IN MEMORY

Clarence Bruce Sinclair, 1924-1980

Clare Sinclair died on June 5, 1980, after a four year illness. For the past sixteen years he had been a member of the faculty of the University of Arkansas at Little Rock including five years with Little Rock University and the remainder with the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. He served with distinction as Dean of the Division of Life Sciences, Associate Dean of the College of Sciences, and Professor of Biology. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Kansas City and the doctorate from the University of Missouri, his home state. Before coming to Arkansas, he taught at National College and the University of Missouri.

He was held in highest regard by faculty, staff and students for his professional achievements and personal attributes. His research activity resulted in a number of publications and reports in the areas of ecological surveys, plant morphology and plant taxonomy. He was a dedicated and active participant in the Arkansas Academy of Science, and he served the Academy in a variety of capacities. He will be missed by his friends, colleagues, and the Academy.
