Arkansas Natatorium

The University of Arkansas Natatorium is considered one of the finest aquatic facilities in the Midwest. The Natatorium was the venue for the 1993 Southeastern Conference Championships, the 1996 and 1999 NCAA Zone 'D' Diving Championships, and most recently the 2002 SEC and NCAA Zone 'D' Diving Championships.

In addition, the Natatorium served as the site for the 1986 NCAA Division I Women's Swimming and Diving Championships as well as a 1985 international meet and several USS Junior Nationals. Serving the Arkansas swimming and diving teams since 1985, the Natatorium has provided the training grounds for three Olympians and 31 All-Americans.

The Natatorium is an indoor, eight-lane, 50-meter pool with a complete timing system and scoreboard. The full matrix scoreboard with graphics was added in 2007 while a record display board was added in 1997. The diving area has two one-meter boards, two three-meter boards and a five- and 10-meter platform. A dry board and trampoline with spotting rigs are also located in the natatorium.

The Razorbacks opened the doors to a new locker room in 2008. The newly renovated area represents the pride of the Arkansas swimming and diving team. The locker room is also connected to the dressing room, but has a separate entrance for the team and coaches.

Arkansas' swimming and diving team welcomes 11 new faces to the deck for the 2010-11 season after losing three seniors who were strong contributors to the 2009-10 team. Among those lost was two-time Southeastern Conference Champion in the 200 breaststroke, Yi-Ting Siow. Head coach Jeff Poppell said he will look to the 11 new Razorbacks to fill the void.

"We have a lot of talented freshmen that will help provide valuable contributions in areas that were weak last year," Poppell said.

Poppell and staff look to the 25 returning Razorbacks to lead the newcomers through one of the toughest schedules in recent years.

2010-11 Schedule

The Hogs compete in 13 regular season duals and host four before heading to the Southeastern Conference Championships in February. The Razorbacks kick off the season in early October, as they take on the North Texas Relays in Denton, Texas, followed by duals against UNT and Tulane.

"Our schedule this year is very challenging," Poppell said. "There is a good mix of SEC and out of conference competition for us."

Poppell welcomes top-notch competition that includes a number of teams that finished in the top 25 last season. Among those are SEC champion Georgia and 2010 NCAA Division I champion Florida.

The first home match for the Razorbacks is Nov. 5, against Missouri and SEC foe, South Carolina. Last year, Missouri was ranked 25th going into the dual and topped the 18th-ranked Hogs 177-118. The Gamecocks finished ninth in the 2010 SEC Championships while Arkansas claimed sixth place.

Arkansas competes at the Purdue Invitational for the second year in a row after claiming third place a year ago. Also at the invitational will be Ohio State, Michigan and Louisville. Each of those teams finished in the top-25 at the NCAA Championships in 2010.

"Many of the teams we are competing against were ranked last year," Poppell said. "It's a good test for our newcomers and helps us prepare for the caliber of competition we face at SEC's. It's also a great schedule for qualifying purposes."

The fall portion of Arkansas' schedule finishes with a dual against BYU on Dec. 3, and Utah on the following day. The Razorbacks make the trip to Lawrence, Kan., Jan. 13, to face the Jayhawks before hosting University of Houston and Drury on Jan. 21 and 29, respectively.

Postseason begins with the Missouri Grand Prix in Columbia, Mo., and the SEC Diving Championships, Feb. 11-13, while the swimming portion of the championships will be held Feb. 16-19, both in Gainesville, Fla. Trips to the NCAA Last Chance Invitational and NCAA Zone Diving also come during postseason in March for the Razorbacks.

Freestyle

Leading the way in the sprint freestyle events are Katie Whitbeck along with newcomer Carly Mercer and 2008 Olympian Sigrun Svendsdottir. The combination of the three will help the Razorbacks to be a lot stronger than in previous years.

The middle distance freestylers will be led by Whitbeck, Chelsea Franklin and Nicole Menzel. Whitbeck holds the second best time in the 200m freestyle.

"This group is the lead trio for the squad," Poppell said of the middle distance swimmers.

Franklin along with Alison Templin and senior and 2009 All-American Jamie Marks will guide the distance freestyle group during the 2010-11 season. Marks finished fourth at the SEC Championships in 2010 while Templin and Franklin each qualified for the 2012 Olympic Trials in Omaha, Neb.

"This is the strongest distance group we've had at Arkansas," Poppell said. "They'll compete very well among conference and national competition."

Breaststroke

With the loss of two-time SEC champion Yi-Ting Siow, the breaststroke will now look to Erin Neumann, Marks, junior Sarah Howard and newcomer Julia Kucherich. Neumann has scored each of the past three years for the Razorbacks at SEC's and holds the third best time in the UA record books. The breaststroke event was a previous strength for Arkansas, and Poppell said it is a bit weaker now.

Dannica Brennan

Backstroke

The backstroke event looks to Haley Smith as the top returner in the 100m and school record holder Dannica Brennan in the 200m. Brennan holds Arkansas' top time in the 200m and is third in the 100m. Freshmen Jamie Hertzler and Liz Braun also add depth to the backstroke event this season.

"The backstroke is going to be extremely competitive," Poppell said. "It's the strongest group of backstrokers that we have had in my four years at Arkansas."

Butterfly

Whitbeck and Lisa Lunkenheimer are the clear leaders in the butterfly events. Whitbeck holds the top time in the UA record books in the 100m and Lunkenheimer was best in the 200m last season. Totten is also among the leaders in the butterfly as she holds the 200m fly record in the Philippines and competed in the 2009 FINA World Championships for the Republic of Philippines.

The team did not lose any competitors in this event but welcomes a group of freshmen to help improve the Razorbacks among its conference and national competitors.

Katie Whitbeck

Individual Medley

Individual medley is led by Marks and Kucherich who each have notable accomplishments in the event. Marks is an NCAA qualifier in the 400m and Kucherich made the cut for the 2012 U.S. Olympic Trials. Brennan and Schilling also bring depth to the IM events after losing UA's record holder, Siow.

Diving

Diving coach Dale Schultz has high hopes for his divers to add depth to the Razorbacks this season.

"This could be one of our better groups of women at Arkansas in a long time," Schultz said.

Newcomer Kesha Naylor will be an immediate impact on the group. "Kesha will help make us that much stronger," Schultz said. She was a Canadian Olympic Trials finalist before joining the Hogs.

Liana Bugslag, who was a conference finalist on the platform in 2010, will continue to bring a solid contribution this season. She holds the UA record on the platform after marking her career-best score at the SEC Championships. Junior Alex Roman continues to add depth to the diving squad as well. Last season, she qualified for the NCAA Zone Diving Championships for the second year in a row.

Head Coach

JEFF POPPELL

Four Years

Georgia, 1993

Jeff Poppell enters his fifth season as head coach of the Arkansas Razorbacks swimming and diving team. Over the years, Poppell has led the team to garner a top national ranking of 19th in 2009 and 2010, according to CSCAA.

The Razorbacks entered the top-25 ranks in 2008 for the first time in 16 years.

At the helm of Arkansas' swimming program, Poppell coached Arkansas to its best finishes in the Southeastern Conference since joining in 1992. In 2010, the Hogs finished sixth at the conference championships and placed fifth in 2009. The previous year, Poppell guided Arkansas to equal the programs best SEC finish, placing seventh at the 2008 SEC Championships.

The 2010 season saw the storied career of swimmer Yi-Ting Siow come to a close. Siow became the first Razorback swimmer to win back-to-back Southeast Conference titles, claiming her second SEC championship title in the 200 breaststroke. She became only the fourth SEC swimmer to win back-to-back titles in the event since 1981.

Poppell guided three Razorbacks to the 2010 NCAA Swimming and Diving with Siow coming out with All-America honors after matching her fourth-place finish from 2009. Five qualified and competed in 2009 and four were honored as All-Americans by placing in the top-16 of their respective event. Siow placed fourth in the 200 breaststroke, earning the highest NCAA Championships finish by a female Razorback swimmer in program history. The 2008 season was no different when three swimmers and one diver competed at the NCAA Championships. Each of the three swimmers earned All-American Honorable Mention accolades. Freshman Katie Kastes set the bar with a ninth-place finish in the 200 butterfly which was the best finish for a swimmer in program history.

Poppell's student-athletes proved to be among the top scholastic groups in the country. Since 2007, the Razorbacks have garnered 20 academic All-America honors. Graduate assistant Stephanie Carr earned ESPN The Magazine Academic All-American team accolades in 2008 and 2009.

Under Poppell's leadership, the team has ranked in the top 10 in the nation for highest grade point average in all of Division I swimming and diving programs. The 2010 Razorbacks worked to ninth in the nation according to CSCAA with a 3.51 grade point average. The Hogs of 2009 brought in a team GPA of 3.48, good for eighth in the country and earned their top national ranking of fourth in 2008. In addition, the Razorbacks of 2008-10 collected the highest team grade point average in the SEC.

The SEC honored 41 of Poppell's Hogs since 2007 for their academic success. In 2010 the SEC Academic Honor Roll included 15 swimmers from UA. Twelve were also on the conference list in 2009. The Razorbacks had three freshmen honored by the SEC in 2010 and nine a year earlier. Four of Poppell's Hogs have been named to the SEC Community Service Team along with one selected as the recipient of the Brad Davis SEC Community Service Post-Graduate Scholarship.

Under the direction of Poppell, the Razorbacks finished second for the 2010 Lee Spencer Cup which recognizes the UA athletic team most dedicated to Razorback excellence, integrity in areas of academics, athletics, leadership and personal development as well as service and team spirit.

In his second year as head coach (2007-08), Poppell's recruiting class ranked fifth in the nation by CollegeSwimming.com. Four of the recruits from that class, Jamie Marks, Erica Totten, Katie Kastes and Ashley Largo, were named to CollegeSwimming.com's Top 100 Recruits list. Marks and Kastes went on to earn All-America honors during their careers. In 2008, the Razorbacks boasted top-25 recruiting class, ranking 21st in the country.

In 2009, he took the roll as head women's coach for Team USA at the World Maccabiah Games in Israel. He was also a USA Swimming National Team coach from 2005-08. During his coaching days with the national teams, Poppell coached three swimmers who competed at the 2009 FINA World Swimming Championships in Rome, Italy and two that competed in the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing. He guided two swimmers to three gold medals, one silver, two bronze and three event records at the Southeast Asian Games.

Prior to Arkansas, Poppell spent 13 years at one of the country's most prominent high schools and club swimming programs. While at the Bolles School in Jacksonville, Fla., he spent time as an assistant and head coach of the Bolles School and the Bolles School Sharks. He led the Sharks to a top-5 finish at the 2006

Spring U.S. National Championships where the men's 4x200 freestyle relay team won the national title and swimmer Omar Pinzon became the national champion in the men's 200 backstroke.

During the 2005-06 season, Poppell guided the Bolles High School men's team to its 18th consecutive Florida high school state championship. The same year, Poppell's girls' team earned its 15th consecutive state title. The boys' swimming team went on to be crowned National Prep School Champions and capture second place at the Boys' National High School Championships.

Poppell spent from 2002-06 as The Bolles School head coach where he facilitated four female swimmers that ranked in the top 25 in the world and seven who were among the top 100 in the world. He coached 17 Bolles Sharks that competed in the 2004 Olympics in Athens, Greece, two U.S. national champions, five who competed in the U.S. National Championships or U.S. Olympic Trials and the NISCA National High School Female Swimmer of the Year. Forty-two of Poppell's swimmers during 2002-06 competed at the U.S. National Championships and 12 reached finals and medaled at major international competitions, including four gold medals at the Southeast Asian Games and two silvers at the European Championships.

In 2005, Poppell was the NFHS Florida High School Boys' Coach of the Year and was on the Florida High School Athletic Coaches Association Steroid Advisory Committee from 2005-06. 2004 brought NHSCA Coach of the Year and Florida Dairy Farmers High School Coach of the Year accolades for his work with the girl's team at Bolles.

As a student-athlete at University of Georgia, Poppell was a four-year letterwinner and team captain for the Bulldogs swimming team. He qualified for NCAA's twice and was an Honorable Mention All-SEC and academic All-SEC honoree. He earned one gold, one silver and two bronze medals while competing at the 1993 Maccabiah Games. He was the honoree and recipient of Georgia's Jeff Poppell Award for Leadership and Overall Contribution to the University of Georgia.

Season Rewind

The 2009-10 Razorbacks posted a 7-2 dual meet record and placed sixth at the 2010 SEC Championships. At the 2010 NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships, seniors Yi-Ting Siow and Leah Pierce along with junior Jamie Marks represented Arkansas and earned a 34th-place team finish.

Top-20 Finish

The College Swimming Coaches of America ranked Arkansas No. 19 at the end of the 2009-10 season.

The Razorbacks began the season ranked 19th and rose as high as No. 18 during the course of the year.

Yi-Ting Siow Places Fourth at NCAAs

Arkansas swimmer Yi-Ting Siow matched the best NCAA individual performance in school history and recorded the second-fastest 200y breaststroke in Southeastern Conference history, finishing fourth in her strongest event at the NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships.

Siow's time of 2 minutes, 7.73 seconds was just seven-hundredths of a second behind the SEC record held by 1999 NCAA champion Kristy Kowal of Georgia and broke Siow's own school record of 2:08.41, set at last year's NCAA championships. The senior also tied her own fourth-place finish in the same event at last year's NCAA meet.

Yi-Ting Siow Earns All-American Status

By finishing in the top 16 at NCAAs, Yi-Ting Siow wrapped up her college career as a four-time All-American. She earned All-America honors in the 200y breast in 2009 and was a two-time All-American at Wisconsin.

Leah Pierce Ends Career at NCAAs

Arkansas senior Leah Pierce concluded her collegiate career with swims in the 100y and 200y breaststroke at NCAAs.

Pierce finished 30th in the 100y breaststroke with a time of 1:01.99 and also placed 30th in the 200y breast with a time of 2:13.21. Pierce finishes her All-America career as the school record holder in the 100y breaststroke.

Yi-Ting Siow Repeats as SEC Champion

Yi-Ting Siow became the first Razorback swimmer to win back-to-back titles at the SEC Swimming and Diving Championships. Siow won her second SEC championship, and second medal of 2010 event, touching in at 2 minutes, 9.23 seconds. The Malaysia native becomes the fourth SEC swimmer to win back-to-back titles in the 200y breaststroke since 1981.

Razorbacks Rewrite Record Book

Throughout the season, the Hogs made 26 entries into the school record books. Just at the SEC Championships, the Razorbacks broke 10 records, tied one and posted numerous career best times. Arkansas broke school records in the 1,650y freestyle, 100y and 200y backstroke, 100y butterfly, 200y and 400y individual medley, 200y and 400y medley relay along with platform diving.

Senior Lynette Ng etched her name onto three different lists and ended her career with the best time in Hog history in the 100y backstroke with a time of 55.26 seconds.

Siow Garners SEC Honors

Yi-Ting Siow earned Southeastern Conference swimmer of the week honors on Oct. 20 and Oct. 27 after leading the Razorbacks in dual meets against Florida/Kansas and Kentucky/The Cumberlands. The senior wrapped up her final season by winning the 200y breaststroke event at the SEC Championships and was named first team All-SEC for her accomplishment.

SEC Academic Honors

Like in the pool, the Hogs were outstanding in the the classroom during the 2009-10 season. The Razorbacks led all Arkansas' athletic programs with 15 members of the squad named to the 2010 SEC Winter Academic Honor Roll. Gina Bargiachi, Ashley Largo, Erin Neumann and Erica Totten are being honored for a third time.

Freshmen were no exception to the list. Dannica Brennan, Haley Smith and Kelsea Vance made the SEC's freshman academic list.

Razorbacks Records and History

Mandy Moran
All-American

The history of the Arkansas Razorbacks swimming and diving program dates back to the first team in 1972. The program was under the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW). The Razorbacks recorded their first winning season in 1983 (6-3) when they tallied wins over Oklahoma, North Texas and Missouri. The same year, Arkansas was taken over by the NCAA and recorded a 22nd-place finish.

While still under the helm of the AIAW in 1979, Diane Doucet, a highly touted diver from New Orleans, La., put together an incredible performance on the one-meter springboard at the AIAW National Championships and became the first ever swimming and diving All-American at the University of Arkansas.

The swimming and diving program garnered its first national champion in Karen Gorham in 1981. Gorham captured the one-meter diving title at the 1981 AIAW Championships and was named the AIAW Diver of the Year. A seven-time All-American, Gorham also won the U.S. Diving title in 1980. Shortly after Gorham's history making performance as a Razorback, Robin Ford earned the three-meter title at the 1985 NCAA Championships and was a two-time All-American.

Following in Gorham and Ford's footsteps were highly touted divers like Diane Dudeck, Becky Martin, Karen Straley and Alicia Turner, each of whom received All-America honors during their Arkansas career. Following the 1996 season however, Arkansas diving hit a lull until Katerina Kordioukova made Razorback diving relevant once more. Kordioukova placed ninth on the three-meter board at the 2001 NCAA Championships, missing the championship finals by .05 points. She also scored points for Arkansas in the one-meter competition with a 17th-place finish at the National Championships. In 2003, Mandy Moran was the runner-up in the three-meter dive at the NCAA National Championships. Also in 2003, Moran set and currently holds the three-meter dual school record.

Several Razorbacks have earned multiple All-America honors in the pool. New Yorker Kris Sheedy and Dallas native Missy Allert picked up seven All-America certificates while Arkadelphia's Nancy Duncan had five. Sheedy and Duncan swam on the powerful relay teams of the late 1980s, while Allert was a strong freestyle specialist. Kastes joined this elite group as a freshman in 2008, earning two All-America honors and adding two more certificates in 2009.

Olympians have been no strangers to the Razorbacks roster throughout the years. Canadian Cheryl McArton became the first Razorback to reach the Olympics when she swam for her native country in the 1984 summer games. She held six Arkansas records when she finished her career. Coming to Arkansas in 1998, Natalia Kodajova competed at the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta in the 100 and 200 breaststroke events for Slovakia. Kodajova earned the Arkansas' outstanding swimmer award two times. In 2001, she represented Slovakia in the World University Games, for the second time, in Beijing, China. In 1999, she finished 11th in the 100 breaststroke.

Razorback Zsuzsa Csobanki represented Hungary in the 2004 Olympic Games in Athens, Greece, and is a four-time Hungarian National Champion in the 50 free. Most recently, Yi-Ting Siow represented her home country of Malaysia in the 2008 Beijing Olympics, her third Olympic go-round. At the games, Siow finished 19th in the 200 breast with a Malaysian record time of 2:27.80. She joined the Hogs in 2008.

The Arkansas swimming and diving team rewrote its history in 2008-09, winning a program-high 10 dual meets and finishing fifth in the Southeastern Conference, the best SEC finish in Razorback history. Siow became part of the history-making 2008-09 Razorback roster as she became the first Razorback to win an SEC individual title, taking first in the 200 breast in 2009. Her fourth place finish in the 200 breast at the NCAAs that same year made her the first swimmer at Arkansas to ever finish as high as fourth in any NCAA championship event.

At the 2009 NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships, the Razorbacks garnered five All-America honors split between four swimmers. Sophomore Katie Kastes received two nods in 2009 (200 fly, 400 IM) to go along with her two All-America certificates from 2008 (200 fly, 500 free). Jamie Marks (1,650 free), Leah Pierce (200 breast) and Yi-Ting Siow (200 breast) also earned All-America status, giving Arkansas its highest number of All-American honorees in a single season.

Academic Success

The Razorbacks have enjoyed a rich tradition of academic success through the years. The swimming and diving team maintains one of the highest grade point averages in the University of Arkansas Athletics Department, as well as among the top Division I swimming and diving programs in the country.

For more than five years, the College Swimming Coaches Association of America (CSCAA) named the Razorbacks a top ten Division I Academic All-America Team.

In 2010, the Razorbacks held the ninth highest GPA with a 3.51. The team was eighth one year earlier and earned the top academic team in Division I according to the CSCAA in 2002-03. The Razorbacks were No. 2 in the spring 2003 with a 3.51 GPA. In fall 2002, the team was No. 1 in America with a 3.644 GPA. Combining those gave the Razorbacks the honor of No. 1 in the classroom. In the spring of 2002, the Razorbacks earned a 3.43 cumulative grade point average, which was good for fifth in the nation. They finished second in the fall of 2001 with a 3.52 GPA, and prior to the 2002-03 season, had finishes of sixth, eighth and fourth dating back to the spring of 2000. In 2003-04, the Razorbacks were fifth in the nation in GPA, 3.47, according to the CSCAA.

Arkansas returned to national academic prominence in 2009 when the CSCAA ranked it eighth in the nation with a 3.48 GPA and ninth in 2010 with 3.51. Razorbacks Stephanie Carr, Katie Kastes and Leah Pierce were named CSCAA Scholastic All-Americans in 2009. Carr was also named to the ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District team for the second consecutive year.

The swimming and diving program has had the largest group of Razorbacks named to the 2008-09 SEC academic honor roll. This award requires a 3.0 GPA for either the past year or a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher for their career, a sophomore or higher in academic classification and 24 semester hours towards a degree.

Several members of the Razorback swimming and diving program have earned individual honors for their academic work as well. Carr and Angela Kora were named to the CoSIDA Academic All-District VI First Team in 2008 and 2006, respectively.

In 2010 Gina Bargiachi and Erin Neumann became members of the Arkansas Athletic Department Academic Championship with 4.0 grade point averages.

Proud of its academic standing, the Razorbacks have issued an award for the top scholar-athlete. Each year, beginning in 1992, a new student-athlete is selected by the coaching staff.

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS A PORTRAIT OF THE STATE'S FLAGSHIP, LAND-GRANT UNIVERSITY

The University of Arkansas, the flagship campus of the University of Arkansas System, resides on a former hilltop farm overlooking the Ozark Mountains to the south. At the University's founding in 1871, the site was described as "second to none in the state of Arkansas."

Located in Fayetteville, the university is both the major land-grant university for Arkansas and the state university. The university was created under the Morrill Land-Grant College Act of 1862, whereby federal land sales provided funds for new colleges devoted to agriculture and the mechanic arts, scientific and classical studies, and military tactics, all designed for the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes. The university's founding satisfied the provision in the Arkansas Constitution of 1868 that the General Assembly establish and maintain a state university.

Citizens in Fayetteville and surrounding Washington County raised $130,000 to secure the university's location in a state-wide competition sparked by the General Assembly's Organic Act of 1871, providing for the "location, organization and maintenance of the Arkansas Industrial University with a normal department [i.e., teacher education] therein."

Today, the University of Arkansas encompasses more than 130 buildings on 345 acres and provides nearly 200 academic programs, more than some universities twice its size. At the same time, it maintains a low student-to-faculty ratio (currently 17:1) that makes personal attention possible. The university promotes undergraduate research in virtually every discipline and makes higher education affordable with competitively priced tuition and generous financial aid.

WORLD-CLASS FACULTY

The campus culture places high value on excellent teaching. At this mainly residential campus, the faculty numbers nearly 1,000, of which almost 95 percent are full-time. Nine of every 10 faculty members hold either a doctorate or terminal degree in their field, and more than 65 percent of the faculty is tenured.

OLD MAIN

One of the original buildings of Arkansas' campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1876, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as it did its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Even with renovation, Old Main remained unfinished until 2006. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower.

As mentioned, Old Main was built from shared plans with its counterpart on the Illinois campus, with one important difference. The north tower of Arkansas' Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.

DID YOU KNOW?

- 7 Fayetteville ranks No. 7 on the Forbes.com's list of "Top 10 College Towns."
- 14 Razorback basketball is ranked #14 on the Forbes.com's list of "College Basketball's 20 Most Valuable Teams".
- NUMEROUS Arkansas is home to Rhodes, Marshall, Goldwater, Udall, NSF and James Madison recipients.
- 120,000 Senior Walk features names of more than 120,000 graduates.
- 100 Arkansas presses publish nearly 100 books each year.
- 700 More than $700 million in construction projects were completed in the past decade

The instructional mission is aided by the Cordes Teaching and Faculty Support Center, a program run by faculty for faculty. The center involves as many as 400 faculty and nearly 200 teaching assistants per year in regularly scheduled programs, seminars, workshops and an annual off-campus teaching retreat as well as individual assistance to update and enhance their teaching methods.

This emphasis is reinforced by the University of Arkansas Teaching Academy, which consists of faculty recognized by their peers, colleges and the larger university for teaching excellence. In 2000, the academy began producing Inquiry, the first undergraduate research journal published by an Arkansas institution of higher learning.

WORLD-CLASS FACILITIES

Over $700 million in construction projects were completed on campus in the past decade, are now under construction or are in the planning stages. These include plans to upgrade or renovate several of our historic buildings. The university is also engaged in an ambitious program to improve the energy efficiency of 35 of our buildings, in an on-going effort to create a sustainable campus.

WORLD-CLASS SUPPORT

Investment in the future is critical, and the unprecedented Campaign for the Twenty-First Century that concluded in 2006 resulted in a billion dollar infusion of gifts to the University of Arkansas. The effort included the largest single gift to a U.S. public university in the history of American philanthropy: a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Trust. Primary among the programs created by the Walton gift was the designation of $200 million toward the establishment of the Honors College.

That kind of commitment from the state and the region is not uncommon. It was the effort of the city of Fayetteville and Washington County in submitting the highest bid to the state in the 1870s that resulted in the University of Arkansas opening its doors here on Jan. 22, 1872.

SENIOR WALK

The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates' names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate's name went down in cement during the 1990s. The names on Senior Walk stretch over five miles of campus sidewalks.

The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

BROAD RANGE OF DEGREES

At Arkansas, students can major in one of over 120 undergraduate disciplines, many of which prepare them for entry into graduate studies ranging from law to medicine.

TEN COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS: ONE UNIVERSITY

The University has five colleges, four schools and a global campus to provide a wide range of majors, from agricultural business to biological engineering, from architecture to nursing, from transportation and logistics to international relations, all taught by nationally acclaimed faculty.

A program in nanoscience that combines students and faculty in physics and engineering has made the university the leader in production of nanomaterials for universities across the country.

No matter what students choose to study the University of Arkansas has the programs, the faculty and the facilities to prepare them for the careers they want in the future.

RESEARCH

DISCOVERY THAT IS MAKING LIFE BETTER FOR ARKANSAS AND THE WORLD

The Carnegie Foundation categorizes the University of Arkansas as a research institution with “high research activity,” placing it among the top 10 percent of universities nationwide. In simple terms, the university is in the top tier of 150 research universities among the nation’s more than 4,000 post-secondary institutions — and growing in research activity and expenditures each year.

As a land-grant and state university, the institution considers research, scholarship and creative endeavor — all leading to the advancement of knowledge — a significant component of its primary mission. The university’s faculty members are active researchers and scholars who consistently attract international attention in the arts, sciences, humanities, technology, business and education.

Research expenditures at the University of Arkansas for fiscal year now exceed $117 million per year, making research activity a significant academic element at the university and an economic engine for the state. It’s also not uncommon anymore for research awards to the university to rise at double-digit percentage rates, and such awards also are approaching the $100 million level.

In addition to the work performed by faculty through individual and collaborative efforts in their academic departments, special research and outreach programs — often interdisciplinary — are conducted in approximately 50 centers and organized research units around campus.

AMONG THE LEADING-EDGE CENTERS AND RESEARCH ACTIVITIES:

- The RFID Research Center laboratory conducts research in the most efficient use of radio frequency identification and other wireless sensor technologies throughout the supply chain, with a particular emphasis on the retail supply chain. Positioned in northwest Arkansas at the epicenter of retail activity, the RFID Research Center laboratory is a multidisciplinary “supply chain in a box” devoted to examining the technology as used in retail, storeroom and warehouse environments.
- The Center for Sensing Technology and Research features a 9.4 Tesla Fourier transform mass spectrometer, which uses a high-powered magnet that improves the resolution of images of molecules and provides detailed information about their structure. Coupled with other instruments in the High Performance Mass Spectrometry Laboratory, the mass spectrometer offers high-resolution laser desorption mass spectrometry, which is not available at any other public laboratory in the country.

- The Chemical Hazards Research Center has the largest ultra-low-speed boundary layer wind tunnel in the world. The wind tunnel simulates releases of heavier-than-air gases into the atmosphere. It has been used to simulate potential disasters and to trace the path of disasters that have occurred, such as the catastrophic 1984 Union Carbide leak in Bhopal, India.

- The High Density Electronics Center has established itself as one of the top electronics packaging research and education facilities in the world. HiDEC has executed contracts from government and industry totaling more than $30 million. Projects have ranged from multi-chip module design to the development and evaluation of new technologies and electronic products.

- The Center for Advanced Spatial Technologies has been recognized nationally for its data storage and retrieval warehouse, GeoStor, by the Urban & Regional Information Systems Association. The center works with people across campus in various disciplines, offering researchers the latest in innovative technologies. This has led to interdisciplinary collaboration in fields as diverse as engineering, agriculture, anthropology and sociology.

POINTS OF PRIDE

THE DISTINCTIVE CHARACTERISTICS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

UNIQUE TRADITIONS

Starting on Old Main’s front step with the year 1876, the names of the more than 125,000 graduates have been chiseled into more than two miles of campus walkways, grouped by year of graduation. It’s not uncommon to see alumni strolling Senior Walk to rediscover their own names and fond memories of accomplishment and fun.

Old Main, the university’s signature building, designed in Second Empire architectural style, has come to symbolize higher education in Arkansas. Old Main is one of 11 campus buildings on the National Register of Historic Places. Today, it is the home to the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Science, the largest academic college within the University of Arkansas.

The Inn at Carnall Hall and Ella’s Restaurant comprise the university’s own on-campus hospitality center. The beautiful, 50-room historic inn and five-star restaurant are both overseen by the hospitality and restaurant management academic program in the Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food and Life Sciences. Carnall Hall was built in 1905 as the university’s first women’s residence hall. The building was named after Ella Carnall, one of the campus’ first female faculty members.

THE FULBRIGHT LEGACY

Since its founding, the University of Arkansas has compiled a remarkable record of scientific, technological, intellectual and creative accomplishment. This accomplishment is exemplified by the late U.S. Senator J. William Fulbright, a Rhodes Scholar as a student and eventual president of the university (1939-41). Fulbright went on to serve at the national level, founding in 1946 the greatest international exchange program for faculty and students in the world.

Fulbright’s injunction for academia guides the University of Arkansas to this day: “The highest function of higher education is the teaching of things in perspective, toward the purposes of enriching the life of the individual, cultivating the free and inquiring mind and advancing the effort to bring reason, justice and humanity into the relations of men and nations.”

and extension program similar to the one that had been so successful in modernizing agriculture in the United States.

CHANGING THE WORLD

Some internationally significant ways that the University has – and is – changing the world:

- Barnett Sure, a University of Arkansas professor of agricultural chemistry, pioneered nutrition research that led to the co-discovery of vitamin E, a vitamin high in antioxidants. His work also led to understanding of how vitamin E, amino acids and B vitamins affect reproduction and lactation.

- As world population grew during the 20th century, so did the contribution of research at the University of Arkansas. Marinus C. Kik, a professor of agricultural chemistry from 1927 to 1967, developed the process for parboiling rice, one of the most plentiful grains in undeveloped parts of the world. Kik’s process increased retention of vitamins and shortened cooking time.

- In 1948, Silas Hunt became the first black person to integrate a traditionally white Southern university, enrolling in the University of Arkansas School of Law six years before the Brown v. Board of Education decision. Likewise, Edith Irby Jones soon after became the first black graduate from a Southern university, attaining her medical degree from the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences. Both acts happened without litigation or protest.

- When John Pople and Walter Kohn received the 1998 Nobel Prize in Chemistry, they cited the research of University of Arkansas chemist Peter Pulay as the building block for their

The University of Arkansas has long been an institution of strong international orientation. In 1951, under U.S. State Department auspices, the University became the first land-grant institution in the nation to assemble an agricultural foreign mission. The object of that mission was to assist Panama in establishing an agricultural research prize-winning work. Early in his career, Pulay developed techniques for determining the shape and size of molecules that would permanently change the way scientists study matter. Today his approach is used by theoretical chemists around the world to determine the geometry of large, biologically important molecules.

- Two professors and a university alumnus – Harold Dulan, E.J. Ball and Lewis Callison – created the nation’s first commercial variable annuity life insurance company, later bought by Aetna Insurance. Today, variable annuities are used worldwide in estate planning for participation in economic growth and as a hedge against inflation.

- In 1950, the University of Arkansas built the first American facility to integrate the study of fine arts. Edward Durell Stone, a former student who was by then an internationally recognized architect, designed the Fine Arts Center and followed on this early effort later to design the Kennedy Center for Arts in Washington, D.C. Other universities and colleges also followed Arkansas’ example, developing cross-curricular exchanges so that artists, musicians, actors and designers could learn from each other and draw inspiration from other similar disciplines.

- Chemistry professor Paul Kuroda predicted that self-sustaining nuclear chain reactions could have occurred naturally in earth’s geologic history. His prediction was later confirmed when scientists discovered a natural nuclear reactor in Gabon, Africa. In 1960, he predicted the existence of Plutonium-244 as an element present during the solar system’s formation. Confirmation of his theory enabled scientists to more accurately date the sequence of events in the solar system’s early history.

- The Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing, a 60-hour program launched at the University of Arkansas in 1966, has grown into one of the most productive and highly ranked programs of its kind in America. Founded by English professors William Harrison and James Whitehead, later joined by Miller Williams, the program was an early catalyst in the transformation of the traditional study of literature into a demanding training ground for writers.

- University of Arkansas plant pathologists George Templeton, Roy Smith, David TeBeest and graduate student Jim Daniels conducted research in the early 1970s that led to the first biological herbicide for weed control in a field crop, later called Collego. Their work to avoid chemical herbicides led to worldwide development of safer biological herbicides and establishment of the Rosen Center for Alternative Pest Control at the University of Arkansas.

- Physics professors Allen Hermann and Zhengzhi Sheng mixed up a thallium-based material in 1988 that set the world’s highest temperature at which superconductivity could be sustained, leading to new advances in the manufacture of high-density electronics. Their patented material held the record for more than five years while researchers around the world raced to catch up.

- Professor Dwight Isely of the department of entomology is considered the father of insect pest management in the United States. His research identified the weak point in the life cycle of insects that made them particularly susceptible to control strategies. Through his work on cotton insect pests, the codling moth, the striped cucumber beetle, the southern corn rootworm and the rice water weevil, American Agriculture saved millions of dollars.

- Engineering professors at the University of Arkansas invented the next-best thing to the zip code – the wide-area bar code reader, which became the most widely implemented automated mail-sorting equipment in the world. By 2000, more than 15,000 bar code readers were used in every major Postal Service facility, increasing the efficiency of processing 20 billion pieces of mail a year at a savings of $200 million.

- Former President William Jefferson Clinton and Sen. Hillary Rodham Clinton started their careers as faculty members of the University of Arkansas in the mid-1970s. While a law professor, Mr. Clinton made his first runs for political office, getting elected as the Arkansas attorney general in 1976. Mrs. Clinton founded the university’s legal clinic, which still provides law students a chance to work with clients on legal problems.

CHANCELLOR

DR. G. DAVID GEARHART

Dr. G. David Gearhart became the fifth chancellor of the University of Arkansas on July 1, 2008, following 10 years of service to the university in his capacity as vice chancellor for university advancement. During that decade leading up to his appointment as the campus’ chief executive, he was the architect of the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century – the largest, most successful capital campaign in Arkansas history, which raised more than $1 billion for academic programs and increased the endowment from $119 million to almost $900 million.

A native of Fayetteville, Ark., Chancellor Gearhart was born and raised in the shadow of Old Main. An alumnus of the university whose name is twice inscribed on Senior Walk for the law degree (J.D.) and doctor of education degree (Ed.D.) he earned, Gearhart feels that his entire adult life has prepared him for this singular honor and challenge.

“I believe the ultimate success of the University of Arkansas will be measured to a large extent on how it demonstrates its usefulness to society,” Gearhart says. “Of all of the rich contributions that America has bestowed on the world, American higher education is among the most important. Our colleges and universities have become, perhaps, the most vital expression of the American political and social philosophy.”

The path that would lead him back to his alma mater began in 1976, when Gearhart became assistant to the president at Westminster College in Fulton, Mo., where he received his baccalaureate two years earlier. In 1977, he was appointed the director of development at Westminster and led fundraising efforts for The Winston Churchill Memorial and Library. Thus was launched a nationally respected career in university advancement.

In 1978, he returned to his native state to become vice president for development at Hendrix College. After four years at Hendrix, Gearhart returned home for the first time when he was selected to be the director of development at the University of Arkansas. In this role, he spearheaded the Campaign for Books, which added more than 100,000 volumes to the University of Arkansas Library.

In 1985, Gearhart took another career leap in being appointed vice president for development and university relations at The Pennsylvania State University. Three years later, he was promoted to senior vice president, responsible for the external relations programs for 23 campuses statewide. While at Penn State, he launched a major capital campaign, which raised in excess of $352 million. Total private gifts to Penn State during his 11 years at the university surpassed $950 million, and Gearhart’s division was cited three times by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) with its grand gold medal, awarded to the nation’s top advancement program.

In 1995, Gearhart joined the international consulting firm of Grenzebach, Glier, and Associates as senior vice president and managing director, but stayed closely connected to advancing the mission of higher education. The Chicago-based philanthropic management firm has hundreds of clients in the United States, Canada and Europe, and fundraising goals in excess of $40 billion. Clients managed by Gearhart included nearly two dozen non-profit organizations, colleges and universities, among them American University, Brigham Young University, Rutgers University, University of Alabama, University of Connecticut, University of Miami (Fla.), University of Pittsburgh and University of Washington.

In 1998 Gearhart once again returned to his native state as vice chancellor for university advancement at the University of Arkansas. He was responsible for development, alumni relations, constituent relations, special events and university relations programs. Arguably, his most significant impact in this role was the stunningly successful Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, a billion-dollar capital campaign that concluded in June 2005 with the University of Arkansas taking its place as one of only 13 public universities at that time to have exceeded a billion dollars raised.

The centerpiece of this campaign was a $300 million gift from the Walton Family Charitable Support Foundation, the largest gift ever made to a public university. The direct results of Gearhart’s leadership in this effort included the creation of 132 new endowed faculty positions, 1,738 new student scholarship and fellowship funds, dozens of new and renovated facilities and classrooms, and growth of the overall endowment from $119 million in 1998 to nearly $900 million by the time he assumed the chancellorship.

In every imaginable way, the university was transformed by this campaign.

“At the University of Arkansas our ultimate purpose is to improve the human condition, to make life better for our citizens and our state and to contribute to the general welfare of our nation,” says Gearhart. “Thanks in part to the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, we’ve become recognized as a rising star as a major public research university in a state where higher education must play an increasingly larger role in the lives of its citizens. Working with our sister public institutions and in partnership with our own university system, we must work hard and smart to increase the college participation rate and to strengthen the quality of Arkansas’ higher education. We must be seen as enthusiastic leaders in this venture, all in a time of diminished public resources nationally that will not make it easy, but a challenge that we at the university must embrace.”

Gearhart was named a distinguished alumnus of his undergraduate alma mater, Westminster College, in 1992, and the same year was named a Fulbright Scholar and studied at Oxford University, Merton College in Oxford, England.

In 1996, he was named an honorary alumnus of Penn State, where he finished his doctoral coursework in higher education administration.

In addition to his responsibilities as chancellor, Gearhart is a tenured member of the faculty in the College of Education and Health Professions, holding the rank of professor. A nationally respected expert in capital campaigns, he is the author of two books, The Capital Campaign in Higher Education and Philanthropy, Fund Raising and the Capital Campaign, as well as numerous articles.

Among his current professional affiliations, Gearhart serves as vice president of the University of Arkansas Fayetteville Campus Foundation, is a member of the board of advisors for the Arkansas World Trade Center, is a member of the Northwest Arkansas Council, and is a member of the advisory board of the Pryor Center for Oral and Visual History. He also is a licensed attorney in the state of Arkansas.

Gearhart is married to the former Jane Brockmann and they have two children. Their daughter Katy Hunt is a graduate of Penn State University and is married to Dr. Justin Hunt. They have a son, Ben. The Hunts live in Little Rock. The Gearharts’ son Brock is a graduate of the University of Arkansas and is vice president of Greenwood Gearhart Inc. of Fayetteville. His wife Lindsey is a teacher.

Gearhart’s late father, George A. Gearhart, was publisher of the Northwest Arkansas Times in Fayetteville. His mother, Joan Gearhart Havens, lives in Fayetteville.

“I have many dreams and aspirations that I’ve long held for the University of Arkansas,” Gearhart says, “and I look forward in the months and years ahead to sharing that vision and working with our outstanding students, faculty, staff, alumni and friends, and certainly the board of trustees, on reaching our lofty goals and realizing the full potential of our university.”

DR. SHARON HUNT

FACULTY ATHLETIC REPRESENTATIVE

Chancellor G. David Gearhart has appointed Dr. Sharon Hunt to be the faculty athletics representative for the University of Arkansas in August 2010.

Dr. Hunt is the first woman and non-lawyer to hold the post. Dr. Hunt has been on the University of Arkansas faculty for 20 years and has served as head of the department of health science, kinesiology, recreation and dance in the College of Education and Health Professions for that entire time except for the 2000-01 academic year, when she served as interim dean of the college.

A high school athlete, Hunt’s involvement with collegiate athletics dates back to her own college days at the University of Arkansas when she played extramural sports with the women’s basketball and tennis teams prior to the enactment of Title IX.

After receiving her bachelor’s and master’s degrees in physical education from the university, she went on to earn a doctor of education degree from the University of Georgia, where she taught a variety of sport-activity courses as a graduate assistant. Upon the completion of her doctoral degree, she joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky for 13 years, where she taught both undergraduate and graduate courses and served as the graduate coordinator for the department of health, physical education and recreation. In 1990, she and her family returned to Fayetteville.

Dr. Hunt will work closely with the athletic department, will be involved in the student-athlete advisory council on campus and will travel to represent the University of Arkansas at various SEC and NCAA meetings.

Dr. Hunt was instrumental in establishing the graduate athletic training education program in the College of Education and Health Professions, and she has worked closely with athletics on that program. The athletics department provides support to students in the athletic training education program in the form of a stipend, books and travel to the Arkansas Athletic Trainers’ Association annual meeting. Two endowed scholarships for athletic training students in honor of longtime Razorback trainers Dean Weber and the late Bill Ferrell were established through the athletics department.

ACADEMICS

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR SUCCESS AND ACHIEVEMENT

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND ACHIEVEMENT MISSION STATEMENT

The primary focus of the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement Program is to provide the student-athlete with the opportunity to develop the skills necessary to be a success in college and in life. This is accomplished through superior academic counseling, life skills training and preparation to enter the job market upon graduation.

THE BOGLE ACADEMIC CENTER

There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletic Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the home of the Razorback Athletic Department's Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement program is the Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center. The 15,000-square foot Bogle Academic Center is located in the east side of Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Under the overall direction of Senior Associate Athletic Director Jon Fagg, the Bogle Academic Center houses the Arkansas Razorbacks Academic Support Program, the Razorback Office of Student Life and the Career Development Program.

Associate Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Support Services Melissa Harwood-Rom oversees the staff of professionals dedicated to directing student-athletes to reach their personal academic goals, and to do so in ways that balance their academic, athletic and personal lives.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND ACHIEVEMENT SERVICES

The Mission Statement for the Razorback Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement division -- SAASA -- speaks for itself, but the improvements and achievements of the Razorbacks over the past academic year are what is most important. At Arkansas, academic services are not just good grades and eligibility. Along with 18 of 19 teams exceeding the NCAA standard for APR, Razorbacks earned some of the highest conference and national academic honors in the 2009-10 year including a pair of Southeastern Conference Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Academic accomplishment is important for all 19 teams at the University of Arkansas and the football team is no exception. The Razorbacks had 10 student-athletes recognized on the 2009 Southeastern Conference Fall Academic Honor Roll and had 22 named to the Athletic Department Academic Honor Roll.

It is also not about honoring the "A" student. Arkansas Athletics is committed to every single athlete improving his or her academic performance every semester, working to achieve academic "personal bests" with each class just the same as we would expect our athletes to hit personal records in competition.

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS ACADEMIC GAME PLAN FOR GRADUATION

Student-athletes are expected to meet specific academic criteria in order to maintain eligibility. This is easily achieved by following the Academic Game Plan created by the Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement team.

The SAASA designs programs and sets specific goals to help student-athletes achieve academic success. An example of a key goal is the successful completion of 30 hours of coursework during each academic year. By maintaining this course load, Razorback athletes not only stay on track to graduate in four years, but easily meet eligibility requirements set by the NCAA.

STUDY HALL AND TUTORS

A quiet setting for uninterrupted study, the Bogle Academic Center provides three types of study hall space. The computer lab (above) has over 30 stations for individual computer-based study. An open study hall is available for group or individual study, and monitored by staff members of the SAASA. There are 17 individual study carrels that provide space for tutors to meet with student athletes for individual instruction in specific subjects.

Each Razorback team sets its own criteria for study hall attendance. The use of tutors is a key element for academic success, allowing for individualized assistance and for reaching academic excellence in advanced subjects.

If traveling with a team, student-athletes notify instructors early in each semester regarding assignments or exams.

STUDENT LIFE

The social and personal development of student-athletes is as important to the University of Arkansas as the academic and athletic achievement. The Office of Student Life focuses on the personal development and community service components of the NCAA CHAMPS/LifeSkills program. Training is provided in a variety of areas including financial planning, drug and alcohol education, time management, study skills and developing community service activities.

Tiffany Wright

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The purpose of the Career Development Program is to assist student-athletes in making a smooth transition from the University of Arkansas into the workplace. This process begins during the freshman year with a one-hour course on career options. Workshops are held to provide student-athletes training in resume writing, interviewing skills and etiquette. Individual assistance with locating summer internships and job placement gives student-athletes a head start into their chosen careers.

"The University of Arkansas isn't a huge university, but it has a huge reputation. My professors were concerned with my personal goals; concerned about how I wanted to develop as an individual. There is a great amount of one-on-one mentoring with the teachers. I think one of the greatest things about Arkansas is that you are an individual, a real person — not just an I.D. number — to the faculty and staff."

Tiffany Wright (BA, 1998)

Tiffany Wright went from 1998 NCAA Women's Final Four to graduation to sideline reporter for ESPN's coverage of the WNBA within weeks. Today, she is the sports anchor at ABC affiliate, WSOC, in Charlotte, N.C.

IN THE COMMUNITY

GIVING BACK TO NORTHWEST ARKANSAS AND THE WORLD

Community service is a vital part of the educational process for any college student, and Razorback athletes continued to make it a priority in 2009-10.

With guidance from the Student-Athlete Development office, Razorback student-athletes, coaches and staff members participating in a number of events throughout the year. Here's a brief look at some of those projects.

- Going out to area elementary schools to support the Book Hogs reading program and the Sweat Hogs physical education awareness program.
- Individual team projects ranging from volunteering at the Fayetteville Public Library, working with Habitat for Humanity, assisting with area shelters, helping the local youth programs like the Scouts, holiday shopping and meal programs and visiting area nursing homes.
- Teaming with Numana, Inc. for Razorback Relief: Operation Haiti, a 24-hour marathon to package, more than 1.4 million meals for the Haitian relief effort.

The quiet efforts of our 19 Razorback teams have a long-lasting impact on the youth of our state. The incredible positive benefit of the time spent by the Razorbacks helping the community pays tremendous dividends, not only for the University of Arkansas, but for the entire community.

And while we focus here on the positive benefits for the fresh young faces who receive an autograph or a kind word of encouragement from a Razorback, we know that there is a considerable impact upon our student-athletes, our future leaders. The opportunity to give back impresses upon them that no matter their personal circumstances when they arrived in Fayetteville, they have a chance to not only improve their lives, but touch the lives of others.

Several Razorbacks shared some putt-putt time with young fans as a part of Make a Difference Day. Razorback athletes from all sports participated in various community service activities across the city of Fayetteville.

At left: the Razorback men's basketball team served meals over the Thanksgiving holiday. Above: members of the Razorback gymnastics team take part in Razorback Relief: Operation Haiti helping to package more than 1.4 million meals in 24 hours.

Razorback student-athletes are regular speakers at both Book Hogs Read To Win and Sweat Hogs, a program that encourages physical fitness in the elementary schools.

Book Hogs is one of the largest department outreach programs. Razorback student-athletes are guest readers in elementary classrooms and there are contests for reading the most books with the winners recognized at Razorback sporting events.

VICE CHANCELLOR FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS AND DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Entering his third full year as Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics, Jeff Long has not only guided the University of Arkansas' Department of Intercollegiate Athletics through a period of unprecedented transition, he has transformed and revitalized a tradition-rich athletics program encompassing 19 sports and more than 460 student-athletes. Long has not only accepted, but embraced the challenge of leading a Razorback program that serves as a source of pride for so many at the University of Arkansas, in all corners of the state and to thousands of Razorbacks all around the world.

Long has established a multi-faceted combined athletics program uniformly committed to the development of student-athletes academically, athletically and socially. A part of Chancellor G. David Gearhart's Executive Committee, Long and other members of the campus leadership team are charged with developing policies and charting the course for the future of higher education at the University of Arkansas. Since his arrival, Long and his staff have re-engaged the athletic department with the university community working to more fully integrate Razorback Athletics into the campus environment. Razorback Athletics stepped forward with a $1 million gift to support the university's academic mission in 2009-10 which brought the department's support of the greater university community to nearly $4 million. The department has pledged another $1 million gift for 2010-11.

The success of Long's approach can be measured in part by the remarkable accomplishments of the Razorback program in his tenure. Arkansas has captured six conference championships and advanced to 40 NCAA post-season competitions while drawing more than a million fans annually to campus to cheer on the Razorbacks.

In the classroom, the Razorbacks exceed national APR multi-year rate standards in 18 of 19 sports. For the first time in program history, all 19 sports exceeded the yearly APR benchmark rate in the most recent report (2008-09). The academic success has coincided with a transformation of the program's academic achievement approach from maintaining eligibility to focusing on student-athlete advancement towards a college diploma.

In the community, Razorback student-athletes are more active than ever volunteering more than 2,500 hours of time in between the rigors of school and athletic practice and competition. Community outreach initiatives including Lift Up America, Book Hogs, Sweat Hogs, Razorback for a Day and Razorback Relief have Razorback student-athletes making a difference in Arkansas and around the world. In 2009-10, the Lee Spencer Cup was established to annually recognize the Razorback team that earns distinction in the classroom, in athletic competition, in personal development and in the community.

Administratively, landmark agreements have been negotiated with ISP and with Southeastern Conference television partners to guarantee future revenue streams and secure the financial base of the program in uncertain economic times.

Even the most optimistic outlook would have been hard pressed to foresee the level of success that the Razorback program would attain in such a short time after Long was selected to replace legendary athletic director and former Razorback football coach Frank Broyles in September of 2007. Before Long officially took the reins, Arkansas announced that it would combine its previously independent men's and women's athletic programs into one combined athletic program.

Shortly after that announcement, Long was busy engineering the first coaching search of his tenure. Long not only found the next head football coach, he convinced Bobby Petrino, one of the most successful collegiate coaches in recent history, to return to the college game at Arkansas.

By the time, Long officially started his new position on Jan. 1, 2008, he had already accomplished a list of tasks vital to the short and long-term health of the Razorback program. He had begun the process of carefully blending the men's and women's athletic departments into one unified department and establishing a new administrative structure. Under Long's leadership, Arkansas revised policies governing class attendance, drug testing, the NCAA Opportunity Fund as well as other compliance and business office procedures. The academic support services division was re-organized and a formal division of student life was created focusing on student-athlete development and community service.

Long was busy on external issues as well. In 2008, Arkansas returned to the classic Razorback logo. The new branding was featured in the launch of a new website ArkansasRazorbacks.com. In 2009-10, Arkansas hosted a year-long celebration commemorating "100 Years of the Razorbacks" and launched a new official newspaper of the department, Inside Razorback Athletics.

Long worked tirelessly to maintain long-time relationships and to forge new relationships for the benefit of the Razorback program including extending Arkansas' relationship with War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock. Long was also instrumental in helping re-establish the Razorbacks' presence in Texas, partnering with former Razorback Jerry Jones to develop the Southwest Classic, a 10-year football series with Texas A&M played at the new Dallas Cowboys Stadium.

Perhaps his most impressive accomplishment came when he brokered a new partnership with ISP to form Razorback Sports Properties. As economic indicators were beginning to point toward challenging economic times, Long signed Arkansas to a deal that will guarantee the Razorback program $73 million in the next 10 years. Long recently negotiated an extensive all sports apparel and footwear all sports agreement with NIKE, Inc. that will outfit all 19 Razorback sports programs through the 2014-15 season.

A number of athletic facilities have also seen a transformation with Bud Walton Arena undergoing extensive renovations, including replacement of the lower seating bowl and the addition of courtside seating, ribbon boards and a courtside club room. In the spring of 2009, Bogle Park, arguably the nation's best softball facility, was dedicated on the Arkansas campus and a new synthetic playing surface was installed at Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Long remains committed to maintaining Arkansas' reputation as the home to some of the nation's best playing venues while targeting much needed facility improvements crucial to the overall development of student-athletes. The department recently commissioned a master facilities plan to assess facility needs for the future success of the Razorback program.

Arkansas' program flourished in Long's first year, finishing 24th in the NACDA Directors Cup, its best finish in nearly a decade. In his first full year at the helm, Arkansas scored a program-record 730 points on its way to a 25th-place finish. The back-to-back top 25 Directors Cup finishes marked only the second time in school history the Razorbacks accomplished that feat.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of "student-athlete," Long has had more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including at the University of Pittsburgh, University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University and Eastern Kentucky University prior to arriving at the Arkansas. While known as an innovator in athletic department management, Long also understands the coach's perspective from time spent in coaching and administrative staff positions at Duke University, Rice University and North Carolina State University.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long served on the NCAA Management Council as one of the athletic administrators who oversaw the operations and regulation for Division I. His experience as an athletic director and administrator in America's most prestigious conferences – the Big 12, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and now SEC gives Long a uniquely informed perspective on intercollegiate athletics. During his career, Long has served in five of the six Bowl Championship Series leagues.

The Long Family: Christina, Fanny, Stephanie and Jeff.

Prior to assuming his current roles at Arkansas, Long served for four years as the athletic director at the Pittsburgh. During his tenure, Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the "Quest for Excellence" campaign. Designed to enhance the student-athlete experience for Panther athletes through scholarship endowments and capital gifts for facility construction and renovation, the Quest resulted in almost $34 million in just over two and a half years.

His commitment to building the Pitt athletics brand resulted in a new primary mark for the Panthers which returned the powerful "PITT" brand to Pittsburgh. He established a partnership with adidas for uniforms and apparel for all 19 Pitt teams and an agreement with ISP Sports.

Long's four-year tenure added up to Pittsburgh becoming one of the nation's top programs, notably the Panthers' selection as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus' All-Sport Rankings.

As an athletic leader, Long was a key advocate for the Big East during the league's time of membership transition. Due in part to his leadership, the Big East maintained its position as a key member of the Bowl Championship System, and the Pitt Panthers earned the Big East's automatic berth in 2004 at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Along with his tenure on the Executive Council, Long also served on the NCAA's Sports Wagering Task Force in 2004, and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years. Responsible for the external affairs of the Sooners, he oversaw key brand areas of marketing and promotions, licensing, media relations, ticketing, radio and television rights and SoonerVision productions. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners' highly successful football and men's basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long's first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two and a half years. He made several revisions to the ECU athletic infrastructure and completed several facility projects. Long created the first modern corporate partner and sponsorship structure at ECU. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his career in college athletic administration at the Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned seven varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his post-graduate career in athletics as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami University of Ohio. Long earned his master's in education at Miami in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and N.C. State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.

BEV LEWIS ASSOCIATE VICE CHANCELLOR AND EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE AD

For almost three decades, Bev Lewis is synonymous with the University of Arkansas and Razorback women's sports teams. While 2007-08 season was 27th season at the University, it also proved one of the most important in her time at Arkansas. Lewis was key player in the decision to bring together the University's men's and women's departments. Starting on Jan. 1, 2008, she became an associate vice chancellor for the University and the executive associate athletic director of the unified Razorback Athletic Department.

Lewis, the former women's athletic director, now serves as associate vice chancellor and executive associate athletic director for administration and sport programs. Lewis is also the coordinator of a five-member sport administrator group that provides day-to-day administrative support for each of Arkansas' 19 sports. Lewis is the sport administrator for women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's track and field, men's and women's golf, gymnastics, softball and volleyball. In addition, Lewis is the primary administrator working with the Razorbacks' strength and conditioning units and athletic training and sports medicine program as well as overseeing the media relations and new media divisions. She also serves as a liaison to the faculty senate and the faculty athletic committee, and coordinates the department's NCAA certification, Title IX compliance and strategic planning.

The largest portion of her service to the university was her 19-year tenure as the Director of Women's Athletics. As a result of her strong emphasis on the classroom, Razorback female student-athletes received numerous academic honors including national academic All-American of the year, team academic national titles and the University's first two SEC/H. Boyd McWhorter Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Her leadership was also a part of the success of the University's Campaign for the Twenty-First Century. Lewis directed Women's Athletics to over $11.5 million in direct support for women's teams. During the campaign, Lewis received one of her greatest personal honors as Bob and Marilyn Bogle requested that Arkansas' $6 million facility be named the Bev Lewis Center for Women's Athletics.

In 1998, she was voted into the University of Arkansas Hall of Honor by the University's letterwinners in recognition of her contributions both as a coach and an administrator.

Lewis served collegiate athletics at the highest level as an administrator, first with the NCAA Championship Cabinet and most recently on the NCAA Management Council.

Prior to assuming the duties of AD, Lewis was women's cross country and track coach. Her Arkansas coaching milestones included the first women's squad to achieve a national ranking and the first conference championship team with the 1988 Southwest Conference Cross Country Championships.

Lewis earned her bachelor's degree from Central Michigan in 1979 and followed it with her master's from Purdue prior to her arrival at Arkansas in 1981.

Her husband, Harley, is the former athletic director at the University of Montana, former assistant director of championships with the NCAA, and development officer at Arkansas.

RAZORBACK FOUNDATION, INC.

Performing the vital role of supporting the student-athletes at the University of Arkansas with financial support, the Razorback Foundation, Inc., is in its fourth decade of working alongside the athletic department to advance Razorback Athletics.

The goal of the foundation is ensuring that the more than 460 student-athletes at Arkansas have the equipment, facilities and overall support to achieve the goals of graduation and athletic achievement.

For the first time in school history, all 19 Razorback head coaches and members of the athletic department's executive and senior administrative staffs are members of the Razorback Foundation. The pledge of personal support by those inside the department led the way for a growth in membership that saw the membership total increase from 10,390 in November 2008 to 10,530 in June 2009.

From January to June 2009, Razorback Foundation staff visited with more than 11,000 people at 50 Razorback Club functions, ranging from chapter meetings to scholarship fundraising golf events hosted by local Razorback Clubs.

Another key factor in raising the profile of the Razorback Foundation and fostering membership growth was a renewed commitment to increasing A Club membership (former Razorback letter winners) and enhancing communication and coordination with Razorback Clubs throughout the region. To help facilitate communication with all foundation members, a new web site RazorbackFoundation.com was launched.

The Foundation, officially incorporated and relocated off campus in 1988, has helped provide financial aid for the construction for the Broyles Athletic Center (football and administrative offices), Charlie Baum Stadium at George Cole Field (baseball), John McDonnell Field (outdoor track and field), Randal Tyson Track Center (indoor track and field), Dills Indoor Tennis Center, the George M. Billingsley Tennis Center (outdoor tennis) and Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium (football).

CAMPUS LIFE

OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE MIND, BODY AND SOUL

The university offers a vibrant campus life for its mainly full-time, residential undergraduate student population. More than a dozen university residence halls can accommodate in excess of 4,000 students, and the rest live in and around the city of Fayetteville.

There are over 300 registered student organizations including special interest, religious, international and cultural organizations, as well as honorary and professional service groups. Students also may choose to participate in the university's Greek system, which is made up of 11 sororities and 17 fraternities.

In addition, more than 6,000 students, faculty and staff annually participate in the intramural sports program, which offers activities like bowling and table tennis tournaments, and sponsors clubs ranging from aikido to waterskiing. Many of these activities are conducted at the Health, Physical Education, and Recreation building, a $14 million, 225,000-square foot facility that contains 10 racquetball courts, four basketball gyms, an indoor track, an Olympic size pool, a climbing wall, a computer lab, a human performance lab and numerous classrooms.

Culturally and intellectually, the academic semesters bustle with faculty and student musical performances, theatre productions, art exhibits, concerts, poetry readings and visiting speakers — both on campus and at the adjacent Walton Arts Center. Recent university programming includes outdoor movies at the Greek Theatre, comedians, karaoke nights and even a hypnotist.

The university's Distinguished Lecture Series has featured former heads of state, Pulitzer Prize-winning writers, political pundits and humorists, and other noteworthy national and international figures and scholars such as James Carville, Mary Matalin, Ehud Olmert, Geraldine Ferraro, James Earl Jones, George H.W. Bush, and Dave Barry.

RESIDENTIAL LIFE

Close to all the university has to offer

University Housing offers a variety of housing options within more than a dozen residence halls on campus. First-year students are required to live on campus and will find many options in living arrangements and price that entice them to stay on campus beyond their freshman year — from the suite-style facilities of Maple Hill to the international living learning community of Holcombe Hall to the new apartments on Duncan Avenue.

Maple Hill is a multi-use suite-style facility. Students live in double rooms in one- and two-bedroom suites, with cable television and individual Ethernet connections in each room. The residence halls also feature staff apartments, classrooms, conference rooms, quiet study rooms and a large fireplace lounge.

Holcombe Hall opened in 1949, and is named for Miss Jobelle Holcombe, who graduated in 1898 and served as the first dean of women from 1907 to 1913. In 2006, Holcombe Hall began the transition to an international living-learning community. The goal of these communities is to create a unique and exciting place for international exchange and learning at the University of Arkansas. Students and staff conduct programs in Holcombe through the year, but the true strength of the community comes from the interactions, relationships and plans the residents themselves build.

The newest and most unique campus residence is Duncan Avenue Apartments. The four-bedroom apartments are just minutes walking distance from most classrooms and laboratories on campus. While this complex offers apartment-style living, each student has a separate contract — so if an apartment-mate leaves, other roommates are not responsible for the departing roommate's charges. The fully furnished apartments include high speed Internet, cable television and all utilities except telephone, and also features a washer and dryer and full kitchen with appliances. It is the first "Green Globes" construction project on the University of Arkansas campus.

TRADITION

THERE IS NOTHING LIKE A RAZORBACK

A MASCOT LIKE NO OTHER

The wild hogs known as razorbacks native to the Arkansas wilderness bear no resemblance to the typical barnyard pig of today. The untamed razorback hog was a lean, feral animal that was ill-tempered. It fought and defeated anything that crossed its path, man or beast. Turn of the 20th century outdoor magazines lauded the razorback as "the most intelligent of all the hogs and is likewise the most courageous. . . . He has a clear, farseeing eye."

Except for the rare sighting in the Australian Outback, the Razorback only exists today in the form of Arkansas' players and fans. A Russian boar, which closely resembles the wild hog of Hugo Bezdek's day, currently serves as the official live mascot.

Tusk III is cared for by the Stokes family of Dardanelle, Ark., and travels to home games and special events for the Razorbacks. Tusk III is supported by the legacy program known as the Tusk Fund, and fans can participate by sending their support care of the Razorback Foundation, Inc. Tusk III made his debut in 2010 after the unexpected passing of his brother, Tusk II, following Arkansas' AutoZone Liberty Bowl win over ECU in January.

While yearbook references as early as 1914 of a hog on the sideline at football games, a formal live mascot prior to the Tusk line dates back to the 1960s with a series of hogs that represented Arkansas. In addition to appearances at games, they have gained a reputation for fierce behavior.

Big Red III escaped from an exhibit near Eureka Springs in the summer of 1977 and ravaged the countryside before being gunned down by an irate farmer. Another live mascot, Ragnar, was a wild hog captured in south Arkansas by Leola farmer Bill Robinson. Before Ragnar's spree was done, the mighty animal had killed a coyote, a 450-pound domestic pig and seven rattlesnakes. Ragnar died in 1978 of unknown causes.

THE HOG HAT

It is true; no Razorback fan's closet is complete without an official Hog Hat. The original style was a hard plastic hat with a long snout, rough razorback ridges across the top and wickedly sharp, pointed curly-cue tail. The modern versions are often sculpted from softer material. Regardless, the Hog Hat is undoubtedly the most recognized piece of fan apparel in college athletics. Just ask ESPN GameDay's Kirk Herbstreit as he dons the traditional Hog Hat.

WHY RAZORBACKS?

Arkansas' athletic teams have not always been called the Razorbacks. During the early years of its athletic history, the Cardinal served as the University nickname.

A lot of things changed in 1909, however, when Arkansas football coach Hugo Bezdek called his players "a wild band of Razorback hogs," after guiding his team to a 16-0 victory over Louisiana State on October 30, 1909.

Alluding to the Razorback, characterized by a ridge back and tenacious, wild fighting ability, Bezdek never forgot this idea and often called his team "a fighting band of Razorbacks."

This new nickname became increasingly popular and the student body voted to change the official University mascot from the Cardinal to the Razorbacks in 1910.

In the 1920s, "Woo, Pig, Sooie" was added as the school yell, referred to more commonly as the "Hog Call."

There are dozens of Lions, Tigers and Bears, but in all of college athletics there is only one Razorback. The distinctive logo of the Arkansas teams is officially known as the Profile Hog, but is known to many fans as the Helmet Hog -- a fixture of the football team's helmet for almost half a century.

A PROPER HOG CALL

A chant of "Woo Pig Sooie" is known worldwide as a Hog Call. Just like any good tradition, there are lots of versions of the Hog Call (even spellings).

A properly executed Hog Call is composed of three "calls," slowly raising one's arms from the knees to above the head during the "Woo." Traditionalists prescribe an eight second "Woo." The fingers should be wiggled and the "Woo" should build in volume and pitch as the arms rise.

Upon completion of the "Woo," both arms are brought straight down with fists clinched as if executing a chin-up while yelling, "Pig". The right arm is extended up and out with the "Sooie."

A full Hog Call -- the kind one will always hear victorious Razorback teams execute after contests -- requires two more Hog Calls, followed immediately by a "Razor-Backs" yell, coordinated with a pumping motion of the right arm after the third "Sooie." So, in order, the full Hog Call is:

WOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
 WOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
 WOOOOOOO. PIG. SOOIE!
 RAZORBACKS!

ARKANSAS FIGHT

One of the first tasks of a new Razorback is learning to sing the University of Arkansas fight song. Arkansas Fight was written in the late 1920s. It is a unique tune, fitting of the only college in America with a Razorback mascot. Several other colleges have adapted the tune, but the lyrics remain unique to Arkansas.

Hit that line! Hit that line!
 Keep on going!
 Take that ball right down the field!
 Give a cheer. Rah! Rah!
 Never fear. Rah! Rah!
 Arkansas will never yield!
 On your toes, Razorbacks,
 to the finish,
 Carry on with all your might!
 For it's A-A-A-R-K-A-N-S-A-S
 for Arkansas!
 Fight! Fight! Fi-i-i-ight!

RAZORBACK SPIRIT SQUADS

Along with being a Razorback, serving as a Razorback cheerleader has a long tradition at the University of Arkansas. Currently, the Razorbacks have two squads, a Red and White, that inspire the crowds at all home sporting events.

Arkansas also has a dance team, the Razorback Pom Squad, which performs at halftime of many events. Members of the Pom Squad also serve at baseball games as RBI Girls. Arkansas has a team of uniformed mascots, led by the original Big Red, the Fighting Razorback. Sue E. joined the family along with kid-sized Pork Chop in the late 1990s. Boss Hog is a 9-foot-tall inflatable mascot that rounds out the team.

Jean Nail serves as the coordinator for cheerleaders and mascots. For more information on the cheer squads and tryouts, go to the Spirit Squad section of ArkansasRazorbacks.com.

THE UA ALMA MATER

Brodie Payne and Henry Tovey wrote the University of Arkansas Alma Mater in the early 1900s. They were inspired by the Ozark Mountain sunrise as it illuminated Old Main.

*Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty,
 Watches thy Soul
 from the mountains of God.
 Over the fates of thy children departed,
 Far from the land
 where their footsteps have trod.
 Beacon of hope in the ways dreary lighted,
 Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true.
 From those who adore unto one who adores us,
 Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.*
