TORI RUDOLPH, soprano, is a senior vocal music education major at the University of Arkansas. Tori was born in Florida, but has lived in the Northwest Arkansas area since 2012, and graduated from Bentonville High School in 2013. She studies applied voice with Prof. David Malis and Dr. Moon-Sook Park, and she is a current member of the Schola Cantorum directed by Dr. Stephen Caldwell, and the student-led Chamber Choir. Tori also participates in Opera Theater, in which she has performed the role of Mrs. Pinkerton in the performance of Old Maid and the Thief last year, the role of Gretel in this year's production of Hansel and Gretel, as well as performing various scenes from notable operas such as Le Nozzi di Figaro, Di Fledermaus, and more. Previous awards include placing in finals at both State and Regional NATS in 2018, as well as being awarded the Janice Yoes Award for vocal excellence this year. When not singing at the University, Tori can also be found singing with two local bands, spanning a wide array of genres.

E. SCOTT SEWELL is from New Boston, Texas and a fifth year senior majoring in music education. He is a member of Schola Cantorum under Dr. Stephen Caldwell and a voice student of Dr. Moon-Sook Park. He will graduate in December with degrees in both brass, woodwind, and percussion education and choral education. He student-teaches next spring and hopes to attend graduate school for a master's degree in choral conducting after that.

LILLIAN FILBECK is a voice major studying music education and is a student of Christopher MacRae. She has performed with the University of Arkansas Collegiate Chorale, Chamber Choir, and the Schola Cantorum. For the 2019-2020 school year, she has interned with the University of Arkansas Children's Choir, and was selected as the Department of Music's 2019-2020 Presser Fellow which is awarded to an outstanding music major. After graduation she plans to teach elementary music in Northwest Arkansas.
