2007 Prospectus

Coming off its best season in a decade, the University of Arkansas Lady Razorback soccer team enters the 2007 season with high expectations. Looking to duplicate its impressive non-conference run from a year ago and improve on its Southeastern Conference performance, the Lady Razorbacks have their goals in place and the question that remains is how to get there. Arkansas is young in 2007 with 16 of its 23 players either freshmen or sophomores. Only six starters remain from last season's squad with key losses at goalkeeper and forward looming. On the flip side, a majority of the returning Lady Razorbacks have seen significant action at the collegiate level giving head coach Gordon Henderson something to rely on as he enters his fourth year at the helm.

"Any time you get ready to begin the season it is an exciting time," Henderson said. "There is the promise of what might be. As a team we are healthy with no lingering injuries and everyone can start at an even keel. We will certainly be young this season, but that can also be a good thing. I have no doubt that we will see moments of brilliance on the field from our youth, but we'll also see mistakes. Hopefully the learning curve will be quick."

A trio of seniors anchor the Lady Razorbacks this fall with fifth-year defender Allison Harris gearing up for what looks to be a record-breaking season. With 59 career games played and started, she could challenge for both Lady Razorback career marks should Arkansas play its way into the SEC Championship Tournament in November. An anchor in the middle of the back line, Harris should provide the leadership necessary for Arkansas' defense to succeed this fall.

Arkansas' senior class, Allison Harris, Sarah Gwisdala and Ali Harter

Joining Harris in the back is senior Sarah Gwisdala who moved from forward to defender last fall and was one of the key reasons for Arkansas' success. Lightning quick on the outside, Gwisdala was a force on the right side and her speed allowed her to make up for what few mistakes she did make as a first-year collegiate defender. The third senior, Harter's experience on the field has been limited to injury over the past three seasons, but there is no doubt that the Fayetteville, Ark., native can help when healthy. In limited action, Harter has scored five goals and added four assists and has consistently been clocked as one of the fastest players on the field during training exercises.

Outside the senior class, sophomore Kim Schleif and junior Abbey Wilburn should be impact players this fall.

Schleif was Arkansas' first-ever SEC all-Freshman team player last fall and gave the Lady Razorbacks a scoring threat from the outside while Wilburn is a two-year starter at center midfield and has matured into one of the SEC's most consistent players.

SEEKERS (Forwards)

One of the biggest questions that Arkansas faces in 2007 is how to replace two-time second-team all-SEC forward Christina Burger. The Arkansas coaching staff worked tirelessly throughout the spring to answer that problem and feel good about their efforts as camp opens in the fall. Junior Lindsay Patterson emerged at the end of the 2006 season as a scoring threat opposite Burger and her size makes for a great target in the mixer.

Lindsay Patterson is Arkansas' leading returning scorer.

Outside of Patterson, the Lady Razorbacks' choices at forward are vast. Coach Henderson believes that he can draw on any one of nine individuals to play the forward or outside midfield spot, but his short list includes sophomores Kat Moffett and Kathleen Paulsen and freshman Rachel Carlson.

"It will be difficult to replace Christina Burger who was a stalwart for us the past couple of years," Henderson said. "I think that we have a great deal of flexibility up top since our players can also take on flanking roles. This gives us great options and allows us to play a two or three forward set."

Moffett and Paulsen bring different skill sets to the field. Moffett is the shorter and quicker forward while Paulsen is taller and deceptively fast. Both players were key contributors throughout the 2006 season and would have no problem stepping into a starting role this fall.

CHASERS (Midfielders)

The Lady Razorbacks should have a good mix of athleticism, speed and talent at the midfield position this fall. Returning starters Abbey Wilburn and Kim Schleif give Arkansas a strong starting point both inside and out and joining the mix are a crop of freshmen that could challenge for a starting role at game one.

Coach Henderson is excited about the prospects of using his outside midfielders as forwards and vice-versa. He expects to utilize the talents of Harter, Schleif, junior Whitney Allison, sophomore Sophie Wentz and freshmen Ally Atkins and Beth McVean in a rotation that could keep opposing teams on the edge.

"We'll have a lot of interplay between our outside midfielders and forwards throughout the season," Henderson mused. "I'm excited about the pace that Rachel (Carlson) and Beth (McVean) bring to the field and the development of Ally Atkins was evident this spring. We definitely have more depth at the outside midfield position than we have ever had since I have been here. This should allow us to be more aggressive with the position. We now have the ability to play high pressure or a line of confrontation, but that is all due to the numbers."

Harter came along at the end of 2006 to provide a boost to the lineup and now that she is healthy could be a major X-factor in the Arkansas puzzle. Allison's role on the outside has grown in each of her first two seasons and the Conway, Ark., native should see even more action at the position in 2007.

Rounding out the pieces, Wentz, Atkins and McVean each have to ability to start in game one so it will be well into training camp before the final rotation can be sorted out.

In the center of the park, Wilburn is the grizzled veteran of the group and she almost certainly will have a fresh face with her. A trio of freshman could vie for one of the central midfield positions and with Arkansas' added depth up front, coach Henderson could elect to move Paulsen back to midfield where she spent time last fall.

Arkansas' newcomers in the middle include California native Camille Flores, ODP national team pool player Kelly O'Connor and Bentonville, Ark., native Dani Alexander. Flores is one of the craftiest players with the ball that Arkansas has seen in some time, but will have to step up her play to outdistance the summer performance of O'Connor who earned a spot on the ODP U-20 district III team. O'Connor has cannon for a leg and could add a serious shot from the outside to the growing Arkansas arsenal.

"Our center midfield has great diversity in its styles of play," Henderson said. "Abbey Wilburn is developing into a fine all-around SEC midfielder."

BEATERS (Defenders)

Arkansas' back line looks to be its strongest area as the season opener approaches. Three of the four starters from 2006 return with Harris at the helm and a fourth starter returns from injury this fall. Along with Harris in the middle, the Lady'Backs are looking to Gwisdala and sophomore Rachel Smith to return to the form that made them a tough egg to crack in 2006.

Returning to action this fall is another outside defender, Megan Fawley who had a tremendous freshman year, but was sidelined with an injury throughout most of the 2006 season.

"We lose a great defender from last year, but return Megan Fawley," said Henderson. "Our back line has to be strong in order for us to have a good season and I am very comfortable with the personnel we have. The addition of our freshmen gives us an added dimension of depth to the back which we haven't had before."

Looking to work their way into the starting rotation include sophomore Kylee Mesler and freshmen Sam Bolton and Claire Hakim. Each of the three brings unique characteristics to the pitch giving Henderson options as he prepares for opponents.

KEEPERS (Goalkeepers)

Another serious question surrounds the Arkansas goal-keeping situation as two players vie for the spot left open by Carrie Dillsaver. Dillsaver re-wrote the Arkansas record books during her five-year stint and controlled the action both on the field and in the clubhouse. Looking to replace her between the pipes are sophomore Jackie Booker and freshman Britni Williams.

"It's tough to try and replace Carrie Dillsaver," Henderson said. "She controlled the field and understood the subtleties of the game. However, both goalkeepers that we have are athletically further ahead of where Carrie was, but there is no shortcut to experience."

Booker benefitted from a full spring season in goal for the Lady Razorbacks and was instrumental to the team success. Her improvement from the fall to the end of the spring was nothing short of astonishing and should give her a strong chance to start. Williams enters the mix as a wildcard with an impressive resume and great athleticism. If she can adjust to the speed of the collegiate game quickly, her tenure in goal could start on opening night of the 2007 season.

Whitney Allison

As a Sophomore (2006) – Whitney Allison saw her role expand as a sophomore, playing in 15 games, mostly in Southeastern Conference play. She did so despite the fact that she suffered from back pain the entire season. Allison picked up her lone assist on the year in Arkansas’ 3-0 win at Mississippi State.

As a Freshman (2005) – Allison saw quality time on the field as a freshman, playing in 13 matches, but mostly late in the contest. She did pick up a pair of assists on the year, her first in Arkansas’s 5-1 victory at Tulsa, her first collegiate match. She added a second point in the Lady Razorbacks’ win at Alabama.

Club – A star for Little Rock Futbol, Allison led her team to three state and regional performances. Her squad picked up Capital City and CASA Championships in each of her four seasons.

Conway HS – One of the best goal scorers in Arkansas state history, Allison netted more than 40 in her four years with Conway High School, including 21 her junior season when she set the Wampus Cats’ record for goals in a season. She capped off her Conway career with the game-winning golden goal in the Arkansas All-Star Game, giving her East squad a 1-0 victory.

Personal - Born on Oct. 13, 1986, Allison is the daughter of John and Jennifer Allison. She has one brother, John, and is majoring in political science.

ODP – Booker played on the Arkansas State U17 squad.

CLUB – Booker was the starting goalkeeper for the Arkansas Comets club program from the U-12 level to U-17, winning a state title each season, before playing for the U-18 club in Tulsa with the Hurricane Futbol Club her final year.

Fayetteville HS – A four-year starter and two-time all-state performer for Fayetteville High School, Booker was a key component to the Bulldogs' three runs at the state championship. She posted goals against averages of 0.50 and 0.68 her sophomore and junior seasons.

Megan Fawley

#19

As a Sophomore (2006) – Megan Fawley saw very limited action as a sophomore due to a pre-season ankle surgery. She did join the club late in the season to play in five games, but her minutes were limited.

As a Freshman (2005) – One of the keys to Arkansas' success in 2005, Fawley earned a starting position at preseason camp and never relinquished it. Entering Arkansas as a midfielder, she moved to defense due to injuries on the back line and became vital to Arkansas' scheme. She did contribute to the Lady Razorback offense once as a freshman, assisting on an Arkansas goal against South Carolina from the back line.

Club – A team captain for the Dallas Sting, she led her team to a #49 ranking and #11 in the US Youth Soccer's Region 3.

J.J. Pearce HS – Brought from the freshman team to varsity her first year, Fawley was a mainstay on the big squad for four seasons and was named captain as a senior. She was a second-team all-district selection as a sophomore at forward, then earned first-team all-district and second-team all-area honors in Dallas-Fort Worth as a junior at defender. She led her team to three district championships and a regional title during her time.

Personal - Born on Feb. 10, 1987, Fawley is the daughter of Ty and Stacey Fawley. She has one brother, Matt, and is majoring in elementary education.

Sarah Gwisdala

As a Junior (2006) – Moving to the back line prior to her junior season, Sarah Gwisdala’s career took a turn for the best. Gwisdala’s presence on the back line was a huge boost to the speed of the Lady Razorback defenders, and on more than one occasion that quickness was able to save a potential goal. She started all 19 matches for Arkansas and ranked fourth on the team in minutes played.

As a Sophomore (2005) – Hobbled by an ankle injury for most of the season, Gwisdala made the most of her limited opportunities. She predominantly played forward, but did see some action at outside defender when needed. She scored one goal, a strike against Alabama to give the Lady’Backs a 2-1 win.

As a Freshman (2004) – Playing forward, Gwisdala was one of the Lady’Backs’ top scorers. She was named the SEC’s Offensive Player of the Week after a two goal weekend against Vanderbilt and Kentucky. She tallied six goals including two game winners while starting 16 of 18 matches.

ODP – Gwisdala played on the Texas state team between 1998-2002

CLUB – A key contributor for the Dallas Texans ’86 club, the number one team in the nation in 2004, Gwisdala helped win the Premier League title and a WAGS cup in ’04.

Plano West HS – A National Soccer Coaches’ Association all-region performer in 2003, she set the Plano West record for assists in a season with 22. Gwisdala has all-state and 5A district co-MVP honors, two Dallas Morning News Athlete of the Week awards and was named Plano West offensive MVP. During her career, the Plano West Wolves competed in the state semifinals, and won regional, area and bi-district championships.

Personal - Born on Dec. 25, 1985, Gwisdala is the daughter of Jim and Barbara Gwisdala. She has three older brothers, Jim, Andy and Joe, and is majoring in marketing management.

Allison Harris

As a Junior (2006) – Returning to the pitch after missing the 2005 season with a knee injury, Allison Harris stepped right back into a starting roll and showed few signs of the time she missed. She started all 19 games at center back and scored one goal and added four assists. She picked up two assists in Arkansas' first two matches of the season, then nabbed her goal against Northeastern State in the Lady'Backs' 4-0 win. She earned her third ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District VI award as well as her first academic all-America honor.

As a Redshirt (2005) – Harris played in just two matches during the 2005 season before tearing knee ligaments and sitting the rest of the season.

As a Sophomore (2004) – Recording just one assist her entire freshman season, Harris was Arkansas' leading scorer for the beginning of the 2004 as she hit for her first career goal against Southeast Missouri State, then assisted on a pair of others in the opening six games of the season. She was stellar defensively at center back.

As a Freshman (2003) – Stepping right into the defensive formation as a freshman, Harris was instrumental in Arkansas' success her first season. She assisted on one goal, but it was her instincts that caused other teams fits as she always knew when to play the ball versus the player and had a knack for stepping in front to prevent the odd-man rush.

ODP – Harris played for the Georgia state ODP team for five years and participated in region camp.

CLUB – Playing with the GSA Phoenix Red, Harris won a national championship as a sophomore where she scored the game-winning goal in a shootout. She played in the Region III Championship game four times and the state championship four years. Her squad also finished as national runner-up in 2004. She captained the squad for six years.

Shiloh HS – Harris was a two-time all-county first-team selection and took her team to the final 16 in the state playoffs three times.

Personal – Born on Sept. 20, 1984, Harris is the daughter of Brian and Robyn Harris. She has one sister, Amber, and is majoring in psychology.

Ali Harter

As a Junior (2006) – Making the most of her minutes, Ali Harter did not join the Lady’Backs until partway into the season as she rehabbed from off-season knee surgery. She picked up her first of two assists on the year on the game-winning goal against Louisiana Tech in overtime, then added a second assist in Arkansas’ win at Mississippi State. Her lone goal of the 2006 season came against Alabama.

As a Sophomore (2005) – Harter opened her sophomore season with a bang as she scored twice and added an assist in the Lady’Back opener against Tulsa, but following her explosion in game one she was limited to just four more matches due to injury. She would pick up a second assist in Arkansas’ season finale against LSU.

As a Freshman (2004) – A spark plug off the bench because of her speed, Harter was a valuable asset for the Lady’Backs in 15 games, even picking up a start in her first season. She scored goals against Southern and then #25 Florida her first season, the latter on a pseudo 1v1 against the keeper with a defender holding on.

ODP – Harter played on the Arkansas ODP team her freshman and sophomore years.

CLUB – Harter won three state championships and a pair of prestigious Ozark Cup Classic titles her final two seasons for the Arkansas Comets.

Fayetteville HS – A member of the state champions and the 17th-ranked team in the nation her freshman year at Fayetteville, Harter led her squad back to the state championship game two of the next three seasons, finishing runner-up both times. She also earned three all-state honors between her sophomore and senior seasons.

Personal - Born on Jan. 26, 1986, Harter is the daughter of Lance and Kim Harter of Fayetteville and Liz Harter of Springdale. She is just the third Fayetteville, Ark., native to be recruited to Arkansas. She has four siblings, Jeff, Megan, Kristy and Josh, and is majoring in apparel studies.

Beginning the season coming off the bench, Patterson worked her way into the starting 11 for 11 of the 18 games she played.

As a Freshman (2005) – A role player her freshman season, Patterson played in 13 matches and contributed with a pair of assists. Her off-season workout regimen paid off as she was arguably Arkansas' most improved player at the end of spring drills.

CLUB – Playing her club ball as a junior and senior with Dallas Inter, Patterson helped her squad to a state cup semifinalist spot as a senior. As a junior, Patterson returned to the starting lineup at center midfield and was named first-team all district and the Fightin' Farmers' offensive MVP.

Personal - Born on Jan. 23, 1987, Patterson is the daughter of Jim Patterson and Lisa Burns. She has two siblings, Jennifer and Jansen, and is majoring in kinesiology. Her grandfather played football for the University of Texas.

Kathleen Paulsen

As a Freshman (2006) – Kathleen Paulsen’s freshman year was spent mostly as a midfield replacement, but the Colorado native was both efficient and brilliant in her time. She scored her first career goal against Missouri State when she rifled a shot from outside the penalty area on a free kick that skimmed the bottom of the crossbar and forced overtime. She added an assist against Southeastern Louisiana. Paulsen played in all 19 contests her first season, picking up two starts.

CLUB – Playing for Real Colorado, Paulsen picked up five state cup titles and participated in six regionals, making the Region IV semifinals three times and the finals once.

Faith Christian Acad. – Paulsen was a three-sport athlete for Faith Christian Academy, using her 5-9 frame to excel at soccer, basketball and cross country. On the pitch, Paulsen won a state championship her junior season, tallying 14 goals and 12 assists during the campaign. She guided her team to a quarterfinals spot as a sophomore and to the state finals as a senior. She was named all-state and all-conference in each of her final three seasons. Paulsen’s basketball and cross country teams were also successful with a second and two third-place finishes in the state.

Personal
- Born on Oct. 5, 1987, Paulsen is the daughter of Gregory and Patricia Paulsen. She has two brothers, Matthew and Timothy and is planning to major in either business or education.

Rachel Smith

As a Freshman (2006) – From the moment she stepped onto the pitch, Rachel Smith earned herself a starting position. She started 18 of the 19 games she played her first season and was one of the Lady Razorbacks’ playmakers with four assists. Getting off to a fast start, Smith contributed to goals in each of Arkansas’ first three games which included the game-winning assist against Southeastern Louisiana. Evidence of Smith’s contributions are obvious in that she was just one of five Lady Razorbacks to play for more than 1,600 minutes.

Fayetteville HS – Wentz was a four-year starter and captain her senior season for Fayetteville High School. Named all-state her junior and senior seasons, she was a menace to opposing teams with her work ethic and nose for the goal.

Abbey Wilburn

As a Sophomore (2006) – For the second straight season, Abbey Wilburn led the Lady Razorbacks in assists, this time with six, while also adding a goal for eight points. Her six assists gave her 12 for her career and have her at 10th on Arkansas’ all-time list. Wilburn started all 19 of Arkansas’ matches and notched her first game-winning strike, a golden goal against Louisiana Tech, in early September.

As a Freshman (2005) – Wilburn was one of two freshmen in 2005 to start and play in every match. She scored once and led the team with six assists. Her assist total was bolstered by the fact that she took nearly every Lady Razorback corner kick. Her best match of the season came at Alabama where she scored a game-tying goal right before the half, then assisted on the game winner. She also earned Arkansas’ first-ever SEC Freshman of the Week honor with her Alabama effort.

ODP – Wilburn played on the North Texas ODP state team for five years.

CLUB – Wilburn’s Inter club won numerous championships during her time and went to the state semi-finals for three consecutive seasons.

Not just recognized by her high school, Wilburn was also the MVP for her district at midfield in 2004 and then took the utility MVP honor in 2005. In the classroom she was sixth in her graduating class of 380 and was both the science student and female athlete of the year. She was a member of the National Honor Society and named its most valuable member.

Personal - Born on March 10, 1987, Wilburn is the daughter of Cary and Linda Wilburn. She has one brother, Brett, and is majoring in accounting with a minor in finance.

Bentonville HS – One of the standout players for Bentonville High School, Alexander scored more than 50 goals during her four-year prep career including three hat tricks. # Ally Atkins

From Coach Henderson – “Another great addition to our 2007 class. Ally Atkins has the potential to be a great forward or outside midfielder. She is very adept at taking players on 1v1, has good pace and good dribbling ability. She has played with some of the best club teams on the East Coast, which further demonstrates her ability level. Ally loves to score goals, which means sometimes being a ‘scrapper’ in the penalty box. She does whatever it takes to get on the end of a ball and score. That determination will stand her in good stead as she develops further.”

CLUB – Atkins was a part of several club team championships over the years and led her team to as high as #2 in the state, #12 in Region 1 and #49 in the nation.

Liberty HS – Atkins earned captain’s honors for Liberty High School as a freshman, while also taking the coaches’ award that season. She also served as captain as a junior. She was a three-time all-conference selection, two-time all-district and all-region player. She also took all-state honors as a junior.

Personal - Born on March 3, 1989, Atkins is the daughter of Mike and Pat Atkins. She has one sibling, Morgan, and is undecided on her major. Atkins arrived at Arkansas in January of 2007 to begin her Lady Razorback career a semester early.

Sam Bolton

From Coach Henderson – “Sam Bolton is a natural leader who strives to be the best in everything she does. In doing so, she inspires those around her to do the same. She is infectious. A tremendous defender, she relishes the 1v1 challenges to impose her authority on opposing players. I wouldn’t want to tackle her.....absolutely fearless. As we harness that ability, Sam has the potential to be one of the SEC’s best defenders. It is not often that defenders stand out in voting and awards. The fact that she was Gatorade State Player of the Year speaks volumes.”

ODP – Bolton spent several years on the ODP circuit at the U11/U12 and U13/U14 levels.

CLUB – With the F.C. United of the Ingram Futbol Club, Bolton won five state championships and numerous tournament titles. Her team was ranked #1 in the state and 20th in the Region 3 rankings.

Rogers HS – Bolton was the standout player for Rogers High School for several seasons and during that time led her squad to three state and conference championships. She was given her team’s hustle award as a freshman before being named the Arkansas Gatorade Player of the Year as a sophomore. She was named all-conference, all-tournament and all-state.

Personal – Born on Nov. 14, 1988, Bolton is the daughter of Scott and Cathy Bolton. She has one sister, Cory, and is majoring in pre physical therapy.

Rachel Carlson

From Coach Henderson – “Rachel Carlson is a dynamic front runner. She is currently playing an outside midfield role on her club team, but we think she has the potential to be a great forward for us. She combines two unique talents: exceptional speed and a tireless work rate. Usually players have one or the other – not both. Those assets should cause our opponents fits as she has the ability to high pressure for long periods of the game. Technically, she is very sound, and again very importantly, loves to score goals. I can’t wait to see her play in an Arkansas uniform.”

ODP – Carlson played on the Oklahoma state ODP team for six years.

CLUB – Carlson’s Hurricane ’89 team were dominant over the years as evidenced by their four state championships over the past four seasons. The squad went to the Region 3 finals two times and the quarter finals last season.

Jenks HS – State champions their junior year, Carlson and the Jenks Trojans are a perennial state tournament powerhouse. As a freshman, Carlson led the squad to the state semifinals, improving to the finals as a sophomore before winning it all.

Personal - Born on May 5, 1989, Carlson is the daughter of Jeff and Nan Carlson. She has three siblings, Clay, Andrea and Meredith, and is undecided on her major.

Camille Flores

From Coach Henderson – “Any time you get a national pool player entering your squad, it is a great addition. Camille Flores had a great national camp in Massachusetts set up before tearing her ACL. She was out of action for approximately a year and took a little bit of time to get back to full form. No doubt about it – she is back as good, maybe better than she was before. She is technically very gifted, has superb vision and great passing ability. She is sneaky quick and is able to link into the attack very well from her traditional role in midfield.”

ODP – Participated on the California ODP team and played with the regional squad.

CLUB – Playing with the Arsenal FC out of Alta Loma, Calif., Flores led her U17/ U18 team to a second-place finish in the Premier League and won numerous tournament titles in her six years.

Ruben S. Ayala HS – As a freshman Flores led her team to a Sierra League Championship and grabbed second-team all-league honors. She snagged first-team honors as a sophomore and paced the Bulldogs to a second-place league finish. She missed her junior year to injury but returned as a senior to lead her squad to an undefeated season and a spot in the CIF playoffs.

Personal - Born on April 6, 1989, Flores is the daughter of Emelda Flores. She has two siblings, Quijano and Javier, and is majoring in business.

Claire Hakim

From Coach Henderson – “Claire Hakim is a player that has flown under the radar a bit. She has been a mainstay of the Virginia Football Club (Reston Rockets) for many years. She is everything you could want in a defender, nothing flashy, doesn't make many mistakes, plays a simple game, and as a result, doesn't get noticed much. She is the stable influence on a very good club team that has won many titles. Another player that is deceptively fast, she reads the game very well and is a player that you can trust to be consistent.”

CLUB – Hakim played with the FCV Rockets from U9 and up and was dominating. In fact, over the final four years of her tenure, the Rockets won two state championships and finished runner-up three times.

Langley HS – The Langley High School Saxons were Liberty District champions two times with Hakim on the roster and went to the regional finals her sophomore season. Individually, Hakim was a three-time second-team all-district selection and a Washington Post all-met honorable mention.

Personal –
Born on Dec. 18, 1988, Hakim is the daughter of Robert Hakim. She has two sisters, Lauren and Juliana, and is majoring in business.

CLUB – Playing for the Memphis Mercury, McVean was a starting forward and midfielder and in 2007 won the Tennessee state championship, eventually playing in the Southern Regional finals.

White Station HS – A four-year starter and two-year captain for White Station at center mid, McVean was named most valuable player on her squad three times, and her final two seasons saw her awarded as a Best of the Preps athlete. ## Kelly O'Connor

From Coach Henderson – “Kelly O'Connor is a legitimate top level SEC player. She has a thunderous shot and a tenacious ‘never say die’ attitude. She is technically sound with good athletic speed and very strong on the ball. She was a mainstay on the Region III ODP team and her invite to the Boca Raton Inter-regional event in 2005 tells you everything you need to know.”

ODP – O'Connor was a member of the Region III ODP team between 2005 and 2007. She was invited to participate in U-20 national team camp during the summer of 2007 and has her first experience with that squad is this December at the Home Depot Center in Calif.

The goal capped off a brilliant tournament that saw her named most valuable player. # Britni Williams

From Coach Henderson – “Britni Williams has the potential to be one of Arkansas’ best goalkeepers. She is incredibly athletic; 5’11”; controls her 18-yard area well, especially in the air; is very quick off her line, and most importantly, due to the way we play, is very comfortable with the ball at her feet. She is already playing at the highest levels and we are truly excited by her potential.”

ODP – Williams was a member of the ODP state team her sophomore season.

CLUB – Playing for Arsenal in California, Williams accrued a staggering 351-72-66 record as the starting goalkeeper between the U10 and U19 levels. She was instrumental in several championships including the US Club Soccer Western Region title.

Head Coach Gordon Henderson

Entering his fourth fall with the University of Arkansas, Gordon Henderson already has the sights and minds of the Lady Razorback faithful on lofty goals. Bringing in three recruiting classes that are among the best ever seen in Fayetteville, Henderson has his team on the cusp of great things as Arkansas prepares for the 2007 season.

Henderson's first two seasons were spent on building the traditions of the Lady Razorback program including a look to the past where he embraced each of Arkansas' former players in the form of alumni boards and a week-end of fun that culminated in an alumni match. With the traditions in place, and his desire to get his team fit well under way, Henderson focused on his ultimate goal, winning, a task that the Lady Razorbacks executed brilliantly last fall.

The 2006 season was a banner year for the Lady Razorbacks as they enjoyed their best season in a decade. Arkansas posted double-digit wins for just the fifth time in school history and ran off a school record seven-match winning streak in the month of September that saw it outscore its opponents 17-3. The run led to Arkansas' first-ever regional ranking in the SoccerBuzz polls. Individually, goalkeeper Carrie Dillsaver decimated the Arkansas record books with 28 career, season, game and class marks; forward Christina Burger earned her second all-SEC nomination; Kim Schleif became the first all-SEC Freshman Team member in school history and Devon Burger was tabbed as a third-team SoccerBuzz all-region player.

Henderson's stint at Arkansas began in December of 2003 when University officials scoured the country looking for someone with the passion and drive to take the Lady Razorbacks to the next level. His resume spoke for itself as he led several squads to league titles and took Idaho State to the NCAA Tournament's second round.

Henderson's player development has been witnessed by every team that comes to play Arkansas, but the definitive proof of that came in 2006 when C. Burger earned the first of her second-team all-SEC honors and was among the league leaders in scoring throughout her junior season.

The changes instilled by Henderson in his first year were evident in game one as the Lady Razorbacks went out with fire in their eyes. The first game's momentum led the Lady Razorbacks to one of their best nonconference seasons ever. Heading into the Southeastern Conference schedule at full speed, Arkansas got off to a fast start by going undefeated in its first three contests for its best league start in 12 years.

Prior to his arrival in Fayetteville, Henderson was the head coach at Idaho State in Pocatello, where in six seasons he amassed an impressive 56-51-11 record. While just over .500 in that span, it is what Henderson's teams did in the final four years of his tenure that made Arkansas' search committee investigate the possibilities of bringing him to Fayetteville. During that time, the Bengals won at least 10 games each season, made three NCAA tournament appearances and won three Big Sky tournament titles as well as a Big Sky regular-season championship. Those final four years saw Idaho State pick up 47 wins to just 28 losses and seven ties for an outstanding .616 winning percentage.

Assistant Coach Steve Oliver

When searching for the best coaches to fill his Arkansas staff, Gordon Henderson did not need to look any further than the office across the hall. One of the nation's top goalkeeper coaches, Steve Oliver, was already on staff, and keeping the England native soon became a priority. Starting his ninth year at the University of Arkansas, Oliver has professional playing credentials to back up his teaching ability.

Since joining the Lady Razorbacks in the winter of 1999, Oliver has been instrumental in the success of Arkansas' back line and goalkeepers. In the spring of 2002, Oliver added chief recruiter to his list of duties when he took over Arkansas' recruiting efforts, and the level of athlete entering the University has increased in each year.

In Oliver's eight years with the Lady Razorbacks' keepers, his pupils have completely rewritten the Arkansas record book. From 2000 to 2003 Lindsay Haywood played more minutes in net than any other freshman or sophomore in Arkansas history. In 1999, Megan Bals was superb between the posts, setting freshman records for shots faced, saves, shutouts, games played and games started. While their records were lofty, the Lady'Backs turned the program over to Carrie Dillsaver in the fall of 2003 and watched 34 career, season, class and game records fall including five all-time marks. Even more impressive was Dillsaver's 2006 season goals against average which dipped under 1.00 for the first time in Lady Razorback history.

Oliver's mark on the Arkansas defense was immediate as he coached the Lady Razorbacks into a cohesive unit that cut down by a fourth the number of goals that were scored against them. Several years later, the Lady'Backs still keep their opponents off the scoreboard at the same margin.

Prior to Arkansas, Oliver spent two years at the University of Maryland assisting the team to two NCAA tournament appearances going as far as the quarterfinals in 1997. Oliver's work helped produced 23 wins to just 16 losses in one of the toughest conferences for women's soccer, the Atlantic Coast Conference.

With coaching experience at many levels and in several countries, Oliver brings an international flavor to the Arkansas system. He has been the head man or an assistant in the United States, England and Ireland. He has worked at the professional, collegiate and Olympic development levels and continues his work with area youth as the Director of Coaching for the Ingram FC in Northwest Arkansas. A student of the game, he has earned a pair of international coaching licenses, the UEFA 'A' license and IFA Goalkeeping Diploma.

A native of England, Oliver has been coaching in the United States since 1989, when he split time between England and the States. One of his first U.S. coaching jobs was the director of the Soccer Concepts Schools in 1990, and he eventually took the director's job of the World Class Soccer School.

Some of Oliver's overseas coaching positions have included a stint with the Queens Park Rangers, a successful Division I team in England, goalkeeper's coach at the Brentwood Private School from 1991-95 and goalkeeper's coach for the Southend United Football Club. He also assisted with the National Schools Squad in Belfast, Northern Ireland, between 1994 and 1995.

Oliver was a standout player during his playing career. In 1982 he signed with Southend United where he played for four seasons. Oliver then moved on to play one season with the Colchester United before halting his professional career. He returned to the field in 1995 as the back-up goalkeeper for Southend United, while also serving as keeper's coach.

Oliver and his wife, Katie, have four children: Jessica, 12; Harry, 11; and twins Abby and Lizzy, 7.

Assistant Coach Anna Sanders

Joining the Lady Razorbacks in the fall of 2004, Anna Sanders begins her fourth year as an assistant coach with the Arkansas soccer team. A Fayetteville, Ark., native, Sanders was a stand-out soccer player for the Fayetteville High School Bulldogs before heading to the University of Mississippi to pursue her bachelor's degree in exercise science.

Sanders' responsibilities include recruiting efforts, fitness, film exchange and participating in practice when needed. Her appointment with the Lady Razorbacks is her first collegiate coaching position, but certainly not the first time she has been on the sidelines. Following her graduation from the University of Mississippi, Sanders went to Cascia Hall Preparatory school in Tulsa, Okla., where she was the head women's varsity coach for one season. In that capacity, she led her squad to one of its best seasons ever and was named the Oklahoma High School District Soccer Coach of the Year.

Sanders also worked with numerous summer camps, including the Oklahoma Outrage Soccer Camps, University of Arkansas Soccer Academy and the Terry Venables Soccer School.

Prior to her stint as a coach, Sanders was a four-year starter at outside midfield and one of the Southeastern Conference's most tenacious players for the University of Mississippi Lady Rebels. During her four seasons, the Lady Rebels won two SEC Western Division Championships and made their first-ever appearance in the NCAA Championship Tournament. Sanders accumulated 13 goals and 20 assists for 46 points at Mississippi, all of which ranked among the Lady Rebels' all-time best.

Upon her graduation from Ole Miss, Sanders ranked eighth on the career points and goals charts and tied for fourth on the career assists list.

While playing at one of Arkansas' Southeastern Conference rivals, Sanders was able to make a pair of trips to her hometown and was always excited to see the Lady Razorbacks. In fact, Sanders became somewhat of an Arkansas killer as she acquired one goal and two assists in four matches against the Lady'Backs. As a sophomore she played lights out as she helped the Rebels take a 2-1 lead late in the first half, then iced the match with a second assist in the 67th minute. Her lone goal against Arkansas came in 2001 when she put Ole Miss on the scoreboard with a score in the seventh minute in Fayetteville.

Not just an outstanding player at Mississippi, Sanders was also a three-time member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll and was the only student-athlete at Ole Miss on the University's Committee for Intercollegiate Athletics.

During the summer of 2004, Sanders took an internship with the Auburn University strength and conditioning department before accepting the assistant coach position at Arkansas. Despite her coaching duties, Sanders still managed to attend school and received her master's degree in exercise physiology in the summer of 2005.

Keeping her competitive juices flowing, Sanders continues to train and has become an excellent triathlete. She won the Arkansas state championship in 2006 and took eighth at the 25-29 Age Group Nationals, qualifying herself for Team USA at the World Championships. Just recently she was named to Team USA's roster for the 2008 World Championships in Vancouver, Canada.

Sanders is the daughter of Tom and Barbara Sanders.

2006 Review and Records

2006 Season Review

It was a tale of two seasons for the University of Arkansas Lady Razorback soccer team in 2006. A heart-breaking road loss to open the season led to a school-record winning streak and the best start in the Lady Razorbacks' 21-year history. Then came the Southeastern Conference schedule and despite Arkansas's great start, it could not maintain that excellence down the stretch. The Lady Razorbacks finished the year 3-6-2 in conference action, playing four overtime matches and losing four games by a single goal.

As a whole, Arkansas' season was celebrated with school records, program firsts and individual honors throughout the three-month affair. The Lady Razorback senior class closed out their careers with Arkansas' first 10-win season in a decade and opened the door to greater success in the near future.

Best Start in School History

Despite losing its first game of the season in overtime, Arkansas still managed to have its best start in school history. Opening the year 0-1, the Lady Razorbacks picked up convincing wins over its next three games, then set the mark for best start by defeating Alabama A&M on Sept. 10 to take their record to 5-1, exceeding the mark of Arkansas' 1993 team which opened at 4-1.

Longest Winning Streak

Prior to the 2006 season, the longest winning streak in University of Arkansas Lady Razorback history was four games, which it had set four times. Arkansas' longest undefeated stretch was six matches during the 1996 season. The Lady Razorbacks' seven-match undefeated stretch between Aug. 27 and Sept. 17 decimated both marks. During that time, Arkansas scored 17 goals while conceding just three and posted four shutouts including three in a row against Alabama A&M, Tulsa and Memphis.

Dillsaver Defensive Player of the Week

For her efforts in Arkansas' wins over Tulsa and Memphis, senior goalkeeper Carrie Dillsaver was named the Southeastern Conference's Defensive Player of the Week. On the weekend she posted a pair of shutouts, made 11 saves and eclipsed Arkansas' all-time records for games started and wins. It was Arkansas' first ever defensive player of the week honor in the four years of the award.

Carrie Dillsaver

Dillsaver Breaks School Records

When Carrie Dillsaver announced that she would return for her senior season despite having already earned her degree in nursing, it was nearly a forgone conclusion that she would break at least one Arkansas career record. She ended up with five and could have had six had it not been for a rule technicality. She set all-time marks for games played, games started, wins, minutes played and shots faced and was 1/2 shutout short of that record. All told, Dillsaver set or shares 31 Lady Razorback school records.

Dillsaver Defensive Player of the Week, Again

Thanks to her part in Arkansas' victory and tie against Alabama and Auburn, Carrie Dillsaver was named the Southeastern Conference's Defensive Player of the Week. The honor is Dillsaver's second of the year, and she becomes just the second Lady Razorback to ever earn a player of the week honor twice in her career, joining Arkansas' all-time leading scorer Julie Williford.

Arkansas wins at Georgia

It was a long time coming; in fact, it had never happened before. Arkansas defeated the Georgia Bulldogs in Athens, Ga. In three previous meetings at Georgia's home field, Arkansas was 0-2-1 and had been outscored by a total of 11-1. Arkansas' victory against the Bulldogs is just its second victory against the SEC east opponent in nine meetings.

Lady Razorbacks Go Spanish

Every Southeastern Conference soccer match played at Lady'Back Field in 2007 had a Latin flavor as it was broadcast live on the radio on La Tremenda, a local Spanish speaking radio station. The matches were the first University of Arkansas events to be aired in both English and Spanish and are expected to be the start of many years of multi-lingual broadcasts to come.

SEC Postseason Awards

The end of the regular season brought more awards to the Lady Razorbacks as three were recognized by the Southeastern Conference. Christina Burger was named second-team all-SEC for the second consecutive year thanks to her four goals in SEC play. Kim Schleif was placed on the all-freshman team and becomes the first Lady Razorback to ever earn that honor. Carrie Dillsaver was named to the SEC's Good Works Team.

Kim Schleif

Academic Excellence

The Lady Razorbacks not only enjoyed success on the field, but also in the classroom during the fall of 2006. Allison Harris was named third-team ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America while teammates Carrie Dillsaver and Christina Burger took first- and second-team all-district honors, respectively. Burger was also awarded third-team NSCAA/Adidas all-south region scholar-athlete while Dillsaver took honorable mention.

Christina Burger

Devon Burger (#2)

Burger Sets School Record

Christina Burger was Arkansas' leading goal scorer for three seasons but in 2007 she did something that no other Lady Razorback has accomplished, she scored in five consecutive matches. Beginning with the Southeastern Louisiana match and continuing through the Tulsa game, Burger scored at least one goal to eclipse the record of former Lady Razorback Julie Williford (4).

Burger Named to Soccer Buzz Team

Arkansas' post-season honors wrapped up with the announcement of the SoccerBuzz teams in late November. Senior Devon Burger was the lone Lady Razorback honored and was named third-team all-central region. She is just the third Lady Razorback to achieve that distinction and just the fourth Lady Razorback to ever earn a SoccerBuzz honor.

Lady'Backs Earn First Ranking

Arkansas' 2007 soccer team made history in mid-October when it earned its first-ever regional soccer ranking. Entering the rankings tied for 15th in SoccerBuzz's central region rankings on Oct. 16, Arkansas remained in that spot for two consecutive weeks.

The Southeastern Conference

The Southeastern Conference has continued its rise as one of the top conferences in women's soccer.

The 2006 women's soccer season reaffirmed the SEC's prominence in the country. Five teams from the SEC were invited to the NCAA tournament. Auburn, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee and Vanderbilt all made the 64-team field. The four teams combined for a record of 2-4-3 with both the Gators and Lady Vols advancing to the third round on penalty kicks. The SEC now has a 36-42-6 (.464) NCAA Tournament record in 44 appearances.

This year, SEC women's soccer will begin its 15th season deeply rooted in the national scene of collegiate soccer. Since the SEC initiated women's soccer as a varsity sport in 1993, the sport's popularity has grown through the country and especially in the Southeast.

A definitive point in the SEC's women's soccer success came in 1995 when FOX Sports South broadcasted the SEC Tournament Championship match between Alabama and Kentucky on a tape-delayed basis, signifying the first appearance of an SEC women's soccer match on television. Southeastern Conference women's soccer continued to grow over the next couple of years as the conference made a name for itself nationally. In 1998, the SEC had its breakout season with Florida winning the conference's first NCAA title in women's soccer in the program's fourth year of existence.

The league led the nation with six NCAA Tournament teams that year, an accomplishment which firmly inserted the SEC as one the major conferences in women's soccer. The SEC also made bigger strides in its television coverage with three regular season matches and the SEC Tournament championship match shown live on the SEC-TV package. In 2006, SEC-TV's women's soccer coverage was four regular-season matches, in addition to the SEC Tournament championship match. That incremental growth combined with increasing exposure on the national and regional scene has SEC women's soccer looking to blossom to new heights in the year 2007 and beyond.

2007 SEC WOMEN'S SOCCER TOURNAMENT

November 7-11 • Orange Beach Soccer Complex • Orange Beach, Ala.

Lady Razorback History

The University of Arkansas has been a pioneer for women's sports throughout the past 30 years, and the Lady Razorback soccer team is no exception. Among the first varsity women's soccer teams in the country, Arkansas began varsity play in 1986, and since that time has earned the respect of the nation as one of the toughest places to play. Over the course of the past 20 years, there have been many significant firsts: the first victory on September 21, 1986, at Texas A&M University; the Southeastern Conference's first Player of the Year; the SEC's first televised game and the construction of Lady'Back Field. But all pale in comparison to the personalities of the more than 150 women who have made Arkansas women's soccer what it is today.

Beginning in the fall of 1986, the Lady Razorbacks played a 12-game schedule under its first head coach, Curtis Sergeant, against regional opponents from Texas and Missouri.

The Lady Razorbacks turned things around in their second year of competition. Improving by leaps and bounds, the team went 10-8 for its first winning season while posting six shutouts. The 1987 schedule also allowed the Lady'Backs to not only play regional opponents, but also to travel as the team took its first significant roadtrip to the Sunshine State for a pair of matches in Boca Raton, Fla.

After two seasons of varsity play, the Lady Razorbacks turned the program over to Kathy Ludwig prior to the 1988 season. An all-American during her playing days, Ludwig brought experience at the Division I level to Arkansas' program. Working with a large group of young players, Ludwig's first Lady Razorback team struggled at the beginning of the 1988 season, but came back strong during the second half.

One of the things for which Ludwig will long be remembered was the recruitment of Ruthie Miller from Broken Arrow, Okla., and Molly Myers of Colorado Springs, Colo. The pair was instrumental in Arkansas' five-year run of non-losing seasons, which began in 1989, and is a major part of Arkansas' career record books.

Miller took over the career lead in scoring during her senior season and held the mark until 2003, while Myers was the first of many outstanding goalkeepers at Arkansas. None have been able to overcome her eight Arkansas records.

Prior to the 1990 season, Marcia McDermott became the Lady Razorbacks' third head coach, and her three-year stint is one of the most productive of Arkansas' history. During her time, the Lady Razorbacks won 26 matches and set a school record for wins in a season with 11 in 1991.

During McDermott's tenure, Arkansas made another commitment to the soccer program when it constructed Lady'Back Field on the corner of California and Sixth Street. At the time of its construction, Lady'Back Field was the first collegiate soccer field used solely by a women's team, and to this day remains one of only a handful of such fields.

The off-season between the 1992 and 1993 seasons was a busy one for the Lady Razorbacks. Former North Carolina standout Janet Rayfield was hired as the fourth coach of the Arkansas soccer program, and the University announced that it was joining the Southeastern Conference. Both incidents made waves throughout the nation, and Arkansas did not disappoint. The Lady Razorbacks went 10-10 in Rayfield's first season, and then crushed Auburn on the way to the SEC Tournament Championship game, where they lost in overtime to Vanderbilt.

The 1993 campaign was significant in what Arkansas was able to do against the SEC, but also in that it saw the construction of a field house at Lady'Back Field. The '93 team also produced the most prolific scoring output in Arkansas soccer history. Led by the tandem of Honey Marsh and Amy Van Laecke, Arkansas tallied 57 goals over its 20 games while conceding just 36. Marsh's play throughout the season allowed her to be named the SEC's first Player of the Year and first tournament MVP.

The 1994 season saw the Lady Razorbacks play their first regular-season conference matches, then host the second SEC Tournament. Once again the Lady Razorbacks were strong in the postseason, advancing to the tournament semifinals before falling a second time to the Vanderbilt Commodores.

The SEC had a boom in 1995 as six teams were added to the league to compete for supremacy, and Arkansas remained in the thick of the action. The Lady Razorbacks earned their first SEC win in a 2-1 overtime victory over Mississippi State on Sept. 8, 1995, and saw goalkeeper Holly Smith emerge as the next standout player on Arkansas' roster. As the SEC continued to push women's sports into the lime-light, Arkansas did its part by welcoming the first televised match of SEC women's soccer at Lady'Back Field.

Lady Razorback History

Arkansas' first game under the lights at Lady'Back Field occurred in 1997.

Arkansas' 1996 season was one of the best seasons in the Lady Razorbacks' history as it won 11 matches and took the SEC's Western Division crown. Beginning the year 1-3-0, Arkansas rallied to win eight of its next 10 games to put themselves in the catbird's seat. At the SEC Tournament, the Lady'Backs defeated Vanderbilt for the first time since joining the conference, then knocked off Georgia 3-1 before falling to Florida in the championship game, 3-2, in double overtime.

The firsts continued to come in 1997 when Arkansas added lights to Lady'Back Field, allowing the Lady Razorbacks to host their first night game on their home pitch on Aug. 30, 1997.

Following the resignation of Rayfield after the 1998 season, Arkansas hired Alan Kirkup to take the reins of the program. One of the winningest women's collegiate soccer coaches of all time, Kirkup brought a keen knowledge of the game to the Lady Razorbacks that showed in his first year as coach. One of Kirkup's first duties included the recruitment of Pam Pesnell, the first Fayetteville, Ark., native to the Lady Razorback soccer team, and then he focused on his team, which ended the 1999 season in a tie for first in the SEC West.

Holly Collins shattered the Lady'Backs' assist record in 2001.

Getting the most out of his players, Kirkup took a group of unknown players and made them into a force, especially at tournament time. In his first SEC Championships, Kirkup started six freshmen against the defending national champion Florida Gators and held a 2-0 lead on his opponent after 10 minutes of action.

Kirkup's tutelage also led to the fall of nearly every Arkansas offensive record. Midfielder Holly Collins broke the Lady Razorbacks' assist record in 2000 when she notched her 18th, then destroyed it as a senior in 2001 by raising the mark to 26. Another Kirkup recruit, Julie Williford, broke Miller's records for goals and points in a career, and became the first Lady Razorback to eclipse the 100-point mark for her career.

In 2001 Lady'Back Field added stadium seating for 1,500, as well as press facilities, to reach its current configuration.

The Gordon Henderson era of Lady Razorback soccer began in the spring of 2004 and continues with a return to grass roots. Henderson's philosophy focuses on the team and community development, which translated to record crowds in his first season.

Julie Williford broke the 12-year-old school records of Ruthie Miller in 2002.

20th Anniversary Celebration

The University of Arkansas Lady Razorback soccer team celebrated its 20th anniversary in the fall of 2005 and through the spring of 2006. This past April Arkansas hosted its seventh consecutive Alumni Weekend, which included several social gatherings and culminated with a match on Lady'Back Field between the veterans and the current team members.

While Arkansas' current squad won to preserve its perfect record, the game was hard fought and became even more interesting when the alumni fielded a team of 20 against 11 Lady Razorbacks.

Lunch during the alumni weekend.

While the Alumni Weekend is much anticipated, Arkansas' coaches have implemented a series of additions to Lady'Back Field to honor all the Lady Razorback alumni for perpetuity. The sidewalks of Lady'Back Field will mirror those of the University when all graduating seniors will have their names etched into the concrete leading up to the grandstands, and boards have been added to the outside of the field-house to show fans and opposing players the multitude of awards earned by Lady Razorback athletes.

"I'm very excited about the sidewalks," Arkansas head coach Gordon Henderson said. "We really want to build the tradition of Lady Razorback soccer, and what better way to do that than to honor those student-athletes that came through this program and made it what it is today."

Academic Excellence

The Women's Athletics Department selects its honor roll each regular semester based on semester grades.

The women's Athletics Department has kept an honor roll list since the fall of 1989, and in that time 114 individuals have been named to either the Academic Champions (4.0), Athletic Director's (3.5-3.99) or honor rolls (3.0-3.49). With just 153 individuals earning letters in soccer during that time that is a remarkable 75 percent of the student-athletes earning a 3.0 or better during a semester.

Other numbers to consider:

- 33 student-athletes have earned perfect 4.0 GPAs
- 20 of those 33 have done it more than once
- 27 Lady'Backs have been honored more than four times during their academic careers.
- 14 current Lady Razorbacks have made their way onto the academic honor rolls

Allison Harris is the first Lady Razorback soccer player to go through eight semesters with a perfect 4.0 grade point average. She is also the soccer program's first two-time ESPN The Magazine district honoree.

The Lady Razorback 1996 squad was Arkansas' most unselfish with a school record for assists. They also hold the record for wins in a season.

Welcome to Arkansas

Fulbright Peace Fountain

Few have promoted education as the late Senator J. William Fulbright; few have understood that it is the key to peace as well as prosperity. To achieve his twin goals of promoting international understanding and academic endeavor, Sen. Fulbright authored legislation to create the Fulbright Exchange Program. The world's largest and most prestigious educational exchange program, it has literally changed the world. In honor of the man and his mission, the Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences created the Fulbright Peace Fountain. Designed by noted architect E. Fay Jones, the 41-foot-tall bronze tower stands outside Old Main as a lasting remembrance of the former senator and UA chancellor. Nestled into the alcove formed by Old Main stands a bronze statue of Fulbright looking toward the fountain. President Bill Clinton (right) presided at the dedication.

The Un

Old Main

The original building of Arkansas' campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1876, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as it did its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Some 130 years after it began, Old Main was finished in 2006. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the 21st Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower. The new clock was dedicated in the spring of 2006, coinciding with the end of the $1 billion fund raising campaign.

As mentioned, Old Main shared plans with its counterpart at the Illinois-Champaign campus. The difference was the north tower of Arkansas' Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.

University of Arkansas

A nationally competitive, student-centered research university serving Arkansas and the world.

A billion dollars changes everything.

The Campaign for the Twenty-First Century raised just over $1 billion for the University of Arkansas' endowment funds.

New buildings, new endowed chairs, new programs, even a new college.

As the university sees the dawn of a new century, the face of the campus changes with the investment made by thousands of individuals who see a bright future for Arkansas.

The heart and soul, however, remain the same, untouched like the charming facade of the university's original building, Old Main. The exterior received a cleanup in 2006, and a long-ago promise of a clock is fulfilled. Beneath the new brick and facing, the building remains unchanged, a testament to the core stability of the state of Arkansas' flagship institution since 1871.

In the past, the national championships most associated with the University of Arkansas involved athletics. In the last few years, Arkansas became a national leader, but this time against a field of America's most prestigious universities.

In June 2005, the University completed the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century resulting in one of the largest endowments for a public university -- $1 billion. It included the largest single gift to a U.S. public university in the history of American philanthropy with a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Trust. Primary among the programs created by the Walton gift was the designation of $200 million toward the establishment of the Honors College.

One of the benchmarks to college education is the annual US News and World Report "Best Colleges" issue. The 2005 edition moved the University of Arkansas into its top level of the leading institutions of higher learning in the United States. The peer review and data-driven survey had Arkansas at 120th overall, putting the University into the top tier for the first time in school history.

In addition, the Sam M. Walton College of Business ranked 24th place among the nation's top public undergraduate business schools, according to the 2006 US News. Adding to the good news, the College of Engineering was ranked for the first time.

Arkansas enjoyed record enrollment the past several Fall semesters. Arkansas edged even closer to the 18,000 mark with a record attendance of 17,938 students in classes for the Fall 2006 semester.

Since the turn of the 21st Century, Arkansas has brought home more than its share of the nation's most prestigious undergraduate awards. In fact, the University of Arkansas was the only public or private institution in the country to have Rhodes, Marshall, Goldwater, Udall, NSF and James Madison recipients in the same year in 2001-02, and continues each year to add to the overall total of the highly competitive post-graduate awards.

We Prepare Students to Succeed

At the University of Arkansas, we strive for excellence in everything we do, and we achieve it with nationally ranked academic programs as well as with our athletic teams.

Here, successful students will join with other graduates succeeding as major media executives, scientists, engineers, teachers, writers and Olympians.

Walk through campus on Senior Walk. It features the names of all our graduates - more than 115,000 of them. You will immediately feel connected to the pride, quality and tradition that go with an Arkansas degree.

World-class faculty

At Arkansas, excellence begins in the classrooms and laboratories. Faculty members value research and the creation of knowledge, knowing that investigating the unknown translates into first-rate teaching. They publish nearly 100 books each year, participate in conferences around the world, file patents for their innovative projects and win prestigious honors and awards.

World-class facilities

Over $600 million in construction projects have reached completion, are beginning construction or are on the books at the University of Arkansas in the past decade. Our complexes range from

Senior Walk

The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates' names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate's name went down in cement during the 1990s. As UA enters the 21st Century, Senior Walk stretches over five miles of campus sidewalks. The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

splendidly equipped anthropology labs to high-tech robotics, semiconductor and laser facilities.

Broad range of degrees

At Arkansas, students can major in one of over 120 undergraduate disciplines, many of which prepare them for entry into graduate studies ranging from law to medicine.

Seven Colleges, One University

The University has seven colleges to provide a wide range of majors:

Fine arts in some of the most modern facilities in the region at the Walton Arts Center to the famous Edward Durrell Stone Fine Arts Center.

Humanities programs from communications and history to philosophy, English and foreign languages taught by nationally acclaimed faculty.

Science programs engaging in research projects from experimenting with squeezed light to improve the accuracy of atomic clocks to computer algorithms that may someday create a genetic map of every person.

Whether students choose history or chemical engineering, the University of Arkansas has the programs, the faculty and the facilities to prepare them for the careers they want in the future.

Fulbright College of Arts & Sciences

The J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences, named after former University President and U.S. Senator J. William Fulbright, offers degrees in the liberal arts, which span everything from ancient Egyptian dynasties to the latest discoveries in nanotechnology. It was Fulbright College students who uncovered the world's largest nautiloid fossil, an eight-foot specimen that lived 325 million years ago, in a culvert near Fayetteville.

Our graduates are known throughout the world. We can thank alumnus Robert Maurer for the revolution in communications made possible by his invention of fiber optic cable.

The College consists of 19 departments in the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences. Our flourishing honors program is built on the continuing success of our students. They regularly win competitive national awards, such as Marshall Scholarships, Barry Goldwater Scholarships, and NSF Fellowships. The College offers the premier Sturgis Fellowship for undergraduates.

Highly rated programs include physics, creative writing and translation, history, and chemistry. Students work alongside accomplished faculty in several research centers as varied as spatial technologies, space and planetary sciences, and Middle Eastern and Islamic Studies, and protein structure and function.

The College mission is taken from the writings of Fulbright: "the highest function of higher education is the teaching of things in perspective, toward the purposes of enriching the life of the individual, cultivating the free and inquiring mind, and advancing the effort to bring reason, justice, and humanity into the relations of men and nations."

Sam M. Walton College of Business

The Sam M. Walton College of Business is ranked among the top 25 public university business schools in the United States. Named in appreciation of the Walton Family Charitable Support Foundation's generous gift of $50 million in 1998, the Walton College is positioned to become one of the premier business schools in the nation.

The Walton gift joins the $7.8 million from the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation for a conference and research center built in 1999, and the $8 million received in 2003 from the Willard and Pat Walker Charitable Foundation for the Willard J. Walker Hall, the new state-of-the-art business building, which opened in summer 2007.

Established in 1926, the Walton College has been accredited by the AACSB International since 1931. The college has six departments: accounting, economics, finance, information systems, management, and marketing and logistics, and offers five master's programs, including the MBA, and two Ph.D. programs. In the fall of 2003, the Walton College introduced an innovative new business curriculum that integrates the business disciplines and better prepares its student for jobs. By connecting accounting, economics, finance, information systems, marketing and logistics, and management, students see the big picture instead of silos. The college seeks to provide each student with experiences in and out of the classroom that simulate actual business so they are prepared for real-world opportunities.

The Walton College has a three-fold mission: teaching -- educate a diverse population of students in bachelor's, master's, and doctoral programs to be tomorrow's business, community, and academic leaders; research -- discover and disseminate knowledge through research to support excellence and innovation in organizations; and service -- share business expertise in support of the state, the professions, and the academic community.

Honors College

One of the major benefits of the $300 million Walton gift was the dedication of $200 million for the Honors College to fund undergraduate UA Honors College fellowships ($50,000 for four years), to establish special study abroad and undergraduate research opportunities, and to support outstanding faculty in their research and honors teaching efforts.

The UA Honors College serves all undergraduate majors. Honors students enjoy small classes, priority registration, special housing, increased interaction with faculty, and enhanced opportunities for hands-on research.

Within the College, the Scholarship Office and the Office of Post-Graduate Fellowships provide additional services. Promising high school seniors are assisted with their applications for the many available Sturgis, Bodenhamer, Boyer, and UA Honors College fellowships as well as Chancellor's and University scholarships.

The Global Financial Markets Trading Center in Walker Hall houses the Rebsamen Trust Portfolio Management, Shollmier MBA Fund, and Arvest Bank Group Fixed Income classes. The new facility gives students and faculty access to real-time global financial market information that rivals what is found in Wall Street firms.

With the only accredited programs in architecture and landscape architecture in the state, the School of Architecture combines the traditional models of professional studio design education with innovative teaching in history and theory, technology and urban design.

In addition to training students for professional practice in architecture and landscape architecture, the school's programs also prepare individuals for careers ranging from city planning to historic preservation. International study programs in Rome and Mexico City allow our students to experience diverse cultures first hand.

Located in historic Vol Walker Hall and Memorial Hall, the School of Architecture was home to the late Fay Jones, recipient of the prestigious AIA Gold Medal and many other honors. Among his most famous works are Thorncrown Chapel in Eureka Springs and Cooper Chapel in Bella Vista. Today, students may gain hands-on planning experience at the school's award-winning community design center. Fayetteville's famous Dickson Street is much more than a college hangout, adding upscale condominiums and specialty retail to its long-standing reputation as the center of entertainment and dining. From hosting major national events like Bikes, Blues and BBQ or serving as the final resting place for the goal posts after Razorback football upsets, one thing remains constant -- Dickson is the heart of what's happening.

Fayetteville

Fayetteville has something for everyone. The over 60,000 residents of Fayetteville and the more than 17,000 students at the University of Arkansas have found this Northwest Arkansas city in the Ozark Mountains to be a special place to live and work as do the thousands of tourists who visit each year.

Washington County, with a population close to 200,000 including Fayetteville, is just one part of the fastest growing section of the state. It is the diversity and what the residents call the "quality of life" in Fayetteville and the surrounding Northwest Arkansas area that make the area so popular. Considered one of the fastest growing regions in America, Northwest Arkansas has a population closing on half a million residents.

One of America's largest motorcycle events, Bikes, Blues and BBQ brings hundreds of thousands to Dickson Street each fall to celebrate three classic American traditions, including the master of American blues guitar, B.B. King.

Fayetteville constantly ranks high in the national surveys of great places to live ranging from "Top 10 Towns to Raise a Family" to Money magazine's 300 best cities to USA TODAY's Top 10 Fastest-Growing Areas to Rand McNally's Places Rated Almanac.

The breathtaking scenery around Fayetteville, from Mount Sequoyah near downtown to Beaver Lake just minutes away, sets the tone. The lakes and streams offer great places for outdoor events during the summer months. The beautiful foliage in the fall brings thousands of visitors each season to the All Seasons Trail. The surrounding mountain ranges allow opportunities for all ages with major state and national park areas, including the famous Ozark Highlands Trail.

Fayetteville has a potpourri of activities during every month of the year. The seasonal festivals -- SpringFest, Bikes, Blues & BBQ and Lights of the Ozarks -- bring large crowds to Fayetteville each year.

Fayetteville is just minutes from...

Located in the Northwest corner of Arkansas, Fayetteville is just a short drive away from several of the area's finest attractions. Fayetteville is a 20-minute drive from several points on Beaver Lake with more than 500 miles of shoreline for boating, water-skiing, fishing, swimming and camping. Devil's Den, a unique state park, offers camping, cabins, hiking and fishing in the Boston Mountains.

And if it's big-city excitement you want, Dallas is just six hours away, with Kansas City a three-hour drive, Oklahoma City just 3 1/2 hours, Memphis five hours and St. Louis six hours. Other metropolitan areas like Chicago or Nashville are within a day's drive.

Campus Life at Arkansas

It could be a quiet day at the famous Fayetteville downtown Farmer's Market (left) or the unparalleled excitement of a sell-out crowd for Razorback football games at Reynolds Razorback Stadium.

Home of the Pig Screen TV -- your chance as students to be on one of the largest Smartvision video scoreboards in the world, Reynolds Razorback holds 75,000 for Fayetteville games. Whether it's the crowd (right), tailgating in The Gardens or ESPN Game-Day, there's something special about football games in Fayetteville.

And, some pretty famous former UA law professors also visit campus

You Can Get There from Here

Fayetteville is direct from coast-to-coast; one stop to the world

A former coach at Arkansas once joked that Fayetteville wasn't at the end of the world, but you can see it from here.

Well, that thinking is so 20th Century. The days of small planes and multiple connections are long over at Arkansas.

Opening in 1998 with the landing of Air Force One's 747, Northwest Arkansas Regional Airport is one of America's newest major airports. With its 8,800-foot main runway complete with a Category I instrument landing system, NW Arkansas Regional is served by six major airlines -- American, Continental, Delta, Northwest, United and U.S. Air.

Known by its airport code as XNA, NW Arkansas Regional gives the University of Arkansas one of the best hometown airports in the Southeastern Conference with non-stop service to every US time zone.

With three more non-stop flights added in 2007 -- Washington, DC, Miami and Raleigh -- XNA has direct jet service to the four largest cities in the nation -- New York, Los Angeles, Chicago and Houston. In addition, there is direct service to major metropolitan areas including Atlanta, Charlotte, Cincinnati, Dallas, Denver, Detroit, Memphis, Minneapolis, Newark, Orlando, St. Louis and Salt Lake City.

Over a million passengers traveling through XNA last year, and the constant expansion at XNA has resulted in a doubling of gates and a tripling of flights and seats since the airport opened. Combined with its direct flights to virtually every major city or airline hub in the United States, almost every destination in America -- and many world-wide -- is just one connection away from Fayetteville.

Dr. John A. White, Chancellor

A native Arkansan and University of Arkansas graduate, Dr. John A. White said he returned to his alma mater to do all he could to “make a difference” for the state which had done so much for him and his family. After a decade at the helm of the state’s flagship institution, White has changed Arkansas forever.

With an ambitious agenda from the moment he was named chancellor, White’s main goal is to realize the university’s vision of becoming the nationally competitive, student-centered research university Arkansas needs and deserves in the 21st century. In reaching that goal he seeks to enhance the university’s academic reputation nationally and ensure that the university is the economic and cultural engine for the state of Arkansas.

Few goals could have been more ambitious than setting a billion-dollar fund raising campaign goal; a level of support achieved by fewer than 15 public universities in America. In a testament to his leadership, more than $1 billion dollars were raised in the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, including the largest single gift to a public university in the history of American philanthropy: the $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Support Foundation.

In recognition of this achievement, the university’s Alumni Association made a special exemption to its rules to name White as the recipient of the 2006 Distinguished Alumnus Award at the close of the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century.

A man whose leadership is sought by many, he recently has received several important appointments in the area of collegiate athletics to add to his already impressive resume. He is the presiding chair of the Northwest Arkansas Council and a member of the Northwest Arkansas Regional Airport Authority. White has served on both the NCAA Executive Committee and the NCAA Division I Board of Directors as well as a term as the president of the Southeastern Conference.

Upon his appointment as chancellor, White moved immediately to draw the best students from the state and beyond. To build a foundation for the future at Arkansas, White increased the number of students who received Chancellor’s Scholarships. Resulting in a 12-fold increase in the number of new freshmen who were Chancellor’s Scholars in the fall of 1998, the impact of that first class is just beginning with their graduation in 2002.

White has yet to rest. His priorities include increasing the instruction of Arkansas’ students through information technology and an environment that is diverse and international in outlook; moving the university from the equivalent of the old Carnegie Foundation definitions of a Research II university to Research I status; increasing the diversity of the university’s faculty, staff, and student body; increasing private gift support; and increasing state and federal support. He also is striving to increase enrollment to a 22,000-person student body that is competitive with those at the best publicly supported universities in the nation.

An advocate for improving his home state, he serves on the board of directors for the Arkansas Science and Technology Authority. White completed a second six-year term on the National Science Board last year, and has served as the chair of the Council of Presidents of the Southeastern Universities Research Association and as president of the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award Foundation.

White served previously as president of the Institute of Industrial Engineers, chairman of the American Association of Engineering Societies, and president of the National Consortium for Graduate Degrees for Minorities in Engineering and Science.

Prior to returning to Arkansas, White was dean of engineering at the Georgia Institute of Technology where he served on the faculty for 22 years. His career in higher education and in management and engineering consulting has carried him into the national ranks, including service as assistant director for engineering at the National Science Foundation in Washington, D.C., from 1988 to 1991.

Among his numerous awards, White was honored in June 2006 with the inaugural John L. Imhoff Award from the American Society for Engineering Education, an honor made personally significant as the late Imhoff recruited White to the industrial engineering field in 1958 and was a mentor to White until Imhoff’s death.

White was named the 2005 Northwest Arkansas Humanitarian of the Year by the National Coalition for Community and Justice and the 2005 Regent’s Medallion of Merit from Sigma Nu Fraternity. During his academic career, he also received the Donald E. Marlowe Award for Distinguished Education Administration of the American Society for Engineering Education, the Frank and Lillian Gilbreth Industrial Engineering Award of the Institute of Industrial Engineers, the Rodney D. Chipp Memorial Award of the Society of Women Engineers, the Distinguished Service Award of the National Science Foundation and the National Science Foundation Engineer of the Year award.

White earned a bachelor’s degree in industrial engineering at Arkansas in 1962, a master’s at Virginia Tech, and a doctorate at Ohio State. He also holds honorary doctorates from Katholieke Universiteit of Leuven, Belgium, and George Washington University.

White is married to Mary Elizabeth Quarles White and they have a daughter, a son, three granddaughters and a grandson.

Howard Brill, Faculty Athletics Representative

In his 13th year as the university’s faculty representative for athletics is Howard W. Brill. A law professor at Arkansas since 1975, Brill served as the interim dean of the UA Law School in Fall 2005. He previously served as a member of the Faculty Athletics Committee from 1991-94 and was on a special committee to prepare the SEC’s Gender Equity Policy in the spring of 1994. He chaired Arkansas’ NCAA Self-Study committee, finishing in 1998.

Brill is a 1965 graduate of Duke and earned his law degree at Florida in 1970. He received his master’s of law degree at Illinois in 1979. A widely published author, Brill has written two books and numerous law review articles and has received several awards honoring his teaching. He is licensed to practice law in Arkansas, Florida and Illinois and is a member of the Arkansas Bar and the state Judicial Ethics Advisory Committee. He was recently selected the first Vincent Foster Professor of Legal Ethics and Professional Responsibility. He is a past member of the Governor’s Code of Ethics Commission and the Arkansas Improvement District

Commission of the state General Assembly.

Active in community service, Brill has served as chairman of the City of Fayetteville’s Civil Service Commission, has coached youth soccer and basketball and is a Sunday School teacher. He and his wife Katherine have three children, Christian, Elizabeth and Andrew.

Arkansas Women's

Where the number one priority is the female student-athlete

With the twin goals of academic and athletic excellence, the Women's Athletics Department continues to build, quite literally, upon its past record of achievements toward a bright future for female student-athletes. A separate women's athletics department is only one part of the commitment at the University of Arkansas.

This forward-looking arrangement allows the staff and coaches of the Arkansas Women's Athletics Department to address the unique needs of administration, promotion and organization of modern collegiate women's sports.

Examples of the University's commitment to women in sport are its funding and sponsorships. Arkansas sponsors 11 varsity sports for women: basketball, cross

But the most obvious example of the commitment are the facilities -- considered second to none for women's college athletics. Many are devoted exclusively to women's teams, starting with the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics.

In competition, Arkansas' broad-based program has the distinction of 10 of the 11 current varsity teams earning a national top 25 ranking at some point in the each team's history, and 10 of 11 having reached the NCAA Championships during the past five seasons.

The Proof is in the Numbers

Arkansas' academic statistics are as impressive as its athletic performances. Take a look at the department GPA and number of Lady Razorbacks named to the Spring Academic Excellence Honor Roll the past decade:

Academic Support

There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Women's Athletics Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. To achieve the goal of providing the absolute best in academic support, the department felt it was of extreme importance that female student-athletes have their own academic support personnel. Starting in 1989, the Lady Razorbacks constructed their own academic support staff, and in 1991 constructed a Women's Academic Center at Barnhill Arena. Two expansions in the Women's Academic Center followed in 1995 and 1997.

Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, a joint academic center to assist both the Men's and Women's Athletics Departments opened in August 2001 as a part of the Reynolds Razorback Stadium renovations.

The Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center features 15,000 square feet of space including state-of-the-art computer labs and interactive teaching facilities. Along with formal and informal study areas, the Bogle Center includes private tutor rooms, student life and career development resources and a multipurpose classroom. It also continues the tradition of a dedicated space devoted to the needs of female student-athletes.

Combined with the services of the Academic Support Program headed by the assistant athletic director for academic support, Deedee Brown-Campbell, the Academic Center gives Lady Razorback athletes a unique advantage in their scholarly endeavors.

Lady'Backs: Athletes & Graduates

Over the past decade, 98% of all female student-athletes who complete their four years of eligibility at the University of Arkansas leave Fayetteville with a bachelor's degree in hand.

Not only do the Lady'Backs graduate, their University of Arkansas degree allows them to step directly into their chosen career fields. Tiffany Wright (below) isn't the only example, but one of the best, as former Lady'Backs can be found in jobs around the world in a variety of fields.

In the space of one year, Tiffany Wright went from the NCAA Final Four, to Commencement (above) and on to her first full-time job as the weekend sports anchor at WLBT-TV in Jackson, Miss., and sideline analyst for ESPN's WNBA broadcasts in 1999 (left). Lady'Backs in the Community

Being a part of the north-west Arkansas community is an important part of being a Lady Razorback. This ranges from softball team visits to area nursing homes to track and field volunteer work with Race for the Cure and Special Olympics.

But that's just a small part of the Lady'Backs' community service. Players visit area schools to read to youngsters in the school library. Arkansas is a charter member of the "Bring a Girl to the Game" promotion for National Women and Girls in Sport Day.

The regional Girl Scout troops are involved in several projects, including Girl Scout Day for many team sports like basketball, volleyball and softball.

Each team has its own special way of involving itself with local youth. For example, the Lady'Back soccer team has hosted Easter egg hunts, basketball participated in visits to Arkansas Children's Hospital and softball organized free youth sports clinics.

HANNAH McLEOD

One of Arkansas' most active athletes in community service projects was recognized by the Southeastern Conference as the league's 2006 Community Service Award recipient. From volunteering with Razorbacks for Christmas (at right) to making time to participate in youth gymnastics clinics at the Fayetteville Boys and Girls Club (at left), Hannah McLeod made time in her busy training schedule to give back to the community. An honors student in premed, Hannah was one of the inaugural recruits of Arkansas' gymnastics team in 2002. A team captain, she capped her athletic career by helping Arkansas reach the NCAA Championships in the fourth year of the program. She is enrolled in the University

HURRICANE VOLUNTEERS

Providing aid and relief for hurricane victims did not start in 2005 for the Lady Razorbacks. As far back as the summer of 2000, Arkansas' male and female athletes took their commitment to others to the next level as they traveled to Honduras to assist victims of Hurricane Mitch (at right). When hurricanes lashed the American Gulf Coast, Lady'Backs were there to help again. While providing shoes and clothing from department supplies was important, the most significant contribution was the time the Lady'Backs themselves put in serving meals to evacuees living in Northwest Arkansas (at left) or simply playing with young kids to help them forget the rough times.

HAWGS: Helping Athletes Work for and Gain Success

The Women's Athletics Department's HAWGS program is designed to provide student-athletes with the education and experiences to assist them in bridging the gap from college life to professional life in the work world and also to make meaningful contributions to their communities. By virtue of their involvement in athletics, student-athletes often have a difficult time accessing campus-wide student activities, programming and experiences.

HAWGS utilizes a five-point program of learning that focuses on academic excellence, athletic excellence, personal development, service and career development.

1. Academic Excellence — To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.
2. Athletic Excellence — To build foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.
3. Personal Development — To support the development of a well-balanced life-style for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making.
4. Commitment to Service — To engage the student-athlete in service to her campus and surrounding communities.
5. Career Development — To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

The University of Arkansas athletic training staff makes up one of the top collegiate sports medicine programs in the nation. Arkansas provides both a qualified staff and the resources necessary to care for student-athletes with the most up-to-date treatment techniques to prevent and rehabilitate injuries.

The University of Arkansas' women's athletic training room staff is supervised by associate athletic director Julie Cain. Cain oversees a staff that includes two full-time assistants and six graduate assistants.

The Lady Razorbacks utilize the main training room at Barnhill Arena, as well as remote facilities at Lady'Back Field, Bud Walton Arena and the Lewis Center. At Bud Walton Arena, the Lady'Backs have immediate off-the-court access to athletic training room needs as well as use of the specially designed weight room. At Lady'Back Field, soccer has the luxury of direct access from its locker room into the athletic training room. The Lewis Center facility supports gymnastics and all-sport weight training.

Bev Lewis, Director of Women's Athletics

For almost two decades, Bev Lewis is synonymous with the University of Arkansas' Women's Athletics Department. The 2007-08 season is her 19th guiding the department, and her 27th season at the University. During her tenure as a coach and administrator, she has left her mark on the University and defined women's athletics on a state, regional and national level.

The hallmark of her tenure as the Director of Women's Athletics has been the overall excellence of her entire program. Every Lady Razorback sport has achieved a new pinnacle. A handful of the highlights include Stacy Lewis' NCAA women's golf title in 2007, gymnastics' appearance at the NCAA Championship in only its fourth season of existence, basketball reaching the Women's Final Four in 1998, four national runner-up trophies earned by cross country and national third place by track in the 2000 season.

The success of Women's Athletics is not limited to the field of competition. As a result of her strong emphasis on the classroom, Lady Razorbacks have received numerous academic honors including national academic all-American of the year, team academic national titles and the University's first two SEC/Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athletes of the Year. Over the past decade, 98% of all Lady Razorbacks who completed their four years of eligibility at Arkansas have left Fayetteville with a UA degree.

Her leadership was also a part of the success of the University's Campaign for the Twenty-First Century. Lewis directed Women's Athletics to over $11.5 million in direct support for the Lady Razorbacks including gifts for facilities like the Huntley Gymnastics Training Facility and Sutton Strength and Conditioning Center as well as more than tripling the number of named and endowed scholarships for female student-athletes.

During the Campaign, Lewis received one of her greatest personal honors as longtime University benefactors Bob and Marilyn Bogle requested that Arkansas' $6 million facility for Lady Razorbacks be named the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics. On April 9, 2003, before a standing room only crowd of family and friends, she had the honor of cutting the ribbon on the facility.

She is also a leader in the community, assisting several local and regional associations in fund-raising efforts. Her most recent appointment was to serve as the honorary chair of the Northwest Arkansas 2007 Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation Walk for the Cure. She is also a member of the Northwest Arkansas American Heart Association board of directors.

She received the Washington Regional Medical Center's Amethyst Award on behalf of the community service work done by the Women's Athletics Department and was the 2006 honorary chair for WRMC's participation in Speaking of Women's Health program. Lewis also was a member of the local Habitat for Humanity advisory board and was instrumental in the Lady Razorbacks' participation in the local American Heart Association Heart Walk and the Northwest Arkansas Komen Race for the Cure.

In 1998, she was voted into the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor by the University's letterwinners in recognition of her contributions to the Women's Athletics Department both as a coach and an administrator. In recognition of her outstanding achievements, Lewis was named to Arkansas Business magazine's "Top 100 Women in Arkansas" in 1996, 1997 and 1998. Lewis was a member of the "40 Under 40" which highlighted the achievements of business leaders in Arkansas who were under 40 years old during those same years.

Lewis served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, first with the NCAA Championship Cabinet and most recently on the NCAA Management Council. A former member of the track and field committee and its outdoor chair, she also served on the NCAA soccer committee. Lewis also served a term on the Southeastern Conference Executive Committee from 1992 to 1995.

To increase athletic participation at Arkansas for women, Lewis orchestrated the addition of four sports at the University during her tenure as athletic director. Not only providing scholarship opportunities, each new sport - volleyball, golf, softball and gymnastics -- reached its respective NCAA championship by each inaugural recruiting class' senior season.

Lewis brought national attention to Arkansas by hosting numerous SEC Championships as well as the 1994 NCAA Women's Basketball Midwest Regional, the 1994 NCAA Division I Cross Country Championship and the 2006 NCAA Gymnastics Regional. However, as a former track coach Lewis takes particular pride in the University's role in hosting the NCAA Men's and Women's Indoor Track and Field Championships for the past seven years.

Prior to assuming the duties of AD, Lewis' Lady Razorback cross country and track teams had six top 20 national finishes, and she coached Team USA at the 1990 World Junior Cross Country Championships.

Her Arkansas coaching milestones were numerous. Under her direction, cross country achieved three notable Lady Razorback firsts. On Oct. 4, 1984, her cross country team became the first Lady'Back squad to achieve a national ranking. Arkansas finished that season ranked 16th.

She added the first top 10 finish to her resume in 1986 as cross country finished 10th at the NCAA Championships and backed it up with a ninth-place finish in 1987. Her coaching was instrumental in establishing Arkansas' perfect record of sending a team or individual to every collegiate national meet since the program's inception.

Lewis also coached Arkansas' first conference championship team at the 1988 Southwest Conference Cross Country Championships. As a result, her peers voted her SWC Coach of the Year for the second year in a row. She also was named SWC Outdoor Track Coach of the Year in 1989.

Lewis earned her bachelor's degree from Central Michigan in 1979 and followed it with her master's from Purdue prior to her arrival at Arkansas in 1981.

Her husband, Harley, former athletic director at the University of Montana and a former assistant director of championships with the NCAA, works with the University as a director of development.

A behind-the-scenes worker by nature, Bev Lewis found herself the center of attention on April 9, 2003, with the ribbon cutting and dedication of the Lady Razorbacks' new Lewis Center for Women's Athletics.

Arkansas Traditions

Why Razorbacks?

Arkansas' athletic teams have not always been called the Razorbacks. During the early years of its athletic history, the Cardinal served as the University nickname.

A lot of things changed in 1909, however, when Arkansas football coach Hugo Bezdek called his players "a wild band of Razorback hogs," after guiding his team to a 16-0 victory over Louisiana State on October 30, 1909.

Alluding to the Razorback, characterized by a ridge back and tenacious, wild fighting ability, Bezdek never forgot this idea and often called his team "a fighting band of Razorbacks."

This new nickname became increasingly popular and the student body voted to change the official University mascot from the Cardinal to the Razorbacks in 1910.

In the 1920s, "Wooo, Pig, Sooie" was added as the school yell, referred to more commonly today as the "Hog Call."

Why Lady Razorbacks?

From its inception in 1971, the Women's Athletics Department was an independent unit at the University of Arkansas. To emphasize its separate identity, the Arkansas Women's Athletics Department continues to use "Lady" in its nickname. While some consider it progressive to drop "Lady," Arkansas employs it as a marketing and identification tool.

The UA Alma Mater

Pure as the dawn on the brow
of thy beauty,
Watches thy Soul
from the mountains of God.
Over the fates of thy children departed,
Far from the land
where their footsteps have trod.
Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted,
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true.
From those who adore unto one who adores us,
Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.

What's a Lady'Back?

The use of the contraction "Lady'Back" as a second reference for the Lady Razorbacks was adopted in 1989 along with a new departmental logo. Not unlike the evolution of "Razorback" as a mascot, the term "Lady'Back" had been used by fans and headline writers for several years.

A Proper Hog Call

A chant of "Woo Pig Sooie" is known worldwide as a Hog Call. Just like any good tradition, there are lots of versions of the Hog Call (even spellings).

A properly executed Hog Call is composed of three "calls," slowly raising one's arms from the knees to above the head during the "Woo." Traditionalists prescribe an eight second "Woo." The fingers should be wiggled and the "Woo" should build in volume and pitch as the arms rise.

Upon completion of the "Woo," both arms are brought straight down with fists clinched as if executing a chin-up while yelling, "Pig". The right arm is extended up and out with the "Sooie."

A full Hog Call -- the kind one will always hear victorious Lady'Back teams execute after contests -- requires two more Hog Calls, followed immediately by a "Razor-Backs" yell, coordinated with a pumping motion of the right arm after the third "Sooie." So, in order, the full Hog Call is:

Woooooo. Pig. Sooie!
Woooooo. Pig. Sooie!
Woooooo. Pig. Sooie!
Razorbacks!
(or Lady'Backs!)

The Hog Hat

It is true; no Razorback fan's closet is complete without an official Hog Hat. The hard plastic hat with a long snout, rough razorback ridges across the top and wickedly sharp, pointed curly-cue tail is undoubtedly the most recognized piece of fan apparel in college athletics. Just ask ESPN GameDay's Kirk Herbstreit as he dons the traditional Hog Hat.

Where the dreams of young girls

become the achievements of young women

The Lady Razorback Museum

Considered the nation's first on-campus museum dedicated solely to the achievements of female student-athletes, the Lady Razorback Museum opened to rave reviews in 1999. Located in the north lobby of Barnhill Arena, the 9,000-seat home of Arkansas volleyball and gymnastics, it features all eleven women's sports. The museum highlights the individual and team champions at the University of Arkansas during the three decades of varsity competition. The display is more than trophies. The academic achievements of female student-athletes, Arkansas' numerous statewide NCAA Woman of the Year recipients and the role of athletes as leaders in the community are highlighted.

The major displays of the museum are its Wall of Champions, celebrating the achievement of Arkansas' women on the conference and national level, and the Great Moments Theater, a DVD interactive theater filled with highlights of the first three decades of Arkansas women's athletics.

The giant photo mural titled "Celebration" which rings the Great Moments Theater and the department's welcoming message to visitors have become the signature displays of the museum.

"The initial goal was to enhance our recruiting," UA Director of Women's Athletics

Bev Lewis said at the dedication, "but we soon found that we were tapping into something so obvious for men and so overlooked for women."

"It is so natural for a boy to walk into the backyard with his bat or his ball and imagine himself the hero. It's because he can look on the television or read in the paper or go to a museum and see men achieving success. What we created was a special place where young girls can come and see women that are larger than life; women who have dreamed the dream and achieved it."

Within months after the museum's opening, the Lady Razorbacks added a new feature. A page on the Arkansas women's athletics website, www.ladybacks.com, was constructed and features pictures of nearly every display so visitors can experience the ambiance even from the comfort of their own home.

At the entrance to the museum, the Lady Razorbacks have included this message to explain the purpose and intent of the museum.

Welcome to the University of Arkansas Women's Athletics Department, where the dreams of little girls come true. Where future doctors and lawyers, mothers and partners learn the strength of teamwork, the power of their determination, and the glory of achieving their goals.

Here we celebrate those women who chose this place to live their dreams, to realize their goals, and to achieve greatness.

This space is dedicated to those young girls who will come with that twinkle in their eye; To see the past in hopes that they will learn that this is where they can come to build their future.

Welcome to a special place, where every person from the coaches to the trainers; from the tutors to the fans have only one goal in their hearts: Transforming the dreams of little girls into the achievements of women.

Welcome to the Home of the Lady Razorbacks.

Sutton Strength & Conditioning Center

Perhaps Arkansas' women's track and field coach Lance Harter said it best -- "There is no facility for female athletes like it in America."

The former Olympic assistant and two-time World Championships head coach for USAT&F knows something about world-class training facilities.

Perhaps the largest strength and conditioning facility devoted exclusively to collegiate female athletes in the country, the Lewis Center houses the 7,000-square-foot Sutton Strength Center, designed for the physiology of female athletes. It brings together under one roof Olympic weights, plyometric training, aerobic equipment and selectorized weight lifting machines.

NO FEAR

Former track all-American April Steiner built the strength she needed to capture NBC's Thanksgiving Fear Factor title in the Sutton Strength Center.

The Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics

The first athletic building purpose-built to the needs of female student-athletes at the University of Arkansas, the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics represents a hallmark in the history of both the University and the state.

Made possible by the lead gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the Bogles had only one request: that the name of the proposed Center for Women's Athletics reflect the accomplishments of the University's longtime coach and Women's AD Bev Lewis.

As a result, the gift helped create one of the finest training facilities in the nation for female college athletes.

Construction began in December 2001 with site preparation. Portions of the facility opened during January and February of 2003 with the formal dedication on April 9, 2003.

From the custom-made lifting stations highlighting the Lady Razorback logo (below) in the Sutton Strength and Conditioning Center to the one-of-a-kind layout of the 15,000-square foot Huntley Gymnastics Practice Facility (shown in photo panorama below), the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics lives up to its name as the focus of the University of Arkansas' female student-athletes.

Devoted to the exclusive training of the 11 Lady'Back teams, the 7,000-square foot Sutton Strength and Conditioning Center mixes the best in free weight stations with ample open space for plyometric and other types of conditioning (left).

Lady'Back Field

The University of Arkansas has always been pro-active when it comes to women's athletics, and the lifespan of Lady'Back Field is a tribute to that stance. When it was constructed in 1992, Lady'Back Field was the first collegiate soccer field in the country that was dedicated solely to the use of a women's team. To this day it remains one of a handful of such fields.

With improvements planned following its construction, a field house was built to house locker rooms for both participating teams, and lights were erected to allow the Lady'Backs to practice and play at any time.

Arguably the best pitch in the Southeastern Conference, for facilities and playing surface, the field was the host for the 1994 SEC Championship Tournament and was the first field to televise a women's soccer match in the SEC.

Completed for the 1999 season were several improvements, including wrought-iron fencing around the field, a ticket booth and permanent professional-style players' benches.

Following the 1999 soccer campaign, construction of a new stadium to accommodate the growing fan base at Lady'Back Field began. The spring of 2001 saw the stadium seat 1,500 spectators, including chair-back seating for season-ticket holders as well as fully functional press facilities, television and radio booths and a VIP hospitality area.

Lady'Back Field looks to undergo another facelift in the near future as the field house will be renovated to accommodate the technologies of the next 10 years. Included in those plans are a team meeting room, new medical area and the expansion of the current locker room.
