KAITLIN FLATTMANN
5-3 || Sophomore
Benton, La.

2011: During her first season at Arkansas, Flattmann was the SEC Freshman of the Year and an NCAA South Central All-Region selection. In addition to being named the league's top freshman runner, she earned spots on the All-SEC Second Team and All-Freshman Team. She made her collegiate debut at the Inter-Regional Bubble Buster in Toledo, Ohio, where she finished 12th overall and was the team's fifth scorer. Flattmann went on to finish in the Razorbacks' scoring lineup four more times. At the SEC Championships, she finished just ahead of teammate Jessica Jackson for the top freshman spot. Flattmann navigated the 6K course in a time of 21:04.29 to finish 13th overall. She repeated as the team's second finisher at the NCAA regional meet, helping Arkansas to the team title and an automatic berth into the NCAA Championships. Flattmann capped her collegiate season as the fourth finisher in the lineup, crossing with a time of 21:13.6 at the national meet. In January, she and Jackson represented the United States as members of the junior team at the Bupa Great Edinburge Cross Country International Challenge in Scotland. For her work in the classroom as a freshman, Flattmann was named to the SEC First-Year Academic Honor Roll.

AT BENTON HS: Flattmann was a nine-time Louisiana 4A state champion during her prep running career. She was the four-time state cross country champion and posted the fastest freshman time in the history of the Louisiana state meet. As a freshman and junior, Flattmann also won a pair of state titles in the one- and two-mile events. She added a state title in the 800 meters to her resume during her junior year. Her state championship as a senior led Benton to the state team cross country title. Flattmann was posted four school records with new marks in the 800 meters (2:21), one mile (4:54), two mile (10:44) and as part of Benton's 4x800 relay (10:18). As a sophomore, she was the state champion in the indoor and outdoor 800 meters and as a member of the 4x800-meter relay team. Wheelhouse was part of seven state team titles with the Tigers. During her senior year, she finished third at 800 meters at the New Balance National meet. Wheelhouse owns a personal best of 2:14.51 in the 800 meters.

PERSONAL: Born Aug. 27, 1993, she is the daughter of Steve and Brenda Wheelhouse of Rogers, Ark., and has a younger sibling, Schuyler. Wheelhouse plans to major in business economics and political science at Arkansas.

THE STAFF

The most successful coach in University of Arkansas and Southeastern Conference women's cross country and track and field history, Lance Harter is set to begin his 23rd year at the helm of the Razorback program. During his tenure, Arkansas has won 19 SEC titles (13 cross country, three indoor track, and three outdoor track) and earned seven NCAA trophies, including four national runner-up awards in cross country. Throughout his 33-year career as a collegiate head coach, Harter has built programs that win.

Harter led his cross country teams to 13 league championships in 20 years and racked up an impressive 15 NCAA regional titles, bringing Arkansas to the brink of a national championship with four NCAA runner-up trophies. His student-athletes have earned 24 cross country All-America honors, numerous all-conference and all-regional certificates and collected 12 SEC individual titles.

While his list of accomplishments as a cross country coach at Arkansas is long, his record as a track coach is just as impressive, with a pair of SEC triple crown championships, three U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches' Association (USTFCCCA) National Coach of the Year honors and eight top-10 finishes at the NCAA Championships.

Kristen Gillespie joined the list of Arkansas runners to win the SEC cross country title with her victorious run at the 2011 conference meet. She went on to win two more SEC titles at the indoor meet with her wins in the mile and at 3,000 meters. Overall, the Razorbacks won seven SEC titles during the 2011-12 championship season, including five at the indoor meet.

In response to Arkansas' win at the 2011 NCAA South Central Regional Championship, Harter was named the regional head coach of the year by the USTFCCCA. With a scoring lineup that featured Gillespie, Stephanie Brown and three freshmen, the Razorbacks finished 14th at the NCAA Cross Country Championships. Gillespie ran to All-America honors.

During the 2010-11 season, Harter led the Razorbacks to no less than third place at the three SEC Championships with a runner-up finish in cross country and indoor track and field and a bronze result in the outdoor season. On the national stage, Arkansas posted back-to-back top-five national indoor finishes in 2011 and 2012.

During the 2010 cross country season, Harter had the sixth SEC Freshman Runner of the Year under his tutelage when Stephanie Brown was honored following her initial season on the trails. The individual awards continued as Sutej dominated the field category in 2011 as the SEC Indoor and Outdoor Field Athlete of the Year, South Central Region Indoor and Outdoor Field Athlete of the Year and USTFCCCA National Women's Outdoor Field Athlete of the Year.

Harter's student-athletes picked up 18 All-America honors during the 2010 indoor and outdoor seasons including the distance medley relay and the indoor and outdoor 4x400-meter relays. Additionally, the Razorbacks picked up five SEC individual event titles. The squad picked up a runner-up finish at the 2010 SEC Indoor Championships, a third-place finish at the 2010 SEC Outdoor Championships and 15th-place finishes at the 2010 NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships.

The high water mark to his career at Arkansas, so far, is when his teams won a league-record seven-consecutive SEC titles including a pair of triple crowns (titles in cross country, indoor track and outdoor track in the same academic year). Harter's Razorbacks were just the second team in league history to accomplish the task in 1999-2000, then repeated the performance in 2000-01 making them the only squad in the SEC's 30-year history of women's cross country and track and field to accomplish the task twice.

Those banner seasons were not without other accolades outside the SEC titles. During that time period, Harter's Razorbacks posted school-best finishes at both the NCAA Indoor (third) and Outdoor (fifth) Championships, as he led his teams to five top-six NCAA finishes. On a personal level, Harter was awarded numerous honors including six SEC Coach of the Year Awards, six South Central Region Coach of the Year trophies and the three USTFCCCA National Coach of the Year honors.

For his numerous achievements at Arkansas, Harter has been honored several times in recent years, including his induction into the University of Arkansas' Hall of Honor in the fall of 2006. His inclusion into the elite club makes him the only active Razorback women's coach to be enshrined and just the second women's coach at Arkansas to be included, joining former cross country and track coach and current Executive Associate Athletic Director Bev Lewis.

He has also seen his name bronzed in the Arkansas Track and Field Hall of Fame, Mt. SAC Relays Hall of Fame and Cal Poly Hall of Fame.

Harter's coaching prowess has been noticed not just by his peers but by national organizations like USA Track & Field who have asked Harter to coach at several international competitions. He has represented his country five times including the 1992 Olympic Games in Barcelona, Spain, where he was an assistant coach. He was also the head coach for the 1999 USA World Championships team and had the pleasure of once again coaching one of his pupils, multi-time U.S. Champion and 2004 Olympic bronze medalist Deena Kastor. His most recent appointment to a national coaching position came in 2003 when he was the head women's coach for Team USA's World Cross Country team in Brussels, Belgium.

Harter is quick to give credit for his success to his student-athletes and assistant coaches, but there is no arguing that with him at the helm the Razorbacks are one of the nation's elite tory with 15 individual championships, the all-time leader for a female athlete at Arkansas with 15 All-America honors, and only the third track athlete in conference history to become the SEC Athlete of the Year.

Harter arrived at Arkansas in 1990 after 11 years of building the nation's top Division II program at Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo. His teams at Cal Poly-SLO won a Division II record 14 national championships, including eight consecutive cross country and six track and field titles. He was Division II national coach of the year 10 times.

From the beginning of NCAA Division II Championships in 1981, Harter's teams controlled the awards ceremonies. The Mustangs finished runner-up the initial season and after that ran off a string of eight straight titles. In track and field, Harter won five NCAA and one AIAW championship. He was inducted into Cal Poly's Hall of Fame in the fall of 2004.

Before coaching at Cal Poly-SLO, Harter was the men's and women's track and field coach at Smoky Hill High School in Denver, Colo. During his five years with SHHS, his teams won five cross country and five track conference titles. Before SHHS, he was an assistant coach for two years at Colorado State.

A 1972 graduate of Texas Tech, Harter set several school records as a member of the cross country and track teams. A dean's list honoree every semester at Tech, he earned his degree in physical education and American history. He earned his master's in education from Colorado State in 1974, focusing on physiology of exercise. He has completed doctoral hours at both Colorado and Colorado State.

Harter and his wife, Kim, have five children, Jeff, Meagan, Alison, Kristy and Josh.

programs. Harter has won almost as many SEC women's cross country championships (13) as all other member institutions combined in the history of the SEC (14).

For his efforts in cross country, Harter has earned 13 SEC Coach of the Year Awards, 14 NCAA Regional Coach of the Year honors and the 1999 NCAA National Coach of the Year Award. In total, he has been awarded the SEC's Coach of the Year honor 19 times and is the only women's coach to ever earn awards in cross country, indoor and outdoor track. In track and field, he has been given an NCAA Regional Coach of the Year award 17 times during his career and NCAA National Coach of the Year four times.

From a team perspective, Harter's influence on Arkansas cross country and track has been tremendous. He has led both the cross country and indoor track teams to number one national rankings, the only number one rankings by any women's team in Arkansas history. During his career, Harter has brought seven NCAA team trophies back to Fayetteville: four national runner-up awards in cross country, a third place for cross country and a third and a fourth-place finish for indoor track.

Harter's career at Arkansas began in the fall of 1990, and it didn't take long for him to carry his previous success to the Razorback program. Picking up a Southwest Conference runner-up finish in his first year, he also guided that squad to the first of his 14 regional titles. As good as his team was in year one, it was the 1991 squad that made Arkansas cross country a household name. Leading a strong group of young women into the season, Arkansas took the first of three-consecutive NCAA runner-up trophies and finished the year with just a single loss.

The 1991 season also brought the Razorbacks into the SEC and it didn't take long for Arkansas to establish its superiority. The Razorbacks scored 30 points at their first SEC Championship, placing all five scorers in the top nine. The conference title was the first of five consecutive championships, a feat that has only been equaled once since (1998-2002).

While the end of the millennium raised the bar for the Razorbacks, Harter challenged himself to exceed the lofty expectations heaped upon his team. Since 2001, Harter has guided Arkansas to eight SEC Championships and watched former Razorback athletes win six medals in the Olympic Games. His eye for talent has been his best asset and developing those skills runs a close second. He often likens his coaching style and philosophy to a series of escalators where athletes get on at the ground floor when they arrive as freshmen and get off at the penthouse upon graduation.

A perfect example was a raw talent from Kendallville, Ind., that Harter groomed first into a conference and national champion then into the greatest female track athlete in SEC history. When Amy Yoder Begley completed her collegiate career with a pair of national titles, she became the all-time leader in SEC his-

Chris Johnson begins his first season as the associate head coach for the University of Arkansas women's track and field team. Johnson will oversee the Razorbacks' efforts in the sprints, hurdles and jumps. He will also assist with Arkansas' multi-event competitors. Johnson spent the previous eight years at Penn State University, the last four seasons as the Nittany Lions' associate head coach.

Johnson is no stranger to the Razorbacks, having spent two years as a graduate assistant on Harter's staff during the 2003 and 2004 seasons. In addition to his duties with the Arkansas sprinters and hurdlers in that time, he worked directly with NCAA champions Veronica Campbell and LaShaunte'a Moore. The Razorbacks won two Southeastern Conference titles—2003 indoor and 2004 outdoor—while Johnson was in Fayetteville.

On the heels of a standout performance by his team, Johnson was named the 2012 USTFCCCA Mid-Atlantic Men's Outdoor Assistant Coach of the Year. It was the seventh award for Johnson for his work at Penn State. In addition to indoor coaching honors in 2009 and 2011, he also swept the USTFCCCA indoor and outdoor accolades in 2008 and 2010.

In 2012, Johnson directed the performances of 14 All-Americans—five indoor and nine outdoor—and guided the Penn State men to the program's first-ever 4x400-meter relay title at the Big Ten Championships. During his career with the Nittany Lions, he saw his student-athletes earn two NCAA titles and 36 conference titles, split between 22 individual and 14 relay victories.

Throughout the 2011 campaign, Johnson-coached athletes bettered a total of four school records, while freshman Brady Gehret ran to bronze-medal honors at 400 meters at the NCAA Indoor Championships. Johnson was also named USTFCCCA Mid-Atlantic Women's Assistant Coach of the Year, the sixth such honor of his coaching career.

Johnson guided well over 50 All-America performances at Penn State, including NCAA victories from Shana Cox in the 400-meters and Cox, Aleesha Barber, Dominique Blake and Gayle Hunter in the 4x400-meter relay in 2008. Johnson directly coached many of Penn State's most decorated athletes in program history, including Cox and Barber, who each earned 11 All-America certificates.

In 2011, Johnson guided a trio of All-America 4x400 relays with the women's squad finishing sixth indoors and fourth outdoors, and the men's team taking fifth at the NCAA Indoor Championships. All told, Johnson saw a grand total of nine All-America relays, including an NCAA title run in the women's mile relay in 2008.

Indoors, Johnson coached freshman phenom Gehret to a school-record 46.22 in the 400, while the men's 4x400-meter relay, including Gehret and fellow Johnson protégé Aaron Naldosky, clocked a school-record 3:07.27. The duo also assisted on the Nittany Lions' record-setting relay outdoors.

During the 2011 indoor season, Johnson oversaw conference winning efforts from Shavon Greaves in the 200-meters, as well as the women's 4x400-meter quartet of Doris Anyanwu, Ije Iheoma, Greaves, and Megan Duncan. On the men's side, Johnson led Gehret to a runner-up standing in the 400.

In 2010, Johnson's sprints/hurdles contingent highlighted by a dominate effort at the Big Ten Outdoor Championships, adding an impressive total of 93 points toward the Nittany Lions' women's team title. Johnson's sprint/hurdle corps ran the table in their event area, claiming individual titles in the 100, 200, and 400 meters, as well as the 100- and 400-meters hurdles, and 4x100- and 4x400-meter relays.

Johnson's athletes also played a key role in the Nittany Lions' fourth-place "Trophy Team" finish at the NCAA Outdoor Championships in 2010, thanks to All-America efforts from Barber, Greaves, Fawn Dorr and the 4x400 relay. All told, Johnson guided seven athletes to the NCAA outdoor meet, with athletes representing the Blue and White in four individual events, as well as both relays.

Individually, Barber paced the Nittany Lion sprints and hurdles squad with a bronze-medal finish in the 100-meter hurdles at the NCAA Outdoor Championships, while Dorr turned in a fourth-place effort in the 400-meter hurdles, and Greaves placed seventh in the 200-meters.

The PSU sprinters and hurdlers were equally as successful during the 2010 indoor campaign, with Greaves running a world-leading 22.98 for the 200 at the Big Ten Indoor Championships. Johnson's athletes claimed two individual and one relay title, with Greaves taking the 60 and 200, and the squad of Anyanwu, Dorr, Greaves and Caitlin DeFusco setting a Big Ten meet record 3:35.38 en route to the program's fifth-straight victory in the indoor conference 4x400. Nationally, Johnson led Greaves to a third-place finish in the 200—the Lions' highest finish in the event since 2004—and guided Dorr to fifth-place honors in the 400. The Nittany Lions were well represented in the sprints in total, with Greaves earning All-America honors with an 11th-place finish in the 60, DeFusco placing 17th in the 200, and the 4x400 finishing in ninth overall.

On the NCAA level in 2009, Johnson guided his always competitive 4x400-meter relay to a pair of All-America finishes, leading the quartet of Barber, Greaves, Dorr, and Gayle Hunter to bronze-medal honors at the NCAA Indoor Championships, and a fourth-place finish at the outdoor national championships.

Johnson is married to the former Gi-Gi Miller, a 2001 NCAA triple jump champion and four-time All-American during her collegiate career at Arkansas. She still owns the school records in the indoor and outdoor triple jump and heptathlon. With Johnson's training, she competed at the 2005 and 2007 IAAF World Championships and was the 2006 U.S. champion in the heptathlon. The couple was married in October 2005.

An outstanding athlete in his own right, Johnson graduate from Lamar University in 1999, earning a degree in kinesiology. During his collegiate career, he was a Sun Belt Conference champion at 400 meters.

Joining the Razorbacks in the fall of 1998, Bryan Compton has proven to Arkansas that he was an invaluable addition for its coaching staff. In 14 years of working with the Razorback throwers and vaulters, Compton's student-athletes have set 14 school records a total of 71 times, not including numerous heptathlon marks.

Following a breakout season in 2011, Compton protege Tina Sutej repeated as the NCAA indoor champion in Nampa, Idaho. She kicked off the championship season by winning her third SEC indoor title with an NCAA-record clearance of 14-11. At the same meet, Tara Diebold established a new personal best with a mark of 14-4 to clinch an SEC runner-up finish.

The level of success of Compton's group reached a new level during the 2011 season with a special season from Sutej. Having established herself with a runner-up finish at the 2010 NCAA Outdoor Championships, the Slovenian standout made history with a pair of NCAA records in 2011. At both SEC meets, Sutej vaulted her way to the top of the records book with clearances of 14-10.75 (indoor) and 15-1.5 (outdoor), the best-ever marks by a collegiate.

Sutej was rewarded for her season by being named one of three finalists for The Bowerman, the first athlete in Arkansas history to be selected. She was a two-time All-American in 2011 and won the NCAA Indoor title in the pole vault. Compton had two vaulters—Sutej and Diebold—finish in the top six at the national indoor meet, combining for 13 points toward Arkansas' fourth-place team total.

Sutej dominated the field category in 2011 as the SEC Indoor and Outdoor Field Athlete of the Year, South Central Region Indoor and Outdoor Field Athlete of the Year and USTFCCA National Women's Outdoor Field Athlete of the Year.

Arkansas' resident vault expert was recognized for his contributions during the spring of 2005 when Compton was named the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches' Association's (USTFCCCA) Mid-east Region Assistant Coach of the Year. That season his athletes earned two All-America honors, broke a pair of school records and each of the student-athletes he coached earned a spot at the NCAA Mid-east Regional Championships, including four pole vaulters.

Compton's expertise in the vault is the biggest addition to the Arkansas arsenal. In the past 13 years, he has coached nine student-athletes to 26 All-America honors, 11 Southeastern Conference championships and a five of SEC championship records. One of his most recent protégés, Jodi Unger, earned four All-America honors during the 2006 and 2007 seasons and was the NCAA runner-up in the pole vault outdoors as a senior.

In 2008, Katie Stripling carried on the strong pole vault tradition as she became the first Razorback to win both the SEC indoor and outdoor titles in the same season. Her bronze finish at the NCAA Championships picked up an All-America certificate.

Stripling carried over her success from 2008 into the 2009 season. She picked up two additional All-America honors and the 2009 SEC Outdoor individual title. Winning her third conference pole vault title and second outdoors, she cleared 14-5.25. Stripling's clearance was an Arkansas record and is an SEC meet record.

Prior to Stripling and Unger's emergence, Compton was best known for his work with former Razorback and 2008 Olympian April Steiner Bennett. A novice in the event when she arrived on campus in the fall of 2000, Steiner Bennett quickly became a household name and was the first woman in SEC history to clear 13 feet in the event indoors. She earned three-consecutive All-America honors indoors and set the standards for all Arkansas vaulters with then-school records exceeding 14 feet, both indoors and out.

Compton's magic touch is not limited to the vault but to the other disciplines he coaches as well. In the throws, Compton guided Marie LeJour to Arkansas' first SEC Commissioner's Trophy by a non-distance runner, as well as its first conference championship in a throwing event. The summer following her breakthrough year, LeJour went on to win the first of her two Canadian National Championships in the discus.

Additionally, Brandy Blackwood, under Compton's guidance, was one of Arkansas' most decorated student-athletes and throwers. Blackwood stood out in the crowd with her eighth-place finish in the hammer throw at the 2004 SEC Championships in Oxford, Miss. Her points were vital to Arkansas picking up the 2004 SEC Outdoor Team Championship.

Blackwood holds the Arkansas records in the indoor weight throw and the outdoor hammer throw. She marked a toss of 68-6.5 in the weight throw at the 2005 NCAA Indoor Championships in Fayetteville, Ark. Her best hammer throw measured 192-9 at the 2005 NCAA Mid-east Regional Championships in Bloomington, Ind.

Added to his list of responsibilities in 2002 was the high jump and Compton once again produced. He coached Jessica Johnson to Arkansas school records both indoors and out, breaking the then-oldest school records in the books. With the records in hand, Johnson went after bigger and better things, taking Arkansas' first-ever All-America honor in the high jump and finishing as national runner-up in the spring of 2003 with a clearance of 6-1.25.

Not to be ignored is Compton's work with Arkansas' multi-event personnel. His student-athletes have broken each of the Razorback event records in the multi-event throws and have earned a total of eight All-America honors. In the spring of 2000, Arkansas qualified three heptathletes for the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

Not only has Compton been an accomplished coach over the past 20-plus years but he was also a good athlete in his own right. A varsity track athlete at Angelo State, Compton was a national qualifier for the NCAA Division II National Championships in both 1983 and 1984 in the long jump and the sprint relay. Compton earned his bachelor's degree in physical education and biology from Angelo State in 1985. He has a son, Austin.

Jeff Kent
Director of Operations
Fourth Year

Jeff Kent joined the Arkansas Razorback women's cross country and track and field staff in September 2009. He is in his fourth season as the director of women's cross country and track and field operations.

His day-to-day duties include overseeing the program's equipment needs, travel arrangements, meet management at Arkansas' home events and the coordination of details in the coaches' recruiting efforts.

Kent also acts as an on-campus recruiting coordinator for official visits and is in charge of coordinating official visits to Arkansas's campus for the distance program. He has also gained certification as a USATF Level 2 Track and Field Coach for Endurance.

Prior to his move to Fayetteville, Kent served as Delta State's graduate assistant women's cross country coach during the 2007-09 seasons. He was responsible for recruiting, budgeting, scheduling, fund raising and academic supervision, as well as other aspects of the program.

A native of Valparaiso, Ind., Kent received his bachelor's degree in health and sport studies from the University of Iowa and his master's degree in health, physical education and recreation from Delta State University in Cleveland, Miss. He was a member of the Iowa Hawkeye cross country and track and field teams during the 2004-07 seasons.

HISTORY

In a season characterized by its mix of experience and youth, the University of Arkansas women's cross country team capped the 2011 campaign with a 14th-place showing at the NCAA Championships in Terre Haute, Ind. The team's finish marked the 20th top-15 national finish in program history, and its 16th under head coach Lance Harter. Arkansas' scoring lineup at the national meet featured senior Kristen Gillespie, redshirt sophomore Stephanie Brown and the freshmen trio of Jessica Jackson, Kaitlin Flattmann and Dominique Scott.

At the NCAA Championships, the Razorbacks were paced by a 31st-place finish from Gillespie. With her performance, she earned the first cross country All-America selection of her career. Gillespie is the 16th cross country All-American in program history and Arkansas' first since Brooke Upshaw was recognized in 2006. In a show of its bright future, Arkansas was the only team at the national meet to finish with three freshmen in the scoring lineup.

The Razorbacks advanced to the NCAA Championships with a team title at the South Central Region Championships in Waco, Texas. The victory represented the program's 16th regional title and first since the 2008 season. Collectively, Arkansas had six all-region performers in Gillespie, Flattmann, Scott, Brown, Jackson and Jillian Rosen.

For his part in guiding the team through the regional meet, Harter was tabbed the 2011 South Central Region Women's Coach of the Year. It marked the 14th regional coaching award for Harter in 22 seasons as Arkansas' head coach. With the win, the Razorbacks made their 19th NCAA Championships appearance under Harter's watch.

The championship season began with a runner-up showing at the SEC Championships in Knoxville, Tenn. Arkansas placed its top-five scorers inside the top 17, including an SEC title run by Gillespie, and scored 61 points, finishing behind team champion Vanderbilt and ahead of bronze medalist Florida. The Razorbacks' top-five lineup featured Gillespie, Flattmann in 13th place, Jackson in 14th, Brown in 16th and Rosen in 17th.

Running from the lead position for a majority of the race, Gillespie crossed the finish line first at the conference meet and became Arkansas' first individual champion since 2008. She navigated the run in a 6K course record of 20:19.84 at the Lambert Acres Golf Club, nearly 10 seconds faster than the previous mark.

Gillespie went on to be named the SEC Runner of the Year while Flattmann was selected the SEC Freshman of the Year by the conference coaches. Gillespie was Arkansas' lone representative on the All-SEC First Team. As the top two freshmen performers at the conference meet, Flattmann and Jackson earned spots on the All-SEC Second Team and SEC All-Freshman Team.

The championship run by Gillespie was the 12th SEC individual title spread among nine runners in program history. She joined the list of past winners Deena Drossin (1991, 1992), Megan Flowers (1994), Amy Yoder (1997, 1998, 1999), Lilli Kleinman (2000), Andreina Byrd (2001), Christin Wurth

(2002), Brooke Upshaw (2006) and Catherine White (2008).

In their final race of the regular season, the Razorbacks finished second at the 23rd Annual Chile Pepper Festival. Gillespie was the team's top finisher in sixth place overall and was followed by Jackson, Brown, Cali George and Rosen, respectively. The previous weekend, Arkansas posted another runner-up finish at the Notre Dame Invitational in South Bend, Ind. The team's top-seven runners all finished within the top 35 of the race.

Arkansas began its season with team titles at the first two meets of the year. Running on their home course at Agri Park, the Razorbacks opened their campaign with a perfect team score of 15 in a dual victory over Missouri Southern. Jackson won the 4K race in her collegiate debut. Two weeks later, Brown paced Arkansas to a team win at the Inter-Regional Bubble Buster in Toledo, Ohio.

During the course of the season, Arkansas drew a handful of accolades from the conference office. Brown was named the Co-SEC Runner of the Week after her performance at the Bubble Buster event while Gillespie collected SEC Runner of the Week honors following the Notre Dame meet. Jackson was a constant in the league's weekly release as she was touted SEC Freshman of the Week on four occasions.

The Razorbacks began the season unranked nationally and as the No. 2 team in the region. After two wins to begin the year, Arkansas moved into the USTFCCA Top 25 with a No. 18 ranking. The team reached a season-high ranking of No. 11 after its second-place run at the Notre Dame Invitational. Matching its NCAA Championship finish, Arkansas closed out the year as the No. 14 team in the country.

A Tradition of Excellence...

Arkansas has decades of history as a national power.

From Olympians to SEC Athletes of the Year, the University of Arkansas women's cross country program has become the standard by which others are judged.

Since 1990, the Razorback cross country team has:

- More Southeastern Conference titles than any other member institution.
- A near-perfect record at the NCAA Regional Championships.
- Fourteen-consecutive team appearances at the NCAA Championships.
- Four national runner-up finishes and five national meet trophies.

For a lot of cross country programs this would be enough, but at Arkansas, it is just a part of a grand tradition of women's cross country performance.

It started in 1978 when freshman Jody Rittenhouse finished 19th in the nation at the AIAW cross country championships. The 1980s saw the rise of future Arkansas Hall of Honor member Melody Sye and the first top 10 teams. It continued into the early 1990s with Deena Drossin's runner-up performance in 1992 and Megan Flowers' fourth-place finish at the 1994 NCAA Championship. It reached a new peak with three-peat SEC champion, four-time All-American and first-ever in SEC history Honda Award winner Amy Yoder Begley in the late 1990s. The newest generation of Razorbacks are hungry for success and dedicated to preserving the storied history. It is a tradition of excellence in cross country for the Arkansas Razorbacks.

A Contender From the Beginning...

From the first year of varsity competition, the Hogs were players on the national scene. Rittenhouse's run started a streak of continuous Arkansas appearances at the national cross country championship, first in the AIAW, then starting in 1982 with the NCAA.

Rittenhouse was the first star, earning three All-American honors as a distance runner at Arkansas. She was the queen of the mile during her time, winning 10 race titles, and was the runner-up at the National Indoor Championships in 1979.

The 1980s...

As Arkansas reached the mid-1980s, a new wave of distance runners came ashore from the Emerald Isle. Led by 5,000-meter All-American Edel Hackett, these European champions helped build the Razorbacks into a team fixture at the NCAAs. Hackett, along with countrywomen Siobhan Kavanaugh and Michelle Byrne, Austrian Isabelle Hozang and a tough, young New Jerseyite named Melody Sye led Arkansas to a 13th-place finish in 1984.

In two years, Sye inherited Rittenhouse's crown as queen of the middle distance. She spurred Arkansas to back-to-back top-10 finishes in cross country and earned for herself a place in Arkansas history as the first five-time All-American Razorback and the first two-time cross country All-American.

Jackie Mota emerged after Sye as Arkansas' top cross country runner and became Arkansas' third cross country All-American with her 20th-place finish in 1989. Mota and Sye were the keys to Arkansas' first Southwest Conference title in any sport, leading the Hogs to the 1988 league cross country championship.

Melody Sye

The 1990s...

Arkansas reached new heights in 1990 with England's Claire Lavers becoming the fourth individual to take cross country All-America honors. Her 17th-place finish led Arkansas to a sixth-place finish under first-year coach Lance Harter.

Michelle Byrne of Richardson, Texas - not to be confused with Michelle Byrne of Ireland - ushered in a new generation of distance stars as the first cross country freshman All-American.

In 1992, Deena Drossin took a step toward making herself the brightest star in the Razorback sky. Her runner-up finish at NCAAs was just part of a fantastic career at Arkansas. With five race wins in her career, Drossin passed Rittenhouse's record for an Arkansas cross country athlete. In 1994, Drossin surpassed Sye's Arkansas mark with her third cross country All-America selection.

For all her grand accomplishments, Drossin was just part of Arkansas' 1992 success. The team almost doubled its All-Americans with one race, placing three in the top 15 at NCAAs. Shelley Taylor announced herself as the highest freshman finish in the nation and joined Byrne as the second All-American rookie.

Their performance drove Arkansas to its second NCAA runner-up trophy in the closest three-way race for the national title to that time, falling just seven points shy of the national championship.

Arkansas drew even closer to the title in 1993 with four Hogs, again led by Drossin, earning All-America honors. Arkansas scored a new school low for the NCAA meet with 71, but was five points shy of the championship.

Megan Flowers replaced the venerable Drossin at the head of the Arkansas class. She claimed the career (nine including 1995) and season (four) meet victory records in 1994. After a fourth-place national finish and a SEC title as a junior, she closed her career in 1995 by leading Arkansas to a fifth SEC title and earning her third All-America award.

Senior members of the 1999 squad.

The End of the Millenium...

Arkansas faced a watershed season in 1996. It was the first time since Harter became the head coach that the Razorbacks went into a fall campaign without an All-American. But it didn't take long to find one as Amy Yoder Begley earned All-America honors in her first season (1996) to become only the third freshman All-American for Arkansas cross country.

With Yoder Begley leading the way as SEC individual champion in 1997, Arkansas opened a new era of national rankings and NCAA appearances, including a win at the new NCAA South Central Regional in 1997. Yoder Begley also broke one of the longest-standing cross country records by notching five 5,000-meter runs under 17 minutes in a single season, bettering Hall of Honor member Sye's four from 1987.

Yoder Begley paced Arkansas back to the SEC Championship in 1998. With her teammates Jessica Koch Dailey and Tracy Robertson, Yoder Begley set new school records. She teamed with each for a sub-17 double. Yoder Begley and Robertson recorded the fastest double sub-17 in school history as Yoder Begley broke the decade-old all-time performance mark of Sye with a 16:29 at the Chile Pepper Festival. Yoder Begley, Dailey and Robertson swept the top three spots at the SEC Championships to notch only the second triple sub-17 meet in school history.

The addition of German national team member Lilli Kleinmann in 1999 took Arkansas to unprecedented achievements. Arkansas scored the first perfect 15 in SEC Championship history as the Razorbacks swept the top five spots behind Yoder Begley's three-peat as league champion. She was the first woman to win three-straight SEC titles, and only two men had achieved the feat - the last in 1935. Yoder Begley and Kleinmann led Arkansas to its fourth NCAA runner-up trophy and both were on the Honda Award ballot. Yoder Begley, the first four-time cross country All-American in Hog history, added one last first - the first woman in SEC history to win the Honda for cross country.

Tracy Robertson

The 21st Century...

As the 21st century of cross country opened, the Razorbacks found another way to distinguish themselves on the national level. Kleinmann and senior Tracy Robertson became an unstoppable tandem, sweeping first and second place in five consecutive meets - including Stanford, SEC and NCAA South Central. Kleinmann's five meet victories tied Yoder Begley for a single season and Robertson had the distinction of being undefeated against outside competition throughout the regular season.

Arkansas continued in 2001 to dominate both the SEC and NCAA Region as Andreina Byrd swept both titles and all post-season awards. Byrd also shattered the UA and SEC best marks for 6,000 meters with her 19:07.29, the second-fastest collegiate run in the nation for 2001. Her teammate, Christin Wurth, has the distinction of the second-fastest time in both SEC and UA history with her 19:33.55. Penny Splichal became the first Razorback to earn the SEC's Freshman of the Year award.

At the opening of the 2002 season, Arkansas was poised for more records. Kleinmann joined Byrd to make Arkansas the only SEC team to return two league cross country champions in the same season and a team victory in November gave Arkansas as many SEC titles as the rest of the league combined.

The 2006 season ushered in the next wave of Razorback cross country as the team dominated the SEC landscape. Arkansas took the conference championship with 17 points, the second lowest in league history and then went to the NCAA meet and took a fifth-place finish, its best since 1999.

Like years past, freshmen dominated the Razorback roster during the 2007 season. With Dacia Perkins being held to limited action while returning from knee surgery, Jillian Rosen and Catherine White, in their inaugural seasons, made for a strong tandem. Rosen went on to earn SEC Freshman of the Year honors and was the first Razorback to cross the finish line at the NCAA Championships.

In 2007, Arkansas was atop the podium at three of the seven meets it entered, including winning the SEC title, and earned runner-up honors in three meets, including the NCAA South Central Regional Championships.

The 2008 season was the year of sophomore Catherine White. She earned top-10 finishes in six of the seven meets she competed in and won Arkansas' 11th SEC individual title. The Razorbacks won the SEC and NCAA South Central titles in 2008.

The senior-freshman duo of Miranda Walker and Stephanie Brown paced the Arkansas cross country team in 2010. Walker capped her collegiate career with an at-large selection to the NCAA Championship while Brown became the sixth SEC Freshman Runner of the Year for Harter.

The Razorbacks joined the SEC in 1991. Upon their arrival, the league landscape changed as Arkansas captured five consecutive team titles. With its sixth cross country title in 1998, Arkansas became the winningest cross country program in SEC history. Completing another five-peat in 2002, Arkansas' 2008 championship gave it almost as many titles (13) as the remainder of the league (14), at the time. Prior to the SEC, Arkansas was a charter member in women's athletics of the Southwest Conference starting in 1983.

While 2001 saw Arkansas sweep the top two spots for the second-consecutive year, the 1999 SEC Cross Country Championships was record-setting. Along with yet another team title, the Razorbacks registered the first-ever perfect score at the women's meet in SEC history behind a course record by Amy Yoder Begley. In fact, four Razorbacks surpassed the 1994 course mark by Jessica Fry of Alabama. Yoder Begley became the first woman - and only third athlete - to win three straight league championships.

With the shift to 6,000 meters in 2001, Arkansas had a similar dominating impact as Andreina Byrd crushed the course record at Auburn with a 19:07.29 that still stands as the all-time league best.

Women's athletic championships started during the 1979-80 season for the SEC with the crowning of a volleyball and basketball champion through a league tournament. In the spring of 1980, the SEC added tennis. Golf, gymnastics, swimming and outdoor track titles followed in 1981. Cross country (1983) and indoor track (1984) were next, with soccer (1992) and softball (1997) bringing the total number of league-sponsored titles to 11.

Prior to Arkansas' arrival, cross country was one of the most evenly balanced sports in the SEC with four different universities winning championships. The Lady Wildcats of Kentucky won the NCAA Championship in 1988.

The NCAA Regional Championships are the gateway to the NCAA Championships and the Razorbacks have used them most effectively over the years. Since the regional meets were first conducted in 1982, Arkansas has been among the top three teams every season and has been one of the two automatic bids to the NCAA Championships 23 times. Arkansas' most recent regional title came in 2011 with a 20-point margin of victory over Texas. Since 1997, the country has been divided up into nine regions and the Razorbacks are a part of the South Central, which includes schools from Arkansas, Louisiana and east and central Texas.

Regional Facts and Notes

- Six Razorbacks have taken the individual championship at the regional meet
- Only three Razorbacks have won two individual titles (Deena Drossin, Megan Flowers, Lilli Kleinmann)
- Arkansas' largest margin of victory was 67 points at the 1994 meet
- Arkansas' closest victory was in 2005, one point

2008 Regional Champions

You can't hold a collegiate cross country championship without the Razorbacks.

Arkansas has an unbroken record of appearances at the NCAA Women's Championships, starting with the 1982 meet. The Razorbacks joined the NCAA after membership in the AIAW in 1981.

The 2000 meet at Iowa State marked the 10th-straight team appearance for Arkansas, a perfect record for the 1990s.

The Razorbacks' involvement with the NCAA Championship extends beyond its run of consecutive team and individual bids. Arkansas' executive associate athletic director Bev Lewis served for six years as a member of the NCAA Division I Track and Field Committee, which administers the race. The Razorbacks hosted the championship in Fayetteville in 1994 and hosted the 2007 South Central Regional.

Razorback teams have started 21 of the 26 NCAA meets and an Arkansas runner has been present in all but one race.

1994: The Year America Came to Town

The University of Arkansas became the first deep South host in the history of the NCAA Division I Women's Cross Country Championship in November, 1994. Held on a specially constructed site in Prairie Grove Battlefield State Park, the 1994 NCAA Championship drew thousands of spectators.

As a team, Arkansas finished third, marking the fourth consecutive NCAA trophy finish for the Razorbacks. Megan Flowers was fourth overall. As an institution, the Athletic Department scored high marks as the event set records for attendance and media participation, including the first national television coverage for the meet.

The unique setting of the Prairie Grove course, run amongst 19th-century farm homes and across the pivotal areas of the Dec. 7, 1862, Battle of Prairie Grove, made the 1994 championship a once-in-a-lifetime event.

The NCAA was one of three championship events hosted in 1994. The Southeastern Conference elected to move Arkansas forward in its site rotation to hold its championship at Prairie Grove. The NCAA Preview Meet in early October doubled with the Chile Pepper Cross Country Festival III, which also set records for participation and attendance.

Arkansas' 1999 team was the last to bring a trophy back to Fayetteville by finishing second at the national meet.

Amy Yoder Begley

Shiloh Whiting

Denise Bargiachi

Londa Bevins - 2002
Coming to Arkansas following her freshman year, Bevins was outstanding her senior year. She finished 26th overall to help Arkansas finish seventh at the NCAA meet. A three-time all-SEC performer in cross country, Bevins was also a three-time All-American in track.

Michelle Byrne - 1991
A transfer from Texas A&M, Byrne's 28th-place finish in 1991 was the best to that date by a UA freshman at the NCAA meet. She was the first cross country freshman All-American during the NCAA era and the highest freshman finisher since Jody Rittenhouse's 19th at the 1978 AIAW.

Jessica Dailey - 1998, 1999
A sophomore transfer to Arkansas, Dailey earned her first All-America honor under her maiden name of Koch as a junior for her 10th place finish at the NCAAs. As a senior, she placed 20th in cross country. A 12-time All-American in track, she was Arkansas' first national top 10 finalist for the NCAA Woman of the Year.

Deena Drossin - 1992, 1993, 1994
Drossin set the all-time best finish - NCAA runner-up in 1992 - and was the first three-time All-American at Arkansas. One of only four women to win two SEC cross country titles, she was the first female to win them back to back. Overall, she is an eight-time All-American with seven SEC running titles.

Pauline Durran - 1992
With three NCAA appearances to her name, Durran saved her best for last with a 15th-place run at the 1992 Championship.

Megan Flowers - 1993, 1994, 1995
SEC Champion in 1994 and runner-up in a photo finish in 1995, Flowers has the third highest cross country finish - 4th in 1994 - and closed her career as the winningest runner (nine meet titles) in school history. For her running career, she has 10 All-America honors.

Kristen Gillespie - 2011

The NCAA Northeast Region champion at Boston Univ. as a freshman, Kleinmann transferred to Arkansas and became the nation's No. 3 finisher at the 1999 NCAA. The 1999 and 2000 NCAA South Central champion, she won five straight meets in 2000 before finishing 10th at NCAAs.

Lilli Kleinmann - 1999, 2000

The NCAA Northeast Region champion at Boston Univ. as a freshman, Kleinmann transferred to Arkansas and became the nation's No. 3 finisher at the 1999 NCAA. The 1999 and 2000 NCAA South Central champion, she won five straight meets in 2000 before finishing 10th at NCAAs.

Claire Lavers - 1990

A two-year transfer to Arkansas from Loughborough, Lavers was 17th in 1990 and missed a second All-America honor by one place in 1991. UA's 10,000 meter record-holder (32:58.2), and a first-team GTE Academic All-American, Lavers graduated with a perfect 4.00 GPA at UA.

Jackie Mota - 1989

Mota is the only Razorback to earn All-America honors as an individual entry with her 20th-place finish at the 1989 meet. Mota is important to Razorback history because her run in 1989 insured the unbroken string of NCAA appearances. She was the first Razorback to earn four all-conference honors in cross country.

Sarah Schwald - 1993, 1994

A foot injury limited Schwald to two effective cross country seasons, but she turned in a pair of 14th-place finishes. Better known for her track performances, she was the 1995 NCAA Indoor 3,000 Champion and a combined eight-time All-American.

Melody Sye - 1986, 1987
Melody Sye set the standard by which cross country athletes are measured at Arkansas. The first two-time All-American in cross country, she led her team to the first league title in any women's sport at UA and two top 10 finishes at the NCAAs.

Shelley Taylor - 1992, 1993

Although at Arkansas only two seasons, Taylor placed her name in the record books for the highest freshman finish at the national meet, placing 13th in 1992. Her best finish came as a sophomore, ninth.

Brooke Upshaw - 2006

Upshaw completed one of the greatest freshman seasons in Razorback history in 2006. Finishing 37th at the NCAA Championships to earn her All-America honor, she also earned an all-region certificate and became the first freshman since Deena Drossin to win the SEC individual title.

Christin Wurth - 2002

Ending her career as the winningest cross country runner in Razorback cross country history, Wurth defeated 3,482 runners in her four years and owns the second fastest 6,000-meter time in UA history. As a senior Wurth earned All-America honors for her 19th-place finish.

Amy Yoder Begley - 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999

Yoder Begley is the first Honda Award winner in SEC history, and became the first woman in school history to earn four All-America honors in cross country. She is the first woman in SEC history to win three consecutive league titles. A 15-time All-American, she was the 2001 SEC Female Athlete of the Year.

The Razorback cross country team became the first Arkansas women's athletic team to achieve national top 20 poll recognition. It was the Oct. 9, 1984 poll of the NCAA cross country committee that saw Arkansas break in at No. 19.

On Sept. 27, 1993, the Razorback women's cross country team made history again as the first Arkansas women's team to achieve the No. 1 national ranking. The 1993 team went on to reach a consensus No. 1 ranking later in the season and held the top position in every week of the poll. Since 1984, the Razorbacks have been a regular member of the cross country poll with the 1985, 2009 and 2010 seasons as the only time out of the final poll.

The final poll, listed below, is voted prior to the NCAA Championships.

Runner Won-Loss Records

Cross country won-loss records are calculated by total number of individual entries in each meet - the number of runners beaten by a given athlete. Total wins is a raw figure which rewards running in large meets. Percentage is a better representation of the runner's "racing" ability.

Most Wins

Single Meet: 344 (5th, 349 finish) Brooke Upshaw, Chile Pepper Festival, 2006
 Season, All Meets: 1,131, Andreina Byrd, 2001
 Career, All Meets: 3,482, Christin Wurth, 1999-2002

Best Percentage

Single Meet: .992, (2nd of 250), Amy Yoder Begley, NCAA Championships, 1999
 Season: .995 (911-5), Amy Yoder Begley, 1998
 Career: (Min. 1000 opps.) .986 (2189-30-3), Megan Flowers, 1993-95

Christin Wurth puts another large pack behind her as a sophomore at NCAAs -- key to her reaching 3,482 runners defeated.

Agri Cross Country Park

The University of Arkansas is known around the world for its outstanding distance runners. It is also one of the handful of universities in North America with its own dedicated cross country course.

Carved out of a portion of the University of Arkansas' on-campus agricultural area, hence the name Agri Park, the course provides the men's and women's cross country teams with an excellent practice and competition area.

The 1996 season saw the first two events at Agri Park, the Chile Pepper Run and Arkansas Invitational. Starting in 1997, the two united into the single Chile Pepper Cross Country Festival.

The current course configuration has three distinct areas. The open area of the starting chute is separated from the pond and Razorback Meadow by a grove of trees surrounding the former site of one of Fayetteville's old eateries, the Farmer's Daughter.

Razorback Meadow is open and relatively flat. The former women's 5,000 trail does not use the Meadow. The men's 10K, however, snakes through three groves of trees in the Meadow. The pond section has more contour as the trail rises up along the rim of the course's water feature. For women, both the one- and two-mile markers for a 5,000-meter race are in the pond area. The finish chute is shaded by a row of trees separating it from the starting line area.

The Agri Park site is extremely versatile. During the Chile Pepper Festival, seven divisions compete on distances ranging from the mile-long fun run for children to the collegiate/open 10,000 meters - all using the same start and finish areas.

The women's collegiate course was initially configured as a figure-8. In 1997, the collegiate races changed to a double loop for women, triple loop for men. Fans can watch the start, then walk up the Farmer's Daughter hill for view of the main loop and finish chute. In 2000, a new 6,000-meter course was created for the Chile Pepper Festival.

What is the Chile Pepper Cross Country Festival?

Beginning in 1992 to bring together three Northwest Arkansas cross country races, under a single event, the Chile Pepper Cross Country Festival is one of the premier races in America.

The Festival united the Chile Pepper Run, originally hosted in the spring by Jose's, the Arkansas Invitational, the annual Razorback home meet, and Fayetteville High School's Purple Dog Invitational.

Scheduling difficulties forced a split in 1996, but the original seven-race, one-day format returned in 1997. The Chile Pepper Run, a 10K open event, starts the day. The women's and men's collegiate divisions follow with elite and open high school boys and girls races ending the schedule.

From local meets to the NCAAs, the Razorbacks have a long tradition of home events...

Arkansas' cross country tradition includes its numerous home meets. Starting with the inaugural cross country season in 1978, the Razorbacks have hosted at least one invitational event in Northwest Arkansas. Four different courses in three cities served as the site for women's meets.

In 2004, the SEC returned to Fayetteville to compete on Arkansas' fourth course which opened its rolling hills in 1996 for cross country events. The Arkansas Cross Country Course at Agri Park opened with the 1996 Arkansas Invitational and 1996 Chile Pepper.

Home of the combined Chile Pepper Festival since 1997, Agri Park is one of a handful of permanent courses in America.

Ranging from that first Oct. 7, 1978, dual meet to the 1994 NCAA Championship, the Arkansas Athletics Department has hosted a wide range of meets.

The NCAA South Central Regional Championships return to Fayetteville for the 2012 season. The national-qualifying event will be run Nov. 9, 2012, at Agri Park.

The first multi-team meets were known as the Arkansas Invitational and were held at Razorback Park Golf Course. Razorback gained an infamous reputation for the single long climb on the back side of the course, but that experience in competition and training strengthened the Razorbacks.

The Razorbacks also employed Springdale Country Club for several dual and triangular meets in the early 1980s, and still hold occasional training runs.

For two years, Arkansas moved to Prairie Grove Battlefield Park. The picturesque setting plus the generous space for large fields and spectator parking were ideal for the SEC and NCAA.

The Arkansas cross country team has a reputation, championship-caliber performance both in the classroom and on the course.

During his years as head coach, Lance Harter's cross country teams have produced 19 ESPN the Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-America honors, 30+ runners named to the Cross Country Coaches' Association team and several other scholastic awards and postgraduate grants.

In 1995, Harter's team became one of the first programs to receive the Academic All-America Cross Country Team award. It has since won the honor nine times. Harter added the honor as the top academic team in the nation by the Collegiate Track & Field Coaches Association in 2002.

One of the greatest combinations of classroom and cross country talent was Andreina Byrd. Not only did she sweep the SEC's athletic awards by winning the 2001 meet and receiving the Athlete of the Year from the league's cross country coaches, she used her 4.00 GPA to become the Academic All-American of the Year. Byrd also was named the No. 1 track athlete in the country for athletic and academic achievement by the coaches' association.

Byrd follows in the footsteps of a true scholar-athlete legend, Amy Yoder Begley. Another ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA Academic All-American, she was named the NCAA Woman of the Year for the state of Arkansas and voted by the SEC athletic directors as the Female Athlete of the Year. In her final semester at Arkansas, Yoder Begley won her second NCAA title to claim her 15th All-America honor, she also posted a perfect 4.00 GPA for the semester.

Arkansas' history as a center for athletes and academics goes back to the early '90s when Razorbacks were earning All-America honors on the course and academic honors from the University and national organizations. Since that time, five have garnered national recognition in both areas while each of Arkansas' 14 All-Americans have earned some type of academic award.

NCAA Woman of the Year

Representing Arkansas for scholarship, service and athletics

Every year Arkansas nominates one woman to be considered the NCAA Woman of the Year. Prior to 2005, Arkansas' nominee was judged against other women from the state of Arkansas, but the program changed and now nominees are forwarded to the NCAA by their respective conferences.

The University of Arkansas has been very fortunate to have more than 10 of their nominees make it to the final 50 selected for the Woman of the Year banquet. The last cross country runner was Amy Yoder Begley in 2001 and is one of four Razorback women's cross country runners to advance to the final stages of the award.

The SEC/Boyd McWhorter

To the individual who best embodies the spirit of scholar-athleticism

Each year the Southeastern Conference bestows its highest individual honor, the SEC/Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athlete Award, to a graduating senior. Each SEC institution nominates a person with outstanding academic, athletic and community service qualities for the $10,000 post-graduate scholarship award. Nominees for the award receive a $5,000 scholarship.

Four-Time All-Conference

It isn't easy to finish among the top 14 runners at a conference championship and to do it four times is even more impressive. Six Razorbacks have accomplished the task, the first being Jackie Mota in the Southwest Conference days. Seven Razorbacks have done it in the SEC era with Denise Bargiachi and Christine Kalmer being the most recent.

ARKANSAS SPORTS HALL OF HONOR

Each year the membership of the University of Arkansas "A" Club votes on nominations for the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor. To be on the ballot, a former Arkansas student-athlete must have been at least a two-time letterwinner, a starter, all-conference or All-American and five years past their last competition for Arkansas. Current coaches or administrators are eligible after 10 years' service.

Melody (Sye) O'Reilly, 1996

Sept. 6, 1996, Melody (Sye) O'Reilly became the second Razorback woman in University of Arkansas history to receive induction into the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor. By joining 1994 inductee basketball all-time leading scorer and legend Bettye Fiscus Dickey in the Hall of Honor, Sye's position as one of the greatest track and field athletes at Arkansas was complete.

Sye was the rock upon which former track coach, current executive associate athletic director, Bev Lewis built her program during the mid-1980s. The Ocean City, N.J., product was the first major East Coast female athlete to cross the Mississippi to run for Arkansas.

Her impact was immediate. Arkansas made three team appearances during her four cross country seasons. The Razorbacks' first two-time All-American in cross country, Sye paced Arkansas to its first top-10 finish at the NCAA Championship with 10th at the 1986 meet.

1987 was Sye's season. On the hills, she shattered the Arkansas marks for best 5,000-meter cross country performance - a record that stood for 11 years - with her blistering 16:34.29 at the Arkansas-hosted Southwestern Conference Championship. She backed it up at the end of November with a 16:36.82 for 14th at the NCAA Championship in Charlottesville, Va., as the front-runner for a ninth-place team finish.

The next week Sye paced Arkansas to a first-place finish among the associated team entries at The Athletic Congress national cross country championship. Her 20:12 at the New York City-hosted race also remains as the best 6,000-meter run in Razorback history as Sye was 10th overall and the second collegian at the national.

Sye's November to remember was just part of one of the best all-around individual track years in Razorback history. Earlier in 1987, she was the youngest entrant in the world-class field at the TAC/Mobil U.S. Indoor Championships, and captured the SWC 1,000-yard indoor title as well as All-America honors.

Sye became the first Razorback woman to earn five All-America honors in any sport - two cross country (1986 and 1987), two indoor track (1986 indoor mile and 1,000 meters) and one outdoors (1989 1,500 meters). She was an eight-time NCAA Championships qualifier.

Although she won only three SWC championships, the 1987 1,000 yards, 1989 indoor mile and 1989 outdoor 3,000 meters, she was one of Arkansas' highest point-scorers at the conference meets. She closed her collegiate career holding 10 Arkansas records. When the SWC selected all-decade teams to celebrate the 10th anniversary of women's championships, Sye was the only student-athlete named first team in cross country, indoor and outdoor track.

Bev (Rouse) Lewis, 1998

On Sept. 5, 1998, Bev (Rouse) Lewis became the first Razorback women's coach or administrator to join the University of Arkansas Sports Hall of Honor. It was fitting since she was both an outstanding coach and landmark administrator for the University of Arkansas. The current executive associate athletic director at the University, she established the Razorback women's cross country and track and field tradition.

Long before Lewis made her mark as an administrator in the former women's athletics department at the University of Arkansas, she was earning accolades as a coach of the Razorback women's cross country and track and field program. She served as the head coach for cross country and track for nine years, including one after she had been named women's athletics director.

Her teams claimed three major milestones in Razorback history. Her 1984 team was the first women's team to earn a national ranking. Two years later, she led Arkansas to its first-ever women's top-10 finish at the NCAA Championships in any sport. The crowning achievement was the University's first women's Southwest Conference championship, earned by her 1988 team led by Sally Ramsdale and Jackie Mota. In 1990, she coached Team USA at the World Cross Country Championships before turning her full attention toward her duties as athletic director.

Under her direction, the former women's athletics department has shown incredible growth. She was instrumental in remarkable improvements in facilities, personnel and programs. Her management skills were recognized by Arkansas Business as she was named in 1996, 1997 and again in 1998 to the magazine's "Top 100 Women in Arkansas." She has served on the NCAA Championships Cabinet and the NCAA Management Council.

Deena (Drossin) Kastor, 2001

One of the most decorated athletes in Arkansas history and a two-time Olympian, Deena (Drossin) Kastor added another title to her lengthy resume at the games in Athens - bronze medalist. The 10-time All-American distance runner became the first Razorback woman in University of Arkansas history to make the U.S. Olympic team as a competitor in 2000 then the first American medalist in 2004. Kastor picked up her first international title with the 1997 World University Games gold medal in the 10,000 meters at the Italian-hosted games.

The five-time USA cross country champion captured two spots on Team USA for the 2000 Sydney Olympics, then returned in 2004 to take spots in the marathon and 10,000 meters. Competing in just the marathon in Athens, Kastor ran what could only be described by insiders as a near flawless tactical race when she crossed the Greek mainland from Marathon to the birthplace of the modern Olympic games in Athens in 2:27.20. Staying behind the leaders for most of the competition, Kastor was not affected by the heat of the day, then turned it up a notch when the sun began to fall and picked off competitors one by one until she entered the stadium in bronze-medal position.

Kastor is America's top world-class distance runner. In 2002, she was the silver medalist at the 30th IAAF World Cross Country Championships in Ireland and led Team USA to the team silver medal in the 8,000-meter long course competition. She broke the world record for 5,000 meters on the roads at the 2002 Carlsbad 5,000 meters with a 14:54 and became the first American since PattiSue Plumer in 1986 to hold the record. It came less than a month after crushing the American record for 15,000 meters.

A member of Team USA at the IAAF Championships since 1997, Kastor reached new heights in March 1999 at the Worlds hosted in Belfast, Ireland. After winning her second USA cross country title (long course), she was one of the early race leaders at the IAAF. Kastor finished 10th in the world with a 28:53. At the 1998 World Championships in Marrakech, Morocco, Kastor clocked a 27:06 to finish 21st overall leading the USA to a fifth-place team finish.

After representing the USA at Sydney, Kastor finished 12th in the world at the IAAF in Ostende, Belgium. She also became the first American in years to win the Boulder-Boulder and notched one of the fastest half-marathon times in the world at the USAT&F Championship.

In 2000, she won both the long (8K) and short (4K) USA cross country titles and had another top 15 finish at the IAAF Championships.

Amy (Yoder) Begley, 2006

There is a simple way to sum up Amy (Yoder) Begley's cross country career at Arkansas. Number One. The Kendallville, Ind., distance runner completed her cross country eligibility at Arkansas with the 1999 season and she left no significant Arkansas or Southeastern Conference record standing. Among her notable firsts: first woman to win three-consecutive SEC titles; first woman to receive three SEC Cross Country Runner of the Year awards; first SEC student-athlete to receive the Honda Award for cross country; first four-time cross country All-American at Arkansas. She was also the 2000 SEC Female Athlete of the Year and the winner of the 1999 Honda Award for Cross Country.

By the close of her senior year, she removed any doubt that she was the greatest distance runner in SEC history. A 15-time All-American, Yoder Begley won an astounding 15 SEC individual titles, the most ever for a female track athlete, and two NCAA Championships, the 2000 Indoor 5,000 and the 2001 Outdoor 10,000. Captaining the first back-to-back women's triple crown in SEC history, she was voted by the league's athletic directors as the Female Athlete of the Year in 2001. Yoder Begley is only the third track athlete, male or female, in SEC history to receive the all-sport Athlete of the Year honor.

From the day she arrived in Fayetteville, Yoder Begley held legend status. She was late for the start of fall classes, but with an outstanding excuse as she was busy taking two world junior titles in Australia. As a freshman, she ran in only five races due to the late start. She made up for lost time as Arkansas' front runner in all five meets, a place that she would yield only three times in her career. She was third at the SEC Cross Country Championship and 29th at NCAAs, two places she would never finish again.

Yoder Begley came into her own in 1997 with her first SEC Championship and a seventh-place finish at the NCAA Championships. She won or was second in every cross country race except the NCAAs, and only five collegians bested her all season.

As a junior, she became a dominant force. Capturing five meet titles including the Stanford Invitational along with the SEC and NCAA South Central Region Championships, Yoder Begley brought her team back to the SEC tro phy. She destroyed the school record for the fastest 5,000-meter performance at Arkansas with a 16:29 at Chile Pepper. The year also marked her first appearance on the Honda Award ballot.

In 1999, she and Arkansas had a date with destiny. The only significant achievements left for Yoder Begley were those set by Deena Drossin and her 1992 team. Drossin was national runner-up and the team took home the runner-up trophy at the Indiana-hosted NAAs. On Nov. 22, 1999, Arkansas returned to the same course for the NCAA Championships.

Yoder Begley did not disappoint. Despite a late-season injury that slowed her at the regional meet, she took the race from the gun and held onto the lead until the closing 1,000 meters. She equaled Drossin with her second-place finish, and with teammate Lilli Kleinmann on her heels, led her team back to the awards stand for the first time since 1995. She capped her senior season with the one award that eluded Drossin - the Honda - as America's number one female cross country athlete.

Her achievements on the track were equally stunning. Currently the all-time leader for any woman, any sport, at Arkansas with 15 All-America honors, she won more SEC titles than any other Razorback woman, and became the first Arkansas athlete to win a national title at the Randal Tyson Track Center with her 5,000-meter NCAA Championship in 2000. Her victory in the 10,000 meters in 2001 made her the first double national champion for Arkansas women's track.

Lance Harter, 2006

The winningest coach in Razorback women's history, Lance Harter has brought 19 Southeastern Conference Championships to Fayetteville and nine NCAA trophies, including four second-place awards.

Included in Harter's impressive resume are the second and third Southeastern Conference triple crowns, titles in cross country, indoor and outdoor track in the same academic year, and his string of seven straight SEC titles is a conference record. He has twice led his cross country team to five straight SEC championships, a feat never duplicated, and his 1999 team recorded the conference's first perfect score of 15 at the league meet.

On the national level, Harter's 20+ years in Fayetteville have brought nine NCAA trophies back to campus including four national runner-up finishes with the most recent in 1999.

While Harter's teams have been impressive, the work that he has done with his student-athletes is even more so. Thirteen of Arkansas' 15 cross country All-Americans were students of Harter's, and among them, they earned a combined 24 honors. Deena (Drossin) Kastor and Amy (Yoder) Begley each finished their careers with NCAA cross country runner-up attached to their resume and Yoder Begley was Arkansas' and the SEC's first Female Athlete of the Year.

Harter's tutelage has not just been beneficial to a few Razorbacks, but to a wide range of runners. He has coached eight women to SEC Cross Country Championships over 20 years and an additional 30+ have earned all-conference honors, including a group of seven women who have accomplished that task in each of their four years on the cross country course.

Megan Flowers

One of the Razorbacks' best during her time, Flowers' career at Arkansas bridges the gap between previous inductees Deena (Drossin) Kastor and Amy (Yoder) Begley.

A career filled with honors and awards, Flowers holds the Razorback record for career winning percentage at 98.6%. During her tenure she won 2,189 races while losing just 30 times and tying three. When she completed her eligibility in 1997, she was Arkansas' career leader for races won with nine and now ranks second on the list behind Yoder Begley (12).

Her Arkansas records are certainly impressive, but even more so is her list of honors. She was a three-time All-American in cross country and took 10 All-America honors overall, including indoor and outdoor track, making her just one of three individuals in Arkansas history to post double-digit All-America honors. She was a three-time All-SEC performer as a harrier and also earned three all-region honors. Her 1995 cross country season was perhaps her most impressive as she ran away with the SEC individual championship, then finished fourth at the NCAA meet. The finish gave her the second All-America honor of her career and led to her being a finalist for the prestigious Honda Broderick award that season.

Flowers' cross country eligibility expired after the 1995 season and it was another banner year for the Fort Worth, Texas, native. She led the Razorbacks to their fifth-consecutive SEC team title and nearly repeated as the conference champion in the event but was barely edged at the finish. She earned her third cross country All-America honor that season and ended her career with the fifth-fastest 5,000-meter cross country race in Arkansas history.

ARKANSAS SPORTS HALL OF HONOR

Following her cross country career, Flowers continued to run on the Razorback women's track teams and following her collegiate eligibility she was named the NCAA Woman of the Year for the state of Arkansas in 1997 while also being tabbed as an SEC Boyd McWhorter nominee.

In the classroom, Flowers was a two-time ESPN the Magazine, then GTE, third-team academic All-American in 1994 and 1995 and a three-time all-district selection between 1995-97. She was named to the Gross Country Coaches Association of America's Academic team in 1995 and the SEC Academic Honor Roll in both 1995 and 1996.

Tracy Robertson

Tracy Robertson, a 2010 inductee, was a member of head coach Lance Harter's cross country and track and field teams from 1997-2001. She competed in cross country and distance events ranging from the 1,500 meters and the mile to the 3,000 meters. She is the 10th representative of women's cross country and track and field inducted into the UA Sports Hall of Honor.

A nine-time All-American for the Razorbacks' cross country and women's track and field program, Robertson was a key member of both of Arkansas' Southeastern Conference triple crown championship teams in 1999-2000 and 2000-01. She was named the SEC high point scorer at the 2000 SEC Indoor Championships after accumulating 26 points.

Robertson was part of eight SEC team championships while at Arkansas. She won the program's sixth individual NCAA Championship during the 2001 indoor track season in the mile besting the field by three seconds while setting a new personal best in the event with a time of 4:39.10. In the Arkansas record book, Robertson's mile personal best still ranks as the No. 5 time in school history.

Her All-America honors came in the 2000 and 2001 mile, the 1998, 2000, and 2001 3,000 meters and as a member of the distance medley relay in 1998 and 1999 during the indoor season. Outdoors, she picked up All-America status in the 2001 1,500 meters and the 1998 3,000 meters.

Robertson took home five SEC individual and relay titles in her four seasons. She won the SEC indoor mile in 2000 (4:41.12) and was part of the title-winning distance medley relay (11:31.80) in 1998. Outdoors, she took 1,500 meter titles in 1998 (4:25.90) and 2001 (4:20.89) and the 3,000-meter title in 1998 (9:35.82). Robertson was a nine-time All-SEC performer for the Razorbacks.

A native of Ottawa, Canada, Robertson earned her degree from the University of Arkansas before a brief professional career in track and field.

Jessica Dailey

In the ever-growing line of long-distance standouts for the University of Arkansas women's cross country and track and field programs, the name of Jessica Dailey shines brightly on the list of successful Razorbacks. Dailey donned the Cardinal and White for head coach Lance Harter and the Razorbacks from 1998-2000.

Dailey was a 12-time All-American for Arkansas, the second-largest collection by a Razorback, trailing only former teammate and fellow Hall of Honor member Amy Yoder Begley. In addition to her accomplishments at the national level, Dailey was an eight-time Southeastern Conference champion, earning at least two league titles in each of her three seasons in Fayetteville, and a nine-time All-SEC performer.

At the 2000 SEC Outdoor Championships in Baton Rouge, La., Dailey ran to a share of the Commissioner's Trophy as the meet's top female scorer. With her victories in the 1,500 and 3,000 meters and runner-up result in the 5,000 meters, she totaled 28 points. Dailey helped Arkansas win the outdoor SEC title that year, capping the team's run to the conference triple crown that season with victories in cross country, indoor track and field and outdoor track and field.

That season, Dailey was part of the highest-finishing national indoor team in program history. Arkansas finished third at the 2000 NCAA Indoor Championships. The momentum carried over to the outdoor season with Dailey and the Razorbacks posting a sixth-place performance at that year's NCAA Outdoor Championships.

Her name is still scattered throughout Arkansas' records book. Dailey owns the school record in the outdoor 5,000 meters with a time of 15:48.89 run at the 2000 Mt. SAC Relays. She ranks third all-time with 64 career points scored at the SEC Outdoor Championships and fifth with 48.5 career points scored at the SEC Indoor Championships.

Dailey was as accomplished away from the track as she was on it. In 2000, she was the NCAA Woman of the Year for the state of Arkansas and went on to become the first Razorback selected as one of the top 10 national finalists for the overall award. For her achievements in the classroom, Dailey was also recognized as a three-time CoSIDA Academic All-American.

Founded in 1871, The University of Arkansas is the flagship institution of the University of Arkansas System. Located in Fayetteville in Arkansas' northwest corner, the U of A is the state's foremost partner and resource for education and economic development.

The U of A offers 213 baccalaureate, master's, doctoral, professional and specialist degree programs. In keeping with its status as Arkansas' land-grant university, the U of A has a 140-year-old mandate to educate, to conduct basic and applied research, and to extend knowledge and resources to the people of Arkansas and beyond through public engagement and service. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching recently classified the U of A as a national research university with a very high level of research activity, based on the number of doctoral degrees awarded, research grants received, and other factors. The U of A is the only Arkansas institution with such a ranking and is among just 108 institutions in the United States (out of 4,633) to have received that classification.

The U of A has enormous influence over Arkansans' social, cultural, and recreational life, especially the widespread passion for the university's athletics teams, the Arkansas Razorbacks. The U of A's location in northwest Arkansas is viewed as one of the university's strongest attributes. Fayetteville is widely recognized as one of the best college communities in the U.S. The city's Dickson Street district abuts the U of A campus and features scores of restaurants, shops, and entertainment venues. Northwest Arkansas is a vibrant economic region with a national reputation for its high quality of life.

Three of the U.S.'s largest corporations have their world headquarters in the region: Tyson Foods, J.B. Hunt Transportation, and the world's largest retailer, Walmart, Inc. Because of their presence, many other corporations have established primary or secondary headquarters in Northwest Arkansas. Their close proximity to the U of A campus, along with their executives' and employees' active involvement in university life, offers students and faculty exceptional opportunities for research partnerships, internships, and post-graduation employment.

The U of A boasts one of the most unique features and traditions found on any college or university campus: Senior Walk, a nearly three-mile stretch of concrete sidewalks criss-crossing campus into which the names of every U of A graduate is engraved. More than 140,000 names currently appear, grouped alphabetically by year of graduation. Senior Walk epitomizes the university's emphasis on "putting students first," a philosophy captured in its tag line, "the YOU of A."

OLD MAIN

One of the original buildings on Arkansas' campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1875, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as had happened to its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Even with renovation, Old Main remained unfinished until 2005. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower.

As mentioned, Old Main was built from shared plans with its counterpart on the Illinois campus, with one important difference. The north tower of Arkansas' Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.

The U of A features distinctive architecture, including its signature building, Old Main, finished in 1875. As the original administrative facility, the iconic building now houses the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences. The college is named in honor of former U of A President (and, later, U.S. Senator) J. William Fulbright, who helped create the prestigious international scholarship and fellowship programs that bear his name. The U of A's distinctive Fulbright Peace Fountain, designed by architect Fay Jones, recognizes its namesake's role in promoting peaceful resolution of world conflicts.

Academically, the U of A is organized into 10 schools and colleges: the Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food and Life Sciences; the College of Education and Health Professions; the College of Engineering; the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences; and the Sam M. Walton College of Business. The university also features the Fay Jones School of Architecture, the Graduate School and International Education, the Honors College, the School of Law and the Global Campus, which provides academic outreach and programs to more than 15,000 learners a year.

The U of A's total annual operating budget for FY2012 is $528 million. Tuition and fee revenues make up the largest source of revenues, followed by an annual state appropriation. Almost 77 percent of all full-time undergraduate students receive some form of financial aid. U of A undergraduate tuition rates were ranked 38th lowest in the nation among land-grant universities, in keeping with the university's emphasis on keeping itself accessible and affordable.

In August 2011, the U of A enrolled a record 23,119 students. The student body consisted of students from all 50 states and more than 100 countries. More than 300 student organizations also exist on campus. There are plenty of things to do on- and off-campus. The HPER Center, the university's state-of-the-art recreational facility, offers a great place to climb, swim, run, lift weights, do aerobics and yoga, or play basketball. Cultural and recreational options include attending lectures, readings, and theatrical performances, shopping opportunities, and listening to live music on nearby Dickson Street.

In 2009, University Chancellor G. David Gearhart presented a long-range strategic plan that was formally endorsed by the elected leaders of the faculty, staff, and student body. The plan emphasizes a commitment to "students first," and outlines goals and strategies to ensure that all students receive the resources and support they need to achieve their academic goals. The plan also emphasizes the U of A's commitment to transparency and accountability to the people of Arkansas in its operation.

More information about the U of A may be found at www.uark.edu.

SENIOR WALK

The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates' names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate's name went down in cement during the 1990s. The names on Senior Walk stretch over three miles of campus sidewalks.

The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

DR. G. DAVID GEARHART

CHANCELLOR

Dr. G. David Gearhart became the chancellor of the University of Arkansas on July 1, 2008, following 10 years of service to the university as vice chancellor for university advancement. Previously he was senior vice president of Penn State University, during which time he was named a Fulbright Scholar, studying at Oxford University in Oxford, England.

His Bachelor of Arts degree is from Westminster College in Missouri. Both his law degree and his doctor of education degree are from the University of Arkansas. He is a native of Fayetteville.

Prior to being appointed chancellor, Dr. Gearhart oversaw the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, the most successful capital campaign in Arkansas history, which raised more than $1 billion for academic programs.

As chancellor, Dr. Gearhart instituted the first tuition freeze in 24 years and implemented a $220 million campus building renovation and refurbishment plan, as well as a campus-wide energy savings plan. He has also undertaken a renewed emphasis on the arts on campus, including the establishment of the "All Steinway Campus."

Dr. Gearhart has additionally implemented a major cost savings program that has already resulted in over $29.4 million in cost reduction and savings to the flagship campus. Campus enrollment has also grown by nearly 4,000 students in the past three years to almost 23,000 students. At the same time, diversity in the student body has increased significantly.

He and his wife of more than 35 years, Jane, have two children and two grandchildren.

DR. SHARON HUNT

FACULTY ATHLETICS REPRESENTATIVE

Chancellor G. David Gearhart appointed Dr. Sharon Hunt to be the faculty athletics representative (FAR) for the University of Arkansas in August 2010.

Dr. Hunt is the first woman and non-lawyer to hold the post. Dr. Hunt has been on the University of Arkansas faculty since 1990, and she served as the department head of the recently renamed Department of Health, Human Performance and Recreation from July 1, 1990 until June 30, 2011 except for the 2000-01 academic year, when she served as the interim dean of the College of Education and Health Professions. On June 30, 2011 Dr. Hunt stepped down as department head and returned to the faculty at the rank of Professor giving her more time to devote to the FAR position.

A high school athlete, Hunt's involvement with collegiate athletics dates back to her own college days at the University of Arkansas when she played extramural sports with the women's basketball and tennis teams prior to the enactment of Title IX.

After receiving her bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from the university, she went on to earn a Doctor of Education degree from the University of Georgia, where she taught a variety of undergraduate courses as a graduate assistant. Upon the completion of her doctoral degree, she joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky for 13 years, where she taught both undergraduate and graduate courses and served as the graduate coordinator for the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. In 1990, she and her family returned to Fayetteville.

The FAR's responsibilities lie in three broad areas: academic integrity within the athletics program, student-athlete well-being, and institutional control of the athletics program. Dr. Hunt is involved in the student-athlete advisory council on campus and chairs the Academic Credential Review Committee and Athletic's Academic Integrity Committee, and serves as an ex-officio member of the Faculty Athletics Committee. In addition, she travels to represent the University of Arkansas at various SEC and NCAA meetings.

Dr. Hunt was instrumental in establishing the graduate athletic training education program in the College of Education and Health Professions, and she has worked closely with athletics on that program. The athletics department provides support to students in the athletic training education program in the form of a stipend, books and travel to the Arkansas Athletic Trainers' Association annual meeting. Two endowed scholarships for athletic training students in honor of longtime Razorback trainers Dean Weber and the late Bill Ferrell were established through the athletics department.

Dr. Hunt has been married to David Hunt since 1973, and they have an adult son and daughter as well as a grandson.

JEFF LONG

VICE CHANCELLOR FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS & DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Entering his fifth full year as Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics, Jeff Long has guided the University of Arkansas' Department of Intercollegiate Athletics through a period of unprecedented transition and gained national attention for his leadership while revitalizing a tradition-rich athletics program encompassing 19 sports and more than 460 student-athletes.

Long leads a comprehensive athletics program uniformly committed to the development of student-athletes academically, athletically and socially. A part of Chancellor G. David Gearhart's Executive Committee, Long is helping to chart the course for the future of higher education at the University of Arkansas while integrating Razorback Athletics into the campus community. In each of the past three years, Razorback Athletics has made a $1 million gift to support the university's academic mission. The department's total support of university and student programs and initiatives includes $1.9 million in direct funding of academic programs.

Long's leadership and unwavering commitment to the student-athletes and maintaining integrity within intercollegiate athletics has not gone unnoticed. In 2011-12, Long was named a finalist for the SportsBusiness Journal and SportsBusiness Daily Athletic Director of the Year. In the spring of 2012, the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation and longtime chairman Fred W. Smith made a gift of more than $1.25 million to the program in recognition of Long's leadership of Razorback Athletics.

In Long's tenure, Arkansas has captured 11 conference championships and advanced to 68 post-season competitions, including the school's first Bowl Championship Series appearance in football, while drawing more than a million fans annually to campus to cheer on the Razorbacks. In 2011-12, Arkansas finished No. 20 in the Learfield Sports Directors Cup, a year-long competition ranking the nation's most successful intercollegiate athletic programs, the fourth time in the past five years the Razorbacks have finished in the nation's top 25.

In the classroom, the Razorbacks continue to set new standards including posting a student-athlete grade point average of 3.07 in 2011-12. It marked the fourth consecutive year Razorback student-athletes posted a GPA exceeding 3.0. Arkansas exceeds the national APR multi-year rate by more than 10 points in 18 sports and has seen a steady rise in graduation success rates.

Student-athlete development has also been a priority including the establishment of the Razorback Leadership Academy, the first of its kind in the Southeastern Conference. In the community, Razorback student-athletes are more active than ever volunteering more than 5,000 hours of time for more than 100 agencies, organizations and schools.

One of the nation's most active athletic directors on Twitter, Long embraces the opportunity to interact with members of the Razorback Nation whether in person or through social media.

Long was selected to replace legendary athletic director and former Razorback football coach Frank Broyles and even before he officially took the reins on Jan. 1, 2008, Arkansas announced that it would combine its previously independent men's and women's athletic programs into one combined athletic program. Long adeptly blended the men's and women's athletic departments into one unified department and established a new administrative structure.

Long has also worked tirelessly to maintain long-time relationships and to forge new relationships for the benefit of the Razorback program including extending Arkansas' relationship with War Memorial Stadium and partnering with former Razorback Jerry Jones to develop the Southwest Classic, a football series with Texas A&M played at the spectacular Cowboys Stadium.

Under Long's leadership, the program has fortified its financial standing ensuring more support for the development of student-athletes. According to the Wall Street Journal, Arkansas is one of only 22 self-sustaining Division I-A athletic programs in the nation. As economic indicators were beginning to point toward challenging economic times, Long signed Arkansas to a deal with IMG College to form Razorback Sports Properties that guarantees the Razorback program $73 million during the course of the decade-long agreement. Long also negotiated an extensive all sports apparel and footwear agreement with NIKE, Inc. that will outfit all 19 Razorback sports programs through the 2014-15 season. In December 2011, Forbes Magazine estimated the value of the Razorback Football program at $89 million, eighth in the nation. Arkansas saw the largest increase (59%) from the previous rankings released in 2009.

In 2010, Long moved to help meet the growing financial needs of fielding a nationally competitive all sports program. The athletic department launched the "Answer the Call" campaign through the Razorback Foundation which resulted in more than 2,600 new members and helped generate more than $6.5 million in additional support for Razorback student-athletes.

With an eye towards the future, Long commissioned a comprehensive plan to assess the future facility needs of the program. Unveiled in October 2011, the Razorback Athletic Facilities Master Plan provided a vision and the road map for $320 million of facility renovations and additions that will help all 19 Razorback sports remain competitive in the Southeastern Conference and nationally over the next 30 years. The first major project from the master plan, the football center, is currently being constructed with a targeted completion date in 2013.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of "student-athlete," Long has had more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including at the University of Pittsburgh, University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University, Eastern Kentucky University and Rice University. Long also understands the coach's perspective from time spent in coaching staff positions at Duke University, University of Michigan and North Carolina State University.

His experience as an athletic director and administrator in five of the six Bowl Championship Series conferences – the Big 12, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and SEC - gives Long a uniquely informed perspective on intercollegiate athletics.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long has served on the NCAA Management Council, the NCAA's Sports Wagering Task Force and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association. Long currently serves on the NCAA Championships/Sports Management Cabinet.

Prior to assuming his current roles at Arkansas, Long served for four years as the athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh. Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the "Quest for Excellence" campaign that raised nearly $34 million to enhance the student-athlete experience. During his tenure the Panthers' were selected as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus' All-Sport Rankings.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years overseeing external affairs for the Sooners. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners' highly successful football and men's basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long's first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two and a half years. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his career in college athletic administration at Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned seven varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his post-graduate career in athletics working on head coach Tom Reed's staff as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami University of Ohio. Long earned his master's in education at Miami in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and N.C. State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.

BEV LEWIS
ASSOCIATE VICE CHANCELLOR &
EXECUTIVE
ASSOCIATE AD

Bev Lewis has served the University of Arkansas and its Razorback athletic programs for more than three decades.

The former women's athletic director prior to the department merger in 2007-08, Lewis now serves as the associate vice chancellor and executive associate athletic director for administration and sport programs. Lewis is also the coordinator of a five-member sport administrator group that provides day-to-day administrative support for each of Arkansas' 19 sports. Lewis is the sport administrator for men's and women's cross country, men's and women's track and field, men's and women's golf, gymnastics, softball and volleyball. In addition, Lewis is the primary administrator working with the Razorbacks' strength and conditioning units and athletic training and sports medicine program as well as overseeing media relations. She also serves as a liaison to the faculty senate and the faculty athletic committee, and coordinates the department's NCAA certification, Title IX compliance and strategic planning. Lewis was elected to the 2011-12 Southeastern Conference Executive Committee assisting the league office in a leadership role.

The largest portion of her service to the university was her 19-year tenure as the Director of Women's Athletics. As a result of her strong emphasis on the classroom, Razorback female student-athletes received numerous academic honors including national academic All-American of the year, team academic national titles and the university's first two SEC/H. Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Her leadership was also a part of the success of the university's Campaign for the Twenty-First Century. Lewis directed Women's Athletics to over $11.5 million in direct support for women's teams. During the campaign, Lewis received one of her greatest personal honors as Bob and Marilyn Bogle requested that Arkansas' $6 million facility be named the Bev Lewis Center. In 1998, she was voted into the University Of Arkansas Hall Of Honor.

Lewis served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, first with the NCAA Championship Cabinet and recently on the NCAA Management Council. Prior to assuming the duties of AD, Lewis was women's cross country and track coach. Her Arkansas coaching milestones included the first women's squad to achieve a national ranking and the first conference championship team with the 1988 Southwest Conference Cross Country Championships.

Lewis earned her bachelor's degree from Central Michigan in 1979 and followed it with her master's from Purdue prior to her arrival at Arkansas in 1981. The former Bev Rouse, is married to Harley Lewis.

MATT
TRANTHAM
SENIOR ASSOCIATE
AD FOR INTERNAL OPERATIONS

Matt Trantham joined the University of Arkansas in 2008 as the senior associate athletic director for internal operations. He oversees Razorback facilities, event management and equipment operations.

Supervising several major projects in his first year with the Razorbacks, Trantham guided the $2.5 million renovation of Bud Walton Arena and the $1.3 million restoration of synthetic playing surface at Donald W. Reynolds Razorback stadium in 2008-09.

This year, he is overseeing the Master Plan currently underway for all athletic facilities. One of the first projects within the master plan began during the 2011-12 academic year with the expansion of the football practice facilities including meeting rooms, academic center and offices. Progress continues on those projects with the football center scheduled to open in the fall 2013.

Prior to joining Arkansas, Trantham began his career with the University of Oklahoma in July 1999 as the promotions director for the athletic department where he worked with all 20 of OU's teams. He was named assistant athletic director for event management in 2004 and was promoted to associate athletic director in 2006.

In his role as associate AD for event management, Trantham oversaw more than 500 events a year, coordinated the efforts of more than 1,500 event staff members and was responsible for activities within 13 athletic facilities. He also served as OU's liaison with all postseason events including both Big 12 and NCAA championship competitions. Prior to joining the Sooners, Trantham spent five seasons in professional sports in Washington, D.C. Trantham earned his bachelor's of science degree in business management from Centenary College in 1990 and a master's degree in sports management from the United States Sports Academy in 1998.

Trantham and wife Kristen are parents of two sons, Will and Davis, and two daughters, Morgan and Paige.

JON FAGG
SENIOR ASSOCIATE
AD FOR COMPLIANCE AND
STUDENT-ATHLETE
SERVICES

Jon Fagg joined the University of Arkansas as a senior associate athletic director for compliance and student-athlete services in the summer of 2008, overseeing all aspects of compliance and academics. He serves as a member of the senior management group for the Razorbacks.

Fagg supervises NCAA and Southeastern Conference rules compliance and education. He reports directly to the vice chancellor and director of athletics, and has an informational reporting relationship on compliance issues with the university's Office of the General Counsel.

In addition to compliance, Fagg also supervises the student-athlete services department which advises and offers support to more than 450 Razorback student-athletes.

Fagg joined the Razorback staff after spending the past seven years at North Carolina State. Hired in March 2001, he served four and half years as an assistant athletics director for compliance before being promoted to associate athletics director for compliance in the fall of 2005.

While with the Wolfpack, Fagg's responsibilities included coordinating all aspects of the NCAA compliance program, including rules education for inter-collegiate staff and related university personnel, and advisement, education and interpretations regarding NCAA rules and regulations.

Prior to his tenure at North Carolina State, Fagg spent three years as the assistant athletics director for compliance at Fresno State. He also served one year as director of compliance for the Big South Conference.

His first athletics administrative experience came at Mars Hill College where he handled compliance duties as well as serving as an assistant coach for the football team for three seasons. His coaching experience also includes a stint as an assistant coach at Davidson from February 1992 to June 1993 and as a GA coach at his alma mater, the University of Arizona, from January 1991 to February 1992.

Fagg and his wife Amanda have three children: Jon Madison and twins, Reed and Ellie.

CHRIS WYRICK
SENIOR ASSOCIATE AD FOR DEVELOPMENT

Chris Wyrick joined the University of Arkansas in April 2008 and has served in several different capacities over the last four years.

Originally hired as the Senior Associate Athletic Director for External Affairs, Wyrick's oversight included marketing and promotions, media relations, new media, ISP/IMG multi media partners, special events, ticket operations, major gift fund raising, as well as sports administrator duties for Men's Basketball and Men's and Women's Golf.

Two years ago, Wyrick was called upon to lead the Razorback Seat Value Plan (RSVP) as part of the Answer the Call Campaign. As a Razorback Foundation employee, Wyrick served as Executive Director of RSVP and led a staff through the yearlong effort of realigning fans' seat locations with their Razorback Foundation donor classifications. The highly successful program introduced 2,600 new members to the Razorback Foundation and yielded over 6.5 million dollars in new revenue. To date, both these numbers are the largest single year growth in Foundation history.

Upon completion of RSVP, Wyrick returned to the Athletic Department in August of 2011 as a Senior Associate Athletic Director for Development. His current duties include all development activities including major gift contributions, as well as serving as the departmental liaison to the Razorback Foundation. Wyrick also oversees the Razorback Ticket Office, the office of Public Relations, and works directly with the Associated Student Government (ASG). Under Wyrick's watch, major gift fundraising produced over 38 million the last fiscal year which was the second most in school history and was the largest amount raised throughout the university.

A native of Greensboro, N.C., Wyrick joined Arkansas after two years at South Carolina where he was associate athletics director for development. Prior to USC, he spent six years at Vanderbilt as an administrator.

A 1992 graduate of North Carolina State with a degree in political science, Wyrick and his wife Merrily have two daughters, Caroline and Caitlin.

CLAYTON HAMILTON
SENIOR ASSOCIATE AD CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Clayton Hamilton joined the Razorbacks in January, 2010, assuming the role of Chief Financial Officer with oversight of the athletic department's financial affairs, business operations, contracts, human resources, payroll, and retail store operations. He was promoted to Senior Associate AD in the summer of 2012.

Hamilton has over 16 years of financial management experience, including positions with the University of Colorado, Florida State University, the Dallas Cowboys and the Cleveland Cavaliers.

BYRON HATCH
ASSOCIATE AD FOR BUSINESS

Byron Hatch joined the Razorback Athletics Department in July 2012 as the Associate Athletic Director for Business. Hatch joins the Razorbacks after spending the past seven years at the NCAA serving most recently as the director of championships and alliances.

Hatch, a native of Humphrey, Ark., earned his undergraduate degree in accounting from the University of Central Arkansas (UCA) and a law degree from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock (UALR). While in law school, Hatch worked in the offices of the Arkansas Public Defender Commission and the Pulaski County Public Defender in Little Rock, Ark.

Hatch will work in the Razorback Athletics business office and report to Senior Associate Athletic Director and Chief Financial Officer Clayton Hamilton.

As the NCAA's associate director of the Division I Men's basketball championship (2007-11) and then the director of championships and alliances (2011-12), Hatch served as a liaison to the Division I men's basketball committee and championship hosts assisting with the planning and conducting of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Tournament. Hatch was responsible for the financial administration of the championship and helped oversee the site selection process. He also was responsible for the supervision of NCAA officiating responsibilities for the championship including serving as the liaison to the National Coordinator of Men's Basketball Officiating. Hatch also worked with the NCAA Corporate and Broadcast Alliances staff to coordinate NCAA corporate champions' and partners' exposure and marketing opportunities throughout the championship.

Prior to his work in the championships and alliances division, Hatch worked in the NCAA's Department of Academic and Membership Affairs as a coordinator (2005), assistant director (2005-07) and associate director (2007). In that role, Hatch served as a lead administrator for the NCAA athletics certification staff and for a variety of Division I institutions undergoing the athletics certification process. He also worked with initial-eligibility waivers and served as the NCAA rules interpretation contact for four Division I conferences and their institutions.

Hatch and his wife Marla, have two daughters, McKinley and Brooklyn.

CHRIS POHL
ASSOCIATE AD FOR EVENTS

A former championships director for the NCAA, Chris Pohl joined Arkansas in 2002 to manage marketing and promotion for the women's sports after 11 years at the NCAA. Pohl moved into event management in 2008 and oversees the event management department which coordinates all home and post-season events for the Razorbacks. Her primary sport responsibilities include football, men's and women's basketball and swimming and diving. In 2012, Pohl added the duties of sport administrator for soccer along with the event management responsibilities for that sport for the Razorbacks. Pohl and her staff prepare and monitor budgets for events, work with service departments including facilities, custodial services and grounds, handle game management responsibilities for all on-campus athletic events; ensuring all aspects of the facilities are ready for competition and spectator hosting, coordinate fan services for game and event management including marketing and promotions, parking services, public safety, law enforcement, life safety/emergency responders, merchandising, concessions, and other aspects of creating a first-class spectator experience.

Wood and his wife Celia have a daughter, Eliana Jewel.

JUSTIN MALAND
ASSISTANT AD FOR FACILITIES

Justin Maland joined the Razorbacks in 1999 and is beginning his seventh year as an Assistant AD for facilities in 2012. His areas of responsibility include oversight of all Razorback athletic facilities, including budgeting, game day operations, scheduling, upkeep, maintenance, long-range planning, daily facility operations, contracting services with outside vendors and coordination of special events. Maland supervises a staff whose responsibilities include custodial and housekeeping, buildings, grounds and other service areas and oversees external events and facility operations on campus.

The Harrison, Ark., native and former college student-athlete, provides management services in all athletic facility renovation projects and construction management of all new projects including the state-of-the-art Razorback Football Center, part of the Athletic Department's Master Plan. One of Maland's recent projects is the installation of the new videoboard for Razorback Stadium.

Maland is a 1999 graduate of Hendrix College and earned his master's degree in sports management at Arkansas in 2001.

Maland is married to the former Sarah Parnell of Booneville and they have three children, Macy, Jack and Addy.

MARK SCOBEY
ASSISTANT AD FOR TICKET
SERVICES

Charged with the supervision of ticket operations for all University of Arkansas men's athletic department-related sporting events, Mark Scobey is in his 36th season with the Razorbacks. He was promoted to Assistant AD for Ticket Services in August 2012.

During his tenure at the University of Arkansas, Scobey has assisted with ticket sales for a wide assortment of events on the Fayetteville campus, including SEC and NCAA hosted championship events in baseball, tennis and track. He has also been affiliated with 20 post-season football bowl games, the 1995, 2002 and 2006 SEC football championship games, and 23 post-season basketball tournament teams, including the 1978, 1990, 1994 and 1995 Final Four clubs.

In December 2002, Scobey worked with Paciolan Systems, Inc., as the project manager for a major software upgrade of the athletic department ticketing system. The addition of on-line ticket sales is now 35% of ticket volume and has given the ticket office staff more time for customer service.

Scobey joined the UA athletic staff in 1977 as an assistant athletic ticket manager and became ticket manager in 1983.

A native of Warren, Ark., Scobey lives in historic Eureka Springs.

AKI TAJIMA

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER
THIRD SEASON

Aki Tajima begins his third season on the athletic training staff for the University of Arkansas men's and women's cross country and track and field team.

During his first two seasons at Arkansas, he served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer. A native of Gifu, Japan, he recently earned a Master of Science in kinesiology with a major in biomechanics from the University of Arkansas.

Tajima joined the Razorbacks from Texas State University where he graduated Summa Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Science degree in athletic training in 2010. During his time in San Marcos, he worked with the football, track and field and women's soccer teams.

In continued experiences in athletic training, Tajima has held internships with the Kansas City Wizards in Kansas City, Mo., the USA National Track and Field team in Osaka, Japan, during the 2007 IAAF World Championships and the California Medicine Center in Los Angeles, Calif. Most recently, he traveled with Team USA as member of the athletic training staff at the 2012 IAAF World Junior Championships in Barcelona.

MARK HINTON

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

ZACH LAWSON

MEDIA RELATIONS DIRECTOR
SIXTH SEASON

Zach Lawson enters his sixth year at Arkansas, fifth as a full-time member of the Athletic Media Relations staff and third with the Razorback cross country and track and field programs. He served as an intern during the 2007-08 academic year prior to a promotion to assistant media relations director.

Lawson is the primary media relations contact for the Razorback men's and women's track and field teams and volleyball team, in addition to past duties with the baseball, soccer and softball teams. He was the media coordinator for the 2010 NCAA Fayetteville Regional played at Baum Stadium and 2011 SEC Indoor Track and Field Championships at the Randal Tyson Track Center.

As an intern, he worked with Arkansas' men's golf and men's tennis teams. He served as the media coordinator for the 2008 Southeastern Conference Men's Tennis Championship and was the assistant editor of the Razorback basketball game day programs.

Prior to joining the Arkansas staff, Lawson worked as an intern at the National Collegiate Athletic Association during the 2006-07 academic season as member of the public and media relations group within Branding and Communications.

A native of Carrollton, Texas, Lawson graduated from Texas Tech University in 2004 with a bachelor's degree in editorial journalism.

RAZORBACK SUPPORT SERVICES

ACADEMIC SERVICES

Recognizing the difficulty of balancing the demands of athletic competition at the highest level and completion of the rigorous academic standards of a Carnegie research-level university, the Razorback Athletic Department provides support services through both facilities and personnel to guide Arkansas student-athletes to their ultimate goal: University of Arkansas diploma.

The key components of the Center for Student-Athlete Success (CSAS) are personal development, career development, academic tutoring, study hall facilities, class attendance monitoring and incentive awards recognizing academic achievement.

BOGLE ACADEMIC CENTER

There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletic Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the home of the Razorback Athletic Department's Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement program is the Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center. The 15,000-square foot Bogle Academic Center is located in the east side of Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Under the overall direction of Senior Associate Athletic Director Jon Fagg, the Bogle Academic Center houses the Arkansas Razorbacks Academic Support Program, the Razorback Student-Athlete Development Office and the Career Development Program.

Associate Athletic Director for Academics and Student-Athlete Development Eric A. Wood oversees the staff of professionals dedicated to directing student-athletes to reach their personal academic goals, and to do so in ways that balance their academic, athletic and personal lives.

STUDY HALL AND TUTORS

A quiet setting for uninterrupted study, the Bogle Academic Center provides three types of study hall space. The computer lab has more than 30 stations for individual computer-based study. An open study hall is available for group or individual study, and monitored by staff members of the SAASA. There are 17 individual study carrels that provide space for tutors to meet with student-athletes for individual instruction in specific subjects.

Each Razorback team sets its own criteria for study hall attendance. The use of tutors is a key element for academic success, allowing for individualized assistance and for reaching academic excellence in advanced subjects.

STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT

The mission of the Student-Athlete Development Office is to contribute to the personal growth and character development of Razorback student-athletes through holistic programming for success in life.

The Student-Athlete Development Office continues to expand its commitment to the offerings and opportunities in the following areas:

- * Academic Excellence
- * Athletic Excellence
- * Career Development and Graduate School Preparation
- * Community Service
- * Personal Development
- * Health and Wellness
- * Leadership and Character Development
- * Financial Planning

Our Goals

- * Provide the resources to support the academic progress toward intellectual development and graduation for our student-athletes.
- * Provide career development programs that will enable our student-athletes to develop and pursue career and life goals.
- * Engage our student-athletes in experiences involving the university, local, state, national, and global communities through services.
- * Support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle, decision-making skills, encouraging emotional well-being, and personal growth for our student-athletes.
- * Invest in the personal development of our student-athletes through various programs that enable them to be successful in the classroom, the community, and in their athletic activities.

The Student-Athlete Development Office coordinated more than 6,000 hours dedicated to service in Northwest Arkansas and worldwide. Razorback student-athletes worked with more than 100 agencies giving of their time and energy last season.

Razorback student-athletes took advantage of the Razorback Leadership Academy, the first of its kind in the SEC in 2010-11 as well. Student-athletes, coaches and staff were shown steps to become better leaders on their teams, in the classroom, in the workplace and in life.

Finally, student-athletes participated in Hogs in Transition, a program designed to help Razorbacks make the move to life after college and athletics. Student-athletes took part in career fairs, corporate office visits and interview training.

New for 2011-12 was the debut of the Hogspy awards, modeled after the ESPY's, to recognize academic and athletic achievements as well as leadership and community service.

COMPLIANCE

The University of Arkansas Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is proud to have your interest and support in the Razorbacks. The Razorback Athletics Compliance Office works hard to educate its student-athletes, coaches, staff and boosters on the rules and regulations mandated by the Southeastern Conference and the NCAA.

SEC and NCAA rules and regulations can be complex, and every situation is different. The Razorback Compliance Office makes every effort to disseminate information, and they encourage student-athletes, coaches, staff and boosters to contact them if there are questions.

The Razorback Athletics Department is proud of your support of the Razorbacks, but we caution you that inadvertent actions by our fans may jeopardize the department, current student-athletes or potential student-athletes.

MARKETING

The excitement and support of the University of Arkansas athletic teams is at an all-time high. Recently, single-game attendance records have been set for many sports including football, baseball, gymnastics, and soccer. Bud Walton Arena has also seen an insurgence of fans with Mike Anderson's return to Fayetteville with his "Fastest 40 Minutes in Basketball" recapturing the spirit of Razorback fans.

State-of-the-art facilities, the nation's best coaches and players and the greatest fans in college athletics come together for some of the most exciting events that take place in the state of Arkansas. The Razorback marketing staff is a big part of the behind-the-scenes success of all 19 teams at the university. They assist in the branding of our image, getting information to our fans and helping to fill our venues.

Their work is evident in our stadiums, on the videoboards and during pre-event, halftime and post-events. They work with sponsors, maintain the department's social media presence and welcome new fans with creative ticket and suite packages. The Razorback Marketing Office also handles the University's trademark licensing program ensuring fans get the Razorback quality they have come to expect.

SPIRIT SQUAD

Along with being a Razorback, serving as a Razorback Spirit Squad member has a long tradition at the University of Arkansas. Currently, the Razorbacks have two co-ed cheer squads - Arkansas Cheer and Razorback Cheer that inspire the crowds at all home and away football games, mens and womens basketball games, volleyball matches, gymnastics meets and many other pep rallies and on-campus and NWA community events.

Arkansas also has two dance teams, Arkansas Pom and Razorback Pom, that perform at all home football games, mens and womens basketball games as well as pep rallies and on-campus and community events. The squads also perform at baseball games as the RBI Girls. Both the cheer and dance teams compete nationally at the Universal Cheer and Dance team competitions in Orlando in January.

Arkansas has a team of uniformed mascots, led by the original Big Red, the Fighting Razorback. Sue E. joined the family along with kid-sized Pork Chop in the late 1990s. Boss Hog is a 9-foot-tall inflatable mascot and Ribby, the baseball mascot complete the mascot team. They can be found at all Razorback games and events.

Jean Nail serves as the director of the spirit squad program and is assisted by Kraig Jimenez, cheer coach and Brooke Bailey, dance coach. For more information on the cheer, pom and mascots and tryouts, go to the Spirit Squad section of ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

SPORTS MEDICINE

The University of Arkansas Sports Medicine staff is committed to provide each Razorback student-athlete with state-of-the-art medical care. The goal of our sports medicine program is to assist every student-athlete in staying healthy and injury free. The athletic training staff, in conjunction with our team physicians, will coordinate the delivery of professional and comprehensive preventative, treatment, rehabilitation, and counseling services.

The Razorback Foundation, Inc.

Performing the vital role of supporting the student-athletes at the University of Arkansas with financial support, the Razorback Foundation, Inc., is in its fourth decade of working alongside the athletic department to advance Razorback athletics.

The goal of the foundation is ensuring that the more than 460 student-athletes at Arkansas have the equipment, facilities, and overall support to achieve the goals of graduation and athletic achievement.

Over the past year, with the support of our dedicated members, the Razorback Foundation has experienced a year of dynamic growth in multiple areas. Our membership and annual fund dollars raised is at an all-time high and it can be directly attributed to the passion and commitment of those who love the Razorbacks. Additionally, the Razorback Foundation saw another increase in Capital gifts, and the result of this generosity is the construction of a new Football Center, which is scheduled for completion in 2013.

The Foundation, officially incorporated and relocated off campus in 1988, has helped provide financial aid for the construction of the Broyles Athletic Center (football and administrative offices), Charlie Baum Stadium at George Cole Field (baseball), John McDonnell Field (outdoor track and field), Randal Tyson Track Center (indoor track and field), Dills Indoor Tennis Center, the George M. Billingsley Tennis Center (outdoor), Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium (football) and Bogle Park (women's softball). In the future, as new facilities are planned and others enhanced, we will again need the support of all those who have a desire for the University of Arkansas to provide the very best for our student athletes.

Mission Statement

The stated mission of the Razorback Foundation, Inc., is to support the athletic endeavors of the University of Arkansas Razorbacks.

The Foundation assists our student-athletes by providing for scholarships, facilities and various programs that enable them to realize their dreams of achieving a quality college education while participating in athletics on a nationally competitive level.

Membership Levels

The opportunity to participate in the annual fund giving to the Razorback Foundation, Inc., has several levels, beginning at the $50 Razorback level and continuing up to Broyles-Matthews Scholarship Platinum ($20,000 or more). For more information about levels of giving and benefits, please visit the foundation's website at RazorbackFoundation.com.
