In the ever-changing world of collegiate athletics, the tradition of excellence in the Southeastern Conference has remained constant. The SEC boasts a rich history and has dominated track and field like no other conference.

2010 SEC Men’s Indoor Track & Field

For a second consecutive season, the SEC was represented by nine teams at the NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships in Fayetteville. The Florida Gators claimed the team title with LSU (4th), Arkansas (5th) and South Carolina (t-8th) all finishing inside the top 10. The other five teams that competed were—in order of finish—Auburn, Ole Miss, Georgia, Alabama and Kentucky. At the SEC Indoor Track and Field Championships, Arkansas won its sixth team title in a row and its 17th conference crown since joining the SEC in 1992. The Razorbacks' Dorian Ulrey and Chris Bucknam claimed SEC Men's Runner and Coach of the Year, respectively, while Walter Henning of LSU was tabbed as the SEC Field Athlete of the Year. The SEC Freshman Runner of the Year went to Alabama’s Kirani James and the SEC Freshman Field Athlete of the Year was Ole Miss’ Ricky Robertson.

2010 SEC Men’s Outdoor Track & Field

At the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships in Eugene, Ore., the SEC had all 11 of its men’s program’s competing among the nation’s elite. Florida came away with a runner-up finish, one point from the top spot. Top-20 finishes also went to LSU (6th), South Carolina (11th), Kentucky (13th) and Mississippi State (t-17th). Florida began championship season with a team victory at the SEC Outdoor Track and Field Championships in Knoxville, Tenn. The SEC Men's Coach of the Year went to Florida’s Mike Holloway. Ole Miss’ Barnabus Kirui was named the SEC Runner of the Year and Florida’s Christian Taylor earned SEC Field Athlete of the Year. Kirani James of Alabama and Ricky Robertson of Ole Miss claimed SEC Freshman Runner and Field Athlete of the Year, respectively.

With five 2009 All-Americans featured on its 2010 roster, the University of Arkansas men’s track and field team began its indoor campaign under second-year head coach Chris Bucknam with a No. 5 ranking in the pre-season U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches’ Association (USTFCCCA) poll.

The Razorbacks opened its season by hosting the Arkansas Invitational at the Randal Tyson Track Center and picked up six event wins along the way. Scott MacPherson won the mile by crossing the line in a personal-best time of 4:08.22 to lead the Razorbacks as they placed six in the top seven of the race. In the 800 meters, Dorian Ulrey took home first place in a time of 1:52.32 as Leoman Momoh followed in third.

In their Razorback debuts, Omar Abdi and Aaron Hamilton came away with victories in the 1,000 meters and 3,000-meter race, respectively. Abdi led the way as Arkansas took the top four spots in the race. Other wins during the meet came from Terry Prentice in the shot put and Brandon Heeger in the weight throw.

The following week, Arkansas hosted Texas in an indoor dual meet in Fayetteville. With the head-to-head format, the Razorbacks picked up eight individual wins and a title in the distance medley relay on their way to an 88-81 triumph over the Longhorns.

Arkansas swept the running events from 200 meters to the 5K and added the victory in the DMR to cap the meet. Cobi Hamilton made his track debut with a win in the 200 meters in a time of 21.25. Ben Skidmore took first in the 400 meters with a personal-best clocking and Chris Bilbrew continued the wins in the 800 meters.

Ulrey and MacPherson claimed their second wins in as many weeks with first-place results in the mile and 3,000 meters, respectively. Lane Boyer closed out the individual wins on the track when he crossed first in the 5,000 meters. The quartet of Scott Gillespie, Jake Stephens, Rob Redwine and Michael Chinchar teamed to win the DMR in a time of 10:10.05.

In the field events, Brede Ellingsen won the high jump with a clearance of 6-10.75 and Tarik Batchelor won the triple jump. Batchelor and Alain Bailey also picked up provisional-qualifying marks in the long jump.

For their respective efforts, Hamilton and MacPherson were recognized by the Southeastern Conference with weekly honors—Hamilton as the top freshman and MacPherson as the Runner of the Week.

At the two-day Razorback Invitational, Prentice set the school record with 5,350 points in the heptathlon competition. His total was also a provisional mark for the NCAA Championships. Along the way he recorded personal bests in the high jump, pole vault and 1,000 meters.

Another provisional qualifying performance came from Drew Butler who finished second in the championship heat of the 800 meters. He crossed in a personal-best time of 1:50.15, the top time by a freshman in the nation at that point in the season.

Following his showing at the Razorback Invitational, Butler was named the SEC Freshman of the Week.

On day one of the Texas A&M Challenge in College Station, Texas, the Razorbacks’ DMR consisting of Butler, Skidmore, Bilbrew and Ulrey clocked a time of 9:33.12, an NCAA provisional qualifier. Ulrey returned the following day to lead a 1-4-5 finish for the Razorbacks in the 3,000 meters. All three Arkansas runners—Ulrey, MacPherson and Boyer—dipped below the NCAA provisional time in the race.

The team traveled to New York, N.Y., the following week to compete at the New Balance Collegiate Invitational at the Armory Track Center. Ulrey and Butler ran to a 1-2 finish in the championship heat of the 1,000 meters. Ulrey's time of 2:21.56 established a new facility and meet record, and was two seconds off the collegiate record.

Bailey improved upon his qualifying mark in the long jump and Ellingsen matched his season-best clearance of 7-0.25 in the high jump, also an NCAA provisional mark. Patrick Russell picked up a win as he crossed first in the collegiate mile with a personal-best time of 4:07.17.

With an elite crop of competitors at the Tyson Invitational, Ulrey and Bailey responded with NCAA automatic qualifiers in their respective events. Running for the collegiate record in the mile, Ulrey finished just off the pace with his time of 3:57.80. Bailey, competing in the invitational flight of the long jump, won the event with an auto mark of 26-2.75.

Arkansas continued to rack up provisional qualifiers. In the 5K, MacPherson, Haile and Eric Fernandez all finished under the NCAA provisional-qualifying time of 14:10. Batchelor improved his mark in the long jump with a 25-7.25 effort and a fourth-place finish.

MacPherson continued his strong weekend the next day with another NCAA qualifier, this time with a second-place showing in the 3,000 meters. Hamilton broke through to pick up his first provisional mark of the season with a 21.16 in the 200 meters.

With an automatic-qualifying jump under his belt, Bailey was named the SEC Field Athlete of the Week for his performance in the long jump at the Tyson Invitational.

The championship season began with Arkansas hosting the league’s best at the SEC Indoor Championships in Fayetteville. In what proved to be an exciting weekend of action, the Razorbacks treated their home fans with a championship finish, claiming the program’s 17th SEC indoor crown and its second under the direction of Bucknam.

Two event wins on the second day of competition put the wheels in motion as Ulrey captured the 3,000-meter race for the second consecutive season and Bailey won his second SEC long jump title. In the 3K event, the Razorbacks came away with 30 points on the heels of five runners placing in the top six. Ulrey became the first runner to win back-to-back SEC 3K titles since Arkansas’ Alistair Cragg in 2003-04.

Bailey became one of just four student-athletes to win two career SEC long jump crowns since 1992. He was backed up by Batchelor who grabbed a runner-up finish in the long jump. The points continued in the field events as Ellingsen finished fourth in the high jump. Also on day two, Matt Kirbos contributed to the team’s cause.
with a fifth-place result in the heptathlon.

The victories continued on the final day of the conference meet as Ulrey earned his second of three titles with a championship run in the mile, crossing the line in a time of 4:02.56 and leading a 1-4-8 finish for the Razorbacks. MacPherson won his second career SEC individual title, and his first indoor championship, when he took the tape in the 5,000 meters, Arkansas' first win in the event since Peter Kosgei in 2006.

In the final event of the day, the DMR quartet of Chinchar, Butler, Ulrey and Andrew Pennington combined for a winning time of 9:48.92 Ulrey finished the meet as the top scorer with 22.5 points and was awarded the Commissioner's Trophy.

The win gave Arkansas its 29th conference indoor title, 17th SEC indoor team title, 94th conference team title overall (cross country, indoor and outdoor) and its 49th SEC team title overall.

When the SEC postseason awards were announced Bucknam had been named the league's male Coach of the Year while Ulrey claimed Runner of the Year accolades. Both won the awards the previous season, too.

At the Arkansas Last Chance meet, Caleb Cross clocked a personal-best and improved NCAA provisional qualifier of 7.78 in the finals of the 60-meter hurdles. His time made him the second-fastest on the program’s all-time list.

Eleven Razorbacks were named to the 2010 SEC All-SEC Indoor Track and Field teams. Bailey, Butler, Chinchar, MacPherson, Pennington and Ulrey all earned first-team honors. Batchelor and Haile were named to the second team while Cross, Fernandez, Haile and Kirbos were selected to the All-Freshman Team.

Postseason honors continued for Bucknam and Ulrey, this time at the regional level as the USTFCCCA named Bucknam the South Central Men’s Head Coach of the Year and Ulrey was touted as the South Central Men’s Track Athlete of the Year.

Represented by six individuals and its distance medley relay team, Arkansas closed out its indoor season with the NCAA Championships at the Randal Tyson Track Center in Fayetteville. The Razorbacks turned in a fifth-place team finish with 38 points behind two national championship performances from Bailey and Ulrey.

On day one, Bailey won his first career NCAA long jump title and Batchelor was strong with a bronze finish. In a thrilling DMR race that wasn’t settle until the final home stretch, the Razorbacks came away with second place.

Ulrey, the anchor leg of the DMR, regrouped the following day to win his first individual NCAA title with a victory in the 3,000 meters. He crossed in a time of 8:10.52.

All told, Arkansas finished the season with nine All-America honors—Bailey (1st, long jump), Batchelor (3rd, long jump), Bilbrew (2nd, DMR), Butler (2nd, DMR), Cross (10th, 60m hurdles), Ellingsen (5th, high jump), Skidmore (2nd, DMR) and Ulrey (1st, 3,000 meters/2nd, DMR)—spread among eight student-athletes.
The 2010 outdoor season saw the Razorbacks split for the opening weekend of competition. The distance crew traveled to California for the Stanford Invitational while the remaining members of the team competed at the Razorback Spring Invitational at McDonnell Field.

Running in the first collegiate 10K races of their careers, Eric Fernandez and Solomon Haile placed third and sixth, respectively, in the top-seeded race at Stanford. Lane Boyer finished ninth in the 10,000-meter race with a personal-best time of 28:52.25. Duncan Phillips, in his first race in more than a year, ran to a 10th-place finish in the 1,500 meters.

Back in Fayetteville, Justin Holmes and Luke Laird picked up a pair of runner-up finishes in their respective events. Holmes was second in the discus as his best throw of the day measured 164-4. Laird opened his season with a 209-11 in the javelin, good for a silver finish. In the hammer throw, Brandon Heeger posted a school record toss of 149-4 for a third-place showing.

On the track, the Razorbacks got a win from Omar Abdi in the season-opening 800 meters. Rio Reina turned in a runner-up effort in the 3,000 meters while LaShawn Butler (100m), Caleb Cross (110m hurdles) and the 4x400-meter relay all posted third-place results.

Arkansas went on to capture the program’s 19th 4x1,500-meter title at the 2010 Texas Relays in Austin. The quartet of Abdi, Scott Gillespie, Patrick Russell and Michael Chinchar combined for the winning time of 15:26.43. The win marked the Razorbacks’ 12th-consecutive title in the event and raised Arkansas’ Texas Relays titles total to 56.

In other relay action, the 4x800-meter relay team of Abdi, Phillips, Drew Butler and Chris Bilbrew picked up a third-place finish with a time of 7:30.87. Competing in their first collegiate decathlons, Terry Prentice and Matt Kirbos finished 14th and 18th, respectively, in the Texas Relays field.

Returning to their home track the following weekend, the Razorbacks captured three event titles at the John McDonnell Invitational. Brede Raa Ellingsen won the high jump with a clearance of 7-1 while LaShawn Butler turned in a winning run of 21.02 in the 200 meters. He was also third in the 100 meters. In the field, Heeger took home the top prize in the hammer throw by improving his own school record with a toss of 162-8.

Arkansas’ 4x400-meter relay team of Bilbrew, Cross, Chris Muncie and Ben Skidmore finished second with a season-best clocking of 3:10.71. Cross, in his signature event, was fourth in the 110-meter hurdles.

For his efforts at the McDonnell Invitational, Cross was named the SEC Freshman of the Week for the first weekly accolade of his Razorback career.

In an outdoor dual meet with Texas on the Longhorns’ home track, the Razorbacks collected four event titles but came up short in the head-to-head matchup. Arkansas’ win came in the first four events of the day as Heeger (hammer throw), Laird (javelin), Alain Bailey (long jump) and Rick Elliott (steeplechase) put the team ahead early. Arkansas also received a boost from Ellingsen who finished first in the high jump.

On the opening night of Penn Relays, the Razorbacks took to the track for the historic distance carnival. Fernandez was Arkansas’ top finisher in the 5,000 meters with a seventh-place showing and Elliott finished eighth in the championship heat of the 3,000-meter steeplechase.

The field events picked up the slack for Arkansas beginning with a second-place finish from Bailey in the long jump. Holmes was seventh overall in the discus with a day’s best mark of 166-0. To close out the weekend’s competition, Ellingsen came away with a bronze finish in the championship flight of the high jump with his final clearance coming at 7-1.

Arkansas wrapped its home schedule with the Arkansas Twilight in which the team collected three event wins while the relay crews posted a pair of personal-best times. Bailey continued his hot streak in the long jump with a winning leap of 25-9.25. Also in the field, Laird launched his javelin to a mark of 208-1 to secure the event title.

On the track, the 4x400-meter relay quartet of Cross, Butler, Bilbrew and Skidmore clocked a season-best time of 3:08.46 on its way to a victory. The 4x100-meter relay, comprised of Cross, Bailey, Butler and David Gordon, passed the baton around the track in a season-best time of 40.84, good for a second-place finish. Cross was also second in the 110-meter hurdles with a personal-best time of 13.90.

Bailey and Cross were recognized by the SEC following the Arkansas Twilight. Bailey was named the SEC Male Field Athlete of the Week and Cross earned Freshman of the Week honors.

The championship season got underway at the SEC Outdoor Championships in Knoxville, Tenn. Haile scored the first points of the meet for Arkansas with his fourth-place finish in the 10K race. Fernandez followed in seventh place to give the team more points. Despite a miscue in the pole vault, Prentice held on for an eighth-place finish in the decathlon.

The Razorbacks got a big boost from Bailey who captured his third straight outdoor title in the event. His winning jump measured at 27-4.75 and, at the time, was the world-leading mark. More points came from Elliott, who used a six-second personal best to finish fifth in the 3,000-meter steeplechase.

On the final day of competition at the conference meet, Ellingsen earned a runner-up finish in the high jump with a clearance of 7-1.5. Fernandez returned to the track to collected a third-place result in the 5,000 meters.

Other points on the last day came from Batchelor (4th, triple jump), Haile, (5th, 5,000m), Chinchar (5th, 1,500m), Phillips (6th, 1,500m), Pennington (7th, 110m hurdles), Hunter Bourke (6th, 400m hurdles) Stuart Sparks (5th, pole vault) and the 4x400 relay of Cross, Butler, Bilbrew and Skidmore (7th). The Razorbacks finished the meet in seventh place with 64 points.

On the heels of his performance at the SEC Championships, Bailey was named to the Bowerman Award watch list, an award presented annually by the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches’ Association to the top male and female collegiate track and field performer of the season.

Arkansas earned six All-SEC honors when the first wave of postseason awards was announced. Bailey was named to the first team for this showing in the long jump at the conference meet while Ellingsen collected second-team accolades. Fernandez, Haile, Bourke and Kirbos were all named to the SEC All-Freshman Team.
2010 OUTDOOR REVIEW

The Razorbacks were represented by 18 student-athletes in 13 events at the NCAA West preliminary rounds in Austin. The growth of the team’s relay was evident as both the 4x100-meter (Bourke, Butler, Cross and Cobi Hamilton) and 4x400-meter (Bilbrew, Butler, Cross and Skidmore) relays advanced to the opening rounds of the NCAA Championships for the first time since the 2005 season. Butler also advanced in the 200 meters while Skidmore competed in the 400 meters. Cross and Pennington qualified for the 110-meter hurdle heats.

In the distance events, Chinchar and Russell competed in the 1,500 meters, Elliott ran in the steeplechase event and Fernandez, Haile and Boyer were entered into the 10,000-meter race.

In the field events, Batchelor and Prentice earned spots in the long jump with Batchelor also qualifying for the triple jump prelims. Ellingsen and Laird were both named to the pool in their respective events of the high jump and javelin. Bailey, though ranked No. 1 in the long jump, did not compete due to injury.

At the NCAA West Prelims, the Razorbacks advanced five competitors in three events to the NCAA Outdoor Championships. Batchelor qualified for the national meet with a sixth-place finish in the long jump, Butler finished 12th overall in the 200 meters with a season-best time of 20.80 to advance to the national meet and the 4x100 relay clocked a season-best time of 39.95 to punch its ticket to Eugene, Ore.

The 4x100 relay was the first to compete at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. The foursome finished sixth in its heat and 20th overall in the semifinals. Butler closed out his season the following day with an eighth-placing showing in his semifinal heat of the 200 meters. The Razorbacks’ collegiate season came to a close on the final day of competition with Batchelor in the long jump. The sophomore finished the day in 19th place.

With the collegiate season over, Cross, Leoman Moh and Travis Southard continued on to the USA Junior Championships in Des Moines, Iowa. Competing at the junior-hurdle height, Cross won the Junior National title in the 110-meter hurdles in a time of 13.64, securing his spot with Team USA at the World Junior Championships.

In the junior decathlon, current freshman Kevin Lazas earned a runner-up finish with a total of 7,291 points. He also earned a spot with Team USA on the strength of his performance. At the World Junior Championships in Moncton, Canada, Cross and Lazas were joined by current freshman Raymond Higgs who was representing his native Bahamas in the high jump and long jump.

Cross sailed through the first two rounds of qualifying and advanced to the finals of the 110-meter hurdles. He finished second in his semifinal flight. In the World Junior Championship finals, Cross was thrown off by a late hurdle mishap but still crossed in fifth place with a time of 13.86 as the lone American in the race.

Away from the track, the Razorbacks performed well in the classroom. Boyer was named a CoSIDA Academic All-District performer and went on to be considered for Academic All-America honors. Boyer was also one of 14 track and field team members to earn a spot on the 2010 SEC Spring Academic Honor Roll. He was joined by Chinchar, Fernandez, Gillespie, Aaron Hamilton, Heeger, Holmes, Laird, Scott MacPherson, Pennington, Phillips, Rob Redwin, Skidmore and Dorian Ulrey.

Named to the 2010 SEC Freshman Academic Honor Roll were Cross, Jordan Bryant and Seth Haynes. The USTFCCCA also honored four Razorbacks—Boyer, Ellingsen, Laird and Pennington—with selection to the group’s All-Academic Team.

Entering his third season as the head coach of the University of Arkansas men’s track and field program, Chris Bucknam welcomes back seven All-Americans from last year’s team that repeated as Southeastern Conference indoor champions and features a roster of seven seniors, including six-time All-American Dorian Ulrey.

Joining Ulrey as senior leaders in 2011 are Chris Bilbrew, Lane Boyer, LaShawn Butler, Michael Chinchar, Luke Laird and Patrick Russell. It’s a group that has experienced success at the conference, regional and national levels which will go a long way in helping shape the indoor and outdoor campaign for this year’s Razorbacks.

“As with the start of any new season, we’re all excited and ready to get back to action,” Bucknam said. “We had a good indoor season last year with the SEC title and top-five finish at the NCAA Championships but our outdoor season didn’t meet our expectations so we’re anxious to put our training from the fall to the test.”

Ulrey, who returns for the outdoor season only, is the reigning NCAA indoor champion at 3,000 meters. The last time he competed outdoors was during the 2009 season in which he capped a sensational year with a trip to the IAAF World Championships in Berlin as a member of Team USA. During that collegiate season, he picked up his first outdoor All-America honor as a Razorback with a fourth-place finish in the 1,500 meters.

Chinchar is two-time All-SEC performer and past regional qualifier. He has also been a member of Arkansas’ last two SEC champion distance-medley relay teams. In Boyer and Russell, the team has an SEC Championships scorer and yet another strong distance presence that helped Arkansas to the 4x1,500-meter title at last year’s Texas Relays.

Bilbrew returns for his senior season after capturing his first career All-America honor last season as a part of the distance-medley relay that ran to a silver finish at the NCAA Indoor Championships.

“We glad to have Dorian back for his last (outdoor) season as a Razorback,” Bucknam said. “He’s proven himself to be a tremendous competitor and leader and you know when he steps on the track, he’s going to give you everything he’s got because that’s the type of person and runner he is.”

The Razorbacks will also receive a boost from its young crop of runners which includes All-SEC performers Eric Fernandez and Solomon Haile. Last season, both runners were members of the conference’s all-freshman team during the indoor and outdoor seasons while Haile also collected second-team honors for his performance in the 3,000 meters at the SEC Indoor Championships. Fernandez and Haile also were crucial components of Arkansas’ success this past cross country season.

Returning to the track last season after more than a year’s absence, Duncan Phillips brings a wealth of success and experience to the team. He is a two-time All-American, SEC champion and a two-time all-conference performer.

The Razorbacks’ sprint crew is intact as all eight legs of the 4x100-meter and 4x400-meter relays that advanced to the NCAA West preliminary rounds are back in an Arkansas jersey. Butler, a member of both relays last season, also qualified for the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the 200 meters. He’ll be joined by Caleb Cross who also pulled double duty last season with the relays and hurdle events. Cross experienced a tremendous summer as he won the USA Junior national title in the 110-meter hurdles and advanced to the World Junior Championships as a part of Team USA.

Arkansas also looks forward to the return of Marek Niit who redshirted during both indoor and outdoor seasons last year. Cobi Hamilton, a two-sport standout for the University of Arkansas, is also expected to continue his contributions to the Razorbacks’ speed.

In the field, the departure of multiple-time All-American and SEC champion Alain Bailey will leave a hole that could be filled by Laird, the 2008 SEC champion in the javelin, Tarik Batchelor, a 2010 All-American and All-SEC performer in the long jump or Brede Raa Ellingsen, a 2010 All-American and SEC Outdoor runner-up in the high jump.

Terry Prentice and Matt Kirbos helped bring attention to Arkansas’ multi-event competitors with their respective performances last year. Prentice replaced the program’s heptathlon record last season with 5,350 points over the seven-event competition at the indoor Razorback Invitational. Kirbos added SEC All-Freshman honors to his resume with showing in the decathlon at the SEC Outdoor Championships.

“I think we have a good mix of youth and experience this year,” Bucknam said. “Even in our younger guys, we have a group that did a lot for us last year and experienced a lot of things so this team has seen a lot that will help as this season goes on.”

The summer experience of international competition also had an impact on current freshmen Raymond Higgs and Kevin Lazas, both of which joined Cross at the World Junior Championships. Lazas was the USA Junior national runner-up in the decathlon while Higgs represented his native Bahamas in the high jump and long jump.

The indoor season begins with three-straight home meets at the Randal Tyson Track Center: the Arkansas Invitational on Fri., Jan. 7; the Arkansas vs. Texas Dual Meet on Fri., Jan. 14; and the Razorback Invitational on Jan. 28-29. Arkansas will travel to New York for the New Balance Collegiate Invitational at the Armory Track Center on Feb. 4-5. Arkansas will host the annual Tyson Invitational Feb.11-12.

“Like I’ve said in the past, we’re lucky to have the best indoor track facility in the U.S. right here in Fayetteville,” Bucknam said. “We definitely enjoy competing at home in front of our fans and we have the SEC Championships again this year so there will be a lot of excitement for the Northwest Arkansas area and track and field community as we go through the season and build toward that meet.”

The championship season begins with the Razorbacks hosting the SEC Championships on Feb. 25-27 at the Randal Tyson Track Center. Arkansas will have a final opportunity to qualify for post-season competition at the Arkansas Last Chance on Fri., March 4. The indoor season will culminate with the NCAA Championships on March 11-12 at Texas A&M University in College Station, Texas.

The outdoor season starts March 25 with the Arkansas vs. Texas vs. UCLA meet in Austin, Texas on Fri., March 25. A group will also compete March 25-26 at the Stanford Invitational in Palo Alto, Calif. Arkansas will host the Razorback Spring Invitational at John McDonnell Field on Sat., April 2. The Texas Relays will be held April 6-9 in Austin, Texas. The Mt. SAC Relays will be held April 14-15 in Walnut, Calif. The Razorbacks return home to host the John McDonnell Invitational on Sat., April 23. The weekend of April 28-30 will be split between the Penn Relays in Philadelphia, Pa. and the Cardinal Invitational at Stanford. The final regular season meet will be the Arkansas Twilight on Fri., May 6 in Fayetteville.

The University of Georgia will host the SEC Championships on May 12-15 in Athens, Ga. In Eugene, Ore., the Razorbacks will compete at the NCAA West preliminary rounds on May 26-28. The outdoor season will wrap with the NCAA Championships on June 8-11 in Des Moines, Iowa. Drake University will host the event.

In his first season as head coach, Arkansas student-athletes won 10 SEC individual titles and earned 16 All-America honors.

Since joining the SEC in 1992, the Razorbacks have the only two coaches--Bucknam and John McDonnell--to earn top coaching honors during their respective first seasons in the league. At the 2009 SEC Outdoor Championships, Arkansas student-athletes picked up six individual titles: Bailey (high jump and long jump), Shawn Forrest (5,000 meters), MacPherson (3,000-meter steeplechase), Alex McClary (800 meters) and Ulrey (1,500 meters). Doug Case is in his third season as an Arkansas assistant coach, charged with the Razorback sprinters, relay teams and pole vault. The 2010-11 season will be his 20th coaching at the collegiate level.

The 2010 season saw Case’s student-athletes qualify for the NCAA prelims in the 4x100 meter and 4x400-meter relay for the first time since the 2005 season. LaShawn Butler also competed at the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the 200 meters.

Hurdler Caleb Cross was Case’s biggest success story of 2010. The freshman from Newport, Ark., earned All-America honors in the 60-meter hurdles indoors and in the 4x100-meter and 4x400-meter relays, indoors and out. Cross’ best indoor time of 7.78 ranks No. 2 in Arkansas school history. His best outdoor time of 13.90 ranks No. 10 in Arkansas school history.

During the summer months of 2010, Cross won the USA Junior title in the 110-meter hurdles with a time of 13.64. He earned a spot on Team USA at the World Junior Championships, in Moncton, New Brunswick, Canada. Cross successfully made it to the finals after clocking times of 13.56 in the prelims and 13.72 in the semifinals. In the finals, he finished fifth with a time of 13.86.

In his first season in Fayetteville, Case’s student-athletes earned two All-America honors, an NCAA Mideast 800-meter title, seven Mideast All-Region honors, an SEC Indoor title and four All-SEC honors.

Chris Bilbrew won the 800-meter title at the NCAA Mideast Regional Championships. Ben Skidmore ran the 400-meter leg of the distance medley relay that set a new school record and earned runner-up honors at the NCAA Championships.

In the Arkansas record books, Case’s student-athletes clocked the No. 6 indoor 200-meter time (20.90), the No. 10 indoor 4x400-meter time (3:09.02), the No. 10 outdoor 200-meter time (20.78) and the No.5 outdoor 4x100-meter relay time (39.43).

As UNI’s assistant coach, Case’s sprinters and pole vaulters earned 43 All-America honors, including national championships in the 800 meters and the pole vault, and 68 NCAA Division I national meet qualifiers. UNI sprinters and vaulters dominated the Missouri Valley Conference over the last eight years, crowning 97 individual and relay conference champions. At the 2008 NCAA Indoor Championships, UNI’s Tyler Mulder took the half-mile title with a time of 1:49.20.

When it comes to the pole vault, Case built UNI into a national leader in the event. He developed three of the greatest vaulters in MVC history in Jacob Pauli, Andre Poljanec and Jarno Kivioja, a trio that claimed 12 MVC championships and eight All-America honors from 1999 to 2007.

Both Pauli, who claimed the pole vault NCAA title at the 2001 NCAA Indoor Championships and Poljanec competed at the 2007 IAAF World Championships in Osaka, Japan. Pauli, who owns UNI’s indoor and outdoor school records, also took third at the 2007 USA Outdoor Nationals.

In 2007, the Panthers finished 1-2-3 and took four of the top five spots in the MVC indoor pole vault and then claimed four of the top six spots at the outdoor conference meet. Kivioja claimed his second straight Missouri Valley indoor title, while Poljanec took the outdoor crown for the third consecutive season.

Poljanec earned the third All-America honor of his career at the NCAA Indoor Championships and was the nation’s No. 1-ranked vaulter outdoors heading into regional competition. Kivioja concluded his career with a berth in the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

In all, Case’s sprinters set school records in 10 events since 2001, including the 7.81-second effort by Jarrel Anderson in the 60-meter hurdles in 2007. He also guided Dirk Homewood to a career that included four All-America honors and school records in the 200 meters and 400 meters, both indoors and outdoors.

Prior to his return to UNI, Case spent three seasons as the men’s head coach at Drake University. Under his guidance, Drake set three school records during the indoor season and its distance medley relay team placed ninth at the NCAA Championships.

Additionally, Yuri Litvinski also picked up a fourth-place finish and All-America honors with a triple jump of 53-2.5.

At the 2008 NCAA Indoor Championships, UNI was the only school to qualify two athletes for each of the multi-event competitions. Cepeda and Mat Clark each tallied All-America efforts in the decathlon, while Oamen notched another All-America status in the high jump.

High jumpers Oamen and Julian Morris both qualified for 2008 NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships with Oamen finishing third and sixth, respectively.

Joe Falcon - 1987

One of the most decorated distance runners in Arkansas history, Joe Falcon compiled seven NCAA titles, 15 SEC crowns and was named an All-American 11 times. He was the 3,000-meter champion in 1987 and 1988, indoor mile champ in 1988, outdoor 10,000-meter champion in 1987, outdoor 1,500-meter champion in 1988 and NCAA cross country champion in 1987.

His NCAA win in 1987 propelled Arkansas to its third NCAA Cross Country team title. Falcon and the squad recorded a team score of 87 to edge out Dartmouth (119 points).

Falcon was ranked among the top distance runners in the world throughout his career by Track and Field News, including a No. 1 ranking at 5,000 meters in 1989 and 1,500 meters in 1990. He was the champion of the annual Oslo Dream Mile in 1990 in Oslo, Norway with a time of 3:49.31, a race that saw his fastest 1,500-meter split: 3:33.6.

A two-time Olympian for his native Zambia, Godfrey Siamusiye competed at 5,000 meters in the 1993 Barcelona Games and in the 3,000 meter steeplechase at the 1996 games in Atlanta. He finished 10th in his semifinal heat of the steeplechase with a time of 8:37.41. At Arkansas he was a two-time NCAA Champion in cross country (1995-96), and a back-to-back champion in the outdoor 10,000 meters (1995-96).

Siamusiye's race win in 1995 led Arkansas to its eighth NCAA Cross Country team title. The '95 squad scored 100 points to beat Northern Arizona's 142 points. Arkansas earned an NCAA runner-up finish in the team race behind Siamusiye's win in 1996.

He is also one of the many former Razorbacks to claim a title in the Firecracker Fast 5K in Little Rock, Ark, a feat he achieved in 1997.

Widely regarded as one of the top indoor track and field facilities in the country, the Randal Tyson Track Center on the University of Arkansas campus was dedicated on Feb. 12, 2000. The new facility was the vision of former UA head coach John McDonnell and Athletic Director Frank Broyles and continues the tradition of building some of the finest facilities in the nation at Arkansas.

In its first year of operation, the $8 million facility hosted the Tyson Invitational, a meet on the Golden Spike Tour, the 2000 Southeastern Conference Championships and the 2000 NCAA Indoor Championships. In 2001 and 2002, the Randal Tyson Track Center once again served as the host for the Golden Spike Tour’s Tyson Invitational and the NCAA Indoor Championships.

During the 2003 season, three events were held at the state-of-the-art facility: the SEC West Challenge, the Tyson Invitational and the NCAA Championships. The 2004 campaign saw four exciting events take place at the Randal Tyson Track Center, including the Arkansas, Razorback and Tyson Invitational meets and the national championships.

The schedule was full in 2005 as the Arkansas, Razorback and Tyson Invitationals and the SEC and NCAA Championships were all held at the Tyson Track Center.

A new 36x20 custom video scoreboard system by Daktronics was installed in time for the 2005 NCAA Championships. It features a 23x13 video display screen with instant replay, electronic timing and scoring capabilities.

The track itself is a 200-meter, 60-degree banked track that has 55-meter straightways running the entire length of the facility. It also includes men’s and women’s jumping runways and pits. The surface of the track is red and gray Mondo and was repainted in 2003.

With all of the big name events that are held in the facility, the Tyson Track Center was built to handle the demands for the many media outlets. The press box is two-tiered offering 50 seats and has an announcer’s booth. There are four elevated camera positions located around the track. A media room is also available in the north concourse.

Outdoor home to the most successful program in NCAA history, John McDonnell Field is one of the top outdoor track and field facilities in the nation. Named for legendary head coach John McDonnell, the winner of 40 NCAA national championships, the facility is one of only two IAAF Class 1 certified track and field complexes in the U.S. and the first such facility on a collegiate campus.

The state-of-the-art competition areas include a nine-lane Mondo track, a grass infield as well as a full hammer cage and multiple throw areas. The pole vault and jumping pits are reversible and contain two sets of runways to accommodate multiple events. Capacity is currently set at 7,000 with the potential to hold 10,000 with additional construction.

John McDonnell Field played host to the 2006 Southeastern Conference Championships, the 2008 NCAA Mideast Regional Championships, the 2009 NCAA Outdoor Championships, in addition to the annual John McDonnell Invitational. The 2006 SEC and 2009 NCAA meets were the first in what promises to be a long line of prominent events slated for the facility.

Legendary University of Arkansas cross country and track and field head coach John McDonnell announced his retirement on April 21, 2008 following 36 years, 40 NCAA championships and 84 conference titles.

McDonnell’s 40 national titles are more than any coach in any single-gender program in the history of collegiate athletics. He won five national triple crowns, 21 conference triple crowns, 34 consecutive cross country conference championships, including 17 straight in the Southeastern Conference, and has been named national, regional or conference coach of the year a total of 140 times.

From County Mayo, Ireland, McDonnell became head cross country coach of the Razorbacks in 1972, and head track and field coach in 1977-78. Since 1984, he won 19 national championships in indoor track, 10 in outdoor track and 11 in cross country. Since 1984, a total of 69 national titles have been awarded in those three sports, and McDonnell’s teams won all but 29 of them.

His five national triple crowns came in 1984-85, 1991-92, 1992-93, 1994-95 and 1998-99; his 84 league titles include 46 in the SEC and 38 in the Southwest Conference, and a streak of 25 straight in all three sports from 1987-95; his 40 national championships include a string of 12 straight indoor titles from 1984-95, the longest streak of NCAA titles by any Division I school in any sport in collegiate history; and his teams have won at least one national championship in 21 of the last 26 years.

McDonnell, who earned his bachelor’s degree from Louisiana-Lafayette in 1969, and coached at New Providence (N.J.) High School (1969-70) and Lafayette (La.) High School (1971) before coming to Arkansas, has won 16 more national titles than his next closest competitor (Pat Henry, LSU and Texas A&M), and only one other school, Texas-El Paso with three, has won a triple crown.

In addition to the championships, his list of honors includes membership in the halls of fame for National Track and Field, United States Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA), USA Track and Field, Arkansas Sports and Louisiana-Lafayette as well as the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor. Arkansas’ 7,000-seat outdoor facility, John McDonnell Field, is named in his honor.

A 30-time national coach of the year, 50-time conference coach of the year and 62-time region coach of the year, he coached all but three of Arkansas’ 187 All-Americans. Those student-athletes combined to earn 656 All-America honors.

He also coached 25 Olympians, including a gold, silver and bronze medalist, 103 NCAA individual event champions and 326 individual event conference champions.

McDonnell won 46 of a possible 51 SEC championships (90 percent), including the 2008 indoor and outdoor conference titles.

McDonnell, who coached former Razorback Daniel Lincoln to the American record in the 3,000-meter steeplechase in July 2006, has been national coach of the year 12 times in indoor track, 11 times in outdoor track and seven times in cross country for a total of 30 awards. He was also been named the NCAA Mideast Regional Coach of the Year three of the five years it has been presented (2003-05).

His tenure at Arkansas began in 1972 coaching cross country and assisting Ed Renfrow with the track program. When Renfrow left coaching, former Athletic Director Frank Broyles promoted McDonnell in time for the 1977-78 academic year.
Not only does the University of Arkansas allow its student-athletes to compete in two sports, it encourages it. Arkansas’ legendary track and field program has combined forces with the Razorbacks’ tradition-rich football program to provide student-athletes a chance to compete in the nation’s most competitive conference in multiple sports.

This year’s track and field roster returns sophomore Cobi Hamilton who has strong backgrounds in both football and track and will look to follow in the footsteps of Arkansas’ great two-sport student-athletes. In his first season on the track, Hamilton helped the 4x100 relay advance to the NCAA Championships.

UA’s most well-known two-sport star, and perhaps the greatest athlete in school history, is Clyde “Smackover” Scott. After a year of playing for the Naval Academy, he returned to Arkansas and helped the Hogs win the Southwest Conference football title in 1946 and was a consensus All-American in 1948. A NCAA champion in the 110-meter hurdles, he finished second in that event at the 1948 Olympics, winning a silver medal in London with a time of 13.7 seconds.

Offensive guard Tony Ugoh gave Arkansas strength in the throws department, helping rack up points in the weight throw at the 2006 SEC Indoor Championships.

Two-time All-American sprinter and cornerback Ahmad Carroll was the 25th pick of the first round by the Green Bay Packers in 2004. Flanker Richard Smith was a two-time All-American in the long and triple jumps as a Razorback and signed with Kansas City in 2004. Split end Tom Crowder (Dallas) and cornerback Eddie Jackson (Miami) were also taken in the 2004 NFL draft. Jackson was an All-American hurdler, while Crowder was a decathlete.

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS
The University of Arkansas, the flagship campus of the University of Arkansas System, resides on a former hilltop farm overlooking the Ozark Mountains to the south. At the University’s founding in 1871, the site was described as “second to none in the state of Arkansas.”

Located in Fayetteville, the university is both the major land-grant university for Arkansas and the state university. The university was created under the Morrill Land-Grant College Act of 1862, whereby federal land sales provided funds for new colleges devoted to agriculture and the mechanic arts, scientific and classical studies, and military tactics, all designed for the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes. The university’s founding satisfied the provision in the Arkansas Constitution of 1868 that the General Assembly establish and maintain a state university.

Citizens in Fayetteville and surrounding Washington County raised $130,000 to secure the university’s location in a statewide competition sparked by the General Assembly’s Organic Act of 1871, providing for the “location, organization and maintenance of the Arkansas Industrial University with a normal department [i.e., teacher education] therein.”

Today, the University of Arkansas encompasses more than 130 buildings on 345 acres and provides nearly 200 academic programs, more than some universities twice its size. At the same time, it maintains a low student-to-faculty ratio (currently 17:1) that makes personal attention possible. The university promotes undergraduate research in virtually every discipline and makes higher education affordable with competitively priced tuition and generous financial aid.

WORLD-CLASS FACULTY

The campus culture places high value on excellent teaching. At this mainly residential campus, the faculty numbers nearly 1,000, of which almost 95 percent are full-time. Nine of every 10 faculty members hold either a doctorate or terminal degree in their field, and more than 65 percent of the faculty is tenured.

The instructional mission is aided by the Cordes Teaching and Faculty Support Center, a program run by faculty for faculty. The center involves as many as 400 faculty and nearly 200 teaching assistants per year in regularly scheduled programs, seminars, workshops and an annual off-campus teaching retreat as well as individual assistance to update and enhance their teaching methods.

This emphasis is reinforced by the University of Arkansas Teaching Academy, which consists of faculty recognized by their peers, colleges and the larger university for teaching excellence. In 2000, the academy began producing Inquiry,

OLD MAIN

One of the original buildings of Arkansas’ campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1876, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as it did its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Even with renovation, Old Main remained unfinished until 2006. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower.

As mentioned, Old Main was built from shared plans with its counterpart on the Illinois campus, with one important difference. The north tower of Arkansas’ Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.
the first undergraduate research journal published by an Arkansas institution of higher learning.

WORLD-CLASS FACILITIES
Over $700 million in construction projects were completed on campus in the past decade, are now under construction or are in the planning stages. These include plans to upgrade or renovate several of our historic buildings. The university is also engaged in an ambitious program to improve the energy efficiency of 35 of our buildings, in an on-going effort to create a sustainable campus.

WORLD-CLASS SUPPORT
Investment in the future is critical, and the unprecedented Campaign for the Twenty-First Century that concluded in 2006 resulted in a billion dollar infusion of gifts to the University of Arkansas. The effort included the largest single gift to a U.S. public university in the history of American philanthropy: a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Trust. Primary among the programs created by the Walton gift was the designation of $200 million toward the establishment of the Honors College.

That kind of commitment from the state and the region is not uncommon. It was the effort of the city of Fayetteville and Washington County in submitting the highest bid to the state in the 1870s that resulted in the University of Arkansas opening its doors here on Jan. 22, 1872.

BROAD RANGE OF DEGREES
At Arkansas, students can major in one of over 120 undergraduate disciplines, many of which prepare them for entry into graduate studies ranging from law to medicine.

TEN COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS: ONE UNIVERSITY
The University has five colleges, four schools and a global campus to provide a wide range of majors, from agricultural business to biological engineering, from architecture to nursing, from transportation and logistics to international relations, all taught by nationally acclaimed faculty.

A program in nanoscience that combines students and faculty in physics and engineering has made the university the leader in production of nanomaterials for universities across the country.

No matter what students choose to study the University of Arkansas has the programs, the faculty and the facilities to prepare them for the careers they want in the future.

SENIOR WALK
The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates’ names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate’s name went down in cement during the 1990s. The names on Senior Walk stretch over five miles of campus sidewalks.

The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.
The Carnegie Foundation categorizes the University of Arkansas as a research institution with “high research activity,” placing it among the top 10 percent of universities nationwide. In simple terms, the university is in the top tier of 150 research universities among the nation’s more than 4,000 post-secondary institutions — and growing in research activity and expenditures each year.

As a land-grant and state university, the institution considers research, scholarship and creative endeavor — all leading to the advancement of knowledge — a significant component of its primary mission. The university’s faculty members are active researchers and scholars who consistently attract international attention in the arts, sciences, humanities, technology, business and education.

Research expenditures at the University of Arkansas for fiscal year now exceed $117 million per year, making research activity a significant academic element at the university and an economic engine for the state. It’s also not uncommon anymore for research awards to the university to rise at double-digit percentage rates, and such awards also are approaching the $100 million level.

In addition to the work performed by faculty through individual and collaborative efforts in their academic departments, special research and outreach programs — often interdisciplinary — are conducted in approximately 50 centers and organized research units around campus.

AMONG THE LEADING-EDGE CENTERS AND RESEARCH ACTIVITIES:

- The RFID Research Center laboratory conducts research in the most efficient use of radio frequency identification and other wireless sensor technologies throughout the supply chain, with a particular emphasis on the retail supply chain. Positioned in northwest Arkansas at the epicenter of retail activity, the RFID Research Center laboratory is a multidisciplinary “supply chain in a box” devoted to examining the technology as used in retail, storeroom and warehouse environments.

- The Center for Sensing Technology and Research features a 9.4 Tesla Fourier transform mass spectrometer, which uses a high-powered magnet that improves the resolution of images of molecules and provides detailed information about their structure. Coupled with other instruments in the High Performance Mass Spectrometry Laboratory, the mass spectrometer offers high-resolution laser desorption mass spectrometry, which is not available at any other public laboratory in the country.

- The Chemical Hazards Research Center has the largest ultra-low-speed boundary layer wind tunnel in the world. The wind tunnel simulates releases of heavier-than-air gases into the atmosphere. It has been used to simulate potential disasters and to trace the path of disasters that have occurred, such as the catastrophic 1984 Union Carbide leak in Bhopal, India.

- The High Density Electronics Center has established itself as one of the top electronics packaging research and education facilities in the world. HiDEC has executed contracts from government and industry totaling more than $30 million. Projects have ranged from multichip module design to the development and evaluation of new technologies and electronic products.

- The Center for Advanced Spatial Technologies has been recognized nationally for its data storage and retrieval warehouse, GeoStor, by the Urban & Regional Information Systems Association. The center works with people across campus in various disciplines, offering researchers the latest in innovative technologies. This has led to interdisciplinary collaboration in fields as diverse as engineering, agriculture, anthropology and sociology.
and extension program similar to the one that had been so successful in modernizing agriculture in the United States.

CHANGING THE WORLD

Some internationally significant ways that the University has – and is – changing the world:

• Barnett Sure, a University of Arkansas professor of agricultural chemistry, pioneered nutrition research that led to the co-discovery of vitamin E, a vitamin high in antioxidants. His work also led to understanding of how vitamin E, amino acids and B vitamins affect reproduction and lactation.

• As world population grew during the 20th century, so did the contribution of research at the University of Arkansas. Marinus C. Kik, a professor of agricultural chemistry from 1927 to 1967, developed the process for parboiling rice, one of the most plentiful grains in undeveloped parts of the world. Kik's process increased retention of vitamins and shortened cooking time.

• In 1948, Silas Hunt became the first black person to integrate a traditionally white Southern university, enrolling in the University of Arkansas School of Law six years before the Brown v. Board of Education decision. Likewise, Edith Irby Jones soon after became the first black graduate from a Southern university, attaining her medical degree from the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences. Both acts happened without litigation or protest.

POINTS OF PRIDE

THE DISTINCTIVE CHARACTERISTICS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

UNIQUE TRADITIONS

Starting on Old Main's front step with the year 1876, the names of the more than 125,000 graduates have been chiseled into more than two miles of campus walkways, grouped by year of graduation. It's not uncommon to see alumni strolling Senior Walk to rediscover their own names and fond memories of accomplishment and fun.

Old Main, the university's signature building, designed in Second Empire architectural style, has come to symbolize higher education in Arkansas. Old Main is one of 11 campus buildings on the National Register of Historic Places. Today, it is the home to the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Science, the largest academic college within the University of Arkansas.

The Inn at Carnall Hall and Ella's Restaurant comprise the university’s own on-campus hospitality center. The beautiful, 50-room historic inn and five-star restaurant are both overseen by the hospitality and restaurant management academic program in the Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food and Life Sciences. Carnall Hall was built in 1905 as the university's first women's residence hall. The building was named after Ella Carnall, one of the campus' first female faculty members.

THE FULBRIGHT LEGACY

Since its founding, the University of Arkansas has compiled a remarkable record of scientific, technological, intellectual and creative accomplishment. This accomplishment is exemplified by the late U.S. Senator J. William Fulbright, a Rhodes Scholar as a student and eventual president of the university (1939-41). Fulbright went on to serve at the national level, founding in 1946 the greatest international exchange program for faculty and students in the world.

Fulbright’s injunction for academia guides the University of Arkansas to this day: “The highest function of higher education is the teaching of things in perspective, toward the purposes of enriching the life of the individual, cultivating the free and inquiring mind and advancing the effort to bring reason, justice and humanity into the relations of men and nations.”
prize-winning work. Early in his career, Pulay developed techniques for determining the shape and size of molecules that would permanently change the way scientists study matter. Today his approach is used by theoretical chemists around the world to determine the geometry of large, biologically important molecules.

- Two professors and a university alumnus – Harold Dulan, E.J. Ball and Lewis Callison – created the nation’s first commercial variable annuity life insurance company, later bought by Aetna Insurance. Today, variable annuities are used worldwide in estate planning for participation in economic growth and as a hedge against inflation.

- In 1950, the University of Arkansas built the first American facility to integrate the study of fine arts. Edward Durell Stone, a former student who was by then an internationally recognized architect, designed the Fine Arts Center and followed on this early effort later to design the Kennedy Center for Arts in Washington, D.C. Other universities and colleges also followed Arkansas’ example, developing cross-curricular exchanges so that artists, musicians, actors and designers could learn from each other and draw inspiration from other similar disciplines.

- Chemistry professor Paul Kuroda predicted that self-sustaining nuclear chain reactions could have occurred naturally in earth’s geologic history. His prediction was later confirmed when scientists discovered a natural nuclear reactor in Gabon, Africa. In 1960, he predicted the existence of Plutonium-244 as an element present during the solar system’s formation. Confirmation of his theory enabled scientists to more accurately date the sequence of events in the solar system’s early history.

- The Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing, a 60-hour program launched at the University of Arkansas in 1966, has grown into one of the most productive and highly ranked programs of its kind in America. Founded by English professors William Harrison and James Whitehead, later joined by Miller Williams, the program was an early catalyst in the transformation of the traditional study of literature into a demanding training ground for writers.

- University of Arkansas plant pathologists George Templeton, Roy Smith, David TeBeest and graduate student Jim Daniels conducted research in the early 1970s that led to the first biological herbicide for weed control in a field crop, later called Collego. Their work to avoid chemical herbicides led to worldwide development of safer biological herbicides and establishment of the Rosen Center for Alternative Pest Control at the University of Arkansas.

- Physics professors Allen Hermann and Zhengzhi Sheng mixed up a thallium-based material in 1988 that set the world’s highest temperature at which superconductivity could be sustained, leading to new advances in the manufacture of high-density electronics. Their patented material held the record for more than five years while researchers around the world raced to catch up.

- Professor Dwight Isely of the department of entomology is considered the father of insect pest management in the United States. His research identified the weak point in the life cycle of insects that made them particularly susceptible to control strategies. Through his work on cotton insect pests, the codling moth, the striped cucumber beetle, the southern corn rootworm and the rice water weevil, American Agriculture saved millions of dollars.

- Engineering professors at the University of Arkansas invented the next-best thing to the zip code – the wide-area bar code reader, which became the most widely implemented automated mail-sorting equipment in the world. By 2000, more than 15,000 bar code readers were used in every major Postal Service facility, increasing the efficiency of processing 20 billion pieces of mail a year at a savings of $200 million.

- Former President William Jefferson Clinton and Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton started their careers as faculty members of the University of Arkansas in the mid-1970s. While a law professor, Mr. Clinton made his first runs for political office, getting elected as the Arkansas attorney general in 1976. Mrs. Clinton founded the university’s legal clinic, which still provides law students a chance to work with clients on legal problems.
Dr. G. David Gearhart became the chancellor of the University of Arkansas on July 1, 2008, following 10 years of service to the university as vice chancellor for university advancement. Previously he was senior vice president of Penn State University, during which time he was named a Fulbright Scholar, studying at Oxford University in Oxford, England.

His Bachelor of Arts degree is from Westminster College in Missouri. Both his law degree and his doctor of education degree are from the University of Arkansas. He is a native of Fayetteville.

Prior to being appointed chancellor, Dr. Gearhart oversaw the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, the most successful capital campaign in Arkansas history, which raised more than $1 billion for academic programs.

As chancellor, Dr. Gearhart instituted the first tuition freeze in 24 years and implemented a $220 million campus building renovation and refurbishment plan, as well as a campus-wide energy savings plan. He has also undertaken a renewed emphasis on the arts on campus, including the establishment of the “All Steinway Campus.”

Dr. Gearhart has additionally implemented a major cost savings program that has already resulted in over $13 million in cost reduction and savings to the flagship campus. Campus enrollment has also grown by more than 10 percent in the last two years to almost 21,500 students. At the same time, diversity in the student body has increased significantly.

He and his wife of 35 years, Jane, have two children and one grandchild.

Chancellor G. David Gearhart has appointed Dr. Sharon Hunt to be the faculty athletics representative for the University of Arkansas in August 2010.

Dr. Hunt is the first woman and non-lawyer to hold the post. Dr. Hunt has been on the University of Arkansas faculty for 20 years and has served as head of the department of health science, kinesiology, recreation and dance in the College of Education and Health Professions for that entire time except for the 2000-01 academic year, when she served as interim dean of the college.

A high school athlete, Hunt's involvement with collegiate athletics dates back to her own college days when she participated in extramural sports with the women's basketball and tennis teams prior to the enactment of Title IX.

After receiving her bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from the university, she went on to earn a doctor of education degree from the University of Georgia, where she taught a variety of sport-activity courses as a graduate assistant. Upon the completion of her doctoral degree, she joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky for 13 years, where she taught both undergraduate and graduate courses and served as the graduate coordinator for the department of health, physical education and recreation. In 1990, she and her family returned to Fayetteville.

Dr. Hunt will work closely with the athletic department, will be involved in the student-athlete advisory council on campus and will travel to represent the University of Arkansas at various SEC and NCAA meetings.

Dr. Hunt was instrumental in establishing the graduate athletic training education program in the College of Education and Health Professions, and she has worked closely with athletics on that program. The athletics department provides support to students in the athletic training education program in the form of a stipend, books and travel to the Arkansas Athletic Trainers’ Association annual meeting. Two endowed scholarships for athletic training students in honor of longtime Razorback trainers Dean Weber and the late Bill Ferrell were established through the athletics department.
There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletic Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the home of the Razorback Athletic Department’s Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement program is the Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center. The 15,000-square foot Bogle Academic Center is located in the east side of Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Under the overall direction of Senior Associate Athletic Director Jon Fagg, the Bogle Academic Center houses the Arkansas Razorbacks Academic Support Program, the Razorback Office of Student Life and the Career Development Program.

Associate Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Support Services Melissa Harwood-Rom oversees the staff of professionals dedicated to directing student-athletes to reach their personal academic goals, and to do so in ways that balance their academic, athletic and personal lives.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND ACHIEVEMENT MISSION STATEMENT

The primary focus of the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement Program is to provide the student-athlete with the opportunity to develop the skills necessary to be a success in college and in life. This is accomplished through superior academic counseling, life skills training and preparation to enter the job market upon graduation.

THE BOGLE ACADEMIC CENTER

The Mission Statement for the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement division -- SAASA -- speaks for itself, but the improvements and achievements of the Razorbacks over the past academic year are what is most important. At Arkansas, academic services are not just good grades and eligibility. Along with 18 of 19 teams exceeding the NCAA standard for APR, Razorbacks earned some of the highest conference and national academic honors in the 2009-10 year including a pair of Southeastern Conference Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

It is also not about honoring the “A” student. Arkansas Athletics is committed to every single athlete improving his or her academic performance every semester, working to achieve academic “personal bests” with each class just the same as we would expect our athletes to hit personal records in competition.
ACADEMIC GAME PLAN FOR GRADUATION

Student-athletes are expected to meet specific academic criteria in order to maintain eligibility. This is easily achieved by following the Academic Game Plan created by the Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement team.

The SAASA designs programs and sets specific goals to help student-athletes achieve academic success. An example of a key goal is the successful completion of 30 hours of coursework during each academic year. By maintaining this course load, Razorback athletes not only stay on track to graduate in four years, but easily meet eligibility requirements set by the NCAA.

STUDY HALL AND TUTORS

A quiet setting for uninterrupted study, the Bogle Academic Center provides three types of study hall space. The computer lab (above) has over 30 stations for individual computer-based study. An open study hall is available for group or individual study, and monitored by staff members of the SAASA. There are 17 individual study carrels that provide space for tutors to meet with student athletes for individual instruction in specific subjects.

Each Razorback team sets its own criteria for study hall attendance. The use of tutors is a key element for academic success, allowing for individualized assistance and for reaching academic excellence in advanced subjects.

Community service is a vital part of the educational process for any college student, and Razorback athletes continued to make it a priority in 2009-10. With guidance from the Student-Athlete Development office, Razorback student-athletes, coaches and staff members participating in a number of events throughout the year. Here’s a brief look at some of those projects.

- Going out to area elementary schools to support the Book Hogs reading program and the Sweat Hawgs physical education awareness program.
- Individual team projects ranging from volunteering at the Fayetteville Public Library, working with Habitat for Humanity, assisting with area shelters, helping the local youth programs like the Scouts, holiday shopping and meal programs and visiting area nursing homes.
- Teaming with Numana, Inc. for Razorback Relief: Operation Haiti, a 24-hour marathon to package, more than 1.4 million meals for the Haitian relief effort.

The quiet efforts of our 19 Razorback teams have a long-lasting impact on the youth of our state. The incredible positive benefit of the time spent by the Razorbacks helping the community pays tremendous dividends, not only for the University of Arkansas, but for the entire community.

And while we focus here on the positive benefits for the fresh young faces who receive an autograph or a kind word of encouragement from a Razorback, we know that there is a considerable impact upon our student-athletes, our future leaders. The opportunity to give back impresses upon them that no matter their personal circumstances when they arrived in Fayetteville, they have a chance to not only improve their lives, but touch the lives of others.

Several Razorbacks shared some putt-putt time with young fans as a part of Make a Difference Day. Razorback athletes from all sports participated in various community service activities across the city of Fayetteville.

At left: the Razorback men’s basketball team served meals over the Thanksgiving holiday. Above: members of the Razorback gymnastics team take part in Razorback Relief: Operation Haiti helping to package more than 1.4 million meals in 24 hours.

Razorback student-athletes are regular speakers at both Book Hogs Read To Win and Sweat Hogs, a program that encourages physical fitness in the elementary schools.

Book Hogs is one of the largest department outreach programs. Razorback student-athletes are guest readers in elementary classrooms and there are contests for reading the most books with the winners recognized at Razorback sporting events.

Entering his third full year as Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics, Jeff Long has not only guided the University of Arkansas’ Department of Intercollegiate Athletics through a period of unprecedented transition, he has transformed and revitalized a tradition-rich athletics program encompassing 19 sports and more than 460 student-athletes. Long has not only accepted, but embraced the challenge of leading a Razorback program that serves as a source of pride for so many at the University of Arkansas, in all corners of the state and to thousands of Razorbacks all around the world.

Long has established a multi-faceted combined athletics program uniformly committed to the development of student-athletes academically, athletically and socially. A part of Chancellor G. David Gearhart’s Executive Committee, Long and other members of the campus leadership team are charged with developing policies and charting the course for the future of higher education at the University of Arkansas. Since his arrival, Long and his staff have re-engaged the athletic department with the university community working to more fully integrate Razorback Athletics into the campus environment. Razorback Athletics stepped forward with a $1 million gift to support the university’s academic mission in 2009-10 which brought the department’s support of the greater university community to nearly $4 million. The department has pledged another $1 million gift for 2010-11.

The success of Long’s approach can be measured in part by the remarkable accomplishments of the Razorback program in his tenure. Arkansas has captured six conference championships and advanced to 40 NCAA post-season competitions while drawing more than a million fans annually to campus to cheer on the Razorbacks.

In the classroom, the Razorbacks exceed national APR multi-year rate standards in 18 of 19 sports. For the first time in program history, all 19 sports exceeded the yearly APR benchmark rate in the most recent report (2008-09). The academic success has coincided with a transformation of the program’s academic achievement approach from maintaining eligibility to focusing on student-athlete advancement towards a college diploma.

In the community, Razorback student-athletes are more active than ever volunteering more than 2,500 hours of time in between the rigors of school and athletic practice and competition. Community outreach initiatives including Lift Up America, Book Hogs, Sweat Hogs, Razorback for a Day and Razorback Relief have Razorback student-athletes making a difference in Arkansas and around the world. In 2009-10, the Lee Spencer Cup was established to annually recognize the Razorback team that earns distinction in the classroom, in athletic competition, in personal development and in the community.

Administratively, landmark agreements have been negotiated with ISP and with Southeastern Conference television partners to guarantee future revenue streams and secure the financial base of the program in uncertain economic times.

Even the most optimistic outlook would have been hard pressed to foresee the level of success that the Razorback program would attain in such a short time after Long was selected to replace legendary athletic director and former Razorback football coach Frank Broyles in September of 2007. Before Long officially took the reins, Arkansas announced that it would combine its previously independent men’s and women’s athletic programs into one combined athletic program.

Shortly after that announcement, Long was busy engineering the first coaching search of his tenure. Long not only found the next head football coach, he convinced Bobby Petrino, one of the most successful collegiate coaches in recent history, to return to the college game at Arkansas.

By the time, Long officially started his new position on Jan. 1, 2008, he had already accomplished a list of tasks vital to the short and long-term health of the Razorback program. He had begun the process of carefully blending the men’s and women’s athletic departments into one unified department and establishing a new administrative structure. Under Long’s leadership, Arkansas revised policies governing class attendance, drug testing, the NCAA Opportunity Fund as well as other compliance and business office procedures. The academic support services division was re-organized and a formal division of student life was created focusing on student-athlete development and community service.

Long was busy on external issues as well. In 2008, Arkansas returned to the classic Razorback logo. The new branding was featured in the launch of a new website ArkansasRazorbacks.com. In 2009-10, Arkansas hosted a year-long celebration commemorating “100 Years of the Razorbacks” and launched a new official newspaper of the department, Inside Razorback Athletics.

Long worked tirelessly to maintain long-time relationships and to forge new relationships for the benefit of the Razorback program including extending Arkansas’ relationship with War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock. Long was also instrumental in helping re-establish the Razorbacks’ presence in Texas, partnering with former Razorback Jerry Jones to develop the Southwest Classic, a 10-year football series with Texas A&M played at the new Dallas Cowboys Stadium.

Perhaps his most impressive accomplishment came when he brokered a new partnership with ISP to form Razorback Sports Properties. As economic indicators were beginning to point toward challenging economic times, Long signed Arkansas to a deal that will guarantee the Razorback program $73 million in the next 10 years. Long recently negotiated an extensive all sports apparel and footwear all sports agreement with NIKE, Inc. that will outfit all 19 Razorback sports programs through the 2014-15 season.

A number of athletic facilities have also seen a transformation with Bud Walton Arena undergoing extensive renovations, including replacement of the lower seating bowl and the addition of courtside seating, ribbon boards and a courtside club room. In the spring of 2009, Bogle Park, arguably the nation’s best softball facility, was dedicated on the Arkansas campus and a new synthetic playing surface was installed at Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Long remains committed to maintaining Arkansas’ reputation as the home to some of the nation’s best playing venues while targeting much needed facility improvements crucial to the overall development of student-athletes. The department recently commissioned a master facilities plan to assess facility needs for the future success of the Razorback program.

Arkansas’ program flourished in Long’s first year, finishing 24th in the NACDA Directors Cup, its best finish in nearly a decade. In his first full year at the helm, Arkansas scored a program-record 730 points on its way to a 25th-place finish. The back-to-back top 25 Directors Cup finishes marked only the second time in school history the Razorbacks accomplished that feat.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of “student-athlete,” Long has had more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including at the University of Pittsburgh, University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University and Eastern Kentucky University prior to arriving at Arkansas. While known as an innovator in athletic department management, Long also understands the coach’s perspective from time spent in coaching and administrative staff positions at Duke University, Rice University and North Carolina State University.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long served on the NCAA Management Council as one of the athletic administrators who oversaw the operations and regulation for Division I. His experience as an athletic director and administrator in America’s most prestigious conferences – the Big 12, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and now SEC gives Long a uniquely informed perspective on intercollegiate athletics. During his career, Long has served in five of the six Bowl Championship Series leagues.

Prior to assuming his current roles at Arkansas, Long served for four years as the athletic director at Pittsburgh. During his tenure, Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the “Quest for Excellence” campaign. Designed to enhance the student-athlete experience for Panther athletes through scholarship endowments and capital gifts for facility construction and renovation, the Quest resulted in almost $34 million in just over two and a half years.

His commitment to building the Pitt athletics brand resulted in a new primary mark for the Panthers which returned the powerful “PITT” brand to Pittsburgh. He established a partnership with adidas for uniforms and apparel for all 19 Pitt teams and an agreement with ISP Sports.

Long’s four-year tenure added up to Pittsburgh becoming one of the nation’s top programs, notably the Panthers’ selection as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus’ All-Sport Rankings.

As an athletic leader, Long was a key advocate for the Big East during the league’s time of membership transition. Due in part to his leadership, the Big East maintained its position as a key member of the Bowl Championship System, and the Pitt Panthers earned the Big East’s automatic berth in 2004 at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Along with his tenure on the Executive Council, Long also served on the NCAA’s Sports Wagering Task Force in 2004, as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors’ Association.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years. Responsible for the external affairs of the Sooners, he oversaw key brand areas of marketing and promotions, licensing, media relations, ticketing, radio and television rights and Soonervision productions. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners’ highly successful football and men’s basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long’s first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two and a half years. He made several revisions to the EKU athletic infra-structure and completed several facility projects. Long created the first modern corporate partner and sponsorship structure at EKU. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his career in college athletic administration at Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned seven varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his postgraduate career in athletics as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami University of Ohio. Long earned his master’s in education at Miami in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and N.C. State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.
For almost three decades, Bev Lewis is synonymous with the University of Arkansas and Razorback women's sports teams. While the 2007-08 season was her 27th season at the University, it also proved one of the most important in her time at Arkansas. Lewis was a key player in the decision to bring together the University's men's and women's departments. Starting on Jan. 1, 2008, she became an associate vice chancellor for the University and the executive associate athletic director of the unified Razorback Athletic Department.

Lewis, the former women's athletic director, now serves as associate vice chancellor and executive associate athletic director for administration and sport programs. Lewis is also the coordinator of a five-member sport administrator group that provides day-to-day administrative support for each of Arkansas’ 19 sports. Lewis is the sport administrator for women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's track and field, men's and women's golf, gymnastics, softball and volleyball. In addition, Lewis is the primary administrator working with the Razorbacks' strength and conditioning units and athletic training and sports medicine program as well as overseeing the media relations and new media divisions. She also serves as a liaison to the faculty senate and the faculty athletic committee, and coordinates the department's NCAA certification, Title IX compliance and strategic planning.

The largest portion of her service to the university was her 19-year tenure as the Director of Women's Athletics. As a result of her strong emphasis on the classroom, Razorback female student-athletes received numerous academic honors including national academic All-American of the year, team academic national titles and the University's first two SEC/H. Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Her leadership was also a part of the success of the University's Campaign for the Twenty-First Century. Lewis directed Women's Athletics to over $11.5 million in direct support for women's teams. During the campaign, Lewis received one of her greatest personal honors as Bob and Marilyn Bogle requested that Arkansas’ $6 million facility be named the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics.

In 1998, she was voted into the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor by the University's letterwinners in recognition of her contributions both as a coach and an administrator.

Lewis served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, first with the NCAA Championship Cabinet and most recently on the NCAA Management Council.

Prior to assuming the duties of AD, Lewis was women's cross country and track coach. Her Arkansas coaching milestones included the first women's squad to achieve a national ranking and the first conference championship team with the 1988 Southwest Conference Cross Country Championships.

Lewis earned her bachelor's degree from Central Michigan in 1979 and followed it with her master's from Purdue prior to her arrival at Arkansas in 1981.

Her husband, Harley, is the former athletic director at the University of Montana, former assistant director of championships with the NCAA, and former development officer at Arkansas.

Overseeing all aspects of compliance and academics, Jon Fagg joined the University of Arkansas as a senior associate athletic director for compliance and student-athlete services in the summer of 2008. He serves as member of the senior management group for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Fagg's department supervision of NCAA and Southeastern Conference rules compliance and education is a new position for Arkansas. In addition to reporting directly to the vice chancellor and director of athletics, Fagg will have an informational reporting relationship on compliance issues with the University’s Office of the General Council.

In addition to compliance, Fagg also supervises the student-athlete services department which advises and offers support to more than 450 Razorback student-athletes.

Fagg joined the Razorback staff after spending the past seven years at North Carolina State University. Hired at North Carolina State in March 2001, he served four and half years as an assistant athletic director for compliance before being promoted to associate athletics director for compliance in the fall of 2005.

While with the Wolfpack, Fagg's responsibilities included coordinating all aspects of the NCAA compliance program, including rules education for intercollegiate staff and related university personnel, and advisement, education and interpretations regarding NCAA rules and regulations.

Prior to his tenure at North Carolina State, Fagg spent three years as the assistant athletic director for compliance at Fresno State University. He also served one year as director of compliance for the Big South Conference.

His first athletics administrative experience came at Mars Hill College where he handled compliance duties as well as serving as an assistant coach for the football team for three seasons.

His coaching experience also includes a stint as an assistant coach at Davidson from February 1992 to June 1993 and as a GA coach at his alma mater, the University of Arizona, from January 1991 to February 1992.

Fagg and his wife Amanda have three children: Jon Madison and twins, Reed and Ellie.

Overseeing Razorback facilities, event management and equipment operations, Matt Trantham begins his third year at the University of Arkansas as the senior associate athletic director for internal operations.

In his role as associate AD for event management, Trantham oversaw more than 500 events a year, coordinated the efforts of more than 1,500 event staff members and was responsible for activities within 13 athletic facilities. He also served as OU's liaison with all postseason events including both Big 12 and NCAA championship competitions.

Prior to joining the Sooners, Trantham spent five seasons in professional sports in Washington, D.C. Trantham earned his bachelor's of science degree in business management from Centenary College in 1990 and a master's degree in sports management from the United States Sports Academy in 1998.

Trantham and wife Kristen are parents of two sons, Will and Davis; and one daughter, Morgan.

Performing the vital role of supporting the student-athletes at the University of Arkansas with financial support, the Razorback Foundation, Inc., is in its fourth decade of working alongside the athletic department to advance Razorback Athletics.

The goal of the foundation is ensuring that the more than 460 student-athletes at Arkansas have the equipment, facilities and overall support to achieve the goals of graduation and athletic achievement.

For the first time in school history, all 19 Razorback head coaches and members of the athletic department’s executive and senior administrative staffs are members of the Razorback Foundation. The pledge of personal support by those inside the department led the way for a growth in membership that saw the membership total increase from 10,390 in November 2008 to 10,530 in June 2009.

From January to June 2009, Razorback Foundation staff visited with more than 11,000 people at 50 Razorback Club functions, ranging from chapter meetings to scholarship fundraising golf events hosted by local Razorback Clubs.

Another key factor in raising the profile of the Razorback Foundation and fostering membership growth was a renewed commitment to increasing A Club membership (former Razorback letter winners) and enhancing communication and coordination with Razorback Clubs throughout the region. To help facilitate communication with all foundation members, a new website RazorbackFoundation.com was launched.

The Foundation, officially incorporated and relocated off campus in 1988, has helped provide financial aid for the construction for the Broyles Athletic Center (football and administrative offices), Charlie Baum Stadium at George Cole Field (baseball), John McDonnell Field (outdoor track and field), Randal Tyson Track Center (indoor track and field), Dills Indoor Tennis Center, the George M. Billingsley Tennis Center (outdoor tennis) and Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium (football).

FRANK BROYLES
Athletic Director Emeritus
The start of 2008 saw the Razorback Foundation, Inc., welcome a familiar face, a man with a high profile and a long track record in athletics -- legendary Arkansas athletic director Frank Broyles.

The former national champion football coach and leader of Razorback men’s athletics for almost 40 years, he closed out a 50-year career of service to the University and is now raising support for the University and the Razorback program.

A member of every significant college athletics hall of fame, Broyles was recently named to the NACDA Hall of Fame in 2008. His 19-season career as the Razorback head football coach included the 1964 National Championship, seven Southwest Conference titles and a record of 144-58-5.

Here’s a look at some of the numbers and keep in mind that our attendance totals don’t include men’s and women’s cross country, track and field, men’s and women’s tennis, and swimming.

CAMPUS LIFE
OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE MIND, BODY AND SOUL

The university offers a vibrant campus life for its mainly full-time, residential undergraduate student population. More than a dozen university residence halls can accommodate in excess of 4,000 students, and the rest live in and around the city of Fayetteville.

There are over 300 registered student organizations including special interest, religious, international and cultural organizations, as well as honorary and professional service groups. Students also may choose to participate in the university’s Greek system, which is made up of 11 sororities and 17 fraternities.

In addition, more than 6,000 students, faculty and staff annually participate in the intramural sports program, which offers activities like bowling and table tennis tournaments, and sponsors clubs ranging from aikido to waterskiing. Many of these activities are conducted at the Health, Physical Education, and Recreation building, a $14 million, 225,000-square foot facility that contains 10 racquetball courts, four basketball gyms, an indoor track, an Olympic size pool, a climbing wall, a computer lab, a human performance lab and numerous classrooms.

Culturally and intellectually, the academic semesters bustle with faculty and student musical performances, theatre productions, art exhibits, concerts, poetry readings and visiting speakers — both on campus and at the adjacent Walton Arts Center. Recent university programming includes outdoor movies at the Greek Theatre, comedians, karaoke nights and even a hypnotist.

The university’s Distinguished Lecture Series has featured former heads of state, Pulitzer Prize-winning writers, political pundits and humorists, and other noteworthy national and international figures and scholars such as James Carville, Mary Matalin, Ehud Olmert, Geraldine Ferraro, James Earl Jones, George H.W. Bush, and Dave Barry.

RESIDENTIAL LIFE
Close to all the university has to offer

University Housing offers a variety of housing options within more than a dozen residence halls on campus. First-year students are required to live on campus and will find many options in living arrangements and price that entice them to stay on campus beyond their freshman year — from the suite-style facilities of Maple Hill to the international living learning community of Holcombe Hall to the new apartments on Duncan Avenue.

Maple Hill is a multi-use suite-style facility. Students live in double rooms in one- and two-bedroom suites, with cable television and individual Ethernet connections in each room. The residence halls also feature staff apartments, classrooms, conference rooms, quiet study rooms and a large fireplace lounge.

Holcombe Hall opened in 1949, and is named for Miss Jobelle Holcombe, who graduated in 1898 and served as the first dean of women from 1907 to 1913. In 2006, Holcombe Hall began the transition to an international living-learning community. The goal of these communities is to create a unique and exciting place for international exchange and learning at the University of Arkansas. Students and staff conduct programs in Holcombe through the year, but the true strength of the community comes from the interactions, relationships and plans the residents themselves build.

The newest and most unique campus residence is Duncan Avenue Apartments. The four-bedroom apartments are just minutes walking distance from most classrooms and laboratories on campus. While this complex offers apartment-style living, each student has a separate contract – so if an apartment-mate leaves, other roommates are not responsible for the departing roommate’s charges. The fully furnished apartments include high speed Internet, cable television and all utilities except telephone, and also features a washer and dryer and full kitchen with appliances. It is the first “Green Globes” construction project on the University of Arkansas campus.

A MASCOT LIKE NO OTHER

The wild hogs known as razorbacks native to the Arkansas wilderness bear no resemblance to the typical barnyard pig of today. The untamed razorback hog was a lean, feral animal that was ill-tempered. It fought and defeated anything that crossed its path, man or beast. Turn of the 20th century outdoor magazines lauded the razorback as “the most intelligent of all the hogs and is likewise the most courageous. . . . He has a clear, farseeing eye.”

Except for the rare sighting in the Australian Outback, the Razorback only exists today in the form of Arkansas’ players and fans. A Russian boar, which closely resembles the wild hog of Hugo Bezdek’s day, currently serves as the official live mascot. Tusk III is cared for by the Stokes family of Dardanelle, Ark., and travels to home games and special events for the Razorbacks. Tusk III is supported by the legacy program known as the Tusk Fund, and fans can participate by sending their support care of the Razorback Foundation, Inc. Tusk III made his debut in 2010 after the unexpected passing of his brother, Tusk II, following Arkansas’ AutoZone Liberty Bowl win over ECU in January.

While yearbook references as early as 1914 of a hog on the sideline at football games, a formal live mascot prior to the Tusk line dates back to the 1960s with a series of hogs that represented Arkansas. In addition to appearances at games, they have gained a reputation for fierce behavior.

Big Red III escaped from an exhibit near Eureka Springs in the summer of 1977 and ravaged the countryside before being gunned down by an irate farmer. Another live mascot, Ragnar, was a wild hog captured in south Arkansas by Leola farmer Bill Robinson. Before Ragnar’s spree was done, the mighty animal had killed a coyote, a 450-pound domestic pig and seven rattlesnakes. Ragnar died in 1978 of unknown causes.

THE HOG HAT

It is true; no Razorback fan’s closet is complete without an official Hog Hat. The original style was a hard plastic hat with a long snout, rough razorback ridges across the top and wickedly sharp, pointed curly-cue tail. The modern versions are often sculpted from softer material. Regardless, the Hog Hat is undoubtedly the most recognized piece of fan apparel in college athletics. Just ask ESPN GameDay’s Kirk Herbstreit as he dons the traditional Hog Hat.
WHY RAZORBACKS?

Arkansas’ athletic teams have not always been called the Razorbacks. During the early years of its athletic history, the Cardinals served as the University nickname.

A lot of things changed in 1909, however, when Arkansas football coach Hugo Bezdek called his players “a wild band of Razorback hogs,” after guiding his team to a 16-0 victory over Louisiana State on October 30, 1909.

Alluding to the Razorback, characterized by a ridge back and tenacious, wild fighting ability, Bezdek never forgot this idea and often called his team “a fighting band of Razorbacks.”

This new nickname became increasingly popular and the student body voted to change the official University mascot from the Cardinal to the Razorbacks in 1910.

In the 1920s, “Wooo, Pig, Sooie” was added as the school yell, referred to more commonly as the “Hog Call.”

There are dozens of Lions, Tigers and Bears, but in all of college athletics there is only one Razorback. The distinctive logo of the Arkansas teams is officially known as the Profile Hog, but is known to many fans as the Helmet Hog -- a fixture of the football team’s helmet for almost half a century.

A PROPER HOG CALL

A chant of “Woo Pig Sooie” is known worldwide as a Hog Call. Just like any good tradition, there are lots of versions of the Hog Call (even spellings).

A properly executed Hog Call is composed of three “calls,” slowly raising one’s arms from the knees to above the head during the “Woo.” Traditionalists prescribe an eight second “Woo.” The fingers should be wiggled and the “Woo” should build in volume and pitch as the arms rise.

Upon completion of the “Woo,” both arms are brought straight down with fists clinched as if executing a chin-up while yelling, “Pig”. The right arm is extended up and out with the “Sooie.”

A full Hog Call -- the kind one will always hear victorious Razorback teams execute after contests -- requires two more Hog Calls, followed immediately by a “Razor-Backs” yell, coordinated with a pumping motion of the right arm after the third “Sooie.” So, in order, the full Hog Call is:

WOOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
WOOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
WOOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
RAZORBACKS!

ARKANSAS FIGHT

One of the first tasks of a new Razorback is learning to sing the University of Arkansas fight song. Arkansas Fight was written in the late 1920s. It is a unique tune, fitting of the only college in America with a Razorback mascot. Several other colleges have adapted the tune, but the lyrics remain unique to Arkansas.

Hit that line! Hit that line!
Keep on going!
Take that ball right down the field!
Give a cheer. Rah! Rah!
Never fear. Rah! Rah!
Arkansas will never yield!
On your toes, Razorbacks,
to the finish,
Carry on with all your might!
for Arkansas!
Fight! Fight! Fi-i-i-i-ight!

RAZORBACK SPIRIT SQUADS

Along with being a Razorback, serving as a Razorback cheerleader has a long tradition at the University of Arkansas. Currently, the Razorbacks have two squads, a Red and White, that inspire the crowds at all home sporting events.

Arkansas also has a dance team, the Razorback Pom Squad, which performs at halftime of many events. Members of the Pom Squad also serve at baseball games as RBI Girls. Arkansas has a team of uniformed mascots, led by the original Big Red, the Fighting Razorback. Sue E. joined the family along with kid-sized Pork Chop in the late 1990s. Boss Hog is a 9-foot-tall inflatable mascot that rounds out the team.

Jean Nail serves as the coordinator for cheerleaders and mascots. For more information on the cheer squads and tryouts, go to the Spirit Squad section of ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

THE UA ALMA MATER

Brodie Payne and Henry Tovey wrote the University of Arkansas Alma Mater in the early 1900s. They were inspired by the Ozark Mountain sunrise as it illuminated Old Main.

Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty,
Watches thy Soul
from the mountains of God.
Over the fates of thy children departed,
Far from the land
where their footsteps have trod.
Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted,
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true.
From those who adore unto one who adores us,
Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.
Characterized by unmatched outdoor activities, a vibrant night life and cultural and educational opportunities, Fayetteville has something for everyone.

From Robert Redford to James Earl Jones, the University of Arkansas hosted numerous famous speakers in recent years through its Distinguished Lecture Series. Ranging from political satirist, now senator, Al Frankin, political consultant Mary Matlin to CNN’s Anderson Cooper, and to former world leaders like George H. W. Bush to Israeli prime minister Ehud Barak, vice presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro and the former Prime Minister of Pakistan the late Benazir Bhutto.

Sports figures such as Magic Johnson and Apolo Ohno have been on campus. We’ve also had one of our more famous former law professors speak several times, President Bill Clinton.

The Fayetteville campus hosts several concerts each year and recent performers include sold-out performances by T.I, Foo Fighters and John Mayer in Barnhill Arena. Special events bring artists ranging from B.B. King to Keith Urban and Carrie Underwood to Reynolds Razorback Stadium.

Fayetteville's famous Dickson Street is much more than a college hangout, adding upscale condominiums and specialty retail to its long-standing reputation as the center of entertainment and dining. From hosting major national events like Bikes, Blues and BBQ or serving as the final resting place for the goal posts after Razorback football upsets, one thing remains constant – Dickson is the heart of what’s happening.

BIKES, BLUES AND BBQ

Fayetteville and the Northwest Arkansas area celebrated the 10th Annual Bikes, Blues and BBQ event in 2009 and are eagerly anticipating the 2010 fall event as well.

The Bikes, Blues and BBQ rally is the third-largest bike rally in the country behind Sturgis and Daytona Beach and the 2009 attendance numbers were around 350,000 people.

This year’s event begins Sept. 29, and the family-friendly rally helps area charities. The event was established in 2000 and more than one half million dollars has been raised. Blues concerts and great food are all part of the fun on this rumbling weekend.

THE AMP

Every summer, Northwest Arkansas comes alive with the sound of music at the Arkansas Music Pavilion. The AMP plays host to headliners, new-comers and local artists in an outdoor concert setting. The 2010 schedule included Levon Helm, Blue Oyster Cult, Georgia Satellites, Indigo Girls, Goo Goo Dolls, Ted Nugent, Gary Allan, El Young Band and Corey Smith, Colby Caillat, STS9, Cross Canadian Ragweed, Pat Travers and Rick Derringer and the Black Crowes.
