the Arkansas women's basketball program as Amber Nicholas Shirey. An All-SWC and Academic All-America player in the late 1980s and early 1990s, she is the first former women's player to become a full-time coaching staff member at Arkansas. As a result, she played a critical hand in recruiting and coaching the athletes who replaced her in the record books.

It seems fitting that the player to hold the Arkansas record for assists would have the best winning percentage in her career (over 75%) of any Razorback. In the process, her teams won 86 games, two SWC titles and made three NCAA appearances. Thanks in part to her 538 assists, her post players led the SWC in scoring twice.

She ended her career second in steals and one of only two players to rank in the top 10 in points, rebounds, steals and assists. Nicholas can rightly lay claim to a stake in the 86 games won during her four years as she played in all 117 games and started a school-record 87 consecutive games. The 1991 SWC Tournament MVP, Nicholas also was a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American and NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship recipient.

Her legacy to the program continued as an assistant coach, working with guards like former SEC three-point accuracy champion Kimberly Wilson, former four-time AP All-American Christy Smith and three-point record holder Wendi Willits. She had the privilege to coach the woman who finished off her assist record, Amy Wright.

"MISS LADY'BACK"

During the program's 25th anniversary celebration, that's the headline on the newspaper article about Amber Nicholas Shirey. The label fits as no person has been involved in more games than any other individual in Arkansas history, 117 as a player, 27 as a graduate assistant coach and 436 as an assistant coach. That's a total of 580 games over a span of 19 years.

Records held by Nicholas

Of all the records that Amber Nicholas set during her career, which included virtually every assist and free throw mark, the two that speak to the essence of her game remain to this day. She is the only starting point guard to take her team to three consecutive NCAA tournaments and the only Arkansas player named MVP of the SWC Classic.

CAREER

Three-point percentage, career: 41.6%
 Three-point percentage, season: 47.7%
 Free throw percentage, career: 84.7%
 Consecutive games started: 87

CLASS RECORDS

It's somehow fitting that the consummate point guard of her era hold no class records. However, her post players, Delmonica DeHorney (junior season) and Shelly Wallace (senior season) hold the school class records for most points in a game, season and season scoring average.

A SCHOLAR AND AN ATHLETE

Recipient of several academic awards, Amber was the first Razorback to earn an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship. She also was the NCAA Woman of the Year from the state of Arkansas in 1992.

AMBER SHIREY TODAY

Honored by the university with selection to the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor in 2002 as the third Razorback women's basketball player inducted, Shirey was also honored by the athletic department's as the Legend player at the 2003 Southeastern Conference Women's Basketball Tournament hosted in North Little Rock at ALLTEL Arena.

She married Fayetteville High softball coach Jason Shirey in 1999, and the Shireys have a son and daughter and are expecting a third child this fall.

HALL OF HONOR - TRACY WEBB

The fourth Razorback women's basketball player inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor, Tracy Webb Rice was the fiery leader of the basketball team during its climb to power in the Southwest Conference era.

Webb's scrappy play resulted in four consecutive 20-win seasons, the Razorbacks' first women's basketball NCAA tournament appearance and first major title with the 1987 National Women's Invitational Tournament.

The leader of a recruiting class that put Arkansas on the map, the Batesville, Ark., native stole more than the basketball during her four-year career.

Aside from 293 basketballs, Webb stole the show and the hearts of Arkansas fans as one of the most popular on-the-court personalities of the mid-1980s. The first true point guard star, Webb finished her career holding almost all the Razorback assist and steal records. She was the first Razorback player to earn "first team" All-Southwest Conference honors, a distinction that began her senior season.

She was also one of the first three Razorbacks named conference player of the week. Her junior-season team was the first in school history to earn an NCAA berth, losing by a point at Missouri in the opening round, 66-65. Her senior season was exciting as the Razorbacks missed beating No. 1-ranked UT by a bucket in Fayetteville (59-56) and at the SWC Tournament (72-70), then was overlooked for a return trip to the NCAA. Fueled to prove they belonged in the NCAA, Webb's team crushed the WNIT field by a 16-point average as she was named the tournament MVP.

MAKING HER POINT

Back in the 1980s, the NCAA tournament was limited to only 32 bids, and as a result many great basketball players never reached the Big Dance. Such was the case for the 1986-87 Razorbacks and their leader, Tracy Webb. Snubbed by the NCAA committee, Webb and company headed west to Amarillo, Texas, and the National Women's Invitational Tournament on a mission. Not only did Arkansas want to win, the team crushed the opposition by a record-setting margin that stood until the end of the NWIT's existence. That same year, Webb had a profound impact on Arkansas' future as she impressed upon a young recruit, Amber Nicholas, her duty to stay home and take over for her at point guard.

TRACY RICE TODAY

After finishing her playing career at Arkansas, Tracy was a graduate assistant coach for the Razorbacks in 1987-88.

She worked for several years as a flight attendant for a major carrier. Married to Paul Rice and the mother of three, Webb lives in Hot Springs, Ark.

Tracy was the University of Arkansas' honored former player at the 2005 Southeastern Conference Women's Basketball Tournament in Greenville, S.C.

Records held by Webb

One of the first true point guards in Arkansas history, Tracy Webb set the standard by which future "1" players were measured. When she finished her career in 1987, she held almost every guard oriented career mark, including assists, steals and free throw percentage. She still holds these Arkansas marks.

HALL OF HONOR - CHRISTY SMITH

The fifth Razorback women's basketball player inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor, Christy Smith Flowers lives forever in the memories of women's basketball fans for her heroic leadership of the 1998 NCAA Final Four team.

She became the first Razorback to lead the nation in a NCAA statistical category by shooting 89.9% at the free throw line as a freshman. Yet, one of her 15 missed free throws that season cost Arkansas a chance to advance to overtime versus Ole Miss. That loss put Arkansas at 1-3 for SEC games, but Smith would not be denied and led Arkansas on a 6-1 finish to give the Razorbacks their best SEC finish in school history, 7-4, tied for fourth overall.

As a sophomore, Smith had the best single free throw shooting game in Division I for the 1995-96 season, a 15-of-15 effort to defeat Ohio State in the pre-season WNIT. Arkansas roared to a program-best start of 13-1, but the team faltered when Smith tore her ACL at Kentucky midway through conference play. Without Smith, the team accepted a NWIT berth.

Upon her return, Arkansas opened 12-1 including Smith leading the Razorbacks' first-ever win over Tennessee, but a tough close made Arkansas the bubble team left out of the NCAA Tournament.

In her final season, Smith rallied Arkansas again into a NCAA bid, but with a ninth seed and the unenviable assignment to the Stanford-hosted subregional it appeared Smith would end her career short of her dream. But two flawless games from the West Lafayette, Ind., guard -- zero turnovers -- put Arkansas into the West Regional at Oakland. Defeating Kansas in the Sweet 16, and struggling from behind against eight-ranked Duke, Smith fulfilled her destiny appropriately at the free throw line. In the waning seconds, Duke fouled Smith twice and she calmly sank all four to send Arkansas to the Final Four in Kansas City. It remains to this day the only time an unranked team reached the Final Four.

Smith closed her career second all-time in assists and fifth in scoring. Only 31 assists shy of her coach Amber Nicholas' record, she certainly would have closed No. 1 in assists without her knee injury. She remains the highest scoring point guard in school history.

Along with her All-SEC honors, Christy was a member of the inaugural AP Women's All-America Team in 1995. She was a four-time honorable mention AP All-American, a feat made more notable by her season ending knee injury in 1996.

Records held by Smith

The highest scoring point guard in Arkansas history, Smith was one of the most accurate free throw shooters in the nation during her career. In fact, she led Division I in 1994-95 for the season and had the single best game in all of Division I in 1995-96.

CAREER

Three-point pct., half: 100% (5-of-5)
Free throw percentage, season: 89.9%
Free throw pct., game: 100% (16-of-16)
Free throw pct., half: 100% (12-of-12)

CLASS RECORDS

Freshman steals, season: 89

In addition to these records, Smith holds another 14 records for SEC games only including career free throws, career free throw percentage and career consecutive SEC starts -- 43. In fact, she is the only Razorback to start every SEC game of her career that she was able to play.

CHRISTY FLOWERS TODAY

Following her trip to the Final Four, Smith was a second round draft pick of the Charlotte Sting, and as the starting point guard for the franchise led the Sting to the WNBA Playoffs. Injuries limited her playing time the following season and eventually ended her professional career.

Smith was the fifth Razorback women's basketball player selected by the A-Club membership for inclusion in the Arkansas Hall of Honor. She was inducted in 2005.

She and former Razorback defensive back Jeromy Flowers have three children.

Perhaps the most famous picture in Arkansas history: Christy Smith falls to her knees at center court of the Oakland Coliseum after dribbling out the final seconds of Arkansas' win over Duke to advance to the Final Four.

SEC - THE STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE

The Nation's Premier Women's Basketball Conference

With eight national championships, 10 runner-up finishes, a nation-leading 34 Final Four appearances and 96 first-team All-America honors, the Southeastern Conference stands firmly as the nation's premier intercollegiate women's basketball conference.

SEC By The Numbers

- The SEC has posted impressive non-conference records in the last decade. The SEC compiled a 121-45 (.729) non-conference record during the 2009-10 season.

- Since the 1990 season, the SEC has compiled a 2774-844 (.767) record against other conferences. The league has recorded 150+ wins during eight seasons and has never recorded a non-conference winning percentage below .723.

- SEC teams have earned appearances in 25 of 29 NCAA Final Fours, an accomplishment unmatched by any other league.

- Overall, SEC squads have filled 34 of the 116 Final Four berths, including having two Final Four teams in 1988 (Auburn, Tennessee), 1989 (Auburn, Tennessee), 1995 (Georgia, Tennessee), 1996 (Georgia, Tennessee), 1998 (Arkansas, Tennessee), 2004 (LSU, Tennessee), 2005 (LSU, Tennessee), 2007 (LSU, Tennessee) and 2008 (LSU, Tennessee).

- SEC teams have made 18 appearances in a nation-high 16 NCAA Championship games, winning eight NCAA Championships (Tennessee: 1987, 1989, 1991, 1996, 1997, 1998, 2007 and 2008).

- The league also had the distinction of providing both national finalists twice in its history in 1996 (Tennessee 83, Georgia 65) and in 1989 (Tennessee 76, Auburn 60).

- SEC teams have won 329 NCAA Tournament games against 168 losses (.662) for an average of 11.3 NCAA wins per year.

- In addition, all 12 current members have appeared in the NCAA Tournament.

- The SEC has paced the pack in NCAA tournament bids 21 times in its 29-year history.

- The SEC was the first league to ever have eight teams invited to the NCAA Tournament, doing so in 1999 and 2002.

- The SEC was also the first league to ever have seven teams invited to the NCAA Tournament and earned this honor a leading seven times (1986, 1991, 1995, 1996, 1997, 2003, 2004).

- The SEC is one of a handful of leagues to have won three national tournament titles with eight NCAA, two WNIT and three NWIT. Along with the eight NCAA championships won by Tennessee, Arkansas (1999) and Auburn (2003) captured the current Women's NIT titles. But the first-ever SEC national title belongs to Georgia, winners of the 1981 NWIT which predates the current NCAA tournament. LSU (1985) and Kentucky (1990) each won NWIT titles. Both Arkansas (1987) and South Carolina (1979) won the WNIT as members of their previous conferences.

- In 2003, Auburn won the WNIT title with wins over South Alabama, Florida State, Richmond, Creighton and Baylor. In 1999, the Arkansas Lady Razorbacks defeated Wisconsin 76-64 to claim the SEC's first WNIT championship.

- In 1981, Georgia defeated Pittsburg, California and Arizona State (in OT) to capture the NWIT Championship, the first-ever national championship of any kind for the SEC in women's basketball.

Individual Honors

- The SEC has had 57 student-athletes named as a First-Team All-America selection. Those 57 have been named a total of 84 times since the 1982-83 season (first year of SEC sponsorship).

- All-Americans were first named in women's basketball in 1975. Since that time, league schools have had 65 players named first-team a total of 96 times.

- The league has had six Honda Sports Awards winners in Katrina McClain, Georgia (1987); Bridgette Gordon, Tennessee (1989); Chamique Holdsclaw, Tennessee (1997 and 1998); and Candace Parker, Tennessee (2007 and 2008).

- Tennessee's Chamique Holdsclaw was named the winner of the Honda-Broderick Cup, as the Collegiate Woman Athlete of the Year, in 1998.

- Seven Naismith Player of the Year winners have come from the SEC. They include Saudia Roundtree, Georgia (1996), Chamique Holdsclaw, Tennessee (1998 and 1999), Tamika Catchings, Tennessee (2000), Seimone Augustus, LSU (2005 and 2006) and Candace Parker, Tennessee (2008).

- SEC teams have provided 131 All-Region performers, including 28 Most Outstanding Players.

- Over the past 29-years, 38 Final Four All-Tournament Team members have come from SEC schools.

- In 1996, the entire all-tournament team was made up of SEC players.

- Nine NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship winners and 27 Academic All-Americans hail from the SEC.

SEC In The Pros

- The Southeastern Conference had 27 former SEC student-athletes make 2010 WNBA opening day rosters.
- In this year's WNBA draft, a total of six SEC women's basketball players were taken.
- Since the inaugural WNBA draft in 1997, the SEC has had 110 former players drafted for the professional league.

SEC In USA Basketball

- SEC schools have produced 35 Olympians since 1976, with 31 coming since the SEC began sponsoring women's basketball.
- In addition, 49 players have been part of a Women's National Team and 30 have been on a Women's World Championship Team roster.
- While at an SEC school, eleven head coaches have been named to coach, as an assistant or head coach, for USA Basketball teams.

Dominance In the Polls

- Since the SEC began to sponsor women's basketball in 1982, it has failed only three times to place at least four members in each of the final polls (the USA Today/ESPN poll began in 1986).
- Last season, the SEC had four in the final AP poll and six in the final coaches poll.
- In terms of rankings, the SEC has the richest history of any conference in the nation, boasting more poll appearances than any other.
- Since the 1982 season, SEC teams have been ranked 514 consecutive weeks in the AP Poll.
- League teams have been ranked 2,593 times, including 1,283 Top 10 appearances and 726 Top 5 appearances.
- SEC teams can also boast of 136 No. 1 rankings in the AP Poll.
- The league has had the top three teams in the AP Poll twice. In week three in 2005 and in week eight in 1989.
- A nation-leading eight SEC teams were ranked at one point in the AP and CNN/USA Today Top 25 polls during the 1995-96 season. The league mirrored that feat during the 1996-97 season.

SEC HEADQUARTERS

Almost 43 years after moving to Birmingham from Jackson, Miss., The SEC moved into its current headquarters on October 15, 1991. The building is now named for Roy F. Kramer, the SEC's sixth commissioner who retired in July 2002.

During his tenure as the league's commissioner, the SEC won 85 national championships and distributed more than $654 million in revenue back to its member institutions.

The 30,000 square-foot building was provided by the city of Birmingham. It was designed to house the SEC staff and accommodate the needs of the various committees, coaches and administrative groups that meet on a regular basis. From its headquarters, the SEC office certifies the eligibility of all student-athletes, manages championship events, enhances academic opportunities for student-athletes, monitors NCAA and SEC compliance, coordinates officiating assignments, negotiates television contracts, distributes conference revenue, cultivates corporate sponsorships and coordinates media and public relations efforts.

In 2005, a state-of-the-art video command center was built inside the headquarters and named for the late Brad Davis, the SEC Associate Commissioner who was responsible for its development. Davis passed away on March 2, 2006.

The building also features a rotunda that highlights school banners, championship pedestals and two galleries displaying the member institutions.

SEC TOURNAMENT

2011 SEC WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT BRACKET
 March 3-6 • Bridgestone Arena (17,576) • Nashville, Tenn.

Thursday, March 3 -- Sunday, March 6, 2010
 SOMMET CENTER -- NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

The Southeastern Conference Women's Basketball Tournament travels to Nashville, Tenn., for the 2011 Championship. It is the fourth time the SEC Tournament has been in Nashville.

Arkansas traveled to the Peach State as the Gwinnett Center in Duluth, Ga., for the 2010 event. It is the second time in tournament history for the Gwinnett Center to host. The SEC Women's Basketball Tournament returned to the Natural State in 2009 event was hosted by North Little Rock's ALLTEL Arena. The 2006 edition came close to breaking the historic 2004 attendance. When the SEC awarded the bid to North Little Rock, Arkansas, and ALLTEL in 2004, it was the first time the league took a major championship west of the Mississippi River. The SEC was rewarded with an all-time record-setting attendance.

The Sommet Center (formerly the Gaylord Entertainment Complex) in Nashville, Tenn., hosted the 2008 event. The 20th edition was also in the eastern half of the league at the Bi-Lo Center in Greenville, S.C. The SEC celebrated its 25th season at the "GEC" in Nashville, Tenn., although for the traditional postseason event it was the 19th event. In 2001, the tournament began a rotation, heading larger venues and cities to take on the growing attendance to the event. The tournament is now awarded two to three years in advance to host cities.

Prior to the start of the current rotation, the tournament was held in Chattanooga, Tenn., five of the six seasons. The 1999 tournament proved to be the most successful when several attendance records were shattered.

Chattanooga also hosted the event for five years from 1993-97. During that time, the SEC tournament experienced a growth in fan support, highlighted by several then-record setting attendances. Chattanooga also hosted in 2000.

The tournament moved to Columbus, Ga., in 1998 for one year. Before the Chattanooga era, Albany, Ga., served as the site of the tournament for six years from 1987-92. Prior to 1987 the tournament was held at campus sites, beginning with its inception in 1980. During those first years, the postseason tournament champion was crowned the league overall champion.

The winner of the 11-game tournament receives the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The tournament seeds and conference champion will be determined by the 16-game regular-season SEC schedule. The top four seeds earn a first-round bye.

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

KNOWLEDGE

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS A PORTRAIT OF THE STATE'S FLAGSHIP, LAND-GRANT UNIVERSITY

The University of Arkansas, the flagship campus of the University of Arkansas System, resides on a former hilltop farm overlooking the Ozark Mountains to the south. At the University's founding in 1871, the site was described as "second to none in the state of Arkansas."

Located in Fayetteville, the university is both the major land-grant university for Arkansas and the state university. The university was created under the Morrill Land-Grant College Act of 1862, whereby federal land sales provided funds for new colleges devoted to agriculture and the mechanic arts, scientific and classical studies, and military tactics, all designed for the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes. The university's founding satisfied the provision in the Arkansas Constitution of 1868 that the General Assembly establish and maintain a state university.

Citizens in Fayetteville and surrounding Washington County raised $130,000 to secure the university's location in a state-wide competition sparked by the General Assembly's Organic Act of 1871, providing for the "location, organization and maintenance of the Arkansas Industrial University with a normal department [i.e., teacher education] therein."

Today, the University of Arkansas encompasses more than 130 buildings on 345 acres and provides nearly 200 academic programs, more than some universities twice its size. At the same time, it maintains a low student-to-faculty ratio (currently 17:1) that makes personal attention possible. The university promotes undergraduate research in virtually every discipline and makes higher education affordable with competitively priced tuition and generous financial aid.

WORLD-CLASS FACULTY

The campus culture places high value on excellent teaching. At this mainly residential campus, the faculty numbers nearly 1,000, of which almost 95 percent are full-time. Nine of every 10 faculty members hold either a doctorate or terminal degree in their field, and more than 65 percent of the faculty is tenured.

DID YOU KNOW?

- 7 Fayetteville ranks No. 7 on the Forbes.com's list of "Top 10 College Towns."
- 14 Razorback basketball is ranked #14 on the Forbes.com's list of "College Basketball's 20 Most Valuable Teams".
- NUMEROUS Arkansas is home to Rhodes, Marshall, Goldwater, Udall, NSF and James Madison recipients.
- 120,000 Senior Walk features names of more than 120,000 graduates.
- 100 Arkansas presses publish nearly 100 books each year.
- 700 More than $700 million in construction projects were completed in the past decade.

The instructional mission is aided by the Cordes Teaching and Faculty Support Center, a program run by faculty for faculty. The center involves as many as 400 faculty and nearly 200 teaching assistants per year in regularly scheduled programs, seminars, workshops and an annual off-campus teaching retreat as well as individual assistance to update and enhance their teaching methods.

This emphasis is reinforced by the University of Arkansas Teaching Academy, which consists of faculty recognized by their peers, colleges and the larger university for teaching excellence. In 2000, the academy began producing Inquiry,

OLD MAIN

One of the original buildings of Arkansas' campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1876, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as it did its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Even with renovation, Old Main remained unfinished until 2006. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower.

As mentioned, Old Main was built from shared plans with its counterpart on the Illinois campus, with one important difference. The north tower of Arkansas' Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.

WORLD-CLASS FACILITIES

Over $700 million in construction projects were completed on campus in the past decade, are now under construction or are in the planning stages. These include plans to upgrade or renovate several of our historic buildings. The university is also engaged in an ambitious program to improve the energy efficiency of 35 of our buildings, in an on-going effort to create a sustainable campus.

WORLD-CLASS SUPPORT

Investment in the future is critical, and the unprecedented Campaign for the Twenty-First Century that concluded in 2006 resulted in a billion dollar infusion of gifts to the University of Arkansas. The effort included the largest single gift to a U.S. public university in the history of American philanthropy: a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Trust. Primary among the programs created by the Walton gift was the designation of $200 million toward the establishment of the Honors College.

That kind of commitment from the state and the region is not uncommon. It was the effort of the city of Fayetteville and Washington County in submitting the highest bid to the state in the 1870s that resulted in the University of Arkansas opening its doors here on Jan. 22, 1872.

SENIOR WALK

The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates' names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate's name went down in cement during the 1990s. The names on Senior Walk stretch over five miles of campus sidewalks.

The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

BROAD RANGE OF DEGREES

At Arkansas, students can major in one of over 120 undergraduate disciplines, many of which prepare them for entry into graduate studies ranging from law to medicine.

TEN COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS: ONE UNIVERSITY

The University has five colleges, four schools and a global campus to provide a wide range of majors, from agricultural business to biological engineering, from architecture to nursing, from transportation and logistics to international relations, all taught by nationally acclaimed faculty.

A program in nanoscience that combines students and faculty in physics and engineering has made the university the leader in production of nanomaterials for universities across the country.

No matter what students choose to study the University of Arkansas has the programs, the faculty and the facilities to prepare them for the careers they want in the future.

RESEARCH

DISCOVERY THAT IS MAKING LIFE BETTER FOR ARKANSAS AND THE WORLD

The Carnegie Foundation categorizes the University of Arkansas as a research institution with “high research activity,” placing it among the top 10 percent of universities nationwide. In simple terms, the university is in the top tier of 150 research universities among the nation’s more than 4,000 post-secondary institutions — and growing in research activity and expenditures each year.

As a land-grant and state university, the institution considers research, scholarship and creative endeavor — all leading to the advancement of knowledge — a significant component of its primary mission. The university’s faculty members are active researchers and scholars who consistently attract international attention in the arts, sciences, humanities, technology, business and education.

Research expenditures at the University of Arkansas for fiscal year now exceed $117 million per year, making research activity a significant academic element at the university and an economic engine for the state. It’s also not uncommon anymore for research awards to the university to rise at double-digit percentage rates, and such awards also are approaching the $100 million level.

In addition to the work performed by faculty through individual and collaborative efforts in their academic departments, special research and outreach programs — often interdisciplinary — are conducted in approximately 50 centers and organized research units around campus.

AMONG THE LEADING-EDGE CENTERS AND RESEARCH ACTIVITIES:

- The RFID Research Center laboratory conducts research in the most efficient use of radio frequency identification and other wireless sensor technologies throughout the supply chain, with a particular emphasis on the retail supply chain. Positioned in northwest Arkansas at the epicenter of retail activity, the RFID Research Center laboratory is a multidisciplinary “supply chain in a box” devoted to examining the technology as used in retail, storeroom and warehouse environments.
- The Center for Sensing Technology and Research features a 9.4 Tesla Fourier transform mass spectrometer, which uses a high-powered magnet that improves the resolution of images of molecules and provides detailed information about their structure. Coupled with other instruments in the High Performance Mass Spectrometry Laboratory, the mass spectrometer offers high-resolution laser desorption mass spectrometry, which is not available at any other public laboratory in the country.

- The Chemical Hazards Research Center has the largest ultra-low-speed boundary layer wind tunnel in the world. The wind tunnel simulates releases of heavier-than-air gases into the atmosphere. It has been used to simulate potential disasters and to trace the path of disasters that have occurred, such as the catastrophic 1984 Union Carbide leak in Bhopal, India.

- The High Density Electronics Center has established itself as one of the top electronics packaging research and education facilities in the world. HiDEC has executed contracts from government and industry totaling more than $30 million. Projects have ranged from multichip module design to the development and evaluation of new technologies and electronic products.

- The Center for Advanced Spatial Technologies has been recognized nationally for its data storage and retrieval warehouse, GeoStor, by the Urban & Regional Information Systems Association. The center works with people across campus in various disciplines, offering researchers the latest in innovative technologies. This has led to interdisciplinary collaboration in fields as diverse as engineering, agriculture, anthropology and sociology.

POINTS OF PRIDE

THE DISTINCTIVE CHARACTERISTICS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

UNIQUE TRADITIONS

Starting on Old Main's front step with the year 1876, the names of the more than 125,000 graduates have been chiseled into more than two miles of campus walkways, grouped by year of graduation. It's not uncommon to see alumni strolling Senior Walk to rediscover their own names and fond memories of accomplishment and fun.

Old Main, the university's signature building, designed in Second Empire architectural style, has come to symbolize higher education in Arkansas. Old Main is one of 11 campus buildings on the National Register of Historic Places. Today, it is the home to the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Science, the largest academic college within the University of Arkansas.

The Inn at Carnall Hall and Ella's Restaurant comprise the university's own on-campus hospitality center. The beautiful, 50-room historic inn and five-star restaurant are both overseen by the hospitality and restaurant management academic program in the Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food and Life Sciences. Carnall Hall was built in 1905 as the university's first women's residence hall. The building was named after Ella Carnall, one of the campus' first female faculty members.

THE FULBRIGHT LEGACY

Since its founding, the University of Arkansas has compiled a remarkable record of scientific, technological, intellectual and creative accomplishment. This accomplishment is exemplified by the late U.S. Senator J. William Fulbright, a Rhodes Scholar as a student and eventual president of the university (1939-41). Fulbright went on to serve at the national level, founding in 1946 the greatest international exchange program for faculty and students in the world.

Fulbright's injunction for academia guides the University of Arkansas to this day: "The highest function of higher education is the teaching of things in perspective, toward the purposes of enriching the life of the individual, cultivating the free and inquiring mind and advancing the effort to bring reason, justice and humanity into the relations of men and nations."

The University of Arkansas has long been an institution of strong international orientation. In 1951, under U.S. State Department auspices, the University became the first land-grant institution in the nation to assemble an agricultural foreign mission. The object of that mission was to assist Panama in establishing an agricultural teaching, research and extension program similar to the one that had been so successful in modernizing agriculture in the United States.

CHANGING THE WORLD

Some internationally significant ways that the University has – and is – changing the world:

- Barnett Sure, a University of Arkansas professor of agricultural chemistry, pioneered nutrition research that led to the co-discovery of vitamin E, a vitamin high in antioxidants. His work also led to understanding of how vitamin E, amino acids and B vitamins affect reproduction and lactation.

- As world population grew during the 20th century, so did the contribution of research at the University of Arkansas. Marinus C. Kik, a professor of agricultural chemistry from 1927 to 1967, developed the process for parboiling rice, one of the most plentiful grains in undeveloped parts of the world. Kik's process increased retention of vitamins and shortened cooking time.

- In 1948, Silas Hunt became the first black person to integrate a traditionally white Southern university, enrolling in the University of Arkansas School of Law six years before the Brown v. Board of Education decision. Likewise, Edith Irby Jones soon after became the first black graduate from a Southern university, attaining her medical degree from the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences. Both acts happened without litigation or protest.

- When John Pople and Walter Kohn received the 1998 Nobel Prize in Chemistry, they cited the research of University of Arkansas chemist Peter Pulay as the building block for their prize-winning work. Early in his career, Pulay developed techniques for determining the shape and size of molecules that would permanently change the way scientists study matter. Today his approach is used by theoretical chemists around the world to determine the geometry of large, biologically important molecules.

- Two professors and a university alumnus – Harold Dulan, E.J. Ball and Lewis Callison – created the nation's first commercial variable annuity life insurance company, later bought by Aetna Insurance. Today, variable annuities are used worldwide in estate planning for participation in economic growth and as a hedge against inflation.
- In 1950, the University of Arkansas built the first American facility to integrate the study of fine arts. Edward Durell Stone, a former student who was by then an internationally recognized architect, designed the Fine Arts Center and followed on this early effort later to design the Kennedy Center for Arts in Washington, D.C. Other universities and colleges also followed Arkansas' example, developing cross-curricular exchanges so that artists, musicians, actors and designers could learn from each other and draw inspiration from other similar disciplines.
- Chemistry professor Paul Kuroda predicted that self-sustaining nuclear chain reactions could have occurred naturally in earth's geologic history. His prediction was later confirmed when scientists discovered a natural nuclear reactor in Gabon, Africa. In 1960, he predicted the existence of Plutonium-244 as an element present during the solar system's formation. Confirmation of his theory enabled scientists to more accurately date the sequence of events in the solar system's early history.
- The Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing, a 60-hour program launched at the University of Arkansas in 1966, has grown into one of the most productive and highly ranked programs of its kind in America. Founded by English professors William Harrison and James Whitehead, later joined by Miller Williams, the program was an early catalyst in the transformation of the traditional study of literature into a demanding training ground for writers.
- University of Arkansas plant pathologists George Templeton, Roy Smith, David TeBeest and graduate student Jim Daniels conducted research in the early 1970s that led to the first biological herbicide for weed control in a field crop, later called Collego. Their work to avoid chemical herbicides led to worldwide development of safer biological herbicides and establishment of the Rosen Center for Alternative Pest Control at the University of Arkansas.
- Physics professors Allen Hermann and Zhengzhi Sheng mixed up a thallium-based material in 1988 that set the world's highest temperature at which superconductivity could be sustained, leading to new advances in the manufacture of high-density electronics. Their patented material held the record for more than five years while researchers around the world raced to catch up.

- Professor Dwight Isely of the department of entomology is considered the father of insect pest management in the United States. His research identified the weak point in the life cycle of insects that made them particularly susceptible to control strategies. Through his work on cotton insect pests, the codling moth, the striped cucumber beetle, the southern corn rootworm and the rice water weevil, American Agriculture saved millions of dollars.
- Engineering professors at the University of Arkansas invented the next-best thing to the zip code – the wide-area bar code reader, which became the most widely implemented automated mail-sorting equipment in the world. By 2000, more than 15,000 bar code readers were used in every major Postal Service facility, increasing the efficiency of processing 20 billion pieces of mail a year at a savings of $200 million.
- Former President William Jefferson Clinton and Sen. Hillary Rodham Clinton started their careers as faculty members of the University of Arkansas in the mid-1970s. While a law professor, Mr. Clinton made his first runs for political office, getting elected as the Arkansas attorney general in 1976. Mrs. Clinton founded the university's legal clinic, which still provides law students a chance to work with clients on legal problems.

CHANCELLOR

DR. G. DAVID GEARHART

Dr. G. David Gearhart became the fifth chancellor of the University of Arkansas on July 1, 2008, following 10 years of service to the university in his capacity as vice chancellor for university advancement. During that decade leading up to his appointment as the campus' chief executive, he was the architect of the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century – the largest, most successful capital campaign in Arkansas history, which raised more than $1 billion for academic programs and increased the endowment from $119 million to almost $900 million.

A native of Fayetteville, Ark., Chancellor Gearhart was born and raised in the shadow of Old Main. An alumnus of the university whose name is twice inscribed on Senior Walk for the law degree (J.D.) and doctor of education degree (Ed.D.) he earned, Gearhart feels that his entire adult life has prepared him for this singular honor and challenge.

"I believe the ultimate success of the University of Arkansas will be measured to a large extent on how it demonstrates its usefulness to society," Gearhart says. "Of all of the rich contributions that America has bestowed on the world, American higher education is among the most important. Our colleges and universities have become, perhaps, the most vital expression of the American political and social philosophy."

The path that would lead him back to his alma mater began in 1976, when Gearhart became assistant to the president at Westminster College in Fulton, Mo., where he received his baccalaureate two years earlier. In 1977, he was appointed the director of development at Westminster and led fundraising efforts for The Winston Churchill Memorial and Library. Thus was launched a nationally respected career in university advancement.

In 1978, he returned to his native state to become vice president for development at Hendrix College. After four years at Hendrix, Gearhart returned home for the first time when he was selected to be the director of development at the University of Arkansas. In this role, he spearheaded the Campaign for Books, which added more than 100,000 volumes to the University of Arkansas Library.

In 1985, Gearhart took another career leap in being appointed vice president for development and university relations at The Pennsylvania State University. Three years later, he was promoted to senior vice president, responsible for the external relations programs for 23 campuses statewide. While at Penn State, he launched a major capital campaign, which raised in excess of $352 million. Total private gifts to Penn State during his 11 years at the university surpassed $950 million, and Gearhart's division was cited three times by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) with its grand gold medal, awarded to the nation's top advancement program.

In 1995, Gearhart joined the international consulting firm of Grenzsbach, Glier, and Associates as senior vice president and managing director, but stayed closely connected to advancing the mission of higher education. The Chicago-based philanthropic management firm has hundreds of clients in the United States, Canada and Europe, and fundraising goals in excess of $40 billion. Clients managed by Gearhart included nearly two dozen non-profit organizations, colleges and universities, among them American University, Brigham Young University, Rutgers University, University of Alabama, University of Connecticut, University of Miami (Fla.), University of Pittsburgh and University of Washington.

In 1998 Gearhart once again returned to his native state as vice chancellor for university advancement at the University of Arkansas. He was responsible for development, alumni relations, constituent relations, special events and university relations programs. Arguably, his most significant impact in this role was the stunningly successful Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, a billion-dollar capital campaign that concluded in June 2005 with the University of Arkansas taking its place as one of only 13 public universities at that time to have exceeded a billion dollars raised.

The centerpiece of this campaign was a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Support Foundation, the largest gift ever made to a public university. The direct results of Gearhart's leadership in this effort included the creation of 132 new endowed faculty positions, 1,738 new student scholarship and fellowship funds, dozens of new and renovated facilities and classrooms, and growth of the overall endowment from $119 million in 1998 to nearly $900 million by the time he assumed the chancellorship.

In every imaginable way, the university was transformed by this campaign.

"At the University of Arkansas our ultimate purpose is to improve the human condition, to make life better for our citizens and our state and to contribute to the general welfare of our nation," says Gearhart. "Thanks in part to the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, we've become recognized as a rising star as a major public research university in a state where higher education must play an increasingly larger role in the lives of its citizens. Working with our sister public institutions and in partnership with our own university system, we must work hard and smart to increase the college participation rate and to strengthen the quality of Arkansas' higher education. We must be seen as enthusiastic leaders in this venture, all in a time of diminished public resources nationally that will not make it easy, but a challenge that we at the university must embrace."

Gearhart was named a distinguished alumnus of his undergraduate alma mater, Westminster College, in 1992, and the same year was named a Fulbright Scholar and studied at Oxford University, Merion College in Oxford, England. In 1996, he was named an honorary alumnus of Penn State, where he finished his doctoral coursework in higher education administration.

In addition to his responsibilities as chancellor, Gearhart is a tenured member of the faculty in the College of Education and Health Professions, holding the rank of professor. A nationally respected expert in capital campaigns, he is the author of two books, The Capital Campaign in Higher Education and Philanthropy, Fund Raising and the Capital Campaign, as well as numerous articles.

Among his current professional affiliations, Gearhart serves as vice president of the University of Arkansas Fayetteville Campus Foundation, is a member of the board of advisors for the Arkansas World Trade Center, is a member of the Northwest Arkansas Council, and is a member of the advisory board of the Pryor Center for Oral and Visual History. He also is a licensed attorney in the state of Arkansas.

Gearhart is married to the former Jane Brockmann and they have two children. Their daughter Katy Hunt is a graduate of Penn State University and is married to Dr. Justin Hunt. They have a son, Ben. The Hunts live in Little Rock. The Gearharts' son Brock is a graduate of the University of Arkansas and is vice president of Greenwood Gearhart Inc. of Fayetteville. His wife Lindsey is a teacher.

Gearhart's late father, George A. Gearhart, was publisher of the Northwest Arkansas Times in Fayetteville. His mother, Joan Gearhart Havens, lives in Fayetteville.

"I have many dreams and aspirations that I've long held for the University of Arkansas," Gearhart says, "and I look forward in the months and years ahead to sharing that vision and working with our outstanding students, faculty, staff, alumni and friends, and certainly the board of trustees, on reaching our lofty goals and realizing the full potential of our university."

DR. SHARON HUNT FACULTY ATHLETIC REPRESENTATIVE

Chancellor G. David Gearhart has appointed Dr. Sharon Hunt to be the faculty athletics representative for the University of Arkansas in August 2010.

Dr. Hunt is the first woman and non-lawyer to hold the post. Dr. Hunt has been on the University of Arkansas faculty for 20 years and has served as head of the department of health science, kinesiology, recreation and dance in the College of Education and Health Professions for that entire time except for the 2000-01 academic year, when she served as interim dean of the college.

A high school athlete, Hunt's involvement with collegiate athletics dates back to her own college days at the University of Arkansas when she played extramural sports with the women's basketball and tennis teams prior to the enactment of Title IX.

After receiving her bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from the university, she went on to earn a doctor of education degree from the University of Georgia, where she taught a variety of sport-activity courses as a graduate assistant. Upon the completion of her doctoral degree, she joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky for 13 years, where she taught both undergraduate and graduate courses and served as the graduate coordinator for the department of health, physical education and recreation. In 1990, she and her family returned to Fayetteville.

Dr. Hunt will work closely with the athletic department, will be involved in the student-athlete advisory council on campus and will travel to represent the University of Arkansas at various SEC and NCAA meetings.

Dr. Hunt was instrumental in establishing the graduate athletic training education program in the College of Education and Health Professions, and she has worked closely with athletics on that program. The athletics department provides support to students in the athletic training education program in the form of a stipend, books and travel to the Arkansas Athletic Trainers' Association annual meeting. Two endowed scholarships for athletic training students in honor of longtime Razorback trainers Dean Weber and the late Bill Ferrell were established through the athletics department.

ACADEMICS

STUDENT - ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR SUCCESS AND ACHIEVEMENT

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND ACHIEVEMENT MISSION STATEMENT

The primary focus of the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement Program is to provide the student-athlete with the opportunity to develop the skills necessary to be a success in college and in life. This is accomplished through superior academic counseling, life skills training and preparation to enter the job market upon graduation.

THE BOGLE ACADEMIC CENTER

There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletic Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the home of the Razorback Athletic Department's Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement program is the Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center. The 15,000-square foot Bogle Academic Center is located in the east side of Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Under the overall direction of Senior Associate Athletic Director Jon Fagg, the Bogle Academic Center houses the Arkansas Razorbacks Academic Support Program, the Razorback Office of Student Life and the Career Development Program.

Associate Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Support Services Melissa Harwood-Rom oversees the staff of professionals dedicated to directing student-athletes to reach their personal academic goals, and to do so in ways that balance their academic, athletic and personal lives.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND ACHIEVEMENT SERVICES

The Mission Statement for the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement division -- SAASA -- speaks for itself, but the improvements and achievements of the Razorbacks over the past academic year are what is most important. At Arkansas, academic services are not just good grades and eligibility. Along with 18 of 19 teams exceeding the NCAA standard for APR, Razorbacks earned some of the highest conference and national academic honors in the 2009-10 year including a pair of Southeastern Conference Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Academic accomplishment is important for all 19 teams at the University of Arkansas and the football team is no exception. The Razorbacks had four student-athletes recognized on the Athletic Department Academic Honor Roll last year.

It is also not about honoring the “A” student. Arkansas Athletics is committed to every single athlete improving his or her academic performance every semester, working to achieve academic “personal bests” with each class just the same as we would expect our athletes to hit personal records in competition.

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS ACADEMIC GAME PLAN FOR GRADUATION

Student-athletes are expected to meet specific academic criteria in order to maintain eligibility. This is easily achieved by following the Academic Game Plan created by the Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement team.

The SAASA designs programs and sets specific goals to help student-athletes achieve academic success. An example of a key goal is the successful completion of 30 hours of coursework during each academic year. By maintaining this course load, Razorback athletes not only stay on track to graduate in four years, but easily meet eligibility requirements set by the NCAA.

Support Services*

STUDY HALL AND TUTORS

A quiet setting for uninterrupted study, the Bogle Academic Center provides three types of study hall space. The computer lab (above) has over 30 stations for individual computer-based study. An open study hall is available for group or individual study, and monitored by staff members of the SAASA. There are 17 individual study carrels that provide space for tutors to meet with student athletes for individual instruction in specific subjects.

Each Razorback team sets its own criteria for study hall attendance. The use of tutors is a key element for academic success, allowing for individualized assistance and for reaching academic excellence in advanced subjects.

ACADEMICS

HONORS AND GRADUATES

HONORS AND AWARDS

Academic Excellence Program -- Recognition for Razorback athletes who exceed a 3.0 GPA each fall and spring semester.

Academic Champions -- Razorbacks who scored perfect 4.0 grades for the semester

Athletic Director's List -- Razorbacks with grades from 3.50-3.99

Athletic Department Honor Roll -- Razorbacks with grades from 3.00-3.49

Lon Farrell Award -- Presented to the graduating Razorback athlete each spring semester with the highest cumulative GPA.

Bandon Burlsworth Award -- Voted on by the university faculty as the outstanding former non-scholarship student-athlete.

Hard Working Hog -- Recognizing achievements of new personal academic bests each semester.

SEC Academic Honor Roll -- A 3.0 GPA or above for two consecutive semesters.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

The University of Arkansas Razorback Athletic Department has an overall student-athlete class attendance policy. Student-Athletes Academic Support and Achievement assists with the enforcement of this policy through regular checks on class attendance. If traveling with a team, student-athletes notify instructors early in each semester regarding assignments or exams.

STUDENT LIFE

The social and personal development of student-athletes is as important to the University of Arkansas as the academic and athletic achievement. The Office of Student Life focuses on the personal development and community service components of the NCAA CHAMPS/LifeSkills program. Training is provided in a variety of areas including financial planning, drug and alcohol education, time management, study skills and developing community service activities.

Tiffany Wright

"The University of Arkansas isn't a huge university, but it has a huge reputation. My professors were concerned with my personal goals; concerned about how I wanted to develop as an individual. There is a great amount of one-on-one mentoring with the teachers. I think one of the greatest things about Arkansas is that you are an individual, a real person — not just an I.D. number — to the faculty and staff."

Tiffany Wright (BA, 1998)

Tiffany Wright went from 1998 NCAA Women's Final Four to graduation to sideline reporter for ESPN's coverage of the WNBA within weeks. Today, she is the sports anchor at ABC affiliate, WSOC, in Charlotte, N.C.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The purpose of the Career Development Program is to assist student-athletes in making a smooth transition from the University of Arkansas into the workplace. This process begins during the freshman year with a one-hour course on career options. Workshops are held to provide student-athletes training in resume writing, interviewing skills and etiquette. Individual assistance with locating summer internships and job placement gives student-athletes a head start into their chosen careers.

WHO ELSE GRADUATES FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS?

Here's a short list of some of our numerous notable graduates:

- Steve Atwater (BSBA '88), Two-time Super Bowl participant with the Denver Broncos
- Regina Blakely (BA '81, JD '85), Former CBS News Reporter
- George W. Haley (LLB '52), U.S. Ambassador to Gambia, brother of author Alex Haley
- Jerry Jones (BA '65), Owner of the Dallas Cowboys
- Ronald LeMay (BSBA '72), CEO, Sprint
- Robert Maurer (BS '48), Inventor of fiber optic technology at Corning Glass
- Rodney Slater (BA '80), First African-American U.S. Secretary of Transportation
- Pat Summerall (BSE '53), Former CBS Sports and Fox Sports announcer
- Don J. Tyson, Jr. ('52), Founder, Tyson Foods
- Jim C. Walton (BSBA '71), President, Walton Enterprises
- S. Rob Walton (BSBA '66), Former Chairman of the Board, Wal-Mart Stores

FAMOUS RECENT RAZORBACKS

- Felix Jones (First Round NFL, Dallas Cowboys)
- Darren McFadden (First Round NFL, Oakland Raiders)
- Lauren Ervin (Third Round WNBA, Connecticut Sun)
- Sonny Weems (Second Round NBA, Chicago Bulls)
- Stacy Lewis (LPGA member, tied for third at U.S. Women's Open)
- Logan Forsythe (First Round MLB, San Diego Padres)
- Wallace Spearmon (200), Veronica Campbell-Brown (200), Nicole Teter (800), Christin Wurth-Thomas (1,500), Amy Yoder Begley (10,000), Deena Kastor (Marathon) and April Steiner Bennett (pole vault) all at the Beijing Olympics.

IN THE COMMUNITY

GIVING BACK TO NORTHWEST ARKANSAS AND THE WORLD

Community service is a vital part of the educational process for any college student, and Razorback athletes continued to make it a priority in 2009-10.

With guidance from the Student-Athlete Development office, Razorback student-athletes, coaches and staff members participating in a number of events throughout the year. Here's a brief look at some of those projects.

- ♦ Going out to area elementary schools to support the Book Hogs reading program and the Sweat Hogs physical education awareness program.
- ♦ Individual team projects ranging from volunteering at the Fayetteville Public Library, working with Habitat for Humanity, assisting with area shelters, helping the local youth programs like the Scouts, holiday shopping and meal programs and visiting area nursing homes.
- ♦ Teaming with Numana, Inc. for Razorback Relief: Operation Haiti, a 24-hour marathon to package, more than 1.4 million meals for the Haitian relief effort.

The quiet efforts of our 19 Razorback teams have a long-lasting impact on the youth of our state. The incredible positive benefit of the time spent by the Razorbacks helping the community pays tremendous dividends, not only for the University of Arkansas, but for the entire community.

And while we focus here on the positive benefits for the fresh young faces who receive an autograph or a kind word of encouragement from a Razorback, we know that there is a considerable impact upon our student-athletes, our future leaders. The opportunity to give back impresses upon them that no matter their personal circumstances when they arrived in Fayetteville, they have a chance to not only improve their lives, but touch the lives of others.

Several Razorbacks shared some putt-putt time with young fans as a part of Make a Difference Day. Razorback athletes from all sports participated in various community service activities across the city of Fayetteville.

At left: the Razorback men's basketball team served meals over the Thanksgiving holiday. Above: members of the Razorback gymnastics team take part in Razorback Relief: Operation Haiti helping to package more than 1.4 million meals in 24 hours.

Razorback student-athletes are regular speakers at both Book Hogs Read To Win and Sweat Hogs, a program that encourages physical fitness in the elementary schools.

Book Hogs is one of the largest department outreach programs. Razorback student-athletes are guest readers in elementary classrooms and there are contests for reading the most books with the winners recognized at Razorback sporting events.

JEFF LONG

VICE CHANCELLOR FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS AND DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Entering his third full year as Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics, Jeff Long has not only guided the University of Arkansas' Department of Intercollegiate Athletics through a period of unprecedented transition, he has transformed and revitalized a tradition-rich athletics program encompassing 19 sports and more than 460 student-athletes. Long has not only accepted, but embraced the challenge of leading a Razorback program that serves as a source of pride for so many at the University of Arkansas, in all corners of the state and to thousands of Razorbacks all around the world.

Long has established a multi-faceted combined athletics program uniformly committed to the development of student-athletes academically, athletically and socially. A part of Chancellor G. David Gearhart's Executive Committee, Long and other members of the campus leadership team are charged with developing policies and charting the course for the future of higher education at the University of Arkansas. Since his arrival, Long and his staff have re-engaged the athletic department with the university community working to more fully integrate Razorback Athletics into the campus environment. Razorback Athletics stepped forward with a $1 million gift to support the university's academic mission in 2009-10 which brought the department's support of the greater university community to nearly $4 million. The department has pledged another $1 million gift for 2010-11.

The success of Long's approach can be measured in part by the remarkable accomplishments of the Razorback program in his tenure. Arkansas has captured six conference championships and advanced to 40 NCAA post-season competitions while drawing more than a million fans annually to campus to cheer on the Razorbacks.

In the classroom, the Razorbacks exceed national APR multi-year rate standards in 18 of 19 sports. For the first time in program history, all 19 sports exceeded the yearly APR benchmark rate in the most recent report (2008-09). The academic success has coincided with a transformation of the program's academic achievement approach from maintaining eligibility to focusing on student-athlete advancement towards a college diploma.

In the community, Razorback student-athletes are more active than ever volunteering more than 2,500 hours of time in between the rigors of school and athletic practice and competition. Community outreach initiatives including Lift Up America, Book Hogs, Sweat Hogs, Razorback for a Day and Razorback Relief have Razorback student-athletes making a difference in Arkansas and around the world. In 2009-10, the Lee Spencer Cup was established to annually recognize the Razorback team that earns distinction in the classroom, in athletic competition, in personal development and in the community.

Administratively, landmark agreements have been negotiated with ISP and with Southeastern Conference television partners to guarantee future revenue streams and secure the financial base of the program in uncertain economic times.

Even the most optimistic outlook would have been hard pressed to foresee the level of success that the Razorback program would attain in such a short time after Long was selected to replace legendary athletic director and former Razorback football coach Frank Broyles in September of 2007. Before Long officially took the reins, Arkansas announced that it would combine its previously independent men's and women's athletic programs into one combined athletic program.

Shortly after that announcement, Long was busy engineering the first coaching search of his tenure. Long not only found the next head football coach, he convinced Bobby Petrino, one of the most successful collegiate coaches in recent history, to return to the college game at Arkansas.

By the time, Long officially started his new position on Jan. 1, 2008, he had already accomplished a list of tasks vital to the short and long-term health of the Razorback program. He had begun the process of carefully blending the men's and women's athletic departments into one unified department and establishing a new administrative structure. Under Long's leadership, Arkansas revised policies governing class attendance, drug testing, the NCAA Opportunity Fund as well as other compliance and business office procedures. The academic support services division was re-organized and a formal division of student life was created focusing on student-athlete development and community service.

Long was busy on external issues as well. In 2008, Arkansas returned to the classic Razorback logo. The new branding was featured in the launch of a new website ArkansasRazorbacks.com. In 2009-10, Arkansas hosted a year-long celebration commemorating "100 Years of the Razorbacks" and launched a new official newspaper of the department, Inside Razorback Athletics.

Long worked tirelessly to maintain long-time relationships and to forge new relationships for the benefit of the Razorback program including extending Arkansas' relationship with War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock. Long was also instrumental in helping re-establish the Razorbacks' presence in Texas, partnering with former Razorback Jerry Jones to develop the Southwest Classic, a 10-year football series with Texas A&M played at the new Dallas Cowboys Stadium.

Perhaps his most impressive accomplishment came when he brokered a new partnership with ISP to form Razorback Sports Properties. As economic indicators were beginning to point toward challenging economic times, Long signed Arkansas to a deal that will guarantee the Razorback program $73 million in the next 10 years. Long recently negotiated an extensive all sports apparel and footwear all sports agreement with NIKE, Inc. that will outfit all 19 Razorback sports programs through the 2014-15 season.

"WE WILL PROVIDE OPPORTUNITIES FOR STUDENT-ATHLETES TO ACHIEVE THEIR FULLEST POTENTIAL ACADEMICALLY, ATHLETICALLY AND SOCIALLY, WHILE COMPETING SUCCESSFULLY AT THE HIGHEST LEVEL."

A number of athletic facilities have also seen a transformation with Bud Walton Arena undergoing extensive renovations, including replacement of the lower seating bowl and the addition of courtside seating, ribbon boards and a courtside club room. In the spring of 2009, Bogle Park, arguably the nation's best softball facility, was dedicated on the Arkansas campus and a new synthetic playing surface was installed at Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Long remains committed to maintaining Arkansas' reputation as the home to some of the nation's best playing venues while targeting much needed facility improvements crucial to the overall development of student-athletes. The department recently commissioned a master facilities plan to assess facility needs for the future success of the Razorback program.

Arkansas' program flourished in Long's first year, finishing 24th in the NACDA Directors Cup, its best finish in nearly a decade. In his first full year at the helm, Arkansas scored a program-record 730 points on its way to a 25th-place finish. The back-to-back top 25 Directors Cup finishes marked only the second time in school history the Razorbacks accomplished that feat.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of "student-athlete," Long has had more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including at the University of Pittsburgh, University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University and Eastern Kentucky University prior to arriving at the Arkansas. While known as an innovator in athletic department management, Long also understands the coach's perspective from time spent in coaching and administrative staff positions at Duke University, Rice University and North Carolina State University.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long served on the NCAA Management Council as one of the athletic administrators who oversaw the operations and regulation for Division I. His experience as an athletic director and administrator in America's most prestigious conferences – the Big 12, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and now SEC gives Long a uniquely informed perspective on intercollegiate athletics. During his career, Long has served in five of the six Bowl Championship Series leagues.

The Long Family: Christina, Fanny, Stephanie and Jeff.

Prior to assuming his current roles at Arkansas, Long served for four years as the athletic director at the Pittsburgh. During his tenure, Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the "Quest for Excellence" campaign. Designed to enhance the student-athlete experience for Panther athletes through scholarship endowments and capital gifts for facility construction and renovation, the Quest resulted in almost $34 million in just over two and a half years.

His commitment to building the Pitt athletics brand resulted in a new primary mark for the Panthers which returned the powerful "PITT" brand to Pittsburgh. He established a partnership with adidas for uniforms and apparel for all 19 Pitt teams and an agreement with ISP Sports.

Long's four-year tenure added up to Pittsburgh becoming one of the nation's top programs, notably the Panthers' selection as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus All-Sport Rankings.

As an athletic leader, Long was a key advocate for the Big East during the league's time of membership transition. Due in part to his leadership, the Big East maintained its position as a key member of the Bowl Championship System, and the Pitt Panthers earned the Big East's automatic berth in 2004 at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Along with his tenure on the Executive Council, Long also served on the NCAA's Sports Wagering Task Force in 2004, and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years. Responsible for the external affairs of the Sooners, he oversaw key brand areas of marketing and promotions, licensing, media relations, ticketing, radio and television rights and SoonerVision productions. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners' highly successful football and men's basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long's first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two and a half years. He made several revisions to the EKU athletic infrastructure and completed several facility projects. Long created the first modern corporate partner and sponsorship structure at EKU. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his career in college athletic administration at the Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned seven varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his post-graduate career in athletics as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami University of Ohio. Long earned his master's in education at Miami in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and N.C. State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.

ARKANSAS SENIOR STAFF

BEV LEWIS

ASSOCIATE VICE CHANCELLOR AND EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE AD

For almost three decades, Bev Lewis is synonymous with the University of Arkansas and Razorback women's sports teams. While 2007-08 season was 27th season at the University, it also proved one of the most important in her time at Arkansas. Lewis was key player in the decision to bring together the University's men's and women's departments. Starting on Jan. 1, 2008, she became an associate vice chancellor for the University and the executive associate athletic director of the unified Razorback Athletic Department.

Lewis, the former women's athletic director, now serves as associate vice chancellor and executive associate athletic director for administration and sport programs. Lewis is also the coordinator of a five-member sport administrator group that provides day-to-day administrative support for each of Arkansas' 19 sports. Lewis is the sport administrator for women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's track and field, men's and women's golf, gymnastics, softball and volleyball. In addition, Lewis is the primary administrator working with the Razorbacks' strength and conditioning units and athletic training and sports medicine program as well as overseeing the media relations and new media divisions. She also serves as a liaison to the faculty senate and the faculty athletic committee, and coordinates the department's NCAA certification, Title IX compliance and strategic planning.

The largest portion of her service to the university was her 19-year tenure as the Director of Women's Athletics. As a result of her strong emphasis on the classroom, Razorback female student-athletes received numerous academic honors including national academic All-American of the Year, team academic national titles and the University's first two SEC/H. Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Her leadership was also a part of the success of the University's Campaign for the Twenty-First Century. Lewis directed Women's Athletics to over $11.5 million in direct support for women's teams. During the campaign, Lewis received one of her greatest personal honors as Bob and Marilyn Bogle requested that Arkansas' $6 million facility be named the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics.

In 1998, she was voted into the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor by the University's letterwinners in recognition of her contributions both as a coach and an administrator.

Lewis served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, first with the NCAA Championship Cabinet and most recently on the NCAA Management Council.

Prior to assuming the duties of AD, Lewis was women's cross country and track coach. Her Arkansas coaching milestones included the first women's squad to achieve a national ranking and the first conference championship team with the 1988 Southwest Conference Cross Country Championships.

Lewis earned her bachelor's degree from Central Michigan in 1979 and followed it with her master's from Purdue prior to her arrival at Arkansas in 1981.

Her husband, Harley, is the former athletic director at the University of Montana, former assistant director of championships with the NCAA, and development officer at Arkansas.

JON FAGG

SENIOR ASSOCIATE AD FOR COMPLIANCE AND STUDENT-ATHLETE SERVICES

Overseeing all aspects of compliance and academics, Jon Fagg joined the University of Arkansas as a senior associate athletic director for compliance and student-athlete services in the summer of 2008. He serves as member of the senior management group for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Fagg's department supervision of NCAA and Southeastern Conference rules compliance and education is a new position for Arkansas. In addition to reporting directly to the vice chancellor and director of athletics, Fagg will have an informational reporting relationship on compliance issues with the University's Office of the General Counsel.

In addition to compliance, Fagg also supervises the student-athlete services department which advises and offers support to more than 450 Razorback student-athletes.

Fagg joined the Razorback staff after spending the past seven years at North Carolina State University. Hired at North Carolina State in March 2001, he served four and half years as an assistant athletics director for compliance before being promoted to associate athletics director for compliance in the fall of 2005.

While with the Wolfpack, Fagg's responsibilities included coordinating all aspects of the NCAA compliance program, including rules education for intercollegiate staff and related university personnel, and advisement, education and interpretations regarding NCAA rules and regulations.

Prior to his tenure at North Carolina State, Fagg spent three years as the assistant athletics director for compliance at Fresno State University. He also served one year as director of compliance for the Big South Conference.

His first athletics administrative experience came at Mars Hill College where he handled compliance duties as well as serving as an assistant coach for the football team for three seasons.

His coaching experience also includes a stint as an assistant coach at Davidson from February 1992 to June 1993 and as a GA coach at his alma mater, the University of Arizona, from January 1991 to February 1992.

Fagg and his wife Amanda have three children: Jon Madison and twins, Reed and Ellie.

MATT TRANTHAM

SENIOR ASSOCIATE AD FOR INTERNAL OPERATIONS

Overseeing Razorback facilities, event management and equipment operations, Matt Trantham begins his third year at the University of Arkansas as the senior associate athletic director for internal operations.

Supervising several major projects in his first year with the Razorbacks, Trantham guided the $2.5 million renovation of Bud Walton Arena and the $1.3 million restoration of synthetic playing surface at Donald W. Reynolds Razorback stadium in 2008-09. This year, he is overseeing the Master Plan currently underway for all athletic facilities.

Prior to joining Arkansas, Trantham began his career with the Sooners in July 1999 as the promotions director for the athletic department where he worked with all 20 of OU's teams. He was named assistant athletic director for event management in 2004 and was promoted to associate athletic director in 2006.

In his role as associate AD for event management, Trantham oversaw more than 500 events a year, coordinated the efforts of more than 1,500 event staff members and was responsible for activities within 13 athletic facilities. He also served as OU's liaison with all postseason events including both Big 12 and NCAA championship competitions.

Prior to joining the Sooners, Trantham spent five seasons in professional sports in Washington, D.C. Trantham earned his bachelor's of science degree in business management from Centenary College in 1990 and a master's degree in sports management from the United States Sports Academy in 1998.

Trantham and wife Kristen are parents of two sons, William Matthew and Davis Michael; and one daughter, Morgan.

CLAYTON HAMILTON

Associate Athletic Director.
Chief Financial Officer

Clayton Hamilton joined the university in January 2010, assuming oversight of the financial affairs, business operations, and human resources. He has over 13 years of financial management experience, with stops at Colorado, Florida State, the Dallas Cowboys, and Cleveland Cavaliers. He is a member of CABMA, and served as president in 2008-09. Hamilton graduated from Arkansas in 1994 with a bachelor's degree in accounting, and from the U.S. Sports Academy in 1997 with a master's degree in sports management. Hamilton received his CPA certification from the State of Arkansas in 1998. Hamilton and wife Stephanie have two daughters, Lauren and Caylee.

MELISSA HARWOOD-ROM

Associate Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement

Serving as the lead coordinator for academic support for all 19 Razorback sports, Melissa Harwood-Rom brings over 20 years of experience at Arkansas. Joining the university in 1989 after working with football and men's basketball at Washington State, she developed the former women's athletics department academic system before being named to oversee all teams in the summer of 2008. She and university professor Curt Rom have two children, Zoe and Clio.

CHRIS POHL

Associate Athletic Director for Events

A former championships director for the NCAA, Chris Pohl begins her seventh season at the University of Arkansas. She joined Arkansas in 2004 to manage marketing and promotion for the women's sports after 11 years at the NCAA. Pohl coordinates home events for the Razorbacks, taking lead on gymnastics and women's basketball among others. A 1981 graduate of Central Michigan and basketball letterwinner, she earned her master's in 1984 from Penn State.

BRIAN PRACTH

Associate Athletic Director for Marketing

Brian Pracht joined the Razorbacks in July 2010, with more than 15 years of collegiate marketing and promotions experience working at Wichita State, Long Beach State and the Southland Conference. His responsibilities at Arkansas include overseeing marketing, promotions, ticket sales, licensing in addition to serving as the staff liaison with International Sports Properties (ISP) and Razorback Sports Properties (RSP).

Pracht graduated in 1994 with a bachelor's degree in business administration from Emporia State in Kansas. He and his wife Amy have two daughters, Caroline and Lily.

TRACEY STEHLIK

Associate Athletic Director for Compliance

Starting her 27th year with the University of Arkansas, Tracey Stehlik serves as associate athletic director for compliance. She began her career as an assistant women's basketball coach, and was a part of the staff that won the only women's hoops conference championships at Arkansas. Stehlik worked in a variety of administrative roles since leaving the court including compliance and game management. She and husband Wayne have two daughters, Mollie and Maggie.

KEVIN TRAINOR

Associate Athletic Director for Public Relations

Starting his 16th season at Arkansas, Kevin Trainor is in his third year as associate athletic director and his first as the department's Public Relations Director. Trainor was a nearly 20 year veteran in the media relations office before assuming his current role. A university graduate in journalism in 1994, he earned his masters at Arkansas in 2005. Trainor and his wife, the former Ruth Whitehead, are the parents of two daughters, Emma and Ellie.

JUSTIN MALAND

Asst. Athletic Director for Facilities

Justin Maland begins his fourth year as an assistant athletic director for facilities and his ninth with the Razorback athletic department. The Harrison, Ark., native was a catcher at Hendrix College, and joined Arkansas through the baseball staff in 1999. He earned his master's in sports management from Arkansas in 2001. He is married to the former Sarah Parnell, and the Malands are the parents of two children, Macy and Jack.

DR. BILL SMITH

Asst. Athletic Director for New Media

Beginning his 22nd year with the university, Dr. Bill Smith manages internet operations for the athletic department, ArkansasRazorbacks.com, and oversees brand compliance and printed projects. Smith earned his doctorate at the university in 1999, and has been an adjunct instructor at both Arkansas in journalism and NorthWest Arkansas Community College in history. He and his wife Libby have two children, Will and Ashley.

ERIC WOOD

Asst. AD for Student-Athlete Development

Eric Wood begins his second year with Arkansas working to develop programs that contribute to the personal growth and character development of Razorback student-athletes. Wood worked in a similar role at the ACC and is the current chair of the NCAA Student-Athlete Affairs Advisory Committee. He also spent a year at Wake Forest and at the University of New Haven. Wood is a 1998 graduate of Sacred Heart University and was a three-year letterman in football. He earned his Master's Degree from Clemson in 2000. Wood and his wife Celia are originally from the Bronx, N.Y.

RAZORBACK FOUNDATION, INC.

Performing the vital role of supporting the student-athletes at the University of Arkansas with financial support, the Razorback Foundation, Inc., is in its fourth decade of working alongside the athletic department to advance Razorback Athletics.

The goal of the foundation is ensuring that the more than 460 student-athletes at Arkansas have the equipment, facilities and overall support to achieve the goals of graduation and athletic achievement.

For the first time in school history, all 19 Razorback head coaches and members of the athletic department's executive and senior administrative staffs are members of the Razorback Foundation. The pledge of personal support by those inside the department led the way for a growth in membership that saw the membership total increase from 10,390 in November 2008 to 10,530 in June 2009.

From January to June 2009, Razorback Foundation staff visited with more than 11,000 people at 50 Razorback Club functions, ranging from chapter meetings to scholarship fundraising golf events hosted by local Razorback Clubs.

Another key factor in raising the profile of the Razorback Foundation and fostering membership growth was a renewed commitment to increasing A Club membership (former Razorback letter winners) and enhancing communication and coordination with Razorback Clubs throughout the region. To help facilitate communication with all foundation members, a new web site RazorbackFoundation.com was launched.

The Foundation, officially incorporated and relocated off campus in 1988, has helped provide financial aid for the construction for the Broyles Athletic Center (football and administrative offices), Charlie Baum Stadium at George Cole Field (baseball), John McDonnell Field (outdoor track and field), Randal Tyson Track Center (indoor track and field), Dills Indoor Tennis Center, the George M. Billingsley Tennis Center (outdoor tennis) and Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium (football).

FRANK BROYLES Athletic Director Emeritus

The start of 2008 saw the Razorback Foundation, Inc., welcomed a familiar face, a man with a high profile and a long track record in athletics -- legendary Arkansas athletic director Frank Broyles.

The former national champion football coach and leader of Razorback men's athletics for almost 40 years, he closed out a 50-year career of service to the University and is now raising support for the University and the Razorback program.

A member of every significant college athletics hall of fame, Broyles was recently named to the NACDA Hall of Fame in 2008. His 19-season career as the Razorback head football coach included the 1964 National Championship, seven Southwest Conference titles and a record of 144-58-5.

CAMPUS LIFE

OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE MIND, BODY AND SOUL

The university offers a vibrant campus life for its mainly full-time, residential undergraduate student population. More than a dozen university residence halls can accommodate in excess of 4,000 students, and the rest live in and around the city of Fayetteville.

There are over 300 registered student organizations including special interest, religious, international and cultural organizations, as well as honorary and professional service groups. Students also may choose to participate in the university's Greek system, which is made up of 11 sororities and 17 fraternities.

In addition, more than 6,000 students, faculty and staff annually participate in the intramural sports program, which offers activities like bowling and table tennis tournaments, and sponsors clubs ranging from aikido to waterskiing. Many of these activities are conducted at the Health, Physical Education, and Recreation building, a $14 million, 225,000-square foot facility that contains 10 racquetball courts, four basketball gyms, an indoor track, an Olympic size pool, a climbing wall, a computer lab, a human performance lab and numerous classrooms.

Culturally and intellectually, the academic semesters bustle with faculty and student musical performances, theatre productions, art exhibits, concerts, poetry readings and visiting speakers — both on campus and at the adjacent Walton Arts Center. Recent university programming includes outdoor movies at the Greek Theatre, comedians, karaoke nights and even a hypnotist.

The university's Distinguished Lecture Series has featured former heads of state, Pulitzer Prize-winning writers, political pundits and humorists, and other noteworthy national and international figures and scholars such as James Carville, Mary Matalin, Ehud Olmert, Geraldine Ferraro, James Earl Jones, George H.W. Bush, and Dave Barry.

RESIDENTIAL LIFE

Close to all the university has to offer

University Housing offers a variety of housing options with in more than a dozen residence halls on campus. First-year students are required to live on campus and will find many options in living arrangements and price that entice them to stay on campus beyond their freshman year — from the suite-style facilities of Maple Hill to the international living learning community of Holcombe Hall to the new apartments on Duncan Avenue.

Maple Hill is a multi-use suite-style facility. Students live in double rooms in one- and two-bedroom suites, with cable television and individual Ethernet connections in each room. The residence halls also feature staff apartments, classrooms, conference rooms, quiet study rooms and a large fireplace lounge.

Holcombe Hall opened in 1949, and is named for Miss Jobelle Holcombe, who graduated in 1898 and served as the first dean of women from 1907 to 1913. In 2006, Holcombe Hall began the transition to an international living-learning community. The goal of these communities is to create a unique and exciting place for international exchange and learning at the University of Arkansas. Students and staff conduct programs in Holcombe through the year, but the true strength of the community comes from the interactions, relationships and plans the residents themselves build.

The newest and most unique campus residence is Duncan Avenue Apartments. The four-bedroom apartments are just minutes walking distance from most classrooms and laboratories on campus. While this complex offers apartment-style living, each student has a separate contract — so if an apartment-mate leaves, other roommates are not responsible for the departing roommate's charges. The fully furnished apartments include high speed Internet, cable television and all utilities except telephone, and also features a washer and dryer and full kitchen with appliances. It is the first "Green Globes" construction project on the University of Arkansas campus.

TRADITION

THERE IS NOTHING LIKE A RAZORBACK

A MASCOT LIKE NO OTHER

The wild hogs known as razorbacks native to the Arkansas wilderness bear no resemblance to the typical barnyard pig of today. The untamed razorback hog was a lean, feral animal that was ill-tempered. It fought and defeated anything that crossed its path, man or beast. Turn of the 20th century outdoor magazines lauded the razorback as “the most intelligent of all the hogs and is likewise the most courageous. . . . He has a clear, farseeing eye.”

Except for the rare sighting in the Australian Outback, the Razorback only exists today in the form of Arkansas’ players and fans. A Russian boar, which closely resembles the wild hog of Hugo Bezdek’s day, currently serves as the official live mascot.

Tusk III is cared for by the Stokes family of Dardanelle, Ark., and travels to home games and special events for the Razorbacks. Tusk III is supported by the legacy program known as the Tusk Fund, and fans can participate by sending their support care of the Razorback Foundation, Inc. Tusk III made his debut in 2010 after the unexpected passing of his brother, Tusk II, following Arkansas’ AutoZone Liberty Bowl win over ECU in January.

While yearbook references as early as 1914 of a hog on the sideline at football games, a formal live mascot prior to the Tusk line dates back to the 1960s with a series of hogs that represented Arkansas. In addition to appearances at games, they have gained a reputation for fierce behavior.

Big Red III escaped from an exhibit near Eureka Springs in the summer of 1977 and ravaged the countryside before being gunned down by an irate farmer. Another live mascot, Ragnar, was a wild hog captured in south Arkansas by Leola farmer Bill Robinson. Before Ragnar’s spree was done, the mighty animal had killed a coyote, a 450-pound domestic pig and seven rattlesnakes. Ragnar died in 1978 of unknown causes.

THE HOG HAT

It is true; no Razorback fan’s closet is complete without an official Hog Hat. The original style was a hard plastic hat with a long snout, rough razorback ridges across the top and wickedly sharp, pointed curly-cue tail. The modern versions are often sculpted from softer material. Regardless, the Hog Hat is undoubtedly the most recognized piece of fan apparel in college athletics. Just ask ESPN GameDay’s Kirk Herbstreit as he dons the traditional Hog Hat.

WHY RAZORBACKS?

Arkansas' athletic teams have not always been called the Razorbacks. During the early years of its athletic history, the Cardinal served as the University nickname.

A lot of things changed in 1909, however, when Arkansas football coach Hugo Bezdek called his players "a wild band of Razorback hogs," after guiding his team to a 16-0 victory over Louisiana State on October 30, 1909.

Alluding to the Razorback, characterized by a ridge back and tenacious, wild fighting ability, Bezdek never forgot this idea and often called his team "a fighting band of Razorbacks."

This new nickname became increasingly popular and the student body voted to change the official University mascot from the Cardinal to the Razorbacks in 1910.

In the 1920s, "Wooo, Pig, Sooie" was added as the school yell, referred to more commonly as the "Hog Call."

There are dozens of Lions, Tigers and Bears, but in all of college athletics there is only one Razorback. The distinctive logo of the Arkansas teams is officially known as the Profile Hog, but is known to many fans as the Helmet Hog -- a fixture of the football team's helmet for almost half a century.

A PROPER HOG CALL

A chant of "Woo Pig Sooie" is known worldwide as a Hog Call. Just like any good tradition, there are lots of versions of the Hog Call (even spellings).

A properly executed Hog Call is composed of three "calls," slowly raising one's arms from the knees to above the head during the "Woo." Traditionalists prescribe an eight second "Woo." The fingers should be wiggled and the "Woo" should build in volume and pitch as the arms rise.

Upon completion of the "Woo," both arms are brought straight down with fists clinched as if executing a chin-up while yelling, "Pig". The right arm is extended up and out with the "Sooie."

A full Hog Call -- the kind one will always hear victorious Razorback teams execute after contests -- requires two more Hog Calls, followed immediately by a "Razor-Backs" yell, coordinated with a pumping motion of the right arm after the third "Sooie." So, in order, the full Hog Call is:

WOOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
WOOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
WOOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
RAZORBACKS!

ARKANSAS FIGHT

One of the first tasks of a new Razorback is learning to sing the University of Arkansas fight song. Arkansas Fight was written in the late 1920s. It is a unique tune, fitting of the only college in America with a Razorback mascot. Several other colleges have adapted the tune, but the lyrics remain unique to Arkansas.

Hit that line! Hit that line!
Keep on going!
Take that ball right down the field!
Give a cheer. Rah! Rah!
Never fear. Rah! Rah!
Arkansas will never yield!
On your toes, Razorbacks, to the finish,
Carry on with all your might!
For it's A-A-A-R-K-A-N-S-A-S for Arkansas!
Fight! Fight! Fi-i-i-ight!

RAZORBACK SPIRIT SQUADS

Along with being a Razorback, serving as a Razorback cheerleader has a long tradition at the University of Arkansas. Currently, the Razorbacks have two squads, a Red and White, that inspire the crowds at all home sporting events.

Arkansas also has a dance team, the Razorback Pom Squad, which performs at halftime of many events. Members of the Pom Squad also serve at baseball games as RBI Girls. Arkansas has a team of uniformed mascots, led by the original Big Red, the Fighting Razorback. Sue E. joined the family along with kid-sized Pork Chop in the late 1990s. Boss Hog is a 9-foot-tall inflatable mascot that rounds out the team.

Jean Nail serves as the coordinator for cheerleaders and mascots. For more information on the cheer squads and tryouts, go to the Spirit Squad section of ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

THE UA ALMA MATER

Brodie Payne and Henry Tovey wrote the University of Arkansas Alma Mater in the early 1900s. They were inspired by the Ozark Mountain sunrise as it illuminated Old Main.

*Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty, Watches thy Soul
from the mountains of God.
Over the fates of thy children departed,
Far from the land where their footsteps have trod.
Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted,
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true.
From those who adore unto one who adores us,
Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.*

FAYETTEVILLE

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Fayetteville's famous Dickson Street is much more than a college hangout, adding upscale condominiums and specialty retail to its long-standing reputation as the center of entertainment and dining. From hosting major national events like Bikes, Blues and BBQ or serving as the final resting place for the goal posts after Razorback football upsets, one thing remains constant -- Dickson is the heart of what's happening.

Characterized by unmatched outdoor activities, a vibrant night life and cultural and educational opportunities, Fayetteville has something for everyone.

From Robert Redford to James Earl Jones, the University of Arkansas hosted numerous famous speakers in recent years through its Distinguished Lecture Series. Ranging from political satirist, now senator, Al Franken, political consultant Mary Matlin to CNN's Anderson Cooper, and to former world lead-the late Benazir Bhutto. Sports figures such as Magic Johnson and Apollo Ohno have been on campus. We've also had one of our more famous former law professors speak several times, President Bill Clinton.

The Fayetteville campus hosts several concerts each year and recent performers include sold-out performances by TI, Foo Fighters and John Mayer in Barnhill Arena. Special events bring artists ranging from B.B. King to Keith Urban and Carrie Underwood to Reynolds Razorback Stadium.

NORTHWEST ARKANSAS

COME AND EXPLORE

While Fayetteville is home to the University of Arkansas, its location in the Northwest corner of the state broadens the borders of this college territory. With Springdale, Rogers and Bentonville to the North, Siloam Springs to the West and Fort Smith to the South of Fayetteville, it's easy to see how Northwest Arkansas is in the center of all the action.

SPRINGDALE

With a population around 65,000, Springdale is anchored by the world headquarters of Tyson Foods. It is home to museums, 100 houses of worship, theaters and great dining. It is also home to the Northwest Arkansas Naturals, Kansas City's Double A affiliate.

ROGERS

Rogers boasts a population around 50,000 and is home to Mercy Medical Center. Just minutes from Fayetteville, Rogers has some of the area's best shopping and dining options.

BENTONVILLE

Bentonville's population has blossomed to more than 29,000. North west Arkansas Community College is located here, and it is the home to Walmart, the world's largest retailer. In addition, several of Walmart's largest vendors make their homes in the area as well making this an exciting place for new graduates to explore.

NORTHWEST ARKANSAS INFORMATION

- The population of Northwest Arkansas is around 420,000.
- It is recognized as one of the fastest growing areas in the United States.
- The regional airport (XNA) offers several daily departures, with direct jet service to Atlanta, Charlotte, Chicago, Cincinnati, Dallas/Ft. Worth, Denver, Detroit, Houston, Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Memphis, Minneapolis/St. Paul, Newark, New York and Orlando.

Bentonville also hosts many of the area's exciting outdoor opportunities with lake access, camping, golf and other recreational outlets.

THE AMP

Every summer, Northwest Arkansas comes alive with the sound of music at the Arkansas Music Pavilion. The AMP plays host to headliners, newcomers and local artists in an outdoor concert setting. The 2010 schedule included Levon Helm, Blue Oyster Cult, Georgia Satellites, Indigo Girls, Goo Goo Dolls, Ted Nugent, Gary Allan, Eil Young Band and Corey Smith, Colby Caillat, STS9, Cross Canadian Ragweed, Pat Travers and Rick Derringer and the Black Crowes.

THE NORTHWEST ARKANSAS NATURALS

The Northwest Arkansas Naturals enjoyed their second summer in Springdale in 2010. The Naturals are members of the Texas League and have a schedule that runs from April-September. Numerous promotional events including concerts, fireworks and special events surround nearly every home game at ARVEST Ballpark.

BIKES, BLUES AND BBQ

Fayetteville and the Northwest Arkansas area celebrated the 10th Annual Bikes, Blues and BBQ event in 2009 and are eagerly anticipating the 2010 fall event as well.

The Bikes, Blues and BBQ rally is the third-largest bike rally in the country behind Sturgis and Daytona Beach and the 2009 attendance numbers were around 350,000 people.

This year's event begins Sept. 29, and the family-friendly rally helps area charities. The event was established in 2000 and more than one half million dollars has been raised. Blues concerts and great food are all part of the fun on this rumbling weekend.

WALTON ARTS CENTER

Just off campus in the heart of Fayetteville is home to the Walton Arts Center. The WAC hosts numerous concerts, theater productions, classes and events with headliners such as Beauty and the Beast, Momma Mia! and the Blue Man Group just to name a few. Shows and events run year round.
