Nick Carter, Painter, had a problem. Normally, he would stain/finish one side of a new door, then, wait for it to dry, and turn it over to stain/finish the other side. Problem: sometimes, due to weather and other factors, he might have to wait until the next day to flip the door over often requiring another person to stop what they were doing to help.

Nick had an idea to improve on that process and cleared it with Dave Pinter. A couple of days later, he showed Dave the actual device in use with a new door attached, and polyurethane already applied to both sides.

With his device, Nick applies the finish to one side and rotates immediately to the other side and completes it. It only took Nick about two hours to cut the metal and weld it himself from metal scraps he found at the shop so there was no material expense.

According to Dave Pitner: “Amazing! His invention saved us a lot of time the very first time he used it. There you go. One person just made a big difference. Nick’s ingenuity plus effort equals time savings for our team and substantial cost savings to Housing. It’s exciting to see what motivated people are able to contribute. I believe we have countless opportunities around us.”

On Thursday, April 11, 2013, the Pomfret Hall Senate hosted a grand opening of the newly renovated kitchen in the residence hall. In attendance, the Pomfret Hall Senate and Resident Assistants as well as the University Housing’s Residence Education and Facilities personnel showed to support and celebrate the diligent work of the Hall Senate.

In Fall 2012, the Pomfret Hall Senate had a vision to make a positive and a tangible impact in the residence hall by passing the bill written and sponsored by Lizzi Reynolds and Lauren Hake to renovate the kitchen. An simple idea put into action by the members of the Hall Senate, but with collaboration of Housing Facilities to get the plans of project approved and to make sure the allocated funds were sufficient and reasonable. The Pomfret Hall Senate striving to capitalize on this opportunity for the residents to enhance their living experience.

In honor of the grand opening, the Pomfret Hall Senate hosted their weekly meeting in Pomfret Hall kitchen. These special individuals conducted their meeting in a special way by baking desserts and being the first ones to use the kitchen in its full capacity. The residents of the Pomfret Hall like the reinvented kitchen and started using this space immediately. Recently, the Pomfret Hall Senate passed a bill to purchase new kitchen supplies to add the finishing touches for the kitchen.

To start, last month we posted the final Recyclemania chart showing each hall’s recycling total, but did not have the winner of the competition announced. Students across campus did a great job with recycling during the competition this year, but at this time we are proud to announce that the per capita winner of the bottle filling station is Buchanan-Droke with 5.26 pounds of recycled material per student.

This is the second year University Housing has teamed with local charities to remove gently used items students leave behind during move-out. These items are sold or donated through the charities’ programs to benefit persons in northwest Arkansas. This year Habitat for Humanity and Big Brothers/Big Sisters are sharing the pick-up and redistribution responsibilities.

Housing is developing this as a program that continues throughout the year, finding ways to help students live and learn green from the time they move onto campus through the time they check-out in the spring.
The 2013 Diversity Leadership Institute was held on April 13, 2013. This annual partnership with New Student & Family Programs was a huge success this year! Student staff from Residence Education and New Student & Family Programs attended over 30 different sessions on diversity and leadership related topics in order to help them get ready for their work with students and families for the 2013-2014 school year. Our keynote speaker this year was Mr. Vernon Wall, founding member of the Social Justice Training Institute. Students engaged and participated in activities that got them outside of their comfort zone. They also enjoyed a cultural exposition from Mexico Ballet Folklorico who not only danced, but presented background information about their dances. Current resident assistants also worked to put together the Tunnel of Oppression to bring awareness to different areas of oppression that our students may face. This was a student led and driven area developed by graduate assistants, resident assistants, No Woman Left Behind interns, and professional staff from our two offices. Thank you to all of the Housing and Student Affairs staff who helped to present and participated in this program.

Praise Report submitted by Opp Guenard regarding progress at 960 Duncan, 4/9/13

I wanted to make sure you were aware of what took place on Tuesday at the job site. This is a praise report for Tremain’s crew led by David (Tremain’s superintendent).

There was forecasted 100% rain for Wednesday and the perimeter footings on the end of the building had been dug on Saturday. Good progress was made on Monday, but there was a long way to go on Tuesday (morning). David was in full agreement that we had to do whatever it took in order to get concrete in the footings prior to the rain.

Work started at 7 am on Tues. At 11:30; JHC fed all on the job site hamburgers. We stopped for 30 minutes to eat. At 7:45 pm I ordered pizza and drinks for those here at that time. It sat on the ground in the boxes until everyone had time to grab a slice at 9 pm and eat while they worked. At 1:57 am on Wednesday we pulled away from the job site.

Tremain’s crew only sat down for 30 minutes at lunch for the entire 19 hour work day. There were no breaks. I know because I was in the office for only 5 minutes the entire period and only left to get the burgers. David and his guys are the hardest working, non-complaining group of men I believe I have ever worked with... Everyone had only one goal - finish the job! All of the other trades that were on the site during that 19 (hours) also were great. It was a nonstop team effort by all. Tremain’s crew was on the job working again at 8 am the same Wednesday morning and worked til 4 pm when it started raining again.

A: 7:42 am long way to go
B: Noon-only break of the day
C: 2 pm found old basement sump
D: 8 pm almost ready
E: 11 pm pumping north side tying south side
F: Midnight 70 of 113 yards poured
ADDITIONAL KUDOS!

Andrew Powell, Futrall Hall Resident Assistant, a National Residence Hall Honorary, a New Student Orientation Mentor and campus leader has received a pair of prestigious scholarships.

The University Career Development Center announced that Andrew has been selected as the 2013-2014 Nola Holt Royster Scholarship recipient. According to the Career Development Center Andrew embodies the true spirit and mission of Dr. Nola Holt Royyster. He excels academically; and serves his community. Andrew implemented this year the University of Arkansas’ first TOMS “One Day Without Shoes” community service program. Over 30 shoes were collected and donated to Seven Hills Homeless Shelter. Across campus over 120 people removed their shoes for the day and pledged to spread the word about the program. TOMS Shoes are given through a network of humanitarian organizations that serve impoverished communities worldwide. Each organization provides TOMS Shoes to children in need along with their pre-existing health, education and community development programs.

Andrew also received notice from the U.S. Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs and the Institute of International Education (IIE), that he is selected as a recipient of the Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarship to support his study abroad experience this summer.

Congratulations, Mr. Powell, and best of success to you for your upcoming Senior year!

Dance Around the World 2013

On Thursday, April 11, 2013, the Holcombe living room turned into one big dance floor as members of the UA community showcased dances from their respective countries. A Holcombe Hall Senate tradition for the past several years, Dance Around the World is a diverse event that includes food from different cultures followed by dancing. This year’s event featured catering from A Taste of Thai, Kosmos, and Qdoba. Dancers representing Brazil, Senegal and Cameroon, Japan, Indonesia, Azerbaijan, and Bolivia gave the history of their dance, a performance, and some groups even offered tutorials at the end of their presentation. After the individual dancers, audience members were invited to the dance floor for a dance party. About 75 attendees came to the program. Special thanks to RIC for their donation to this event, a Holcombe Hall legacy!
Holcombe Hall: Get A Job! 101

On Monday, April 22, 2013, approximately 20 students, from undergrads to doctoral candidates, attended a program dedicated to job searching and navigating the special circumstances international students have when looking for work. Guest speakers included career counselor Marshall Carter of the University Career Development Center; Dr. Charles Leflar, a professor of accounting in the Sam Walton College of Business; and Audra Johnston, Associate Director in the ISS office. Students spent 2 hours with the speakers learning about career development and networking. Special thanks to the guest speakers and ITS for use of A/V equipment that was instrumental in facilitating the program.

Storybooks/Oral Traditions Book Drive

On Wednesday, April 17, 2013, Holcombe Hall hosted a storybook reading program that doubled as a book drive. Students read their favorite storybooks and donated books. Special thanks to Futrall RA Kendra Buchele, who gathered over 100 brand new books donated by Scholastic for the drive! In total, 247 books were collected and donated to Peace at Home Thrift Store (affiliated with Peace at Home Family Shelter) on Friday, April 26. The books will be given to families served by the shelter for free, as well as sold in the thrift shop at 1200 N. Garland Ave in Fayetteville. Proceeds of all sales at the thrift shop go to the families the organization serves.
