The Nation’s Top Track & Field Conference

In the ever-changing world of collegiate athletics, the tradition of excellence in the Southeastern Conference has remained constant. The SEC boasts a rich history and has dominated track and field like no other conference.

2010 SEC Women’s Indoor Track & Field

The SEC had six teams finish in the top 20 at the NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships in Fayetteville, Ark., with Tennessee (2nd), LSU (3rd) and Florida (4th) leading the way. The other teams competing—in order of finish—were Auburn, Arkansas, South Carolina and Kentucky. At the SEC Indoor Track and Field Championships, Florida took home the team title with 110 points. Mike Holloway of Florida was awarded the SEC Coach of the Year. Tennessee’s Phoebe Wright was the SEC Runner of the Year and Florida’s Shara Proctor was the SEC Field Athlete of the Year. Regina George of Arkansas and Lanie Whittaker of Florida were named SEC Co-Freshman Runner of the Year while Krystle Schade of Alabama claimed SEC Freshman Field Athlete of the Year.

2010 SEC Women’s Outdoor Track & Field

Florida was the SEC’s top finisher at the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships in Eugene, Ore., with a third-place finish. LSU (6th), Auburn (12th), Arkansas (15th) and Alabama (t-20th) rounded out the league’s top-20 results. Other teams that scored at the national meet were Georgia, Tennessee, Mississippi State, South Carolina and Kentucky. At the SEC Outdoor Track and Field Championships in Knoxville, Tenn., LSU came away with the team title behind 132 points. The SEC Coach of the Year went to Dennis Shaver of LSU while SEC Runner and Field Athlete of the Year went to Sheniqua Ferguson of Auburn and Mariam Kevkhishvili of Florida, respectively. Takeia Pinckney of LSU was the Freshman Runner of the Year and Maya Pressley of Auburn was the Freshman Field Athlete of the Year.

Indoor Track

Fourteen national championships since 1987, 114 NCAA individual champions, 12 NCAA Championship record holders. 34 All-Americans in 2010 with Tennessee earning a second-place finish.

Outdoor Track

The University of Arkansas women’s track and field team received a No. 17 ranking in the preseason poll released by the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches’ Association (USTFCCCA). The Razorbacks’ 2011 roster featured five All-America performers and 17 letterwinners, in addition to 11 newcomers.

At the season-opening Arkansas Invitational on their home track at the Randal Tyson Track Center, six Razorbacks picked up event wins with two NCAA automatic qualifying marks in the pole vault from Katie Stripling and Tina Sutej. Stripling cleared 14-1.25 to come away with first place while Sutej was the runner-up at 13-11.25. The mark by Sutej also improved upon her own Slovenian national record in the event.

Shelise Williams began her season with a victory in the 400 meters with a provisional-qualifying time of 53.29. Samantha Leach collected a win when she crossed first in the 1,000 meters with a time of 2:52.91.

Three Razorbacks making their track debuts—Stephanie Brown, Regina George and Kristen Gillespie—opened their careers with wins. In winning the 800 meters, Brown also clocked a provisional qualifier with a time of 2:08.65. George posted a first-place result in the 1,000 meters and Gillespie won the mile in a time of 4:50.75 to lead a 1-2-3-4 finish for Arkansas.

Gillespie and Brown continued their strong start to the season with a 1-2 finish, respectively, in the 1,000 meters at the Virginia Tech Invitational. The Razorbacks also picked up top-five finishes from Leach in the mile, Leah Orley in the 500 meters and Whitney Jones in the 300 meters. Jones clocked a school-record time of 38.65 in the non-championship event.

On day two of competition in Blacksburg, Va., Arkansas picked up three more event wins, an individual victory by George and a pair of triumphs in the relay races. George ran to a gold finish in the 800 meters and then, running the anchor leg, teamed with Williams, Edina Brooks and Karen Thomas for first-place effort in the 4x400-meter relay.

Williams also pulled double duty, helping the distance-medley relay to a win along with Brown, Gillespie and Leach. The quartet put together an 11:23.61 performance, nearly 40 seconds ahead of the second-place team from Virginia. Both relays clocked provisional-qualifying times.

In the field, Sutej posted another automatic mark with a second-place clearance of 14-1.25 in the pole vault. Shantel Thompson turned in a jump of 19-11 in the long jump, good for a fifth-place showing and an NCAA provisional qualifier.

On the heels of her two-win weekend at the Virginia Tech Invitational, George earned her first conference accolade when she was named the Southeastern Conference (SEC) Female Freshman of the Week.

Leah Orley opened the two-day Razorback Invitational with a win in her first collegiate pentathlon. She finished with a first-place total of 3,666 points and capped the five-event competition with a win in the 800 meters in a time of 2:17.65, a multi-event record at Arkansas.

On day two, the Razorbacks captured three more event titles, including a then-season best in the 4x400-meter relay as Thomas, Williams, Brooks and George combined to pass the baton around the track in a time of 3:34.80. At the time, the foursome’s clocking was the top mark in the world, NCAA and SEC.

Williams claimed an individual title in the 400 meters with a time of 52.72 and Brown won the championship heat of the 800 meters in 2:05.08. Having already secured provisional-qualifying marks, both Razorbacks improved on their NCAA marks in the wins.

In the pole vault, Sutej led a 2-3-5-7 finish and was the top collegiate performer with an improved clearance of 14-2. Sutej’s mark bettered her Slovenian national record for the third straight weekend. She was followed, in order, by Stripling, Janice Keppler and Kristen Keith.

Following the collective effort at the Razorback Invitational, Arkansas moved up the rankings and landed at...
No. 10, seven spots higher than its preseason position. The Razorbacks earned conference weekly awards with Brown claiming SEC Female Freshman of the Week and Sutej earning SEC Female Field Athlete of the Week.

At the Texas A&M Challenge, the distance-medley relay foursome of Learch, Williams, Brown and Gillespie ran to runner-up finish in a time of 11:15.70. Also on day one, Miranda Walker made her season debut with a fourth-place effort in the 5,000 meters and Orley finished fourth in the pentathlon, once again claiming victory in the final event of the competition.

Sutej won the pole vault on the second day of competition and led a 1-3-5 finish for Arkansas in the event. Brown and George both had runner-up performances in the mile and 400 meters, respectively. Both runners also posted provisional qualifiers. Having already secured a mark in the 800 meters, Brown moved up in distance to collect another qualifier in a second event.

For a second consecutive week, Brown collected SEC Freshman of the Week accolades when league honors were announced.

The New Balance Collegiate Invitational at the Armory Track Center in New York, N.Y., set the stage for a pair of record-breaking performances by Arkansas’ relay crews. On day one, Learch, Williams, George and Gillespie combined for a school-record showing of 11:06.56, topping the previous mark by two and a half seconds. The quartet of Aneita Denton, Tominique Boatright, Paige Farrell and Erica Sigmont set the previous record during the 2005 season, also at the Armory Track Center.

In other victories, Stripling won the pole vault with a clearance of 14-1.25 and Brooks took home the title in the collegiate heat of the 400 meters with a time of 55.43. George and Williams returned to their relay duties the next day, teaming with Brooks and Thomas to win the championship heat of the 4x400-meter relay in a school-record time of 3:33.18, surpassing the old mark of 3:33.67 set by Boatright, Farrell, Jessica Cousins and Sasha Rolle in 2006. At the time, the Razorbacks’ mark represented the NCAA and SEC leader. The record wouldn’t last long, however.

Williams, having been a member of two record-setting relays over a two-day span, was selected as the SEC Female Runner of the Week, her first such honor of the season.

The records continued to fall for Arkansas at the Tyson Invitational as Williams took off in the 400 meters and crossed the finish in a school record of 52.43, good for a runner-up performance and top collegiate honors. Williams replaced the previous 400-meter mark of 52.60 set by Cousins at the 2007 SEC Indoor Championships.

In the pole vault, Sutej and Stripling both cleared 14-1.75 in the invitational portion of the event. Both added to their growing list of NCAA qualifying marks. Gillespie tallied a provisional-qualifying mark in the invitational section of the mile with a time of 4:43.91.

For the second time in as many races, the school record in the 4x400-meter relay was reset as Brooks, Williams, Jones and George lowered the mark they set the previous week down to 3:32.87 in victory. The performance also marked the fourth school record in four consecutive races for Williams.

In the invitational 3,000-meter race, Walker picked up a fifth-place finish with a time of 9:40.53, a nine-second personal best. Thompson also posted a fifth-place result in the collegiate triple jump with her best jump of the day measuring out to 40-9.75.

In that week’s release of the USTFCCCA national poll, the Razorbacks moved up to No. 5 in the country. George was honored for the second time by the league office as the SEC Female Freshman of the Week for her role in Arkansas’ school-record 4x400-meter relay performance.

The SEC Indoor Track and Field Championships at the Randal Tyson Track Center in Fayetteville marked the start of championships season with Arkansas play-
INDOOR REVIEW

Orley opened the scoring for the team with a seventh-place finish in the pentathlon on day one. She finished with a personal-best 3,699 points, improving her NCAA-provisional score.

Sutej turned in a gold performance in the pole vault with a school-record and SEC Championship meet-record clearance of 14-7.5. She led a 1-3-5 finish for Arkansas with Stripling coming in third and Keppler finishing in fifth place. The previous school mark belonged to Stripling and April Steiner, both clearing a height of 14-3.5. The old SEC Championships record of 14-5.25 was set during the 2001 season by Georgia’s Thorey Ellisdottir.

A busy final day of competition at the conference meet was capped by SEC titles for Williams in the 400 meters and the 4x400-meter relay. It was a historical day for the program as both titles were the first in those events for Arkansas. Williams came away with top honors in her signature event in a time of 53.21 while George was sixth in the event.

As they had done all season, the two quarter milers returned for the 4x400 relay and teamed with Brooks and Jones to claim first place in a time of 3:34.61.

The Razorbacks’ distance-medley relay earned a runner-up finish as Learch, Thomas, Brown and Gillespie combined for a time of 11:20.12. Earlier in the day, Brown and Gillespie had a fifth-place finish in the 800 meters and fourth-place finish in the mile, respectively. Gillespie led a 4-5-7-8 finish for Arkansas worth 13 points to the team total.

All told, the Razorbacks finished the meet with 82 points and a runner-up finish, its highest since earning the same spot at the 2005 conference meet. Arkansas had bronze finishes in the team race in 2008 and 2009. The three event titles are tied for the most since the 2001 team collected four championships.

When postseason awards were announced by the league, George was nabbed as the SEC Co-Freshman Runner of the Year, the first Razorback to be honored as such since Stacie Manuel was recognized in 2003.

Eleven Razorbacks were featured on the 2010 All-SEC Indoor Track and Field teams. Brooks (4x400m, 1st), George (4x400m, 1st), Jones (4x400m, 1st), Sutej (pole vault, 1st) and Williams (4x400m/400m, 1st) all earned first-time honors while Brown (DMR, 2nd), Gillespie (DMR, 2nd), Learch (DMR, 2nd) and Thomas (DMR, 2nd) garnered second-team All-SEC accolades. Brown (800 meters, 5th), Taylor Johnson (mile, 7th) and Leah Orley (heptathlon, 7th) were named to the SEC All-Freshman team.

Sutej was then recognized by the USTFCCCA as the South Central Region Women’s Field Athlete of the Year for her outstanding season in the pole vault.

Arkansas was represented by four individuals in three individual events at the NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships. The Razorbacks also had its 4x400-meter and distance-medley relay crews gain entry into the national meet.

The DMR of Learch, Jones, George and Gillespie was up first as the foursome ran to a seventh-place result and All-America status in a time of 11:16.27. Brown and Williams also qualified for the finals of their respective events by advancing through the preliminary rounds of the 800 meters and 400 meters, respectively.

In the individual finals on the track, Brown earned her first All-American honor with a sixth-place effort in the 800 meters and Williams added to her All-America collection with an eighth-place run in the 400 meters. Stripling made the most of her final NCAA Indoor Championships with a fifth-place finish, clearing a height of 14-1.25.

The 4x400-meter relay closed out the indoor season for Arkansas with a bronze showing, clocking in with a time of 3:33.83. In its final six races of the season, the 4x400 relay totaled five first-place finishes, in addition to the quartet’s performance at the national meet.

The Razorbacks ended the weekend with 11 All-America accolades in five events spread among eight student-athletes.
A week after closing out the indoor portion of its season, the University of Arkansas women’s track and field team got back to action with its first outdoor event, the University of Central Florida Black and Gold Challenge. The Razorbacks picked up five event wins in the outdoor opener with victories in the 400 meters, 800 meters, 400-meter hurdles, triple jump and 4x400-meter relay.

Regina George opened the season with a victory in the 400 meters, clocking a time of 55.17. She led a 1-2-4 finish that included Karen Thomas as the runner-up and Edina Brooks in fourth place. The trio joined Whitney Jones for a victorious run in the 4x400-meter relay. They turned in a winning time of 3:42.27.

Leah Orley took first in the 400-meter hurdles in a time of 1:00.83, in addition to her work in the long jump and 100-meter hurdles. Martine Borge, in her outdoor debut, ran to a first-place result in the 800 meters. Shantel Thompson claimed a field victory with a 39-1.25 mark in the triple jump.

Jones and Brittany Hyter had a pair of runner-up finishes in the long jump and 100-meter hurdles, respectively. Shelise Williams, in her season debut, placed third in the 200 meters with a time of 24.06.

The following weekend saw Arkansas split squads, sending part of the crew to California for the Stanford Invitational while the remainder of the team competed on its home track at the Razorback Spring Invitational.

Miranda Walker ran to a win in the third section of the 5,000 meters with a 30-second personal best time of 16:28.75. Williams won the 400 meters at Stanford in a time of 52.78, the then-best time in the nation. In the 400-meter hurdles, Orley won her heat and finished third overall in a time of 1:01.13.

In Fayetteville, the 4x100-meter and 4x400-meter relay teams posted wins on a rainy, windy day at John McDonnell Field. Brooks, George, Thomas and Jones opened the running events with a win in the 4x100 really with a time of 46.28. George, Brooks and Thomas returned for the mile relay, teaming with Gwendolyn Flowers, and came away with a first-place time of 3:37.94.

George rounded out her busy day with a third win, this time in the 400 meters where she clocked in at 53.94. She was also second, and first among collegians, in the 200 meters. Katie Stripling won the pole vault with a clearance of 14-1.25. She led a 1-2-3 finish for Arkansas in the event with Tina Sutej finishing second and Janice Keppler turning in a third-place result.

For the first time of the outdoor season, and the third time in 2010, George was named the SEC Female Freshman of the Week on the strength of three wins and a runner-up performance over the weekend.

On the opening night of the prestigious Texas Relays, the Razorbacks’ 4x800-meter relay foursome of George, Samantha Learch, Kristen Gillespie and Stephanie Brown combined for a victory in a time of 8:35.17 with Brown holding off LaTavia Thomas of LSU on the anchor leg. It was Arkansas’ first win in the event since the 2005 season.

Taylor Johnson picked up another win for Arkansas with her 10:50.60 effort in the 3,000-meter steeplechase. She led the entire length of the race to become the Razorbacks’ third winner in the event and first since Maureen Scott in 2004.

The season-long assault on the program’s records book continued as the sprint-medley relay team of Jones, Williams, George and Brown posted a new mark of 3:44.40 in a runner-up performance. The previous record of 3:48.25 was set by the foursome of Lakeisha Martin, Tominique Boatright, Jessica Cousins and Paige Farrell.

Stripling captured her first Texas Relays title with a victory in the pole vault, clearing the winning height of 13-11.75. Back on the track, Williams, George, Brooks and Jones combined for a time of 3:31.20 to win the 4x400-meter relay to wrap up the Razorbacks’ competition at the four-day event.

Following her strong relay work over the weekend in Austin, Brown earned SEC Female Freshman of the Week to run to 2010 total to three—two indoor and one outdoor.

At the John McDonnell Invitational, Williams continued her strong showing in the 400 meters by leading a 1-2-3 sweep in the event with a time of 52.29. George was second and Brooks finished third in a personal-best clocking of 54.00. Williams and George returned to the track for the last event of the day, and with Jones and Thomas, took home first place in the 4x400-meter relay.

Orley dipped under the minute mark to win the 400-meter hurdles in a time of 59.78. She had a busy day as she also competed in the 100-meter hurdles (sixth), javelin (sixth) and long jump (ninth). Hyter also turned in a good day in the hurdle events with a second-place result in the 100-meter hurdles and a third-place finish in the 400-meter hurdles.
OUTDOOR REVIEW

In the pole vault, Sutej finished second overall, and first among collegiate competitors, with a clearance of 14-1.75. Other runner-up finishes during the home meet included George in the 200 meters, Cali George in the 3,000-meter steeplechase and the 4x100-meter relay team of Brooks, George, Williams and Jones.

The league office recognized Williams and Sutej for their performances, naming them the SEC Female Runner of the Week and SEC Female Field Athlete of the Week, respectively.

The middle distance and distance runners had the stage to themselves as they took to the track at the Mt. SAC Relays Distance Carnival in California. Hyer finished seventh in the championship heat of the 400-meter hurdles, dipping under the minute mark for the first time with a clocking of 59.72. In the preliminary round of the 4x400-meter relay, the team of Williams, George, Brooks and Jones turned in a time of 3:34.03 to qualify for the finals; the foursome ran to a sixth-place finish in the championship race.

Select members of the team participated at the Missouri Southern Invitational that same weekend. Flowers won the 100 meters while teammate Rachel Werner finished in fourth place. Borge turned in a runner-up result in the 400 meters while Makeba Alcide was third in the 100-meter hurdles and fourth in the high jump.

The records continued to fall when the Razorbacks hosted the Arkansas Twilight. Stripling set a new school mark in the pole vault with her winning clearance of 14-5.5. The height replaced the previous of 14-2.25 which was set by Stripling at the 2009 SEC Outdoor Championships. Sutej and Keppler followed in second and fourth, respectively.

George collected a total of four first-place results—two individual and two with relays—during the meet. She won the 200 meters and finished first in the 400 meters, posting her first sub-53 seconds time (52.89). She teamed with Brooks, Williams and Jones to win the 4x100-meter relay and closed out the event with a victory in the 4x400-meter relay with Brooks, Williams and Thomas.

The wins continued for Arkansas with Brown in the 800 meters (2:05.71), Flowers in the 100 meters (11.89) and Hyter in the 100-meter hurdles (13.60). Gillespie was third in the 800 meters with a personal-best time of 2:07.58.

On the strength of their outstanding performances at the Arkansas Twilight, Brown, George and Stripling swept the weekly conference honors. Brown was named the SEC Female Freshman of the Week, George earned SEC Female Runner of the Week honors and Stripling was the SEC Female Field Athlete of the Week.

The championships season began in Knoxville, Tenn., with the SEC Outdoor meet. On day two, Walker registered points for the team with a third-place finish in the 10,000 meters with a time of 35:35.26. Her bronze showing represents her highest 10K and SEC race finish.

In the pentathlon, Alcide and Orley finished sixth and eighth, respectively, to contribute to Arkansas’ team total. With her point total of 5,153, Alcide established a national record for her native St. Lucia.

The pole vault provided a big boost for the team when, led by Sutej, the Razorbacks had a 1-2-3 finish. The win by Sutej came with a clearance of 13-9.75 and completed her sweep of the conference indoor and outdoor pole vault titles. Keppler cleared the same height, a personal best for her, but finished second on misses.

The long jump was another source of points for the team on the second day of competition with Jones and Thompson placing fifth and eighth, respectively. Jones’ mark of 20.3 represented a personal best and was her first over the 20-foot mark. On the track, Cali George was sixth in the steeplechase with Johnson following in eighth place.

On the final day of competition, the Razorbacks’ 4x400-meter relay capped the conference meet with a victory in a time of 3:31.05, at that time the NCAA-leading mark. Like Sutej, the quartet of Jones, Williams, Thomas and George gave Arkan-
Arkansas finished the meet in third place with 98.5 points, its ninth top-3 result at the conference meet in the past 11 years.

Seven Razorbacks received all-conference accolades following the SEC meet. George, Jones, Thomas and Williams were named first-team All-SEC for their win in the 4x400-meter relay and Sutej earned first-team honors for her victory in the pole vault. Additionally, Keppler was a second-team performer and Brown was named to the SEC All-Freshman Team.

With 16 entries in 11 events, the team next traveled to Austin to participate in the NCAA West preliminary rounds. As was the case all season, the vaulting trio of Keppler, Stripling and Sutej turned in a consistent performance on the first day of competition and secured three spots in the NCAA Championships.

Williams put her name atop Arkansas' record book with a 51.71 showing in the 400 meters en route to qualifying for the NCAA Championship meet. She posted her first career sub-52 seconds time and replaced the record of 51.92 previously held by Cousins. George also advanced to the NCAA Championships in the 400 meters with a sixth-place overall finish.

In the 800 meters, Brown set a personal best of 2:04.52 to punch her ticket to the national meet. Hyter also advanced to the NCAA Championships with a personal-best performance of 57.52 in the 400 meters.

The Razorbacks picked up three more qualifiers for the NCAA Championships on the final day of the preliminary rounds. Thompson sealed her spot with a fourth-place finish in the triple jump while Hyter advanced in her second event by finishing 11th overall in the 100-meter hurdles. The final national qualifier went to the 4x400-meter relay team of Jones, Williams, George and Thompson in a time of 3:31.03, the No. 3 time in school history.

After two days of qualifying rounds, Arkansas picked up 13 points on day three of the NCAA Championships. Sutej capped her collegiate campaign with a silver performance in the pole vault, clearing 14-5.25. Her runner-up finish matched Jodi Unruh's result in 2007 as the best by a Razorback pole vaulter at the national meet. In preparation for their relay duties, Williams and George finished fifth and eighth, respectively, in the 400 meters.

The 4x400-meter relay team of Jones, Williams, Thomas and George capped the collegiate season with a fifth-place showing in the final race of the day. The quartet finished in a time of 3:31.17. All told, Arkansas finished the NCAA Championships with seven All-America honors for five student-athletes. Jones, Sutej and Thomas each claimed an honor while George and Williams each added two to their respective resumes.

Turning to the summer months, several Razorbacks continued their seasons representing their respective home countries. Brown, Flowers, George, Hyter, Stripling and Williams went to the USA Championships while Alcide and Sutej competed for St. Lucia and Slovenia, respectively.

Having qualified for the World Junior Championships with a second-place finish in the junior 400 meters at the USA Championships, George anchored Team USA to a gold medal performance in the 4x400-meter relay against the international field in Moncton, Canada. Earlier in the week, George also ran to a sixth-place finish in the 400 meters.

At the North American, Central American and Caribbean (NACAC) Under-23 Championships, Williams capped her outstanding junior campaign with a pair of gold medals in the 400 meters and as the third leg of the 4x400-meter relay for Team USA. In the heptathlon, Alcide finished third with a St. Lucian national record of 5,172 points.

In Slovenia, Sutej became the national champion in the pole vault with a clearance of 14-9. Her height improved the Arkansas school record set earlier in the 2010 season by Stripling and bettered her own national record. During the summer, Sutej also cleared 14-7.25 and now holds the No. 1 and 2 jumps in Arkansas history.

Away from the track, the Razorbacks had a successful year in the classroom. Stripling earned her second career CoSIDA Academic All-America honor. She was also named an academic all-district by the organization. When the 2010 SEC Academic Spring Honor Roll was released, the list included Tara Diebold, Megan Jackson, Lauren Kegley, Kristen Keith, Stripling, Walker and Ashley Williams. The conference's Freshman Academic Honor Roll also featured Katelin Cherry, Tiffanie Johnson, Paige Johnston, Caroline McCombs, Werner and Keri Wood.

SEASON OUTLOOK

With 20 years under his belt at the helm of the University of Arkansas women’s track and field team, head coach Lance Harter enters the 2011 season with a talented roster of competitors that features eight returning All-Americans with designs of even more success. If things fall in place, it could be a special year for the Razorbacks.

“This could be one of the best teams we’ve ever had at Arkansas,” Harter said. “Considering that my stint here is now up to 21 years, that’s really saying something because we’ve had some really special teams come through this program. This is one of those teams that has the combination of elite experience and depth, two commodities that are hard to come by in our sport.”

Arkansas’ experience will come from its upperclassmen group which is its five-member senior class which includes seven-time All-American Shelise Williams. She returns to the track after a successful junior campaign in which she was part of four school records—indoor and outdoor 400 meters, indoor 4x400-meter relay and distance-medley relay—and won double gold during the summer season with Team USA at the North American, Central American and Caribbean (NACAC) Under-23 Championships.

Off an outstanding freshman season, Regina George also brings a wealth of experience to this Razorback team. Having secured four All-America honors and a gold medal at the World Junior Championships during the summer, George is a strong presence for Arkansas in the sprints and relays. George, Williams and Whitney Jones are three returning legs of the 4x400-meter relay that last season set the school indoor record and swept the indoor and outdoor conference titles.

Arkansas also returns all four legs—George, Jones, Kristen Gillespie and Samantha Learch—of its All-American distance-medley relay which ran to seventh place at the 2010 NCAA Track and Field Championships. The middle-distance crew features Stephanie Brown who was an indoor All-American last season in her signature event of the 800 meters.

“We have a group of returning All-Americans which brings that experience and swagger of ‘been there, done that’ and then we have a lot of young talent that can come in behind that group to add to what we want to do,” Harter said.

That group of All-Americans also includes pole vault standout Tina Sutej, the program’s indoor and outdoor school-record holder. The defending indoor and outdoor SEC pole vault champion, Sutej was the 2010 NCAA Outdoor Championships runner-up. The Razorbacks’ vault crew will also receive a boost from 2010 redshirt Tara Diebold, an indoor All-American during the 2009 season.

Another competitor returning to the track will be Jillian Rosen who also redshirted during the 2010 season. Rosen joins Jackson, Walker and Cali George as a leader for Arkansas’ distance runners. Walker was a solid point contributor at the SEC Outdoor Championships last season with a third-place finish in the 10K and a sixth-place showing in the 5,000 meters.

“We were basically able to hide two super talented athletes last year in Tara Diebold and Jillian Rosen,” Harter said. “They have proven to be very competitive, not only at the SEC level, but also among the elite athletes at the national level.”

Brittany Hyter returns as Arkansas’ top hurdler from a season ago in which she was a national qualifier in the 100- and 400-meter hurdle events. She will be joined in 2011 by transfer Ivanique Kemp, an all-conference performer at Seton Hall. Multi-event specialists Makeba Alcide and Leah Orley are also proven hurdle competitors. Alcide was the bronze medalist in the heptathlon at NACAC and Orley was member of the 2010 SEC All-Freshman Team for her efforts in the multis.

Thompson was a national qualifier in the triple jump and also provided solid marks in the high jump and long jump. Jones will compete in the long jump throughout the season, as well. Arkansas will also welcome Kirstine Hesseltine, a native of Springdale, Ark., to the team for a lift in the high jump.

The indoor season begins with the Razorback Triangular at the Randal Tyson Track Center on Fri., Jan. 7. Arkansas will travel to Blacksburg, Va. for the Virginia Tech Invitational on Jan. 14-15. On Jan. 28-29, Arkansas will host the Razorback Invitational in Fayetteville. The Razorbacks will travel to New York for the New Balance Collegiate Invitational at the Armory Track Center on Feb. 4-5. Arkansas will host the annual Tyson Invitational Feb. 11-12.

“The SEC is incredibly competitive,” Harter said. “We brag about what we have coming back and who we’ve added but then you look around at what everyone else did. If you stand still in this conference, you get passed by half the field. This is a conference that everybody in the United States looks for the results.”

The championship season begins with the Razorbacks hosting the SEC Championships on Feb. 25-27 at the Randal Tyson Track Center. Arkansas will have a final opportunity to qualify for post-season competition at the Arkansas Last Chance on Fri., March 4. The indoor season will culminate with the NCAA Championships on March 11-12 at Texas A&M University in College Station, Texas.

The outdoor season starts March 25-26 at the Stanford Invitational in Palo Alto, Calif. Arkansas will host the Razorback Spring Invitational at John McDonnell Field on Sat., April 2. The Texas Relays will be held April 6-9 in Austin, Texas. The Mt. SAC Relays will be held April 14-15 in Walnut, Calif. The Razorbacks return home to host the John McDonnell Invitational on Sat., April 23.

The weekend of April 28-30 will be split between the Penn Relays in Philadelphia, Pa., the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa and the Cardinal Invitational at Stanford. The final regular season meet will be the Arkansas Twilight on Fri., May 6 in Fayetteville.

“I think this year’s schedule will really suit our squad,” Harter said. “We have the best facilities in the country which allow us to compete at home and not travel as much. It really benefits our students. We travel to some great meets across the country. That gives us the opportunity to see a variety of teams that we will face on the SEC and NCAA levels.”

The University of Georgia will host the SEC Championships on May 12-15 in Athens, Ga. The Razorbacks will compete at the NCAA West preliminary rounds on May 26-28 in Eugene, Ore. The outdoor season will wrap with the NCAA Championships on June 8-11 in Des Moines, Iowa. Drake University will host the event.

The most successful coach in University of Arkansas and Southeastern Conference women's cross country and track and field history, Lance Harter is in his 21st year at the helm of the Razorback program. During his tenure, Arkansas has won 19 SEC titles (13 cross country, three indoor track, and three outdoor track) and earned six NCAA trophies, including four national runner-up awards in cross country. Throughout his 32-year career as a collegiate head coach, Harter has built programs that win.

Harter led his cross country teams to 13 league championships in 19 years and racked up an impressive 15 NCAA regional titles, bringing Arkansas to the brink of a national championship with four NCAA runner-up trophies. His student-athletes have earned 23 cross country All-America honors, numerous all-conference and all-regional certificates and collected 11 SEC individual titles.

While his list of accomplishments as a cross country coach at Arkansas is long, his record as a track coach is just as impressive, with a pair of SEC triple crown championships, three U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches' Association (USTFCCCA) National Coach of the Year honors and seven top-10 finishes at the NCAA Championships.

The 2010 season was another record-breaking year for the Razorbacks. Arkansas student-athletes set school records in the indoor 300 meters, 400 meters, 4x400-meter relay, distance medley relay, pole vault and heptathlon 800 meters and in the outdoor 400 meters, sprint medley relay and pole vault.

Harter's student-athletes picked up 18 All-America honors during the 2010 indoor and outdoor seasons including the distance medley relay and the indoor and outdoor 4x400-meter relays. Additionally, the Razorbacks picked up five SEC individual event titles. The squad picked up a runner-up finish at the 2010 SEC Indoor Championships, a third-place finish at the 2010 SEC Outdoor Championships and 15th-place finishes at the 2010 NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships.

The high water mark to his career at Arkansas, so far, is when his teams won a league-record seven-consecutive SEC titles including a pair of triple crowns (titles in cross country, indoor track and outdoor track in the same academic year). Harter's Razorbacks were just the second team in league history to accomplish the task in 1999-2000, then repeated the performance in 2000-01 making them the only squad in the SEC's 30-year history of women's cross country and track and field to accomplish the task twice.

Those banner seasons were not without other accolades outside the SEC titles. During that time period, Harter's Razorbacks posted school-best finishes at both the NCAA Indoor (third) and Outdoor (fifth) Championships, as he led his teams to five top-six NCAA finishes. On a personal level, Harter was awarded numerous honors including six SEC Coach of the Year Awards, six South Central Region Coach of the Year trophies and three USTFCCCA National Coach of the Year honors.

For his numerous achievements at Arkansas, Harter has been honored several times in recent years, including his induction into the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor in the fall of 2006. His inclusion into the elite club makes him the only active Razorback women's coach to be enshrined and just the second women's coach at Arkansas to be included, joining former cross country and track coach and current Executive Associate Athletic Director Bev Lewis.

He has also seen his named bronzed in the Arkansas Track and Field Hall of Fame, Mt. SAC Relays Hall of Fame and Cal Poly Hall of Fame.

Harter's coaching prowess has been noticed not just by his peers but by national organizations like USA Track & Field who have asked Harter to coach at several international competitions. He has represented his country five times including the 1992 Olympic Games in Barcelona, Spain, where he was an assistant coach. He was also the head coach for the 1999 USA World Championships team and had the pleasure of once again coaching one of his pupils, multi-time U.S. Champion and 2004 Olympic bronze medalist Deena Kastor. His most recent appointment to a national coaching position came in 2003 when he was the head women's coach for Team USA's World Cross Country team in Brussels, Belgium.

Harter is quick to give credit for his success to his student-athletes and assistant coaches, but there is no arguing that with him at the helm the Razorbacks are one of the nation's elite programs. Harter has won almost as many SEC women's cross country championships (13) as all other member institutions combined in the history of the SEC (14).

For his efforts in cross country, Harter has earned 13 SEC Coach of the Year Awards, 14 NCAA Regional Coach of the Year honors and the 1999 NCAA National Coach of the Year Award. In total, he has been awarded the SEC's Coach of the Year honor 19 times and is the only women's coach to ever earn awards in cross country, indoor and outdoor track. In track and field, he has been given an NCAA Regional Coach of the Year award 17 times.
times during his career and NCAA National Coach of the Year four times.

From a team perspective, Harter’s influence on Arkansas cross country and track has been tremendous. He has led both the cross country and indoor track teams to number one national rankings, the only number one rankings by any women’s team in Arkansas history. During his career, Harter has brought seven NCAA team trophies back to Fayetteville: four national runner-up awards in cross country, a third place for cross country and a third and a fourth-place finish for indoor track.

Harter’s career at Arkansas began in the fall of 1990, and it didn’t take long for him to carry his previous success to the Razorback program. Picking up a Southwest Conference runner-up finish in his first year, he also guided that squad to the first of his 14 regional titles. As good as his team was in year one, it was the 1991 squad that made Arkansas cross country a household name. Leading a strong group of young women into the season, Arkansas took the first of three-consecutive NCAA runner-up trophies and finished the year with just a single loss.

The 1991 season also brought the Razorbacks into the SEC and it didn’t take long for Arkansas to establish its superiority. The Razorbacks scored 30 points at their first SEC Championship, placing all five scorers in the top nine. The conference title was the first of five consecutive championships, a feat that has only been equaled once since (1998-2002).

While the end of the millennium raised the bar for the Razorbacks, Harter challenged himself to exceed the lofty expectations heaped upon his team. Since 2001, Harter has guided Arkansas to eight SEC Championships and watched former Razorback athletes win six medals in the Olympic Games. His eye for talent has been his best asset and developing those skills runs a close second. He often likens his coaching style and philosophy to a series of escalators where athletes get on at the ground floor when they arrive as freshmen and get off at the penthouse upon graduation.

A perfect example was a raw talent from Kendallville, Ind., that Harter groomed first into a conference and national champion then into the greatest female track athlete in SEC history. When Amy Yoder Begley completed her collegiate career with a pair of national titles, she became the all-time leader in SEC history with 15 individual championships, the all-time leader for a female athlete at Arkansas with 15 All-America honors, and only the third track athlete in conference history to become the SEC Athlete of the Year.

Harter arrived at Arkansas in 1990 after 11 years of building the nation’s top Division II program at Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo. His teams at Cal Poly-SLO won a Division II record 14 national championships, including eight consecutive cross country and six track and field titles. He was Division II national coach of the year 10 times.

From the beginning of NCAA Division II Championships in 1981, Harter’s teams controlled the awards ceremonies. The Mustangs finished runner-up the initial season and after that ran off a string of eight straight titles. In track and field, Harter won five NCAA and one AIAW championship. He was inducted into Cal Poly’s Hall of Fame in the fall of 2004.

Before coaching at Cal Poly-SLO, Harter was the men’s and women’s track and field coach at Smoky Hill High School in Denver, Colo. During his five years with SHHS, his teams won five cross country and five track conference titles. Before SHHS, he was an assistant coach for two years at Colorado State.

A 1972 graduate of Texas Tech, Harter set several school records as a member of the cross country and track teams. A dean’s list honoree every semester at Tech, he earned his degree in physical education and American history. He earned his master’s in education from Colorado State in 1974, focusing on physiology of exercise. He has completed doctoral hours at both Colorado and Colorado State.

Harter and his wife, Kim, have five children, Jeff, Meagan, Alison, Kristy and Josh.
Associate head coach Rolando Greene begins his 15th season at the University of Arkansas with the start of the 2010-11 season. Charged with handling the sprints, hurdles, horizontal jumps and multis corps for the Razorbacks, under Greene's tutelage the Razorbacks are moving to the front of the pack among the NCAA and the SEC in the women's sprints and relays.

During his 20-plus years of coaching on the collegiate level, Greene has guided 82 All-Americans, six Olympians and three student-athletes who have competed at the World Championships. During Greene's 14-year tenure at Arkansas, he has coached four student-athletes to five NCAA event titles, five Olympians, 11 SEC Champions, 24 athletes who have earned 68 All-America honors in 11 different events, two SEC Runners of the Year and an SEC co-Freshman Runner of the Year and two U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches' Association (USTFCCCA) South Central Region Runners of the Year.

Additionally, his student-athletes have competed at the World Junior Championships, the World University Games, the Pan Am Games, the NACAC U-23 Championships and the Senior Central American Championships. He has served on the coaching staffs for the Central American Championships and the NACAC U-23 Championships.

Greene's student-athletes had another history-making season in 2010. The Razorbacks' indoor and outdoor 4x400-meter relay teams swept the SEC titles in the event, winning for the first time in school history. Shelise Williams won the SEC Indoor title, earned an SEC Outdoor runner-up finish and picked up two All-America honors in the 400 meters en route to setting indoor (52.43) and outdoor (51.71) school records in the event. She was also a member of the 4x400-meter relays that earned indoor and outdoor All-America honors.

Regina George had an outstanding freshman campaign. With the ability to compete in both the 400 meters and the 800 meters, George focused on the quarter-mile race and saw a great outcome. She was named the 2010 SEC Indoor co-Freshman Runner of the Year and at the 2010 SEC Outdoor Championships, she scored points in every event she competed in (200 meters, 400 meters, 4x100-meter relay and 4x400-meter relay). She picked up four All-America honors in 2010: indoor 4x400-meter relay, indoor distance medley relay, outdoor 400 meters and outdoor 4x400-meter relay. She also earned four SEC Freshman Runner of the Week honors.

In 2010, Greene's Razorbacks set school records in the indoor 300 meters, 400 meters, 4x400-meter relay, distance medley relay and the pentathlon 800 meters and in the outdoor 400 meters and sprint medley relay. Greene's student-athletes earned three SEC titles and five student-athletes earned 13 All-America honors.

The success continued into the summer months with Williams and George picking up gold medals in international competition. Williams won gold in both the 400 meters and as a member of the 4x400-meter relay as a member of Team USA at the NACAC U-23 Championships. George picked up gold as the anchor leg of the Team USA 4x400-meter relay at the World Junior Championships. She also finished sixth in the open 400 meters.

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH ROLANDO GREENE

With a third-place finish at the NACAC U-23 Championships, Alcide bettered her own St. Lucian National record in the heptathlon with a point-total of 5,172. En route to her personal best point total, Alcide recorded personal bests in the 200 meters (25.37), javelin (122-7) and the 800 meters (2:20.24).

Greene is also an active contributor in the middle distances, mentoring the Razorbacks’ 800-meter runners. Denton became just the third woman in NCAA history to sweep national titles in both the indoor and outdoor 800 meters during the 2005 season. She also posted the sixth-fastest indoor 800-meter time in NCAA history (2:01.96) and was the anchor of Arkansas’ 4x800-meter relay team that ran the fastest time in the world in the spring of 2005 (8:29.13).

Greene has been recognized by his peers with the 2004 U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches’ Association (USTFCCCA) National Assistant Coach of the Year award. He was also named the USTFCCCA’s Mideast Region Sprint Coach of the Year in 2007.

Prior to arriving in Fayetteville in the fall of 1996, Greene was an assistant coach with the Minnesota Golden Gophers’ women’s track team. He spent six seasons as an assistant at what is now Missouri State University after graduating from Murray State.

A native of Nassau, Bahamas, Greene is married to former Razorback LaTayna Stewart, who ran in the early ‘80s. The Greene family includes a daughter, Charisse; three sons, Cameron, Isaiah and Jacob; and two grandchildren, Tylan and Caleb.

400-meter records giving student-athletes coached by Greene a clean sweep of every sprints, hurdles, relays and multi-event record. His assault on those marks began in his first season at the UA, and as the 2011 season begins, none of the 16 records are older than 1998 and all but two were set after the millennium.

Promoted to associate head coach in the spring of 2000, Greene put together back-to-back unprecedented seasons in 2004 and 2005 when two of his student-athletes swept the 200-meter national championships at the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor meets the first year, then backed it up with an Aneita Denton sweep of the 800-meter titles in 2005. The 2004 200-meter duo, Veronica Campbell-Brown and La’Shaunte’a Moore, were also participants at the Athens Olympics.

Greene is deeply involved in coaching Arkansas’ multi-event athletes as well. During his time with the Razorbacks, Arkansas has produced four All-America student-athletes in the tough event, including a pair of 5,700-point heptathlon scorers during the 2000 season. His work with Gi-Gi Miller in 2000-01 was the foundation of her rise to U.S. Champion in the heptathlon at the 2006 USATF National Championships. In 2009, Etienne Chaplin won the latest of a string of SEC multi-event titles with her win in the outdoor heptathlon at the SEC Championships.

Arkansas’ newest breed of multi-eventers, Leah Orley and Makeba Alcide, have already made their stamp on the Razorback record books. Alcide and Orley, respectively, picked up sixth- and eighth-place finishes in the heptathlon at the 2010 SEC Outdoor Championships. In the SEC indoor pentathlon, Orley earned a seventh-place finish and was named to the SEC All-Freshman team. She also set a school record in the pentathlon 800 meters. In the three pentathlons and one heptathlon she competed in during the 2010 season, Orley won the 800-meter event all four times.

ARKANSASRAZORBACKS.COM
Joining the Razorbacks in the fall of 1998, Bryan Compton has proven to Arkansas that he was an invaluable addition for its coaching staff. In 12 years of working with the Razorback throwers and vaulters, Compton’s student-athletes have set 13 school records a total of 65 times, not including numerous heptathlon marks.

Arkansas’ resident vault expert was recognized for his contributions during the spring of 2005 when he was named the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches’ Association’s (USTFCCCA) Mideast Region Assistant Coach of the Year. That season his athletes earned two All-America honors, broke a pair of school records and each of the student-athletes he coached earned a spot at the NCAA Mideast Regional Championships, including four pole vaulters.

Compton’s expertise in the vault is the biggest addition to the Arkansas arsenal. In the past 12 years, he has coached nine student-athletes to 23 All-America honors, nine Southeastern Conference championships and a trio of SEC championship records. One of his most recent protégés, Jodi Unger, earned four All-America honors during the 2006 and 2007 seasons and was the NCAA runner-up in the pole vault outdoors as a senior.

Tina Sutej rose to the top in 2010. She swept the SEC Indoor and Outdoor pole vault titles and set the Arkansas and SEC Indoor meet record at 14-7.5. She earned a runner-up finish and the first All-America honor of her career at the 2010 NCAA Outdoor Championships. At the 2010 SEC Outdoor Championships, Sutej led a 1-2-3 finish for Arkansas in the pole vault. Compton’s vaulters finished 1-3-5 at the 2010 SEC Indoor Championships. Arkansas has won four-straight titles in the SEC outdoor pole vault (2007-10).

During the summer season, Sutej set a school record in the pole vault. At the Slovenian National Championships, in Velenje, Slovenia, Sutej won the pole vault title with a clearance of 14-9. Her height also improved her Slovenian National record. Her mark of 14-9 also meets the “B” qualifying standard for the 2011 World Championships in Daegu, Korea and the 2012 Olympic Games in London.

Sutej also cleared 14-7.25 at the 21st International Meeting “Krka 2010” in Novo Mesto, Slovenia. Sutej holds the No. 1 and No. 2 jumps in school history and three of the top five clearances on Arkansas’ all-time list. At the 2010 European Championships, she finished 10th in the finals of the vault with a height of 14-3.25.

In 2008, Katie Stripling carried on the strong pole vault tradition as she became the first Razorback to win both the SEC indoor and outdoor titles in the same season. She re-set the school record to 14-2 at the Arkansas Twilight and then to 14-3.25 at the NACAC Championships, earned her first All-America honor at the NCAA Outdoor Championships and won the vault title at the 2008 NACAC Championships in Mexico. Her bronze finish at the NACAC Championships picked up an All-America certificate.

Stripling carried over her success from 2008 into the 2009 season. She picked up two additional All-America honors and the 2009 SEC Outdoor individual title. Winning her third conference pole vault title and second outdoors, she cleared 14-5.25. Stripling’s clearance was an Arkansas record and is an SEC meet record.

Prior to Stripling and Unger’s emergence, Compton was best known for his work with former Razorback and 2008 Olympian April Steiner Bennett. A novice in the event when she arrived on campus in the fall of 2000, Steiner Bennett quickly became a household name and was the first woman in SEC history to clear 13 feet in the event indoors. She earned three-consecutive All-America honors indoors and set the standards for all Arkansas vaulters with then-school records exceeding 14 feet, both indoors and out.

Compton’s magic touch is not limited to the vault but to the other disciplines he coaches as well. In the throws, Compton guided Marie LeJour to Arkansas’ first SEC Commissioner’s Trophy by a non-distance runner, as well as its first conference championship in a throwing event. The summer following her breakthrough year, LeJour went on to win the first of her two Canadian National Championships in the discus.
Additionally, Brandy Blackwood, under Compton’s guidance, was one of Arkansas’ most decorated student-athletes and throwers. Blackwood stood out in the crowd with her eighth-place finish in the hammer throw at the 2004 SEC Championships in Oxford, Miss. Her points were vital to Arkansas picking up the 2004 SEC Outdoor Team Championship.

Blackwood holds the Arkansas records in the indoor weight throw and the outdoor hammer throw. She marked a toss of 68-6.5 in the weight throw at the 2005 NCAA Indoor Championships in Fayetteville, Ark. Her best hammer throw measured 192-9 at the 2005 NCAA Mideast Regional Championships in Bloomington, Ind. Her school record weight throw in Fayetteville, Ark., also earned her an All-America honor. She finished ninth at the 2005 NCAA Indoor Championships. She is one of just two Arkansas student-athletes to earn an All-America honor in a throwing event. LeJour earned the accolade in the weight throw at the 2002 NCAA Indoor Championships.

Added to his list of responsibilities in 2002 was the high jump and Compton once again produced. He coached Jessica Johnson to Arkansas school records both indoors and out, breaking the then-oldest school records in the books. With the records in hand, Johnson went after bigger and better things, taking Arkansas’ first-ever All-America honor in the high jump and finishing as national runner-up in the spring of 2003 with a clearance of 6-1.25.

Not to be ignored is Compton’s work with Arkansas’ multi-event personnel. His student-athletes have broken each of the Razorback event records in the multi-event throws and have earned a total of six All-America honors. In the spring of 2000, Arkansas qualified three heptathletes for the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

In Compton’s first year, he coached former Razorback Tali Griner to a second-place finish in the indoor pole vault at the SEC Championships with a then-impressive vault of 11-9. Griner also scored at the SEC Outdoor Championships that season with Israeli national records in the event both indoors and out. Compton’s first season also saw a pair of Razorbacks place in the hammer throw outdoors and another protege, Monica Ballow, finish third in the weight throw.

Prior to his time at Arkansas, Compton made stops at Wichita State, Illinois State and Texas Tech for a combined eight-plus years. During that time period, he coached athletes to NCAA finals, Olympic Trials and numerous conference championships. Compton came to Arkansas from Wichita State, where he served as assistant track coach in charge of throws. In three years with the Shockers, Compton coached five All-Americans who garnered a total of eight honors.

Not only has Compton been an accomplished coach over the past 20-plus years but he was also a good athlete in his own right. A varsity track athlete at Angelo State, Compton was a national qualifier for the NCAA Division II National Championships in both 1983 and 1984 in the long jump and the sprint relay. Compton earned his bachelor’s degree in physical education and biology from Angelo State in 1985. He has a son, Austin.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Diann Ousley - 1979 Indoor 600 Yards

As a junior in high school, Diann Ousley was one of the best in the country, but an injury as a senior kept coaches from recruiting her. Coming to Arkansas, Ousley regained the form from her junior year and won the Razorbacks' first national title.

Competing in the 600-yard run at the 1979 national collegiate meet, Ousley shocked the country by beating the defending national champion, Lee Ballenger of Colorado, and the meet record holder, Doraine Lambelet of Villanova, for the title. Her time of 1:21.22 is still a school record in the event and paced the Razorbacks to a fifth-place national finish.

Jamie Park - 1991 Outdoor 10,000 Meters

A transfer from Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo and a Division II national champion at 10,000 meters as a freshman, Jamie Park barely made the NCAA Championship meet as the 16th entry in a 16-person field. With a career best of 34:15.08, no one expected Jamie Park to step in at Arkansas and compete for a national championship as a sophomore.

“Carole Zajac of Villanova was the favorite,” Arkansas head coach Lance Harter reflected. “Jamie would always peak at the right time but she had never run 33 minutes in the 10K.”

The race began with a large pack in the front where Park would sit between fourth and sixth throughout most of the race. At the five-mile mark, Park moved into the lead which she did without much competition. Soon after she would look to her coach for the green light to move on. With the signal, Park pushed the pace of the race and powered the last 800 meters around the track to finish in an astonishing 33:15.08. Park's championship was the first NCAA title in Arkansas history as well as the first outdoor championship.

Trine Pilskog - 1995 Indoor Mile

The 1995 indoor track championship was a special time for the Razorbacks as two individuals won NCAA championships. The first to accomplish the feat was Norwegian Trine Pilskog in the mile. Pilskog qualified for the NCAA meet with a time of 4:42.27, but struggled during the prelims of the national championship, finishing 10th with a mark of 4:50.95.

“Trine was the last person to qualify for the finals,” Lance Harter said. “She barely got in by just hundredths of a second. Our plan for the finals was to sit in and let the field do all the work.”

Pilskog followed the game plan set forth by her coach and put herself in decent position with 400 meters to go. With just 250 meters left in the race, Pilskog rose to a new level, according to Harter, and pulled away from the field to win the race with a personal best 4:39.19. Her winning time was the Norwegian indoor national record as well as a Razorback record.
Sarah Schwald - 1995 Indoor 3,000 meters
Sarah Schwald was a national competitor in many races but failed to win a national title until the 1995 indoor season. Entering the championships with a mark of 9:35.2 for 3,000 meters, Schwald improved during the prelims of the race with a time of 9:33.16, which placed her in good position heading into the finals where she would have to face the favorite, Christine Stief of Boston University.

“Sarah was definitely a contender for the title,” said Lance Harter. “When she saw Trine Pliskog win her national championship, there was no stopping her in that race. She was extremely focused.”

The race began with a large pack at the front of the field but many of the contenders started to fall off the lead group as the race wore on. Soon it came down to Schwald and Stief, and with 400 meters to go, both looked very strong.

“They both looked good with two laps to go,” Harter said. “Then all of a sudden, Sarah passed Stief and the race was over.”

Schwald would run a lifetime best 9:19.90 to win the race, less than one second ahead of Stief’s 9:20.69. The title was Arkansas’ second of the 1995 indoor championships, a feat that wasn’t duplicated until 2001, and allowed Arkansas to finish fourth overall at the meet.

Amy Yoder Begley - 2000 Indoor 5,000 Meters
Amy Yoder Begley entered the 2000 indoor track meet as a perennial bridesmaid. The junior had finished second or third in several NCAA competitions. All that changed on March 10, 2000, when Yoder Begley entered the 5,000-meter run at the NCAA Championships in Fayetteville with the fourth-fastest mark in the country.

The race began like most distance competitions at national meets: a lead pack takes the race out and tries to thin the contenders for the top spot. Yoder Begley stayed with the lead group through the midway point where it became clear that there would be only two people vying for the lead, Yoder Begley and Carrie Tollefson of Villanova. Tollefson would sit on Yoder Begley’s side for most of the race, but with 600 meters to go, Yoder Begley made her final move and left Tollefson in her wake. Crossing the finish line in 15:46.89, Yoder Begley won her first national title, set the Arkansas school record and became the first Arkansas athlete to ever win a national championship in Fayetteville.

Tracy Robertson - 2001 Indoor Mile
Entering the 2001 NCAA Indoor Championships, Tracy Robertson held the second-fastest time in the competition as well as a chip on her shoulder. A finalist in the event in 2000, Robertson was among the leaders before getting tripped midway through the race. She would recover for fourth in 2000 but had a point to prove as the 2001 race began.

“Tracy was the epitome of the philosophy of the Arkansas program,” Lance Harter would say months later. “She got on the escalator at the bottom and rode it right to the top.”

Robertson hung with the leaders for four of the eight laps, then took control. She would be challenged throughout by Mary Jane Harrelson of Appalachian State, the race favorite, but with each surge that Harrelson made, Robertson would fend it off and add more distance between herself and her opposition.

Harrelson would make another strong push with one lap remaining, but as Robertson covered the move, Harrelson would drop off the pace giving Robertson a clear path to victory. Crossing the line in 4:39.10, Robertson established a personal best in the race and beat her competition by three seconds.
NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Gi-Gi Miller - 2001 Indoor Triple Jump

Gi-Gi Miller was a phenomenal athlete who never concentrated on just one event. A heptathlete by trade, she was a threat in every competition, despite the distance or specialty, and as the 2001 indoor triple jump began, Miller was focused.

“Gi-Gi had to overcome some injuries during indoor track and because of her versatility it took a little longer than we expected,” said Lance Harter. “As a competitor, Gi-Gi has the unique ability to psychologically and physiologically go to the next level. During that competition, she just kept getting better with each jump.”

Miller went into the finals with a big jump of 43-4.5 which placed her second overall. As the finals began, Miller’s talent shined. Opening the final three jumps of competition with a mark of 43-8.75, Miller took the lead and never relinquished it. She would improve her mark with her fifth jump to 44-4, despite a big leap by UCLA’s Deana Simmons to end the competition.

Amy Yoder Begley - 2001 Outdoor 10,000 Meters

Arguably the greatest distance runner in SEC women’s track history, Amy Yoder Begley put a final stamp on her career when she became the first Razorback ever to win a second NCAA individual title. Coming off an Achilles injury, Yoder Begley was not looked at as one of the favorites at the 2001 NCAA Outdoor Track Championships, but she would quickly move up with the leaders and assert her position.

“Our plan was to stay near the front,” Lance Harter said. “We wanted to stay in control and resist any challenges. Then the field began to string out and there were a series of challenges that she conquered. A little later, she was able to establish her own challenges and three-quarters of the way through the race was hers.”

Exhausted from the heat, Yoder Begley collapsed across the finish line well out in front of her competition for her second national title and her 15th All-America honor, both Razorback school records.

Veronica Campbell - 2004 Indoor 200 Meters

Touted as one of the best sprinters of her age group, Veronica did not disappoint the fans at the Randal Tyson Track Center when she entered the finals of the 200 meters with the third-fastest time during prelims. Set up in a prime lane for the final, Campbell roared down the back straight showing her competition why she held the fastest time in the world up to that point.

“Any time you go into a meet as the favorite or the co-favorite, there are always some nerves,” Lance Harter said. “Veronica had to run the collegiate record just to win the race, which shows you just how good the competition was. This may have been the greatest 200-meter race ever.”

Campbell crossed the finish line in 22.44 seconds, breaking the collegiate record by .05 seconds. The time also set the standard for all runners across the globe as it stood as the fastest 200-meter time in the world during the 2004 indoor season.
LaShaunte’a Moore - 2004 Outdoor 200 Meters

Entering the 2004 NCAA Outdoor Championships with the nation's 26th-fastest time, not many expected LaShaunte’a Moore to be a factor in the 200 meters. She became more than a factor when she completed an Arkansas sweep of the 200-meter dash during the ‘04 season. Getting out of the blocks well, Moore was with the leaders at the end of the curve, then used her strength to pull away as the field entered the straightaway.

Facing a world-class field, Moore held off the challengers to cross the finish line in stunning fashion at 22.37 seconds, well ahead of the favorite, Muna Lee of LSU, who finished at 22.55 seconds.

"Phenomenal," Lance Harter said. "Coach (Rolando) Greene called it before we went to nationals, that LaShaunte’a would have a great meet and she certainly did."

Moore’s win in the 200 was Arkansas’ 10th individual national title and third in the sprints. It also capped off a tremendous season for Arkansas in the ballistic events which re-wrote the Razorback record books.

Aneita Denton - 2005 Indoor 800 Meters

As the 2005 NCAA Indoor Championships approached, all the buzz in the 800 meters was about Aneita Denton and Nicole Cook of Tennessee who had battled two weeks prior to the meet at the SEC Championships to the tune of the collegiate record and third-fastest collegiate mark. Cook got the best of Denton in that race, but Denton would not let the disappointment get her down.

Starting in a pack, Denton made a move with 400-meters to go and built a small lead that was quickly covered by Neisha Bernard-Thomas of LSU. Another charge by Bernard-Thomas put her shoulder-to-shoulder with Denton, but the strength of Denton allowed her to hold off the LSU runner and claim her first national title.

"That couldn’t have happened to a better individual," Lance Harter said. "Aneita deserved to win the national championship. She worked really hard, and winning the title is a testament to that work. I am so proud of her."

Denton’s victory made her the fifth Razorback to win a national indoor title since the completion of the Randal Tyson Track Center and was the first for a Razorback in the 800 meters.

Aneita Denton - 2005 Outdoor 800 Meters

Taking the unfamiliar role of being the one to beat at the 2005 NCAA Outdoor Championships, Aneita Denton worked her way through two rounds of competition before setting up to face a tough field in the finals. The defending NCAA indoor champion entered the final with the fastest time and got off to a fast start with the field. In third place at the break, Denton found herself caught in a box as the runners merged and waited for her way out. The opportunity came just 100 meters later, and Denton cruised to the front of the field to run off the shoulder of Cal Poly’s Maggie Vessey. Hitting the homestretch, Denton put it in another gear as she pulled away from the field to sweep the national 800-meter titles.

"What a race," Lance Harter said. "Aneita definitely deserves the title. She could have panicked when she got caught in the box, but kept her head and executed when she got the opportunity."

The sweep of the national 800-meter titles by Denton made her just the third woman in NCAA history to accomplish that task and the first since two-time Olympian Hazel Clark in 1998. She also earned the honor of being the first Razorback to win two NCAA titles in the same academic year, and just the second to win more than one national championship.

SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

The University of Arkansas and the Razorbacks have been competing in the Southeastern Conference since the fall of 1991 and in that time have been one of, if not the, best track and field institutions. With SEC team championships dating back as far as 1981, more than 20 years, it would seem unreasonable to expect that the Razorbacks would be a significant part of the league’s history.

To the contrary, since Arkansas joined the toughest collegiate track and field conference in the country, it has won more team titles (19) than all but one other institution and has taken a team championship in 19 of 58 opportunities, an unprecedented 33 percent of the time. Pushing the Razorback’s team success have been the individuals. Former Razorback and U.S. Olympian Amy Yoder Begley ended her outstanding career with 15 individual conference championships, five more than any other woman in SEC history. Along with Yoder Begley, former Razorback and U.S. Olympian Deena Drossin also cracks into the top 10 with seven individual championships.

Representing the State of Arkansas for Scholarship, Service and Athletics
The University of Arkansas received its 12th NCAA Woman of the Year for the state in 2004 with the selection of All-American high jumper Jessica Johnson. Since the first state representatives were selected in 1991, a Razorback has been a part of the National Woman of the Year banquet in 12 of the 14 years of the program.

The cross country and track and field teams have provided a good portion of Arkansas’ NCAA Woman of the Year recipients. Cynthia Moore was Arkansas’ first woman of the year back in 1991 and since then has been followed by six others who have competed for the Razorbacks on the track. Kim Mount was the state representative in 1994, followed by 10-time All-American Megan Flowers in 1997. Volleyball All-American and track walk-on Jessica Field represented the Razorbacks in 1999 before Jessica Dailey became the University’s first top 10 finisher in 2000. 15-time All-American Amy Yoder Begley was selected in 2001 followed by All-American Jessica Johnson in 2004.

One of the newest facilities on the University of Arkansas campus is the Randal Tyson Track Center, which was dedicated on Feb. 12, 2000. The new facility was the vision of former UA head coach John McDonnell and Athletic Director Frank Broyles and continues the tradition of building some of the finest facilities in the nation at Arkansas.

In its first year of operation, the $8 million facility hosted the Tyson Invitational, a meet on the Golden Spike Tour, the 2000 Southeastern Conference Championships and the 2000 NCAA Indoor Championships. In 2001 and 2002, the Randal Tyson Track Center once again served as the host for the Golden Spike Tour’s Tyson Invitational and the NCAA Indoor Championships.

During the 2003 season, three events were held at the state-of-the-art facility: the SEC West Challenge, the Tyson Invitational and the NCAA Championships. The 2004 campaign saw four exciting events take place at the Randal Tyson Track Center, including the Arkansas, Razorback and Tyson Invitational meets and the national championships.

The schedule was full in 2005 and 2010 as the Arkansas, Razorback and Tyson Invitationals and the SEC and NCAA Championships were all held at the Tyson Track Center.

A new 36x20 custom video scoreboard system by Daktronics was installed in time for the 2005 NCAA Championships. It features a 23x13 video display screen with instant replay, electronic timing and scoring capabilities.

The track itself is a 200-meter, 60-degree banked track that has 55-meter straightways running the entire length of the facility. It also includes men’s and women’s jumping runways and pits. The surface of the track is red and gray Mondo and was repainted in 2003.

With all of the big name events that are held in the facility, the Tyson Track Center was built to handle the demands for the many media outlets. The press box is two-tiered offering 50 seats and has an announcer’s booth. There are four elevated camera positions located around the track. A media room is also available in the north concourse.

The University of Arkansas and the Randal Tyson Track Center will host the 2011 Southeastern Conference Track and Field Championships, Feb. 25-27.
Outdoor home to the most successful program in NCAA history, John McDonnell Field is one of the top outdoor track and field facilities in the nation. Named for legendary head coach John McDonnell, the winner of 40 NCAA national championships, the facility is one of only two IAAF Class 1 certified track and field complexes in the U.S. and the first such facility on a collegiate campus.

The state-of-the-art competition areas include a nine-lane Mondo track, a grass infield as well as a full hammer cage and multiple throw areas. The pole vault and jumping pits are reversible and contain two sets of runways to accommodate multiple events. Capacity is currently set at 7,000 with the potential to hold 10,000 with additional construction.

John McDonnell Field played host to the 2006 Southeastern Conference Championships, the 2008 NCAA Mideast Regional Championships, the 2009 NCAA Outdoor Championships, in addition to the annual John McDonnell Invitational. The 2006 SEC and 2009 NCAA meets were the first in what promises to be a long line of prominent events slated for the new facility.

The 2008 Summer Olympic Games saw 10 former Arkansas Razorback student-athletes make the trip to Beijing in representation of four countries.

Arkansas women’s track and field had six of its former student-athletes competing in Beijing. Nicole Teter (800 meters), Christin Wurth-Thomas (1,500 meters), Amy Yoder Begley (10,000 meters), Deena Kastor (marathon), April Steiner Bennett (pole vault) and LaShaunte’a Moore (4x100-meter relay pool) represented Team USA while Veronica Campbell-Brown ran the 200 meters and as a member of the 4x100-meter relay for Team Jamaica.

Campbell-Brown, the first Razorback women’s Olympic gold medalist in UA school history at the 2004 Olympic Games in Athens, won the gold medal with a personal-best time of 21.74 In Beijing, her new medal was the fifth in her collection and she became only the second woman in history to successfully defend the Olympic 200-meter title. Her clocking, 21.74, is eighth on the all-time list. She also served as Jamaica’s flag bearer at the Opening Ceremonies.

Deena Kastor was also after another Olympic medal in Beijing, after having won bronze in the marathon in 2004. In her third Olympic competition in Beijing, Kastor failed to finish the competition after experiencing discomfort in her right foot five kilometers into the race.

Nicole Teter, another multi-time Olympian for the Razorback women, competed in her second Olympic Games in Beijing after qualifying at 800 meters in the 2004 games at Athens. A leg injury kept Teter from even completing a lap, as she stepped off the track 100 meters into the race with tears streaming down her face.

“I really thought I could just step on the track and get through it,” Teter said. “This is the Olympics. I had to go for it. My first stride, I just couldn’t get on my toes. I went as far as I could and I just couldn’t do it.”

April Steiner Bennett finished eighth in the women’s pole vault competition, clearing a personal-best 14-11. It was her first Olympic competition, and she couldn’t help but feel the emotion.

“I walked out of the tunnel and onto the track and I started to cry,” Steiner Bennett said. “It was just so overwhelming.”

Cristin Wurth-Thomas dittoed Steiner Bennett’s performance by posting an eighth-place finish of her own in her heat of the 1,500 meters. She posted a time of 4:09.70 in her first dose of competition at the Olympic Games.

Amy Yoder Begley, one of the most decorated women’s track athletes in Razorback history, also saw her first dose of action in Olympic competition when she competed in the final at 10,000 meters. Her road to Beijing was one of trials and tribulations.

Immediately after finishing third at the US trials in Eugene, Ore., Yoder Begley was still uncertain as to whether or not she had made the time standard required to make the Olympic team. Needing to meet the Olympic A standard of 31:45.0, Yoder Begley cut it close and initially thought she was over the standard.

“The best way to describe my feelings was I was emotionally paralyzed,” she said. “I was so crushed and so I just laid down on the track because I didn’t know what else to do.”

As it turned out, she was credited with posting a time of 31:43.60, 1.4 seconds under the standard.

“I couldn’t believe it,” Yoder Begley said. “I went from this incredible low to this incredible high instantaneously.”
UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS
The University of Arkansas, the flagship campus of the University of Arkansas System, resides on a former hilltop farm overlooking the Ozark Mountains to the south. At the University’s founding in 1871, the site was described as “second to none in the state of Arkansas.”

Located in Fayetteville, the university is both the major land-grant university for Arkansas and the state university. The university was created under the Morrill Land-Grant College Act of 1862, whereby federal land sales provided funds for new colleges devoted to agriculture and the mechanic arts, scientific and classical studies, and military tactics, all designed for the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes. The university’s founding satisfied the provision in the Arkansas Constitution of 1868 that the General Assembly establish and maintain a state university.

Citizens in Fayetteville and surrounding Washington County raised $130,000 to secure the university’s location in a statewide competition sparked by the General Assembly’s Organic Act of 1871, providing for the “location, organization and maintenance of the Arkansas Industrial University with a normal department [i.e., teacher education] therein.”

Today, the University of Arkansas encompasses more than 130 buildings on 345 acres and provides nearly 200 academic programs, more than some universities twice its size. At the same time, it maintains a low student-to-faculty ratio (currently 17:1) that makes personal attention possible. The university promotes undergraduate research in virtually every discipline and makes higher education affordable with competitively priced tuition and generous financial aid.

WORLD-CLASS FACULTY

The campus culture places high value on excellent teaching. At this mainly residential campus, the faculty numbers nearly 1,000, of which almost 95 percent are full-time. Nine of every 10 faculty members hold either a doctorate or terminal degree in their field, and more than 65 percent of the faculty is tenured.

The instructional mission is aided by the Cordes Teaching and Faculty Support Center, a program run by faculty for faculty. The center involves as many as 400 faculty and nearly 200 teaching assistants per year in regularly scheduled programs, seminars, workshops and an annual off-campus teaching retreat as well as individual assistance to update and enhance their teaching methods.

This emphasis is reinforced by the University of Arkansas Teaching Academy, which consists of faculty recognized by their peers, colleges and the larger university for teaching excellence. In 2000, the academy began producing Inquiry, the first undergraduate research journal published by an Arkansas institution of higher learning.

WORLD-CLASS FACILITIES
Over $700 million in construction projects were completed on campus in the past decade, are now under construction or are in the planning stages. These include plans to upgrade or renovate several of our historic buildings. The university is also engaged in an ambitious program to improve the energy efficiency of 35 of our buildings, in an on-going effort to create a sustainable campus.

WORLD-CLASS SUPPORT
Investment in the future is critical, and the unprecedented Campaign for the Twenty-First Century that concluded in 2006 resulted in a billion dollar infusion of gifts to the University of Arkansas. The effort included the largest single gift to a U.S. public university in the history of American philanthropy: a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Trust. Primary among the programs created by the Walton gift was the designation of $200 million toward the establishment of the Honors College.

That kind of commitment from the state and the region is not uncommon. It was the effort of the city of Fayetteville and Washington County in submitting the highest bid to the state in the 1870s that resulted in the University of Arkansas opening its doors here on Jan. 22, 1872.

SENIOR WALK
The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates’ names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate’s name went down in cement during the 1990s. The names on Senior Walk stretch over five miles of campus sidewalks.

The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

The Carnegie Foundation categorizes the University of Arkansas as a research institution with “high research activity,” placing it among the top 10 percent of universities nationwide. In simple terms, the university is in the top tier of 150 research universities among the nation’s more than 4,000 post-secondary institutions — and growing in research activity and expenditures each year.

As a land-grant and state university, the institution considers research, scholarship and creative endeavor — all leading to the advancement of knowledge — a significant component of its primary mission. The university’s faculty members are active researchers and scholars who consistently attract international attention in the arts, sciences, humanities, technology, business and education.

Research expenditures at the University of Arkansas for fiscal year now exceed $117 million per year, making research activity a significant academic element at the university and an economic engine for the state. It’s also not uncommon anymore for research awards to the university to rise at double-digit percentage rates, and such awards also are approaching the $100 million level.

In addition to the work performed by faculty through individual and collaborative efforts in their academic departments, special research and outreach programs — often interdisciplinary — are conducted in approximately 50 centers and organized research units around campus.

AMONG THE LEADING-EDGE CENTERS AND RESEARCH ACTIVITIES:

- The RFID Research Center laboratory conducts research in the most efficient use of radio frequency identification and other wireless sensor technologies throughout the supply chain, with a particular emphasis on the retail supply chain. Positioned in northwest Arkansas at the epicenter of retail activity, the RFID Research Center laboratory is a multidisciplinary “supply chain in a box” devoted to examining the technology as used in retail, storeroom and warehouse environments.

- The Center for Sensing Technology and Research features a 9.4 Tesla Fourier transform mass spectrometer, which uses a high-powered magnet that improves the resolution of images of molecules and provides detailed information about their structure. Coupled with other instruments in the High Performance Mass Spectrometry Laboratory, the mass spectrometer offers high-resolution laser desorption mass spectrometry, which is not available at any other public laboratory in the country.

- The Chemical Hazards Research Center has the largest ultra-low-speed boundary layer wind tunnel in the world. The wind tunnel simulates releases of heavier-than-air gases into the atmosphere. It has been used to simulate potential disasters and to trace the path of disasters that have occurred, such as the catastrophic 1984 Union Carbide leak in Bhopal, India.

- The High Density Electronics Center has established itself as one of the top electronics packaging research and education facilities in the world. HiDEC has executed contracts from government and industry totaling more than $30 million. Projects have ranged from multichip module design to the development and evaluation of new technologies and electronic products.

- The Center for Advanced Spatial Technologies has been recognized nationally for its data storage and retrieval warehouse, GeoStor, by the Urban & Regional Information Systems Association. The center works with people across campus in various disciplines, offering researchers the latest in innovative technologies. This has led to interdisciplinary collaboration in fields as diverse as engineering, agriculture, anthropology and sociology.

CHANGING THE WORLD
Some internationally significant ways that the University has – and is – changing the world:

• Barnett Sure, a University of Arkansas professor of agricultural chemistry, pioneered nutrition research that led to the co-discovery of vitamin E, a vitamin high in antioxidants. His work also led to understanding of how vitamin E, amino acids and B vitamins affect reproduction and lactation.

• As world population grew during the 20th century, so did the contribution of research at the University of Arkansas. Marinus C. Kik, a professor of agricultural chemistry from 1927 to 1967, developed the process for parboiling rice, one of the most plentiful grains in undeveloped parts of the world. Kik’s process increased retention of vitamins and shortened cooking time.

• In 1948, Silas Hunt became the first black person to integrate a traditionally white Southern university, enrolling in the University of Arkansas School of Law six years before the Brown v. Board of Education decision. Likewise, Edith Irby Jones soon after became the first black graduate from a Southern university, attaining her medical degree from the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences. Both acts happened without litigation or protest.

THE FULBRIGHT LEGACY
Since its founding, the University of Arkansas has compiled a remarkable record of scientific, technological, intellectual and creative accomplishment. This accomplishment is exemplified by the late U.S. Senator J. William Fulbright, a Rhodes Scholar as a student and eventual president of the university (1939-41). Fulbright went on to serve at the national level, founding in 1946 the greatest international exchange program for faculty and students in the world.

Fulbright’s injunction for academia guides the University of Arkansas to this day: “The highest function of higher education is the teaching of things in perspective, toward the purposes of enriching the life of the individual, cultivating the free and inquiring mind and advancing the effort to bring reason, justice and humanity into the relations of men and nations.”

The University of Arkansas has long been an institution of strong international orientation. In 1951, under U.S. State Department auspices, the University became the first land-grant institution in the nation to assemble an agricultural foreign mission. The object of that mission was to

UNIQUE TRADITIONS
Starting on Old Main’s front step with the year 1876, the names of the more than 125,000 graduates have been chiseled into more than two miles of campus walkways, grouped by year of graduation. It’s not uncommon to see alumni strolling Senior Walk to rediscover their own names and fond memories of accomplishment and fun.

Old Main, the university’s signature building, designed in Second Empire architectural style, has come to symbolize higher education in Arkansas. Old Main is one of 11 campus buildings on the National Register of Historic Places. Today, it is the home to the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Science, the largest academic college within the University of Arkansas.

The Inn at Carnall Hall and Ella’s Restaurant comprise the university’s own on-campus hospitality center. The beautiful, 50-room historic inn and five-star restaurant are both overseen by the hospitality and restaurant management academic program in the Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food and Life Sciences. Carnall Hall was built in 1905 as the university’s first women’s residence hall. The building was named after Ella Carnall, one of the campus’ first female faculty members.

Both acts happened without litigation or protest.

• When John Pople and Walter Kohn received the 1998 Nobel Prize in Chemistry, they cited the research of University of Arkansas chemist Peter
Pulay as the building block for their prize-winning work. Early in his career, Pulay developed techniques for determining the shape and size of molecules that would permanently change the way scientists study matter. Today his approach is used by theoretical chemists around the world to determine the geometry of large, biologically important molecules.

- Two professors and a university alumnus – Harold Dulan, E.J. Ball and Lewis Callison – created the nation’s first commercial variable annuity life insurance company, later bought by Aetna Insurance. Today, variable annuities are used worldwide in estate planning for participation in economic growth and as a hedge against inflation.

- In 1950, the University of Arkansas built the first American facility to integrate the study of fine arts. Edward Durell Stone, a former student who was by then an internationally recognized architect, designed the Fine Arts Center and followed on this early effort later to design the Kennedy Center for Arts in Washington, D.C. Other universities and colleges also followed Arkansas’ example, developing cross-curricular exchanges so that artists, musicians, actors and designers could learn from each other and draw inspiration from other similar disciplines.

- Chemistry professor Paul Kuroda predicted that self-sustaining nuclear chain reactions could have occurred naturally in earth’s geologic history. His prediction was later confirmed when scientists discovered a natural nuclear reactor in Gabon, Africa. In 1960, he predicted the existence of Plutonium-244 as an element present during the solar system’s formation. Confirmation of his theory enabled scientists to more accurately date the sequence of events in the solar system’s early history.

- The Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing, a 60-hour program launched at the University of Arkansas in 1966, has grown into one of the most productive and highly ranked programs of its kind in America. Founded by English professors William Harrison and James Whitehead, later joined by Miller Williams, the program was an early catalyst in the transformation of the traditional study of literature into a demanding training ground for writers.

- University of Arkansas plant pathologists George Templeton, Roy Smith, David TeBeest and graduate student Jim Daniels conducted research in the early 1970s that led to the first biological herbicide for weed control in a field crop, later called Collego. Their work to avoid chemical herbicides led to worldwide development of safer biological herbicides and establishment of the Rosen Center for Alternative Pest Control at the University of Arkansas.

- Physics professors Allen Hermann and Zhengzhi Sheng mixed up a thallium-based material in 1988 that set the world’s highest temperature at which superconductivity could be sustained, leading to new advances in the manufacture of high-density electronics. Their patented material held the record for more than five years while researchers around the world raced to catch up.

- Professor Dwight Isely of the department of entomology is considered the father of insect pest management in the United States. His research identified the weak point in the life cycle of insects that made them particularly susceptible to control strategies. Through his work on cotton insect pests, the codling moth, the striped cucumber beetle, the southern corn rootworm and the rice water weevil, American Agriculture saved millions of dollars.

- Engineering professors at the University of Arkansas invented the next-best thing to the zip code – the wide-area bar code reader, which became the most widely implemented automated mail-sorting equipment in the world. By 2000, more than 15,000 bar code readers were used in every major Postal Service facility, increasing the efficiency of processing 20 billion pieces of mail a year at a savings of $200 million.

- Former President William Jefferson Clinton and Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton started their careers as faculty members of the University of Arkansas in the mid-1970s. While a law professor, Mr. Clinton made his first runs for political office, getting elected as the Arkansas attorney general in 1976. Mrs. Clinton founded the university’s legal clinic, which still provides law students a chance to work with clients on legal problems.
Dr. G. David Gearhart became the chancellor of the University of Arkansas on July 1, 2008, following 10 years of service to the university as vice chancellor for university advancement. Previously he was senior vice president of Penn State University, during which time he was named a Fulbright Scholar, studying at Oxford University in Oxford, England.

His Bachelor of Arts degree is from Westminster College in Missouri. Both his law degree and his doctor of education degree are from the University of Arkansas. He is a native of Fayetteville.

Prior to being appointed chancellor, Dr. Gearhart oversaw the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, the most successful capital campaign in Arkansas history, which raised more than $1 billion for academic programs.

As chancellor, Dr. Gearhart instituted the first tuition freeze in 24 years and implemented a $220 million campus building renovation plan. He has also undertaken a renewed emphasis on the arts on campus, including the establishment of the “All Steinway Campus.”

Dr. Gearhart has additionally implemented a major cost savings program that has already resulted in over $13 million in cost reduction and savings to the flagship campus. Campus enrollment has also grown by more than 10 percent in the last two years to almost 21,500 students. At the same time, diversity in the student body has increased significantly.

He and his wife of 35 years, Jane, have two children and one grandchild.

CHANCELLOR
DR. G. DAVID GEARHART

Dr. Sharon Hunt was instrumental in establishing the graduate athletic training education program in the College of Education and Health Professions, and she has worked closely with athletics on that program. The athletics department provides support to students in the athletic training education program in the form of a stipend, books and travel to the Arkansas Athletic Trainers’ Association annual meeting. Two endowed scholarships for athletic training students in honor of longtime Razorback trainers Dean Weber and the late Bill Ferrell were established through the athletics department.

Chancellor G. David Gearhart has appointed Dr. Sharon Hunt to be the faculty athletics representative for the University of Arkansas in August 2010.

Dr. Hunt is the first woman and non-lawyer to hold the post. Dr. Hunt has been on the University of Arkansas faculty for 20 years and has served as head of the department of health science, kinesiology, recreation and dance in the College of Education and Health Professions for that entire time except for the 2000-01 academic year, when she served as interim dean of the college.

A high school athlete, Hunt’s involvement with collegiate athletics dates back to her own college days at the University of Arkansas when she played extramural sports with the women’s basketball and tennis teams prior to the enactment of Title IX.

After receiving her bachelor’s and master’s degrees in physical education from the university, she went on to earn a doctor of education degree from the University of Georgia, where she taught a variety of sport-activity courses as a graduate assistant. Upon the completion of her doctoral degree, she joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky for 13 years, where she taught both undergraduate and graduate courses and served as the graduate coordinator for the department of health, physical education and recreation. In 1990, she and her family returned to Fayetteville.

Dr. Hunt will work closely with the athletic department, will be involved in the student-athlete advisory council on campus and will travel to represent the University of Arkansas at various SEC and NCAA meetings.

ACADEMICS
STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR SUCCESS AND ACHIEVEMENT

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND ACHIEVEMENT MISSION STATEMENT
The primary focus of the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement Program is to provide the student-athlete with the opportunity to develop the skills necessary to be a success in college and in life. This is accomplished through superior academic counseling, life skills training and preparation to enter the job market upon graduation.

THE BOGLE ACADEMIC CENTER
There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletic Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the home of the Razorback Athletic Department’s Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement program is the Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center. The 15,000-square foot Bogle Academic Center is located in the east side of Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Under the overall direction of Senior Associate Athletic Director Jon Fagg, the Bogle Academic Center houses the Arkansas Razorbacks Academic Support Program, the Razorback Office of Student Life and the Career Development Program.

Associate Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Support Services Melissa Harwood-Rom oversees the staff of professionals dedicated to directing student-athletes to reach their personal academic goals, and to do so in ways that balance their academic, athletic and personal lives.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND ACHIEVEMENT SERVICES
The Mission Statement for the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement division -- SAASA -- speaks for itself, but the improvements and achievements of the Razorbacks over the past academic year are what is most important. At Arkansas, academic services are not just good grades and eligibility. Along with 18 of 19 teams exceeding the NCAA standard for APR, Razorbacks earned some of the highest conference and national academic honors in the 2009-10 year including a pair of Southeastern Conference Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

It is also not about honoring the “A” student. Arkansas Athletics is committed to every single athlete improving his or her academic performance every semester, working to achieve academic “personal bests” with each class just the same as we would expect our athletes to hit personal records in competition.
UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS ACADEMIC GAME PLAN FOR GRADUATION

Student-athletes are expected to meet specific academic criteria in order to maintain eligibility. This is easily achieved by following the Academic Game Plan created by the Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement team.

The SAASA designs programs and sets specific goals to help student-athletes achieve academic success. An example of a key goal is the successful completion of 30 hours of coursework during each academic year. By maintaining this course load, Razorback athletes not only stay on track to graduate in four years, but easily meet eligibility requirements set by the NCAA.

STUDY HALL AND TUTORS

A quiet setting for uninterrupted study, the Bogle Academic Center provides three types of study hall space. The computer lab (above) has over 30 stations for individual computer-based study. An open study hall is available for group or individual study, and monitored by staff members of the SAASA. There are 17 individual study carrels that provide space for tutors to meet with student athletes for individual instruction in specific subjects.

Each Razorback team sets its own criteria for study hall attendance. The use of tutors is a key element for academic success, allowing for individualized assistance and for reaching academic excellence in advanced subjects.
HONORS AND ACADEMICS

Academic Excellence Program -- Recognition for Razorback athletes who exceed a 3.0 GPA each fall and spring semester.

Academic Champions -- Razorbacks who scored perfect 4.0 grades for the semester

Athletic Director's List -- Razorbacks with grades from 3.50-3.99

Athletic Department Honor Roll -- Razorbacks with grades from 3.00-3.49

Lon Farrell Award -- Presented to the graduating Razorback athlete each spring semester with the highest cumulative GPA.

Bandon Burlsworth Award -- Voted on by the university faculty as the outstanding former non-scholarship student-athlete.

Hard Working Hog -- Recognizing achievements of new personal academic bests each semester.

SEC Academic Honor Roll -- A 3.0 GPA or above for two consecutive semesters.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

The University of Arkansas Razorback Athletic Department has an overall student-athlete class attendance policy. Student-Athletes Academic Support and Achievement assists with the enforcement of this policy through regular checks on class attendance. If traveling with a team, student-athletes notify instructors early in each semester regarding assignments or exams.

STUDENT LIFE

The social and personal development of student-athletes is as important to the University of Arkansas as the academic and athletic achievement. The Office of Student Life focuses on the personal development and community service components of the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills program. Training is provided in a variety of areas including financial planning, drug and alcohol education, time management, study skills and developing community service activities.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The purpose of the Career Development Program is to assist student-athletes in making a smooth transition from the University of Arkansas into the workplace. This process begins during the freshman year with a one-hour course on career options. Workshops are held to provide student-athletes training in resume writing, interviewing skills and etiquette. Individual assistance with locating summer internships and job placement gives student-athletes a head start into their chosen careers.

FAMOUS RECENT RAZORBACKS

Tiffani Wright (BA, 1998)

“The University of Arkansas isn’t a huge university, but it has a huge reputation. My professors were concerned with my personal goals; concerned about how I wanted to develop as an individual. There is a great amount of one-on-one mentoring with the teachers. I think one of the greatest things about Arkansas is that you are an individual, a real person — not just an I.D. number — to the faculty and staff.”

Tiffani Wright went from 1998 NCAA Women’s Final Four to graduation to sideline reporter for ESPN’s coverage of the WNBA within weeks. Today, she is the sports anchor at ABC affiliate, WSOY, in Charlotte, N.C.
Community service is a vital part of the educational process for any college student, and Razorback athletes continued to make it a priority in 2009-10.

With guidance from the Student-Athlete Development office, Razorback student-athletes, coaches and staff members participating in a number of events throughout the year. Here’s a brief look at some of those projects.

- Going out to area elementary schools to support the Book Hogs reading program and the Sweat Hawgs physical education awareness program.
- Individual team projects ranging from volunteering at the Fayetteville Public Library, working with Habitat for Humanity, assisting with area shelters, helping the local youth programs like the Scouts, holiday shopping and meal programs and visiting area nursing homes.
- Teaming with Numana, Inc. for Razorback Relief: Operation Haiti, a 24-hour marathon to package, more than 1.4 million meals for the Haitian relief effort.

The quiet efforts of our 19 Razorback teams have a long-lasting impact on the youth of our state. The incredible positive benefit of the time spent by the Razorbacks helping the community pays tremendous dividends, not only for the University of Arkansas, but for the entire community.

And while we focus here on the positive benefits for the fresh young faces who receive an autograph or a kind word of encouragement from a Razorback, we know that there is a considerable impact upon our student-athletes, our future leaders. The opportunity to give back impresses upon them that no matter their personal circumstances when they arrived in Fayetteville, they have a chance to not only improve their lives, but touch the lives of others.
Entering his third full year as Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics, Jeff Long has not only guided the University of Arkansas’ Department of Intercollegiate Athletics through a period of unprecedented transition, he has transformed and revitalized a tradition-rich athletics program encompassing 19 sports and more than 460 student-athletes. Long has not only accepted, but embraced the challenge of leading a Razorback program that serves as a source of pride for so many at the University of Arkansas, in all corners of the state and to thousands of Razorbacks all around the world.

Long has established a multi-faceted combined athletics program uniformly committed to the development of student-athletes academically, athletically and socially. A part of Chancellor G. David Gearhart’s Executive Committee, Long and other members of the campus leadership team are charged with developing policies and charting the course for the future of higher education at the University of Arkansas. Since his arrival, Long and his staff have re-engaged the athletic department with the university community working to more fully integrate Razorback Athletics into the campus environment. Razorback Athletics stepped forward with a $1 million gift to support the university’s academic mission in 2009-10 which brought the department’s support of the greater university community to nearly $4 million. The department has pledged another $1 million gift for 2010-11.

The success of Long’s approach can be measured in part by the remarkable accomplishments of the Razorback program in his tenure. Arkansas has captured six conference championships and advanced to 40 NCAA post-season competitions while drawing more than a million fans annually to campus to cheer on the Razorbacks.

In the classroom, the Razorbacks exceed national APR multi-year rate standards in 18 of 19 sports. For the first time in program history, all 19 sports exceeded the yearly APR benchmark rate in the most recent report (2008-09). The academic success has coincided with a transformation of the program’s academic achievement approach from maintaining eligibility to focusing on student-athlete advancement towards a college diploma.

In the community, Razorback student-athletes are more active than ever volunteering more than 2,500 hours of time in between the rigors of school and athletic practice and competition. Community outreach initiatives including Lift Up America, Book Hogs, Sweat Hogs, Razorback for a Day and Razorback Relief have Razorback student-athletes making a difference in Arkansas and around the world. In 2009-10, the Lee Spencer Cup was established to annually recognize the Razorback team that earns distinction in the classroom, in athletic competition, in personal development and in the community.

Administratively, landmark agreements have been negotiated with ISP and with Southeastern Conference television partners to guarantee future revenue streams and secure the financial base of the program in uncertain economic times.

Even the most optimistic outlook would have been hard pressed to foresee the level of success that the Razorback program would attain in such a short time after Long was selected to replace legendary athletic director and former Razorback football coach Frank Broyles in September of 2007. Before Long officially took the reins, Arkansas announced that it would combine its previously independent men’s and women’s athletic programs into one combined athletic program.

Shortly after that announcement, Long was busy engineering the first coaching search of his tenure. Long not only found the next head football coach, he convinced Bobby Petrino, one of the most successful collegiate coaches in recent history, to return to the college game at Arkansas.

By the time, Long officially started his new position on Jan. 1, 2008, he had already accomplished a list of tasks vital to the short and long-term health of the Razorback program. He had begun the process of carefully blending the men’s and women’s athletic departments into one unified department and establishing a new administrative structure. Under Long’s leadership, Arkansas revised policies governing class attendance, drug testing, the NCAA Opportunity Fund as well as other compliance and business office procedures. The academic support services division was re-organized and a formal division of student life was created focusing on student-athlete development and community service.

Long was busy on external issues as well. In 2008, Arkansas returned to the classic Razorback logo. The new branding was featured in the launch of a new website ArkansasRazorbacks.com. In 2009-10, Arkansas hosted a year-long celebration commemorating “100 Years of the Razorbacks” and launched a new official newspaper of the department, Inside Razorback Athletics.

Long worked tirelessly to maintain long-time relationships and to forge new relationships for the benefit of the Razorback program including extending Arkansas’ relationship with War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock. Long was also instrumental in helping re-establish the Razorbacks’ presence in Texas, partnering with former Razorback Jerry Jones to develop the Southwest Classic, a 10-year football series with Texas A&M played at the new Dallas Cowboys Stadium.

Perhaps his most impressive accomplishment came when he brokered a new partnership with ISP to form Razorback Sports Properties. As economic indicators were beginning to point toward challenging economic times, Long signed Arkansas to a deal that will guarantee the Razorback program $73 million in the next 10 years. Long recently negotiated an extensive all sports apparel and footwear all sports agreement with NIKE, Inc. that will outfit all 19 Razorback sports programs through the 2014-15 season.

A number of athletic facilities have also seen a transformation with Bud Walton Arena undergoing extensive renovations, including replacement of the lower seating bowl and the addition of courtside seating, ribbon boards and a courtside club room. In the spring of 2009, Bogle Park, arguably the nation’s best softball facility, was dedicated on the Arkansas campus and a new synthetic playing surface was installed at Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Long remains committed to maintaining Arkansas’ reputation as the home to some of the nation’s best playing venues while targeting much needed facility improvements crucial to the overall development of student-athletes. The department recently commissioned a master facilities plan to assess facility needs for the future success of the Razorback program.

Arkansas’ program flourished in Long’s first year, finishing 24th in the NACDA Directors Cup, its best finish in nearly a decade. In his first full year at the helm, Arkansas scored a program-record 730 points on its way to a 25th-place finish. The back-to-back top 25 Directors Cup finishes marked only the second time in school history the Razorbacks accomplished that feat.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of “student-athlete,” Long has had more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including at the University of Pittsburgh, University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University and Eastern Kentucky University prior to arriving at Arkansas. While known as an innovator in athletic department management, Long also understands the coach’s perspective from time spent in coaching and administrative staff positions at Duke University, Rice University and North Carolina State University.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long served on the NCAA Management Council as one of the athletic administrators who oversaw the operations and regulation for Division I. His experience as an athletic director and administrator in America’s most prestigious conferences – the Big 12, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and now SEC – gives Long a uniquely informed perspective on intercollegiate athletics. During his career, Long has served in five of the six Bowl Championship Series leagues.

Prior to assuming his current roles at Arkansas, Long served for four years as the athletic director at Pittsburgh. During his tenure, Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the “Quest for Excellence” campaign. Designed to enhance the student-athlete experience for Panther athletes through scholarship endowments and capital gifts for facility construction and renovation, the Quest resulted in almost $34 million in just over two and a half years.

His commitment to building the Pitt athletics brand resulted in a new primary mark for the Panthers which returned the powerful “PIT” brand to Pittsburgh. He established a partnership with adidas for uniforms and apparel for all 19 Pitt teams and an agreement with ISP Sports.

Long’s four-year tenure added up to Pittsburgh becoming one of the nation’s top programs, notably the Panthers’ selection as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus’ All-Sport Rankings.

As an athletic leader, Long was a key advocate for the Big East during the league’s time of membership transition. Due in part to his leadership, the Big East maintained its position as a key member of the Bowl Championship System, and the Pitt Panthers earned the Big East’s automatic berth in 2004 at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Along with his tenure on the Executive Council, Long also served on the NCAA’s Sports Wagering Task Force in 2004, and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors’ Association.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years. Responsible for the external affairs of the Sooners, he oversaw key brand areas of marketing and promotions, licensing, media relations, ticketing, radio and television rights and SoonerVision productions. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners’ highly successful football and men’s basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long’s first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two and a half years. He made several revisions to the EKU athletic infrastructure and completed several facility projects. Long created the first modern corporate partner and sponsorship structure at EKU. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his career in college athletic administration at Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned seven varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his post-graduate career in athletics as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami University of Ohio. Long earned his master’s in education at Miami in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and N.C. State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.

ASSOCIATE VICE CHANCELLOR AND EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE AD

For almost three decades, Bev Lewis is synonymous with the University of Arkansas and Razorback women's sports teams. Starting on Jan. 1, 2008, she became an associate vice chancellor for the University and the executive associate athletic director of the unified Razorback Athletic Department.

Lewis, the former women's athletic director, now serves as associate vice chancellor and executive associate athletic director for administration and sport programs. She also serves as a liaison to the faculty senate and the faculty athletic committee, and coordinates the department's NCAA certification, Title IX compliance and strategic planning.

The largest portion of her service to the university was her 19-year tenure as the Director of Women's Athletics. As a result of her strong emphasis on the classroom, Razorback female student-athletes received numerous academic honors including national academic All-American of the year, team academic national titles and the University's first two SEC/H. Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Her leadership was also a part of the success of the University's Campaign for the Twenty-First Century. Lewis directed Women's Athletics to over $11.5 million in direct support for women's teams. During the campaign, Lewis received one of her greatest personal honors as Bob and Marilyn Bogle requested that Arkansas' $6 million facility be named the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics.

In 1998, she was voted into the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor by the University's letterwinners in recognition of her contributions both as a coach and an administrator.

Lewis served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, first with the NCAA Championship Cabinet and most recently on the NCAA Management Council.

Prior to assuming the duties of AD, Lewis was women's cross country and track coach. Her Arkansas coaching milestones included the first women's squad to achieve a national ranking and the first conference championship team with the 1988 Southwest Conference Cross Country Championships.

Lewis earned her bachelor's degree from Central Michigan in 1979 and followed it with her master's from Purdue prior to her arrival at Arkansas in 1981.

Her husband, Harley, is the former athletic director at the University of Montana, former assistant director of championships with the NCAA, and former development officer at Arkansas.

Performing the vital role of supporting the student-athletes at the University of Arkansas with financial support, the Razorback Foundation, Inc., is in its fourth decade of working alongside the athletic department to advance Razorback Athletics.

The goal of the foundation is ensuring that the more than 460 student-athletes at Arkansas have the equipment, facilities and overall support to achieve the goals of graduation and athletic achievement.

For the first time in school history, all 19 Razorback head coaches and members of the athletic department's executive and senior administrative staffs are members of the Razorback Foundation. The pledge of personal support by those inside the department led the way for a growth in membership that saw the membership total increase from 10,390 in November 2008 to 10,530 in June 2009.

From January to June 2009, Razorback Foundation staff visited with more than 11,000 people at 50 Razorback Club functions, ranging from chapter meetings to scholarship fundraising golf events hosted by local Razorback Clubs.

Another key factor in raising the profile of the Razorback Foundation and fostering membership growth was a renewed commitment to increasing A Club membership (former Razorback letter winners) and enhancing communication and coordination with Razorback Clubs throughout the region. To help facilitate communication with all foundation members, a new web site RazorbackFoundation.com was launched.

The Foundation, officially incorporated and relocated off campus in 1988, has helped provide financial aid for the construction for the Broyles Athletic Center (football and administrative offices), Charlie Baum Stadium at George Cole Field (baseball), John McDonnell Field (outdoor track and field), Randal Tyson Track Center (indoor track and field), Dills Indoor Tennis Center, the George M. Billingsley Tennis Center (outdoor tennis) and Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium (football).

Maple Hill is a multi-use suite-style facility. Students live in double rooms in one- and two-bedroom suites, with cable television and individual Ethernet connections in each room. The residence halls also feature staff apartments, classrooms, conference rooms, quiet study rooms and a large fireplace lounge.

Holcombe Hall opened in 1949, and is named for Miss Jobelle Holcombe, who graduated in 1898 and served as the first dean of women from 1907 to 1913. In 2006, Holcombe Hall began the transition to an international living-learning community. The goal of these communities is to create a unique and exciting place for international exchange and learning at the University of Arkansas. Students and staff conduct programs in Holcombe through the year, but the true strength of the community comes from the interactions, relationships and plans the residents themselves build.

The newest and most unique campus residence is Duncan Avenue Apartments. The four-bedroom apartments are just minutes walking distance from most classrooms and laboratories on campus. While this complex offers apartment-style living, each student has a separate contract – so if an apartment-mate leaves, other roommates are not responsible for the departing roommate’s charges. The fully furnished apartments include high speed Internet, cable television and all utilities except telephone, and also features a washer and dryer and full kitchen with appliances. It is the first “Green Globes” construction project on the University of Arkansas campus.

TRADITION
THERE IS NOTHING LIKE A RAZORBACK

A MASCOT LIKE NO OTHER

The wild hogs known as razorbacks native to the Arkansas wilderness bear no resemblance to the typical barnyard pig of today. The untamed razorback hog was a lean, feral animal that was ill-tempered. It fought and defeated anything that crossed its path, man or beast. Turn of the 20th century outdoor magazines lauded the razorback as “the most intelligent of all the hogs and is likewise the most courageous. . . . He has a clear, farseeing eye.”

Except for the rare sighting in the Australian Outback, the Razorback only exists today in the form of Arkansas’ players and fans. A Russian boar, which closely resembles the wild hog of Hugo Bezdek’s day, currently serves as the official live mascot. Tusk III is cared for by the Stokes family of Dardanelle, Ark., and travels to home games and special events for the Razorbacks. Tusk III is supported by the legacy program known as the Tusk Fund, and fans can participate by sending their support care of the Razorback Foundation, Inc. Tusk III made his debut in 2010 after the unexpected passing of his brother, Tusk II, following Arkansas’ AutoZone Liberty Bowl win over ECU in January.

While yearbook references as early as 1914 of a hog on the sideline at football games, a formal live mascot prior to the Tusk line dates back to the 1960s with a series of hogs that represented Arkansas. In addition to appearances at games, they have gained a reputation for fierce behavior.

Big Red III escaped from an exhibit near Eureka Springs in the summer of 1977 and ravaged the countryside before being gunned down by an irate farmer. Another live mascot, Ragnar, was a wild hog captured in south Arkansas by Leola farmer Bill Robinson. Before Ragnar’s spree was done, the mighty animal had killed a coyote, a 450-pound domestic pig and seven rattlesnakes. Ragnar died in 1978 of unknown causes.

THE HOG HAT

It is true; no Razorback fan’s closet is complete without an official Hog Hat. The original style was a hard plastic hat with a long snout, rough razorback ridges across the top and wickedly sharp, pointed curly-cue tail. The modern versions are often sculpted from softer material. Regardless, the Hog Hat is undoubtedly the most recognized piece of fan apparel in college athletics. Just ask ESPN GameDay’s Kirk Herbstreit as he dons the traditional Hog Hat.
WHY RAZORBACKS?
Arkansas’ athletic teams have not always been called the Razorbacks. During the early years of its athletic history, the Cardinal served as the University nickname.

A lot of things changed in 1909, however, when Arkansas football coach Hugo Bezdek called his players “a wild band of Razorback hogs,” after guiding his team to a 16-0 victory over Louisiana State on October 30, 1909.

Alluding to the Razorback, characterized by a ridge back and tenacious, wild fighting ability, Bezdek never forgot this idea and often called his team “a fighting band of Razorbacks.”

This new nickname became increasingly popular and the student body voted to change the official University mascot from the Cardinal to the Razorbacks in 1910.

In the 1920s, “Woo, Pig, Sooie” was added as the school yell, referred to more commonly as the “Hog Call.” There are dozens of Lions, Tigers and Bears, but in all of college athletics there is only one Razorback. The distinctive logo of the Arkansas teams is officially known as the Profile Hog, but is known to many fans as the Helmet Hog -- a fixture of the football team’s helmet for almost half a century.

A PROPER HOG CALL
A chant of “Woo Pig Sooie” is known worldwide as a Hog Call. Just like any good tradition, there are lots of versions of the Hog Call (even spellings).

A properly executed Hog Call is composed of three “calls,” slowly raising one’s arms from the knees to above the head during the “Woo.” Traditionalists prescribe an eight second “Woo.” The fingers should be wiggled and the “Woo” should build in volume and pitch as the arms rise.

Upon completion of the “Woo,” both arms are brought straight down with fists clinched as if executing a chin-up while yelling, “Pig”. The right arm is extended up and out with the “Sooie.”

A full Hog Call -- the kind one will always hear victorious Razorback teams execute after contests -- requires two more Hog Calls, followed immediately by a “Razor-Backs” yell, coordinated with a pumping motion of the right arm after the third “Sooie.” So, in order, the full Hog Call is:

WOOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
WOOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
WOOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
RAZORBACKS!

ARKANSAS FIGHT
One of the first tasks of a new Razorback is learning to sing the University of Arkansas fight song. Arkansas Fight was written in the late 1920s. It is a unique tune, fitting of the only college in America with a Razorback mascot. Several other colleges have adapted the tune, but the lyrics remain unique to Arkansas.

Hit that line! Hit that line!
Keep on going!
Take that ball right
down the field!
Give a cheer. Rah! Rah!
Never fear. Rah! Rah!
Arkansas will never yield!
On your toes, Razorbacks,
to the finish,
Carry on with all your might!
for Arkansas!
Fight! Fight! Fi-i-i-ight!

RAZORBACK SPIRIT SQUADS
Along with being a Razorback, serving as a Razorback cheerleader has a long tradition at the University of Arkansas. Currently, the Razorbacks have two squads, a Red and White, that inspire the crowds at all home sporting events.

Arkansas also has a dance team, the Razorback Pom Squad, which performs at halftime of many events. Members of the Pom Squad also serve at baseball games as RBI Girls. Arkansas has a team of uniformed mascots, led by the original Big Red, the Fighting Razorback. Sue E. joined the family along with kid-sized Pork Chop in the late 1990s. Boss Hog is a 9-foot-tall inflatable mascot that rounds out the team.

Jean Nail serves as the coordinator for cheerleaders and mascots. For more information on the cheer squads and tryouts, go to the Spirit Squad section of ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

THE UA ALMA MATER
Brodie Payne and Henry Tovey wrote the University of Arkansas Alma Mater in the early 1900s. They were inspired by the Ozark Mountain sunrise as it illuminated Old Main.

Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty, Watches thy Soul from the mountains of God.
Over the fates of thy children departed, Far from the land where their footsteps have trod.
Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted, Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true.
From those who adore unto one who adores us, Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.
Fayetteville's famous Dickson Street is much more than a college hangout, adding upscale condominiums and specialty retail to its long-standing reputation as the center of entertainment and dining. From hosting major national events like Bikes, Blues and BBQ or serving as the final resting place for the goal posts after Razorback football upsets, one thing remains constant – Dickson is the heart of what's happening.

Characterized by unmatched outdoor activities, a vibrant nightlife and cultural and educational opportunities, Fayetteville has something for everyone.

From Robert Redford to James Earl Jones, the University of Arkansas hosted numerous famous speakers in recent years through its Distinguished Lecture Series. Ranging from political satirist, now senator, Al Franken, political consultant Mary Matlin to CNN’s Anderson Cooper, and to former world leaders like George H. W. Bush to Israeli prime minister Ehud Barak, vice presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro and the former Prime Minister of Pakistan the late Benazir Bhutto. Sports figures such as Magic Johnson and Apolo Ohno have been on campus. We’ve also had one of our more famous former law professors speak several times, President Bill Clinton.

The Fayetteville campus hosts several concerts each year and recent performers include sold-out performances by T.I., Foo Fighters and John Mayer in Barnhill Arena. Special events bring artists ranging from B.B. King to Keith Urban and Carrie Underwood to Reynolds Razorback Stadium.
While Fayetteville is home to the University of Arkansas, its location in the Northwest corner of the state broadens the borders of this college territory. With Springdale, Rogers and Bentonville to the North, Siloam Springs to the West and Fort Smith to the South of Fayetteville, it’s easy to see how Northwest Arkansas is in the center of all the action.

SPRINGDALE

With a population around 65,000, Springdale is anchored by the world headquarters of Tyson Foods. It is home to museums, 100 houses of worship, theaters and great dining. It is also home to the Northwest Arkansas Naturals, Kansas City’s Double A affiliate.

ROGERS

Rogers boasts a population around 50,000 and is home to Mercy Medical Center. Just minutes from Fayetteville, Rogers has some of the area’s best shopping and dining options.

BENTONVILLE

Bentonville’s population has blossomed to more than 29,000. Northwest Arkansas Community College is located here, and it is the home to Walmart, the world’s largest retailer. In addition, several of Walmart’s largest vendors make their homes in the area as well making this an exciting place for new graduates to explore. Bentonville also hosts many of the area’s exciting outdoor opportunities with lake access, camping, golf and other recreational outlets.

WALTON ARTS CENTER

Just off campus in the heart of Fayetteville is home to the Walton Arts Center. The WAC hosts numerous concerts, theater productions, classes and events with headliners such as Beauty and the Beast, Momma Mia! and the Blue Man Group just to name a few. Shows and events run year round.

NORTHWEST ARKANSAS INFORMATION

- The population of Northwest Arkansas is around 420,000.
- It is recognized as one of the fastest growing areas in the United States.
- The regional airport (XNA) offers several daily departures, with direct jet service to Atlanta, Charlotte, Chicago, Cincinnati, Dallas/Ft. Worth, Denver, Detroit, Houston, Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Memphis, Minneapolis/St. Paul, Newark, New York and Orlando.

BIKES, BLUES AND BBQ

Fayetteville and the Northwest Arkansas area celebrated the 10th Annual Bikes, Blues and BBQ event in 2009 and are eagerly anticipating the 2010 fall event as well.

The Bikes, Blues and BBQ rally is the third-largest bike rally in the country behind Sturgis and Daytona Beach and the 2009 attendance numbers were around 350,000 people.

This year’s event begins Sept. 29, and the family-friendly rally helps area charities. The event was established in 2000 and more than one half million dollars has been raised. Blues concerts and great food are all part of the fun on this rumbling weekend.

THE AMP

Every summer, Northwest Arkansas comes alive with the sound of music at the Arkansas Music Pavilion. The AMP plays host to headliners, newcomers and local artists in an outdoor concert setting. The 2010 schedule included Levon Helm, Blue Oyster Cult, Georgia Satellites, Indigo Girls, Goo Goo Dolls, Ted Nugent, Gary Allan, Eli Young Band and Corey Smith, Colby Callat, STS9, Cross Canadian Ragweed, Pat Travers and Rick Derringer and the Black Crowes.

THE NORTHWEST ARKANSAS NATURALS

The Northwest Arkansas Naturals enjoyed their second summer in Springdale in 2010. The Naturals are members of the Texas League and have a schedule that runs from April-September. Numerous promotional events including concerts, fireworks and special events surround nearly every home game at ARVEST Ballpark.
