- RSO Registration is now open for 2018-2019 academic year: Registered Student Organization re-registration for the 2018-2019 academic year is now open. RSO's must re-register by Jun. 30, 2018, in order to have benefits for the 2018-2019 academic year. All current RSOs that plan to be active during the 2018-2019 academic year must complete the registration process between March 26 and June 30. New RSOs are eligible to form at any time during the academic year. Current RSOs that miss the re-registration window will be able to re-register during a brief window in September but will not have RSO benefits in the interim, which will include the ability to register for HillFest, the campus-wide welcome back event that will occur Monday, Aug. 20, on the Union Mall. Details are included on the HogSync Files section of each RSO portal and on Arkansas Newswire.
- Women's Empowerment Conference and Bree Newsome Lecture: The Division of Student Affairs invites students to a Women's Empowerment Conference on Friday, Apr. 6 and Saturday, Apr. 7, 2018. The conference theme, "Your Story Is Essential," will concentrate on identifying your story and the importance of telling your truth.

The conference will begin on Friday, Apr. 6 at 7:00 p.m. with a lecture by Bree Newsome in the Arkansas Union Verizon Ballroom located on the fifth floor of the Arkansas Union. The lecture, "Tearing Hate from the Sky," will discuss how ordinary people can make an extraordinary difference with courage, zeal and the support of others.

Newsome is a contemporary civil rights icon who first garnered national attention for her daring act of peaceful disobedience in June 2015. She climbed the flagpole at the South Carolina statehouse and pulled down the Confederate battle flag as a protest against racist symbolism. Her arrest galvanized public opinion and led to the permanent removal of the flag. Newsome skillfully outlines the relationship between activism and art, and captivates audiences as she describes in cinematic detail the heroic gestures of ordinary people on the front lines of activism.

Newsome will also speak as part of the as a keynote for the opening of the Women's Empowerment Conference on Saturday, Apr. 7, 2018.

The Women's Empowerment Conference will consist of educational sessions, topic discussions, and self-reflection exercises. The conference is free for University of Arkansas students and lunch is provided. Registration can be found on Hogsync through the Office of Student Activities forms and is due by midnight on Monday, Apr. 2, 2018.

The Women's Empowerment Conference is supported by a grant from the Executive Advisory Board of the Division of Student Affairs. For more information about the Women's Empowerment Conference, please contact Mary Skinner (marys@uark.edu), Trisha Blau (tblau@uark.edu) or Kristin Wyninegar (knwynine@uark.edu) with questions, or call (479) 575-5255. The lecture is free and open to the public. The lecture is sponsored by New Student and Family Programs, the Center for Multicultural and Diversity Education, and the Office of Student Activities. For more information please email osa@uark.edu or call (479) 575-5255.

Pat Walker Health Center:

- Eating Disorder Awareness – Campus Walk will take place on Thursday, Apr. 19 from 12:00 – 12:30 p.m. on the Union Mall. Pat Walker Health Center's Eating Disorder Treatment team is organizing a Campus Awareness Walk which will include a few short laps (approx. 30-minutes) around campus to raise awareness about the dangers of eating disorders as well as help bust myths, get people informed, and empower those to seek the support they need. Participants should plan to meet at the Arkansas Union Mall. Signs and banners are encouraged, and some also be handed out at the walk.

- April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month (SAAM) and the 16th Annual Take Back the Night March is scheduled for Thursday, Apr. 19 at 7:00 p.m. beginning at the Fayetteville Square. More information to come.

In addition, we will again hold the annual “Dress Down to Raise Awareness Day” on the day of the TBTN March. On this day, wear a 2018 TBTN t-shirt with jeans or khakis to work and make a “fashion statement” to raise awareness about sexual violence and the need for all to engage their voices for prevention and advocacy for victims/survivors. T-shirt order forms will be available on Monday, Mar. 26 and orders will be due by noon on Wednesday, Apr. 4. We hope to have a record breaking number of participants and departments with this year’s events. More details and SAAM calendar of events will be available on Newswire & the health center website.

- Prescription Drug Take Back Event is scheduled for Saturday, Apr. 28. Details to Follow – Collaboration with UAPD and Razorback Action Group.

If you have any comments or suggestions please email Scott Flanagin, executive director of communications for Student Affairs, at sflanagi@uark.edu.
