Dining Services:

- ? A re-branded UA Chartwells social media presence is launching!
- ? New Name: Food Pig Sooie – Chartwell's new social media brand connects the relationship between Chartwells and the University of Arkansas. Last spring, in the midst of refreshing our Instagram account, the phrase Food Pig Sooie was born and adopted as our blog for anything food related. Students told us, as a part of a class project, that they thought we should make the change because they loved FoodPigSooie for its own-ability and memorability, and it was already an active hashtag on our Instagram account.
- ? Kick-Off Day for FoodPigSooie: Thursday, Apr. 27, 11:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m. in Brough Dining Hall near the cashier. We will be celebrating all things food and Razorback in residential dining featuring: Birthday cake in the shape of a Razorback, red and white cupcakes, cookie cakes, cake pops, etc. There will also be FoodPigSooie cups and computer stickers to handout, and the Associates and Marketing & Wellness team will sport new branded t-shirts

- ? Many students view Chartwells as simply the place to eat. We offer so much more than the food we serve.
 - o We take pride in supporting student's career goals through various scholarships, internships and employment.
 - o We have a registered dietitian on campus that's always happy to share insight on how eat healthy.
 - o We shine the light on reducing/eliminating food waste as an important part of our partnership toward a zero waste campus.

New Students & Family Programs:

- ? It is time again to take nominations for the Graduating Student Leaders Breakfast. The Graduating Student Leaders program aims at honoring and thanking graduating seniors who have been involved in Divisional activities and programs during their time at the University.

Nominated seniors will be recognized at a breakfast on May 13th at 7:00 am in the Arkansas Union Verizon Ballroom with a medallion to be worn with their cap and gown. We hope that you will help us in identifying these great leaders, so we can recognize the impact they have made on our campus.
