ARKANSAS TAX TITLES REVISITED

Arkansas law provides that property taxes are due and payable “a year behind”, i.e., 2005 taxes are due and payable on or before October 10, 2006. All lands upon which the taxes have not been paid for one year following the date the taxes were due, October 10th, shall be forfeited to the State of Arkansas and transmitted by certification to the Commissioner of State Lands for collection or sale. A.C.A. §26-37-101. No tax delinquent land shall be sold at the county level. The county collector shall hold all tax delinquent lands in the county for one year after the date of delinquency, and if the lands are not redeemed by the certification date, which shall be no later than July 1 of the following year, the Collector shall transmit it to the State by certification, after notice as required by law, indicating all taxes, penalties, interests and costs due, and the name and last known address of the owner of record of the tax delinquent land. Upon receipt of the certification, title to the tax delinquent lands shall vest in the State of Arkansas in care of the Commissioner of State Lands. The county assessor must verify several matters (including existence of the land, assessed value, and name and address of owner of record) before the Collector can certify to the State. A.C.A. §26-37-103. The county tax collectors shall forward a list of the delinquent lands in their county to a legal newspaper of the county no later than December 1st of each year. Within seven days thereafter the newspaper shall publish the list, containing the name of the owner and the legal description of the property as recorded on the tax book. A.C.A. §26-37-107. The Commissioner of State Lands shall the publish the Notice of Sale of Land for which ad valorem property taxes have not been paid, including the following information: 1) assessed value of the land; 2) amount of taxes, interest, penalties and other costs due on the land; 3) name of owner; and 4) legal description and parcel number of land. The Notice shall indicate that the land will be sold to the highest bidder if the bid is equal to at least the assessed value of the land as certified to the Commissioner of State Lands. A.C.A. §26-37-201. If the tax delinquent lands are not redeemed within the 30 day period, the Commissioner of State Lands shall issue a Limited Warranty Deed to the land. Except cases involving individuals suffering from a mental disability or an action to challenge the conveyance sold at a negotiated sale within 90 days after date of conveyance, all actions to contest the validity of the conveyance shall be brought within 2 years after the date of the conveyance or forever barred. A.C.A. §26-37-203. Lands not sold at public auction are held by the State and sold “privately”. These sales are called “negotiated sales”. “Negotiated sales” are characterized by the Land Commission as S-2, S-3, and S-4, and primarily relate to the minimum acceptable bid. Several Arkansas Code sections differentiate rights and remedies based upon whether the delinquent land was purchased at auction or by a negotiated sale.

The Arkansas Legislature modified the tax sale procedure through the 1987 Acts of Arkansas, Number 814 and the 1989 Acts of Arkansas, Number 938. The main distinction between the sales before 1987 and after 1987 deals with the amount to be bid at a tax sale being now based upon the assessed value as opposed to the appraised value. Because of this change in the law, the method of assessment is even more important than it was before.

Arkansas law recognizes potentially two separate estates in real property ownership: surface estate and mineral estate, and as long as these two estates have never been severed, the owner of the surface estate is also the owner of the mineral estate. As is the case in many other states, the mineral ownership can be severed from the surface ownership by virtue of a grant or reservation, at which time ownership of the minerals and surface become separate and distinct.
It is in the assessment of the taxes that many tax titles to severed minerals breakdown. A.C.A. §26-26-1110 reads as follows:

“Mineral Rights”

(a) (1) When the mineral rights in any land shall, by conveyance or otherwise, be held by one (1) or more persons, and the fee simple in the land by one (1) or more persons, it shall be the duty of assessor when advised of the fact, either by personal notice or by recording of the deeds in the office of the office of the recorder in the county, to assess the mineral rights in the lands separate from the general property therein.

(2) In such a case, a sale of mineral interest for non payment of taxes shall not affect the title of the land itself, nor shall the sale of the land for non payment of taxes affect the title to the mineral rights.

When mineral rights are assessed pursuant to this statute and become forfeited for non payment of taxes, they are to be certified and redeemed in the same manner as other lands.

If there has been a severance of mineral rights pursuant to a recorded deed, those mineral rights must be assessed separate from the surface rights. As noted, a sale of the surface will not affect the severed minerals if the Assessor has failed to separately assess them. Huffman vs. Henderson Company, 184 Ark. 278, 42 SW 2d 221 (1931). A major problem with this issue of separate assessment is when the “severance” occurred. Although the duty is on the county assessor to separately assess these minerals, it can only arise when the instrument is recorded or as the statute indicates, the assessor becomes aware of the severance. The Arkansas Supreme Court has found that for assessment purposes, a severance is effective when the transfer is legally completed between the parties involved, and does not require recordation. Skelly Oil Company vs. Johnson, 209 Ark. 1107, 194 SW 2d 425 (1946). It would therefore appear that an unrecorded mineral deed which severs the mineral estate from the surface estate can prevent the forfeiture of the minerals even if the Assessor never learns of the severance, and certified the entire fee of the Commissioner of State Lands pursuant to the statute.

In the event that a separate mineral estate exists, often the issue is what actually constitutes a "mineral". In Missouri Pacific Railroad Company vs. Strohacker, 202 Ark. 645, 152 SW 2d (1941), the Arkansas Supreme Court stated: "Our task is to decide what the Grantor meant when it reserved all coal and mineral deposits". The Arkansas Supreme Court has interpreted this doctrine to require a review of what the intent was of the Grantor when looking at the commercial usage of the word at the time of usage. This can be very important when trying to determine whether a tax title conveyed a mineral interest. The Arkansas Supreme Court in Sorkin vs. Meyers, 216 Ark 908, 227 SW 2d 958 (1960), indicated that separate mineral assessment must be "subjoined" to the surface estate on the county assessor's records. This term subjoined has been defined as being attached immediately to the surface assessments. Originally, subjoining meant that the severed minerals were to be assessed immediately following the surface estate on the assessment books. Prior to the enactment of A.C.A §26-26-1112, the Sorkin case required one assessment book for all real property. However, it is well known that most counties maintain separate books for mineral assessments, and some counties had no book for non-producing severed minerals, and did not assess these non-producing severed minerals at all. A failure to assess the severed but non-producing minerals will prevent any valid sale of those minerals for delinquent taxes. Act 234 of the Arkansas Acts of 1989 stated:

"No deed issued after January 1, 1987 by the Commissioner of State Lands is void or voidable on the ground that the assessment of the property tax on the severed mineral interest is not subjoined to the assessment of property tax on the surface realty."
This Act which was effective on February 21, 1989, was repealed on July 1, 1989, by Act 404 of the Arkansas Acts of 1989. Clearly there is no uniformity in the counties of Arkansas with regards to the maintenance of separate books for severed minerals, and Arkansas continues to have difficulty of this issue of subjoinder.

Although A.C.A. §18-11-102 provides that if a person pays taxes and has “color of title” for a period of seven years he is held to be in possession of property, this does not apply in the case of severed minerals. One holding possession of the surface does not amount to possession if the minerals are severed. In Laney vs. Monsanto Chemical Company, 233 Ark. 645, 348 SW 2d 826 (1961), the Court addressed what constitutes constructive possession of minerals with regards to the seven year statute. The Court held that production on one part of the lease acreage was not sufficient constructive possession of the entire lease acreage. Even where a person buys a tax deed to a severed mineral interest, he has not gained color of title sufficient to grant him the constructive possession necessary to acquire the mineral interest by adverse possession. Garaan v. Potlatch Company, 278 Ark. 414, (1983). Only by “opening and operating” of the mines can actual possession be accomplished sufficient to satisfy the statute.

The only Arkansas statute that actually addresses tax titles and adverse possession provides as follows:

§18-60-212 Recovery of Land Held Under Tax Title

(a) No action for the recovery of any lands or for the possession thereof against any person, or his or her heirs or assigns, who may hold such lands by virtue of a purchase thereof at a sale by the collector or Commissioner of State Lands, for the nonpayment of taxes, or who may have purchased them from the state by virtue of any act providing for the sale of lands forfeited to the state or the nonpayment of taxes, or who may hold the land under a donation deed from the state, shall be maintained unless it appears that the plaintiff, his or her ancestors, predecessors, or grantors were seized or possessed of the lands in question within two (2) years next before the commencement of the action.
(c) The person, or his or her heirs or assigns, claiming any land mentioned in subsection (a) of this section shall, before the issuing of any writ, file in the office of the clerk of the proper court an affidavit setting forth that the claimant has tendered to the purchaser or purchasers thereof, or his or her agent or legal representative, the full amount of all taxes and costs first paid on account of the lands, with interest thereon at the rate of one hundred percent (100%) upon the amount first paid for the lands and twenty-five percent (25%) upon all costs and taxes paid upon the land thereafter, from the time the costs and taxes were paid, and also the full value of all improvements of whatever kind and description made on the lands, by the purchaser or purchasers, his or her heirs or assigns, or tenants, and that it has been refused.

(d) If any action shall be brought in any court of record in this state against any purchaser, or his or her heirs or assigns, holding any lands as specified in subsection (a) of this section, and it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court that no affidavit, as required in subsection (c) of this section was filed previous to the commencement thereof, it shall be the duty of the court to dismiss the action at the cost of the plaintiff.

(e) If judgment shall be given against any purchaser, or his or her heirs or assigns who hold any lands as provided for in subsection (a) of this section in favor of any person claiming them, no matter by what manner of title, the judgment shall only be for the possession of the premises in question and damages shall be assessed in favor of the defendant for the full amount of all taxes, costs, and interest provided for in subsection (c) of this section, together with the full value of all improvements of whatever kind and description made thereon, for which judgment shall be entered in favor of the defendant, and it shall be a lien upon the lands until satisfied.

Where minerals were constructively severed from the soil by mineral deeds, and were non-producing, it follows that there was no possession of the minerals by anyone without production. Davis vs. Stonecipher, 218 Ark. 962, 239 SW 2d 756 (1951). This statute clearly requires actual physical possession of the property. Towson vs. Denson, 74 Ark. 302, 86 SW 2d 661 (1904). This statute is unique in that it shortens the period of limitations for recovery of lands adversely possessed under tax deeds to 2 years and 2 years actual possession which would be tantamount to production under a mineral deed before the ability of the owner to redeem is barred. The period of limitations begins to run not from the date of the tax deed, but from the date actual possession is taken under it. Boyd vs. Meador, 10 Ark. App. 5, 660 SW 2d 943
Whenever real property, either surface or mineral has forfeited to the State for non-payment of taxes and the period for redemption has passed, the State may file suit for confirmation requesting that the Circuit Court of the county where the property is located to confirm and quiet title in the State of Arkansas. A.C.A. §26-38-111B (1987). If the property has been improperly described by the Tax Assessor or the Collector, it can be correctly be described and confirmed in the Complaint in the Circuit Court. Any party claiming interest adverse to the State shall have the right to be made a party to the suit. The Decree of Confirmation pursuant to A.C.A. §28-38-118 is a cure of all voidable tax sales after the lapse of one year where there was the power to sell, but a tax sale which is void from the beginning cannot be confirmed.

Arkansas has a statutory provision outlined in A.C.A. §18-60-601, et seq., whereby the State can file suit to confirm title to land including minerals severed from the surface which have been forfeited for non-payment of taxes. Pursuant to this statute, the purchaser or their heirs or legal representatives of purchasers of lands at Sheriff’s Sales are those made by the County Clerks or the Commissioner of State Lands who have acquired title by purchase at the sale by the Sheriff or by foreclosure proceedings or those made by those Order, Decree or authority of and Court or Record may protect themselves from eviction of the lands so purchased by following the detail procedure. Unfortunately in Shuman vs. Certain Lands, 223 Ark. 85, 265 SW 2d 413 (1954), the Arkansas Supreme Court held that this statutory proceeding is not applicable for confirmation of title of severed minerals. In that case, although the Court confirmed that the Plaintiff followed exactly the procedure set forth for confirmation by this statute, it cited the Strohacker Doctrine for the rationale that “land as used by the legislature in acting this statute in 1836 did not include undivided interest in oil and gas.” In 2005, the Arkansas Legislature enacted A.C.A. §18-12-609 confirming the marketability of real property sold at tax sales, but unfortunately specifically stated that it does not apply to a tax sale of a severed mineral.

Effective July 16, 2003, A.C.A. §26-37-314 entitled Sale Of Tax Delinquent Severed Mineral Interests Prohibited now provides that only the owner of the surface shall be permitted to purchase the tax delinquent severed mineral interests. The surface owner purchasing mineral interests under this section shall be allowed to purchase the mineral interests for an amount equal to the delinquent taxes and shall not be required to pay any interest or penalties if the surface owner was not the owner of the mineral interests at the time the taxes became delinquent. The new legislation specifically provides that no deed issued under this Act shall be void or voidable on the ground that the assessment of the property taxes on the severed mineral interest was not subjoined to the assessment of the property taxes on the surface realty.

Several bills were presented during the last legislative session including Senate Bills 188 and 189 which attempted to amend A.C.A. §18-60-601 to validate what would appear to be void tax titles due to the separate assessment issue. These Bills never made it out of Committee, but it is my understanding from visiting with several legislators that certainly with the current gas activity in the Fayetteville Shale in numerous counties in north central Arkansas, similar bills will come before our Arkansas Legislature again soon. I think the constitutionality of bills such as these is highly suspect.

(5) The forfeiture for nonpayment of taxes and delinquent tax sale were valid in all respects.

(b) Nothing in this section shall preclude a judicial action to quiet the title to any real property located within this state prior to the time that the title to the property is considered marketable under subsection (a) of this section.

SECTION 2. EMERGENCY CLAUSE. It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the titles to severed mineral rights purchased at delinquent tax sales are not marketable; that the inability to lease or transfer these mineral rights is an unreasonable alienation of real property and harmful to the economy; and that this act will permit the free transfer of severed mineral rights purchased at delinquent tax sales for the good of the state and its citizens. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on:

(1) The date of its approval by the Governor;

(2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or

(3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.

AN ACT TO PERMIT ACTIONS TO QUIET THE TITLE OF MINERAL INTERESTS SOLD FOR NONPAYMENT OF TAXES; AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

Subtitle

TO PERMIT ACTIONS TO QUIET THE TITLE OF MINERAL INTERESTS SOLD FOR NONPAYMENT OF TAXES.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS:

SECTION 1. Arkansas Code § 18-60-601 is amended to read as follows:

18-60-601. Proceedings to confirm public sales.

(a) The purchasers, or the heirs and legal representatives of purchasers, of lands at sheriff's sales or those made by the county clerks, or by the Commissioner of State Lands, or from levee or drainage improvement districts, who have acquired title by purchase at the sale held by the sheriff or by foreclosure proceedings for taxes due the districts, in pursuance of any of the laws thereof, or those made by the order, decree, or authority of any court of record, may quiet and confirm the title to the lands so purchased, or from any responsibility as possessors of them, by proceeding in the manner provided in this subchapter.

(b) As used in this subchapter, "lands" means any divided or undivided interest in real property, including, but not limited to, subsurface mineral interests, whether severed or unsevered.
SECTION 2. Arkansas Code Title 18, Chapter 60, Subchapter 6 is amended to add an additional section to read as follows:

18-60-611. Applicability.

The procedure for quieting title and the resulting substantive rights under this subchapter apply to lands purchased before or after the effective date of this act.

SECTION 3. EMERGENCY CLAUSE. It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that under the decision in Schuman v. Certain Lands, 223 Ark. 85, 264 S.W.2d 413 (1954), the statutes to quiet the title to land purchased at public sales were held inapplicable to tax sale purchases of severed mineral rights; and that a procedure to establish the marketability of titles based upon tax sale purchases of severed mineral rights is needed to permit the transfer or lease of minerals for the good of the state's economy and its citizens. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on:

(1) The date of its approval by the Governor;

(2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or
